Cardinals View Pope's Remains

Cardinal Oreglia Sprinkled His Body With Holy Water, And Said "Giacchino"—Repeated the Name Three Times, Then Solemnly Announced: "The Pope is Really Dead"—Dean of Sacred College in Charge of Chutch.

Rome, July 21.—This morning began the first of those grandiose and unique ceremonies which follow the demise of a pope, and, although private, it was most impressive. All the cardinals present in Rome, numbering 23, assembled at the apostolic palace to view the remains of the late Leo XIII, and to officially pronounce him dead. Cardinal Oreglia, dean of the sacred college, and camerlingo of the holy Roman Catholic church, had to put aside his cardinal's robes in the presence of the pope's remains, and was dressed in a simple black robe with violet collar, indicative of mourning.

IN DEATH CHAMBER.

With the death chamber the body lay with a white veil over the face, on the bed, surrounded by French and Italian flags, while outside the noble guard maintained a solemn vigil. The profound silence was only broken by the chanting of prayers for the repose of the soul. The solemn presence came the mourning procession of cardinals who, kneeling, silently prayed. Then the prelates reverently looked on while Cardinal Oreglia approached the remains. For this morning's function the pope's bed-room had been transformed into a kind of mortuary chapel with the altar at the end, facing in the center a crucifix surrounded by six lighted candles. Four candles stood at the bed corners. The white veil was then removed from the dead man's face, revealing the cadaveric features of the departed pope, rendered sharper and more transparent by death. So life-like was the body that those present half expected Leo to raise his hand in the familiar gesture of blessing.

"GIAOCHINO."

A moment of breathless silence ensued and then the cardinal camerlingo, taking the aspersorium, sprinkled the body with holy water and said in a low voice: "Giacchino." The Christian name of the deceased holy father. When there was no answer the same word was repeated three times louder and louder, after which, turning to the kneeling cardinals, the camerlingo solemnly announced: "Papa vero mortuus est." (The pope is really dead.)

As the words were uttered there arose from the kneeling cardinals a sigh, a tribute paid to the late pontiff by these princely prelates. The camerlingo then, in a voice trembling with emotion, the ranking cardinals recited the De Profundis, gave absolution and sprinkled the body with holy water.

Following the ceremony of the recognition of the death of the pope by the sacred college came another, shorter, but no less significant and symbolic.

FAMOUS FISHERMAN'S RING.

On Leo's finger was the famous fisherman's ring, which the camerlingo, with a whispered prayer, drew gently off and which, later, will be kept in the presence of the cardinals' set and presented to the new pope when he is elected.

The ring is of very great antiquity. It is even said to have belonged to St. Peter himself. It is a stone of little value, but it is of great interest, being a drawing in fishing nets. It was first used about the year 1285, but for secret documents it was only used later. Of the ring's origin, the camerlingo said, most prized by the church. Although lost two or three times, it has always been recovered.

Several offers have come from Italy and abroad from doctors, druggists and specialists for the embalming of the remains of Pope Leo, but, naturally not one of them has been accepted.

CARDINAL RAMPOLLA.

Cardinal Rampolla intended to leave the Vatican last night, immediately after the death of the pope, when, having officially announced the demise of the pontiff to the diplomatic body accredited to the Vatican, he was, by the cardinals, with instructions to have the news communicated to the various foreign rulers, he considered his duties as secretary of state to have been ended. Rampolla was on the point of leaving when Cardinal Oreglia insisted that he remain in Rome to see that the arrangements for the funeral were completed, and the secretary of state acceded to the request.

The vicar of Rome, Cardinal Pietro Respighi, has called to him, before the doors of the churches an announcement of the death of Pope Leo, with instructions regarding the prayers to be offered to the Vatican and to the papal nuncios, with instructions to have the news communicated to the various foreign rulers, he considered his duties as secretary of state to have been ended. Rampolla was on the point of leaving when Cardinal Oreglia insisted that he remain in Rome to see that the arrangements for the funeral were completed, and the secretary of state acceded to the request.

TRUTH AND LIBERTY

TUESDAY, JULY 21, 1903. SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

BINGHAM ENTERS STRONG PROTEST

Residents There File One With State Board of Equalization.

AGAINST COUNTY BOARD.

Object to Latter's Action in Apportioning Taxes on Bingham Mines To Salt Lake City.

The school trustees and other residents at Bingham have entered a strong protest with the state board of equalization against the action of the county board of equalization in apportioning the taxes on the net proceeds of the mines at that place to Salt Lake City. Heretofore the tax has been apportioned to the district where the mine is located and where the ore is produced, but this year the tax is apportioned to the county board of equalization in apportioning the taxes on the net proceeds of the mines at that place to Salt Lake City.

The assessed valuation of property in Lower Bingham has been reduced by $230,000, the board of equalization and the citizens feel that it is unjust and demoralizing to the school interests of the district. The matter may be contested. The county board of equalization has decided that the tax should be apportioned to the district where the property is located and not where it is found. In 1902 Bingham the assessed valuation was $1,347,000; 1903, $1,117,000. This, too, in view of the fact that the population of the district has nearly doubled in the last three years. The county board contends that the taxes have heretofore been wrongfully apportioned and that the law provides that net proceeds of the mines be taxed where the money is found at the time of the levy.

New York, July 21.—Because her parents would not give their consent to her marriage, Miss Eva Kempen of Elizabeth, N. J., came to this city and was married at the "Little church around the corner" to Lieut. Nicholas V. Thayer, who died suddenly while on duty at the Mexican naval commission, which for two years has been in Elizabeth supervising the construction of the gunboats Vera Cruz and Tampico for the Mexican navy. His appointment is said to be a member of a prominent family in Mexico City.

Thayer May Have Died from Poison

Boston, July 21.—Dr. Edward S. Wood, professor of chemistry in the Harvard medical school, who has been engaged in making a chemical analysis of the organs, has reported that while Edward M. Thayer, who died suddenly while under arrest for forgery, may have died of poison, he was unable positively to prove that, because at the first autopsy the contents of the stomach were found to be empty. Thayer carried insurance amounting to $100,000. His death was attributed by the authorities to acute kidney disease, but the insurance companies refused to accept it without full investigation.

A COSTLY FREIGHT WRECK.

Train of California Fruit Jumps The Track in Colorado.

Lamar, Colo., July 21.—A costly freight wreck occurred on the Santa Fe last night. Four miles west of Caddo, Colo., a train composed of 30 cars of California fruit was running at a speed of 25 miles per hour when the fourteenth car from the engine jumped the track, followed by 12 others. The strange thing about the wreck is that the engine, the last loaded car and caboose stayed on the track. The loss will be very heavy, as most of the freight will be an entire loss. Traffic over this part of the main line was delayed several hours. No one was injured.

Camp at Jackson, Ky., Alarmed.

Jackson, Ky., July 21.—The military camp was alarmed early today by the cry of fire and by shots fired by the provost guards. A small house, belonging to a lady, was the spot where the fire broke out. The residents were much excited for fear it was a repetition of the fire which broke out in the city of Jackson several years ago. A fire investigation showed it was of incendiary origin and a negro is suspected.

General Orders Calling for Elections To Fill Vacancies.

The following general orders were issued today, from the office of the adjutant general:

An election to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Capt. O. R. Grow, battery A, light artillery, and any other vacancy that may exist in the complement of the 2nd regiment of light artillery, will be held at the Armory at Salt Lake City, on the 27th of July, 1903, at 9 o'clock p. m. Lieut. Col. John D. Spencer will preside. The adjutant general will make prompt report of the result to these headquarters.

Sheep Shipments.

All the livestock agents are out hunting for business and it looks as though this year will see all previous records in sheep shipments smashed. During the past few days over 120 cars of sheep have been shipped out of Utah for the east and the rush has only commenced. Among the shipments that are all being handled by the Burlington are 10 cars out of Heber City and 10 cars out of Cotton, shipped respectively by C. S. Carter and R. Whitaker.

ANOTHER FRISCO DEAL.

Consolidation of All Lines West of the Mississippi River.

New York, July 21.—Announcement of an official report has just been received regarding the projected consolidation of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad Co., the St. Louis, Memphis and Southern Railroad Co., and the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad Co. All of these lines are now in operation, with the exception of 150 miles between St. Louis and St. Louis, which are now under construction. They are to be consolidated into the Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and New Orleans Railroad company, a new corporation which, including the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, and the line now being constructed into St. Louis, will own a total mileage of about 1,850.

Work is rushing down at the Oregon Short Line shops and all departments have their hands full nowadays.

Whites as Brutal as Negroes.

New York, July 21.—In a sermon at the Mt. Tabbot Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. Horace Miller, a colored minister, said:

"I have devoted years of study to the question of race, and I find that the negro is not a bit more brutal than the white man. Not ten per cent of the crimes charged up against the colored man are due to him alone."

Strong Clue in Murder Case.

Sheriff Emery Gets a Choice Bit of Information From Matt Rhodes—Suspected Gypsies Camped Near Syracuse Point, July 3—Bad Man Along With Them—Their Return Latter Bound, it is Believed, for Jackson's Hole.

What is considered by Sheriff Emery as being by far the most important information yet brought to light in connection with the identity of the murderers of William X. Ryan, is that furnished by Matt Rhodes, formerly acting chief of police of this city, but now foreman of the construction gang on the Short Line. Mr. Rhodes stated that on July 3, a band of gypsies camped near his garage at Syracuse point and that a gypsy woman, answering the description of the one who travelled with Ryan, was with the band. There was also a strange man with the band who is known to Mr. Rhodes as a bad character and who has a ranch in the Jackson Hole country in Wyoming.

RYAN'S RIG AND DOG.

A rig corresponding to that of Ryan's and a bulldog were also with the band. Mr. Rhodes said that he saw the bulldog and believes he would recognize the animal anywhere. He says that the strange man has a bad reputation in Idaho. The party arrived in this place on the last of June. It was found that the woman went to her brother's at Murray and then went to Warm Springs, where she obtained employment and has remained there ever since. So she is not the woman who accompanied Ryan and has no connection with the case whatever.

THIS THEORY SHATTERED.

Yesterday Sheriff Emery unraveled the clue connected with the Ogden woman who is said to have had trouble with her husband and disappeared from that place on the last of June. It was found that the woman went to her brother's at Murray and then went to Warm Springs, where she obtained employment and has remained there ever since. So she is not the woman who accompanied Ryan and has no connection with the case whatever.

TROUBLE IN BIG HORN COUNTY.

Battle Between Troops and Armed Cattlemen Thought to be Imminent—Later May Attempt to Rescue John McCloud—Said to Have Laid an Ambuscade.

(Special to the "News.")

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 21.—Sheriff Benton left Thermopolis at 8 o'clock this morning with Jim McCloud, the alleged murderer, for the county seat at Basin City. He was accompanied by Capt. Blake and 40 men of the Basin light artillery, mounted and armed as cavalry, and 40 picked deputies. The entire party except Benton and his prisoners who are in a carriage are mounted on horseback and are expected to arrive at Basin City tomorrow morning. The report this morning that a force of cattlemen under the leadership of the notorious Tom Oday is in the vicinity of Cottonwood Creek, where they are believed to have laid an ambuscade, has been laid to rest. It is believed to be the plan to surround the militia and officers in a narrow defile in the mountains bordering the stream and there deliver McCloud. Before starting from Thermopolis scouts were sent on ahead and scouts are riding on either flank and in the rear. Every precaution is taken to prevent trouble, but the situation is a grave and only the better judgment of the friends of McCloud can prevent a battle.

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 21.—A battle between troops and armed cattlemen is believed to be imminent in Big Horn county. Sheriff Benton and his party left Thermopolis for Basin at 8 o'clock this morning with his prisoner, Jim McCloud, charged with the murder of Ben Minnick, a blacksmith. The party is escorted by the Basin light battery of 40 men, under Capt. Price. It is reported that a large force of cattlemen have formed an ambuscade on Cottonwood creek, 25 miles from Thermopolis, and will endeavor to rescue McCloud and assist him out of the country.

COUNTRY CLUB MAY MOVE.

Raise in Rent Starts It Talking of New Home and Dissolution.

The Country club may move. Just where is the question that is agitating local swindlers. The rent has been raised, or rather is about to be, and the prospects that the nibble, the brassy and the golf links will be divorced at an early date are said to be anything but remote.

For some time past the Country club has occupied quarters at the old Gilman farm on Ninth Street and Eleventh East. The contents of the storeroom have been $1,200 per annum. Mrs. Gilman, the landlady, has been asked to raise the rent to $1,500. This has been refused by the club, and it is believed to be decidedly steep by the executive committee. The club wants to remain in existence, but says it will not stand for a raise.

The question now agitating that portion of society which frequents the social gatherings at the club is where shall they move to. Some of the members are agitating purchasing a farm some distance out, so as to form the nucleus of a real country club, others are discussing Carle's, Mill Creek and other points southeast of the city where property can be leased.

One thing they have about decided upon and that is that they will not stand for a raise in rent.

In any case if the club moves there will be considerable expense attached to the fitting up of a club house and the laying out of new golf links, tennis courts and other attractions. This feature is not being looked upon with a kindly eye, so much so that there are resisters who say that if the worst comes to the worst that the club will dissolve.

WILL TAKE FIELD FOR MOFFAT ROAD

Denver Northwestern & Pacific Engineers to Run Line in Utah.

KELLEHER TO HEAD CORPS.

Former Division Engineer for Oregon Short Line to Have Charge of Preliminary Surveys.

It is announced that the Moffat road will put a surveying force into the field at this end of the line at an early date.

While the movements are of necessity being kept quiet, the complete outfit which is to be sent out by Engineer H. A. Sumner of the Colorado-Utah Construction company, will have at its head B. Kelleher, formerly division engineer at Pocatello for the Oregon Short Line.

Mr. Kelleher, who is well known over this region, where he is regarded as a splendid engineer, will have charge of the preliminary surveys in this field for the Denver, Northwestern & Pacific.

After leaving the Short Line he entered the employ of the Colorado & Southern in Wyoming, when he ran a survey for the extension of the old Cheyenne and Northern. When he completed this work recently he was offered a good government position in Utah, but it is said that he will decide in favor of the Moffat project.

Supt. Emery Resigns.

Denver, Colo., July 21.—P. T. Dolin, superintendent of the Colorado division of the Santa Fe has succeeded General Superintendent F. W. Egan of the Colorado & Southern, who resigned to become vice president and general manager of the Port Worth & Denver City railroad, with headquarters at Fort Worth.

SAN PEDRO EQUIPMENT.

Master Mechanic Tolbert is Real Busy Nowadays at Shops.

Since the consummation of the San Pedro deal Master Mechanic W. J. Tolbert has had his hands full at the Oregon Short Line shops turning out the equipment. Included in this order are 17 locomotives, four coaches, four chair cars, three combination coaches and baggage cars, and two combination coaches and baggage cars, with 234 freight, box, flat, coal and stock cars, all of which have to be overhauled, repainted and relettered.

Owing to the fact that the Salt Lake Route is not overburdened with equipment, the cars of the passenger cars have to be handled singly. The first car will leave the shops in the next few days. As it stands today in the car shops is a very handsome affair. The first thing that strikes one of the two words, "Salt Lake," that are painted along the length of the car above the windows. Below the word "Salt Lake" are painted the letters "S. P. L. A. & S. L." The car, which is No. 1, is painted an olive green and will be finished up in a few days. The car is so it is possible to put it into commission another car will be brought in and overhauled. The painting and re-lettering of the cars is also being hurried, but will not be rushed until it is decided just how they will be numbered. The 17 locomotives are being switched to the shops. The cars of the equipment are being worked on coaches 111 and 223, while a new mail car is being also built for Short Line service.
