

Wonderful Rifle Shooting.

There was a competition at Wimbledon on Thursday, the 18th of last month, which casts some light upon the problem of what might be done against an advancing army by British riflemen. One Private Gilkes, and three others fired the Soper rifle, for rapidity and accuracy together, against a squad using the Snider. Lying on his back, with his knees for a rest, the accomplished Gilkes discharged no less than ninety-seven rounds in two minutes and a half, which is about two shots every three seconds, scoring, this prodigious swiftness notwithstanding, 13 bull's eyes, 38 centres and 44 outers, only two bullets in all missing the target. Here is a marksman who, in so brief a time, could apparently slay or wound at least fifty enemies out of a hundred at grape shot range, and certainly no mitrailleuse could accomplish a similar result. Conceive what havoc might be wrought upon a foe by a body of five hundred such men provided with the Soper or a similar piece, and hidden about in the abundant cover of English fields! They would sting an enemy to death with perpetual shots from invisible muzzles; and, except upon such places as the South Downs in England, and some commons, nothing hostile could advance unless in skirmishing order, and from cover to cover. Simply making a small arithmetical sum, we calculate that the 2,500 competitors for the Queen's prize could fire with such a weapon as the Soper 175,000 shots in three minutes. Targets of course differ considerably from advancing enemies, and a great deal of that lead would be lost. But war has not yet witnessed such an effect as the "scoring part" of those 175,000 bullets could accomplish.—Ex.

Brigham Young, the Hon. W. H. Hooper and others have obtained from the controller of the currency permission to organize the Deseret National Bank, in Salt Lake City, Utah, with a capital of $100,000. The Deseret Bank, now in operation there, will be merged with the National Bank.

Whatsoever we bestow, let it be given with a cheerful countenance; a man must not give with his hand and deny with his heart.

FURNITURE, CHEAP FURNITURE.—Mr. J. H. Eccles, furniture dealer, of Ogden City, returned a few days since from the East, where he has been to purchase all kinds of bedding and furniture for the Utah market. Mr. Eccles deserves well of the citizens of Ogden, for by his method of conducting business he has greatly reduced the prices of all kinds of furniture, and he has now imported a large assortment of all kinds of furniture, which he is confident he can sell in the market of Salt Lake and Ogden City cheaper than ever sold before.

WILLIAM HARRISON, East Temple Street, opposite Bishop Hunter's residence, has the largest, finest and most varied stock of stoves ever seen in this market. Those who call on him cannot fail to get suited, and those about to purchase should not fail to give him a call. His stock of tin ware is also very extensive. He is determined to sell at the lowest possible living rates. His advt. will be found in another column.
