

ORDER OF SHEETS WAS LAUGHED AT

Sunday Closing Command Proved To be a Glittering Farce.

BIG BUSINESS FOR SALOONS.

Brass Band Parade of Police in Proposed Raid on One Lone Italian Drum Shop Keeper.

The order of Chief of Police George Sheets about the closing of the saloons on Sunday proved to be a glittering farce yesterday, for 75 per cent of the drum shops were doing a rushing business all day.

While the traffic in liquor on the Sabbath day was not so glaringly open as has been the custom for months past nevertheless there was apparently no difficulty in getting stimulants in large or small quantities yesterday.

BRASS BAND RAID.

The whole proceeding was not devoid of humor. For instance, the police made a dash for a poor lone Dago saloon down near the Rio Grande depot.
A private citizen telephoned into headquarters that the place was open, so it was up to the police to depart. The saloon was loaded up with a couple of officers in uniform and a run was made to the scene. With the going clanging the law sailed majestically along First street down East Temple to Second south. En route the patrol wagon passed a number of saloons doing business in the old sweat way. The officers, however, were after big game, they desired to show the public that they proposed to put a stop to this nefarious drink traffic on the Sabbath day; therefore they proposed to get that Italian, dead or alive, for having the audacity to break the law. The patrol wagon made an awful racket going down Second south and when the officers, armed to the teeth, rushed up to the door of the saloon—Curses! More curses! The door was locked. So they drove back to town without their horrible example.

Had the patrol wagon turned at "Jim" McTernan's on Second South, at the White House bar, round the corner on Main, half a dozen wagon loads of law breakers could have been hauled away. As it was the officers resented to police headquarters and reported that everything was closed up.

However, some individuals strolled out of the warm saloons in a beastly state of intoxication and were gathered in and thrown in jail. The fact that they imbibed too freely on Sunday cost them the usual $5.

The proper explanation forthcoming is to the effect that these men bought their liquor on Saturday night and came up town on Sunday to sober up, at least that is the theory of the officers, who are sure there was not a place of business in the wet goods line yesterday.

In the meantime the patrolmen walked their beats yesterday without any orders to arrest the proprietors of saloons who were breaking the law.

MANY PLACES OPEN.

The only difference yesterday observed was the presence of lookouts at all saloons doing business. Men made against the cigar stands in front and eyed up those who tried the door.
If the individual passed muster the key was turned and he was allowed to walk back to the bar where everything was made as warm and as comfortable as possible for the patron.

At McTernan's saloon the following is the order to be observed if a man wants a drink next Sunday. Walk straight in then turn to the left and knock on the office door. When this is opened turn to the right and walk behind the bar through to a back room.
In due season ask and ye shall receive—for a consideration. The proprietor can seemingly swear that no drinks are sold, or even passed across his bar on the Sabbath day, perish the thought.

Down at the White House bar such technicalities are scorned. Walk right in and you will generally find the proprietor and a bartender working like mules while the cash register jingles like unto a hobo's bell. Such subterfuges as back rooms and "high signs" are scorned at the good old fashioned way is good enough, besides it saves a lot of precious time.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS.

This state of affairs held good at the Kenyon bar, The Wilson, The Cliff House, The Old Resort, Mahon & Co., The Vienna Buffet, Pour de Las, Regina, two-thirds of the dives on Commercial street and the State street saloons. On Second South there were but two saloons closed. The Antler and the establishment owned by the late Charles Auer. Even the saloon owned by Councilman Martin Mulvey was doing business at the old stand, although most of the patrons went to the resurrected next door west and received their packages of liquid stimulant through the hole in the wall.

In the meantime it was patent to even a blind man yesterday that the saloons were open for business, because a blind man was observed to his way out of one place on Commercial street during the afternoon.

NIGHT STICKS AND SWORDS WERE USED

Hamilton, Ont., Scene of Disorder And Lawlessness Created by Strike Sympathizers.

POLICE WADED INTO CROWD—

Then Came a Charge of Cavalry—Rioters Attacked on Two Sides, Beat a Retreat.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 24.—Never in Hamilton's history were such scenes of disorder and lawlessness seen as were enacted in the principal streets of the city tonight. Scores of rioters, sympathizers with the striking street car men, felt the weight of policemen's night sticks and the keen edge of the soldiers' swords in conflicts on James and King streets. At a late hour, street cars were running at intervals, under heavy guard, but they did not carry passengers, and continued to be the targets for fusillades of stones and bricks from side streets and alleys.
Drastic as were the measures taken by the authorities tonight, it was plain that the mob spirit had not been broken.

The crowds began to gather at dusk.
The authorities at once saw that trouble was brewing, and made preparations accordingly. Lights on the streets began as early as 7 o'clock. The police wielded their clubs freely, but the situation became too serious for them to handle. Sheriff Middleton was notified, and he immediately sent the riot act, which makes every able-bodied citizen amenable to police duty. He also notified Capt. Ogilvie that the aid of troops had become necessary to keep order.

At 8 o'clock a concerted effort was made by the police and soldiers to clear the streets. James street, in the vicinity of the city hall, was packed with a dense crowd of yelling hoodlums, and hundreds of people attracted to the scene more by curiosity than to take part in the disorders.

The police charged this crowd first.
They wielded their clubs with telling effect. The absence of stern methods in previous disorders had led many to believe that the police would not resort to harsh measures tonight. The officers were met with jeers and insults.

Snatching right and left with their heavy night sticks, the police waded into the crowd. Men and women suffered alike, and soon the pavement was marked by many unconscious forms. The mob, realizing that the police meant business this time, began to retaliate with stones and other missiles.

At this point, the clamor of horses' hoofs on the pavement announced the approach of the cavalry, and the crowd, attacked from both sides, broke and fled down side streets and through hallways into back alleys. The streets in the vicinity of the city hall were cleared, but it was only temporary relief for the authorities. The crowd soon began to converge on King street. A street car with detectives on board came along and became the target for a fusillade of bricks and stones. The strike breakers and detectives deserted the car as the mob grew in volume, and their lives were endangered by the avalanche of rocks.

They were followed by a section of the crowd and given a severe beating.
The street car was derailed and millarily torn to pieces before the mil-lita could reach the spot. The mob melted away as the soldiers charged with fixed bayonets.

This was the last concentrated demonstration made by the rioters during the evening, although disorders on a smaller scale were frequent up to midnight.

At 1:30 the authorities appeared to have the situation well in hand, although it is realized that the trouble is by no means over. It is probable that the local officials will ask for more soldiers.

The streets are strewn with debris.
Many plate glass windows in stores were broken by flying missiles.
Twenty of the rioters were landed at the police station. The policemen arrested scores, but the crowd rescued the prisoners.

Nearly one hundred persons were treated at the hospitals. Their injuries, however, are not serious. They had been hit by clubs. The soldiers, as a rule, used the flat of their swords and the butt ends of their rifles.

Frank Fitzgerald, whose skull was fractured by a night stick's disorders, is at the point of death.

HAMILTON QUIET.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 25.—Today was marked by unusual quiet on the streets, contrasted with the riotous scenes of the last two days. Several cars ran during the day and evening.
In the outlying districts stones were expended under the wheels, but there were no serious hostile demonstrations.
The soldiers camped in the armory under arms, awaiting a riot call, and the police reserves, at the city hall, probably contributed toward the peaceful day. The railway officials, however, do not believe the trouble is at an end. The persons who were injured in the riot of Friday and Saturday are recovering.

PATRICK'S CASE.

Gov. Higgins Has Come to No Decision Regarding It.

Olean, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Gov. Higgins, tonight, before leaving for Albany, made the statement that he had come to no decision on Albert T. Patrick's appeal for executive clemency, and he had told no one that he would commute Patrick's death sentence to life imprisonment.

STUDENT ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 25.—By the accidental discharge today of a revolver in the hands of a fellow-student, Joseph Ross Fraser of Geneva, N.
Y., was shot through the abdomen. He died tonight. Several students were shooting at a tin can when the revolver was accidentally discharged. Fraser belonged to the engineering department of the University of Michigan, class of 1909. He was prominent in athletics.

FROZEN TO DEATH.

Geo. G. Rosen of Rhyolite Who Lost His Way in a Storm.

Rhyolite, Nev., Nov. 25.—George G.
Rosen, formerly of Leadville, Colo., and prominent in mining circles in that state, was found frozen to death 10 miles west of Rhyolite this morning. He left the city Thursday night in a blinding snowstorm for the Gold Bar mine, four miles distant. He missed the road and traveled until overcome by cold. This is the second fatality of the recent storm. An unknown man was found frozen to death south of Goldfield yesterday.

NEW COLLEGE AT ROME.

Rome, Nov. 25.—The Augustinians inaugurated a new international college here today. The ceremonies were attended by Father Rodriguez, the general of the order; Cardinals Ram-polli, Vives y Tuto, and the Rev. J. J.

Barry, archbishop of Manila. The archbishop was questioned by a number of the prelates present concerning the standing and affairs of the Augustinians in the Philippines.

FIRE IN SAN FRANCISCO.

San Francisco, Nov. 25.—A fire broke out late tonight in a lodging house at Railroad avenue and Fifth avenue south that for a time threatened to involve serious loss of life. As it was 14 people were taken out of the burning building prostrated by the smoke. The damage when the fire was extinguished is estimated at $15,000.

RIDDLE OF THE SPHINX.

Rev. Dr. Phillips of Birmingham, N.
Y., Thinks He Has Solved It.

Birmingham, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Rev.
Dr. J. W. Phillips of this city says he has solved the riddle of the sphinx.
Dr. Phillips is one of the best students of Egyptology in the country.
From his extensive reading on this subject, he arrived at a conclusion for the existence of the Egyptian figure that has puzzled men for so many centuries.
Some time ago he submitted his ideas to the American Archaeological society, which, in turn, submitted them to some of the leading Egyptologists of Europe, from whose opinion the archaeological society reaches the conclusion that the theory is "ingenious and probable." Yesterday Dr. Phillips received an invitation to explain his theory more fully in a paper to be read before the archaeological society in the spring.
Until he reads that paper Dr. Phillips will not explain his solution of the riddle.

HUNGARIAN DIET.

Budapest, Nov. 25.—Sittings of the Austro-Hungarian delegates were opened here today. Francis Joseph, the emperor-king, received the members of the delegations in the throne room of the royal palace in Budapest. Replying to the address of greeting, his majesty said that Austria-Hungary's proper line of conduct was the cultivation of close relations with allied states, an agreement with Russia concerning the Balkans, and friendly relations with all powers.

The joint budget for 1907 was submitted to the delegates and shows a demand for a net credit amounting to $3,635,455, or $4,191,332 in excess of the budget of 1906. This increase is mainly on account of army expenditures.

BLACKMAR TABLE UNVEILED.

Boston, Nov. 25.—The unveiling of a tablet of bronze to the memory of the late Gen. Wilmon W. Blackmar, who was commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic at the time of his death, took place today at the 25th anniversary of the foundation of the Second church (Unitarian), this city.

HEAVY SHEEP LOSSES.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 25.—A special to the Times from Almagordo, N. M., says that the goat and sheep raisers of the Sacramento mountains in New Mexico lost from 60 to 80 per cent of their herds during the recent blizzard, which is said to be the heaviest loss ever experienced by the industry in the west.
