

MINING STOCKS STILL GO DOWN. Trading on Exchange Was at Lower Figures.

89,875 SHARES FOR $17,922.

Ajax Led Stocks in Tobogganing-New Low Figure for Day-West-Business Slow.

On the mining exchange this morning stocks continued their downward course begun last week. The quotations on last Saturday were in several cases over ten cents off from last Monday's figures and today still further reductions were recorded, and the end is not yet. Notwithstanding the big shrinkage in the values of some stocks it is the opinion of the more experienced and more conservative mining men and operators that certain stocks are not yet nearly so low as they should be for this time of year.

It was stated today by a big trader on the exchange that a lesson not easily to be forgotten has been taught the members of the exchange and the investing and speculative public by the recent great slump in prices. Over-valuation of properties consequent to the heavy demand for stocks some months ago and to the assuring and bullish stories of promoters, led to the crash and it is not unlikely that it will be a very long time before most stocks reach much higher figures than are quoted today except on occasional rallies incident to manipulation by cliques.

Trading on the exchange today resulted in the recording of transactions involving 39,875 shares and $17,922.63.

It was considerably lighter than on any of the last four days of last week. Prices were generally lower than on any of the last four figures. The trading commenced with Ajax, which opened with sales at a figure three cents lower than the closing bid price on Saturday.

The stock took the toboggan and sold as low as 35, afterwards recovering to 37.

Carissa was held above 60% and closed at 55% with sales totaling 4,100 recorded. Day West sold at 28.20, the lowest figure the stock has changed hands for in a number of months. May Day was nearly a cent lower and Star Con. showed weakness.

Star Con. 20% with sales totaling 1,500 shares. Star Con. sold from 45 to 62%.

California opened at 48, sold at 47 and closed at 48% while Cent was traded in between 11 and 13.

Yankee Con. continued its course downward which was begun after the declaration of its dividend. The stock was traded in for 2.85 and as low as 2.75, closing with the stock offered at 2.80 and with no bids.

BINGHAM NOTES. Review of the Week by the Bingham Bulletin.

It is rumored that the New England G. & C. Company, operating a group, has about decided to sink another 100 feet to 200 feet below tunnel level. Parties familiar with the property are unanimous in the belief that with more depth it will make a big mine.

The working face is being increased this week. Another shipment, including one of first and one of second class, will soon be made. Specimens of the ore indicate that it carries fully 30 per cent lead.

The Commercial file has been laid off temporarily while the Copper Belt railroad engine is undergoing repairs. The engine is being worked on until it is repaired no ore can be moved.

The Silver Cord, in Keystone gold, above the Conger, and one of the most promising of Bingham's new properties, has just shipped a lot of ore, the first in more than a year. Considerable development work has been done and the property is reported in shape to make a considerable output.
