RUSSIA AND THE RUSSIANS.

Interest and Instructive Lecture by Dr. Tolman on a Great Nation.

Magnificent Reception Views Illustrative of Sights and Scenes in the Land of the Big Bear.

An impressionistic audience of very good proportions assembled at the Salt Lake Theatre last evening to hear Dr. James E. Tolman lecture on Russia and the Russians. The subject was most clearly and interestingly treated and illustrated by many magnificent illustrations of sights and scenes in the land of the great bear.

The outcome of Dr. Tolman's visit to Russia last summer was the holding of the International Congress of Geologists in that country.

The author of the speech on the official address of the Russian Society of Geologists, after being given a short speech, said: "Russia is a great nation, but she has not yet advanced without becoming too much like us."

The lecture consisted of an interesting series of views of the great cities of Russia, as viewed from a aerial and complete observer. There was just enough statistics and other details to give the audience a general idea of the country, without becoming tedious or uninteresting.

The lecture concluded with a short speech by Dr. Tolman, in which he said:

"Russia is a great nation, but she has not yet advanced without becoming too much like us."

The lecture was a great success, and the audience gave a hearty round of applause.
