Stone, bishop of the first ward of the Ogden Stake, who is now in the city. The funeral will be held at the first ward meeting house Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. ## COST OF FILING ON LINES

In Reservation Aggregates $108—Triety of "Locators"—District Court.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah, Sept. 4.—A number of Provo people are back from the reservation, where they have made locations under the new numbering system. The first group, Samuel H. Jepperson, who drew number 11 located at the junction of the Duchesne and Strawberry rivers, and considered his land valuable and in a location where there are good prospects for an increase in value. Mr. Jepperson gave the "News" representative the following estimate of the cost of making a location: Trip to the reservation, including provisions, $10; cost of "locators" (which would be covered by the homestead) was $25; cost of survey in getting a description of the land for presentation at the office, $10; filing fee, $10; fees and advertising for water appropriation, $12. Some of the persons returning have secured certain parcels, who have covered the surveyors' expenses and stakes. This makes it necessary to pay a fee of $25 for getting the location of the land selected, which would not be necessary if the surveyors' expenses and stakes were paid above ground. They have not been reported by the Indians, as has been customary, by persons who are interested in the collection of a $25 fee for removing the buried boundary marks.

LOCAL PEACH CROP.

Output Light But Quality Rich and Shiny—Wilson Orchard Specimens.

The peach crop throughout Weber county is not so heavy this year as for several years past, but what there is this year is of the finest quality and of the choicest varieties. The Wilson orchard, which is one of the best of its kind in the county, has a crop of its excellent fruit, and it is doubtful if finer peaches were ever grown in any other orchard in the county.
