DESERET EVENING NEWS SATURDAY JANUARY 4 1908

Herman Billik Sim ly Murderc for Business

HERE have been men who have murdered for revenge, for passion, for money, for love. But Herman Billik didn't any of these reasons. He dered as a business. A life ean $1,000 for him, or only $100. That was all the same to him. He jidn't care whether it was a little child or a grown man, filled with the He needed the money. death meant to him just as much to a hard working salesto a lawyer or a new pa-He killed six and now he is h a case to a lawyer of the killed six to a physician. He killed six re he was caught, and now he is ling his own death—this meanest derer that ever lived. seems almost possible to forgive an who kills another in the height assion. There is sympathy some-sis for a murderer who slays because s jealous and repents his act the end if is done. nt it is done. Billik didn't suit.

t it is don't go about his mur-Billik didn't go about his mur-in that way. killed carefully, methodically, He know up something more than $1,-averaging up something more than $1,-obt a life. He netted $6,000 before the authorities of Chicago took a hand authori something more than $1

COMBINED MURDER WITH FOR-TUNE-TELLING.

Billik isn't like Hoch, who married women to kill them. Nor was he a Holmes, the Philadelphia multi-nur-derer. He hadn't the genius of either of them. They did their murders in broad way. Billik was too mean to be it that way. isn't like Hoch, who married a broad way. Binta way to the visit of it that way. do it that way. He killed six of the Vrzal family and tried to kill three more. On each life there was insurance. Billk got it all. He absorbed all the Wrai fortune, allowing the survivors-whom he tried to kill, too-only enough whom he tried to kill, too-only enough the funeral expenses of their to pay to pay dead. The crime for which Billik was tried and for which he has been sentenced to death was the murder of Mary Vral, the eldest daughter, 22 years old He has been charged also with the death of Martin Vrzal, the fathet; How as 14, and Ella, who was 12. Mrs.

who was 14, and Ella, who was 12. Mrs. Vrzał died too, but she might have isken the poison herself. Billik killed the father first because he owed him money—$2,000. He wiped this out and got his insurance money beside. Then he set about killing off the rest of the family systematically. Martin Vrzał was a milk dealer. He wanted to win out over a rival, and he consulted Billik, who said he was a fortune teller. Billik saw his opportunbe consulted Billik, who said he was a fortune teller. Billik saw his opportun-ity to murder and he took it. He had made friends with Vrzal, who was making $4.000 a year; he got loans from him amounting to $2,000. So he proceeded to put the head of the fam-ity out of the way rather than pay back the money. Billik went to Chicago from Cleve Billik went to charge from devel-land about three and one-balf years ago. His business, according to the sign he hung out when he went to live in a building a few doors from the home of the Vrzals, was that of a card reader and seer. He had learned tha fortune-teiling business from his moth-or. She had found it an easy means fortune-telling business from his moth-er. She had found it an easy means of livelihood and a quick road to af-fuence. It was not rapid enough for Billik, however, and even that work he found to be too hard to suit him. But he plied his vocation steadily for some time after coming to Chicago. It was shortly after his arrival in Chicago that he became acquainted with the Vrzals. Martin Vrzal was a hard working man. He owned a milk working man. He owned a milk lated a few thouaccumt nd dollars by strict economy.

HIS CAREER OF CRIME.

Billik, with his family, comsisting of his wife, two sons and a small daugn-ter, moved into a house a few doors from the Vrzals and became a customat the milk store. From that day of mystery and death. Today there is no Vrzal home, only three of the family are alive, and Billik is awalting his sentence of death to be carried out. When Billik began to buy milk at the Vrzal store the members of the family were all in excellent health. Shortly after Billik made the ac-quantance of Martin Vrzai he toid him that a rival milk dealer was his enemy. The fortune-teller offered to cast a spell that would protect Vrzal from harm and destroy his rival's

Vrzal agreed and a potion of powder was brewed on the stove home and thrown across the of the home of the rival across the y. For this service Billik refused pay, but consented to accept a joan of $20. That was the entering wedge. Vrzal failed to experience harm from his rival; his business, fostered by his own energy, continued to increase. Billik got the credit for this good fortune. Soon after this Billik's services were required in an affair of the heart. Emma Billik, the eldest child of the family and one of the three survivors of the family today, was courted by two men. One was a prosperous butch-er named Rus; the other the man to whom she is now married. Nieman. whom she is now married, Nieman Russ had grown indifferent to the girl The parents wanted her to marry him Billik took Russ to a theater and found out that the butcher had no in-tention of marrying the girl. Nieman was courting the girl at the time, but Mr. and Mrs. Vrzal did not favor his suit

"I'll fix it so that Nieman will stol "The fix it so that Nieman will stop-coming to see Emma and Russ will marry her," Billik told Mr. and Mrs. Vrzal. The parents were overjoyed at the produced some white powder, He produced some white powder, walked a mile and a half in the road from Nieman's house toward the Vrzal home.

That will prevent Nieman coming

"That will prevent Nieman coming to see Emma," he fold the Vrzais. One day after his return from a California trip Martin Vrzai complain-ed of not feeling well. Billik by that time had become indebted to Vrzai to the extent of about $2,000. Billik vol-unteered to cast another charm and make the milk dealer well. He gave Vrzai medicine in whisky bottles. Vrzai's "stomach trouble" grew worse, and Billik continued to give him medi-cine, personally, and Vrzai continued to grow worse rapidly. Then Billik left Chicago again, and while he was gone Vzrai died. Billik wirsd Mrs. Vrzai for money to attend the funeral. It was sent, but instead of coming in person Billik sent flowers. person Billik sent flowers.

COLLECTING THE LIFE INSUR-ANCE.

He tried to murder Emma Vrzal after she married Nieman. The poison made her deathly sick, but it didn't kill her. Martin Vrzal was incured for $2,000. His wife collected the money and gave most of it to Billik at different times; until it soon was gone. The woman

WALDEMAR POULSEN, INVENT-OR OF WIRELESS PHONE. To Waldemar Poulsen belongs the

To Waldemar Poulsen belongs the honor of establishing wireless telephone communications. He has spoken through space a distance of 250 miles. In speaking of Poulsen's achieve-ment, Nikola Tesla says: "Telephonic communication be-tween continents is assured. It need not be discussed. My sown experi-ments have demonstrated its practinot be discussed. My own experi-ments have demonstrated its practi-cability. The transmission of spoken message by Poulsen between Berlin and Copenhagen should not be a sub-ject of wonderment. "The next surprise will be the utili-vation of electrical energy for the prozation of electrical energy for the pro-pulsion of airships, which will carry no batteries or other generators, and whose passage through the air will be controlled by electric waves generated on the earth planet.'

HIRSCHMAN'S Semi-Annual Shoe Sale!

SUCCESS FROM THE START. Splendid satisfied crowds daily throng this crowning event in the shoe trade annals of Salt Lake Cify. Think of the convenience and comfort of coming to the store where everything is arranged in a thoroughly systematic manner and where only the highest grade of thoroughly experienced salesmen are employed to wait on you. Add to that the biggest and best popular priced shoe stock in the intermountain country and deduct from it the ordinary profits that prevail throughout the year and you have the answer, "THE MOST SUCCESSFUL SHOE SALE WE HAVE EVER HELD."

Bargain table clean-up of every line we have discountinued from stock, and that means your size in a good many different styles. But the main stress is laid on the splendid reductions from regular stock, the very superiority of which makes of the casual observer an eager buyer. WE HAVE YOUR SIZE.

All goods exchanged or money refunded as cheerfully as we take it.

Complete lines of the very best quality of Misses' Calf skin shoes $2 value. Complete line of the very best quality little man $1.75 calf skin shoes. Complete line of the very best quality $1.50 and $1.75 elastic side house shoe or lace oxfords comfort style. Broken lines of womens' fleeced lined shoes fleeced lined juliets mans' house slippers

Values range from $1.50 to $3.00 or blucher style. Values to $3.50.

$1.69 The best shoe Value ever quoted in Salt Lake City. Discontinued lines of womens' shoes best $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50 values. Stylish goods in splendid materials and nicely made.

Shoes from the very best makers, styles and materials that can not be duplicated from even $5, $6, $7 and even higher priced models. Equaled by few and surpassed by none. This special makes its appeal to the trade that demand absolutely the best.

Man's and standard grade makers, complete lines, regular stock. All the wanted leathers and toe shapes, values $3.50 to $5.00.

13

day

right.

were about to die

GEORGE ROMER, EX-CONVICT, WHO BID FOR $4,000,000 PANAMA BONDS.

There has been much speculation in functual circles as to the identity of George W. Austin and George A. Ro-Der, both said to be restants of New Tork shift to be restants of New whose names figure in the in-on proceedings brought against ary Cortelyou to restrain him completing the delivery of the ma bonds recently allotted to Justice Gould, of the district he court in Washington has du Secretary Cortelyou to show cause

Jan. 3, why the injunction should be granted. Romer is well known in the cafes of fee Broadway and Wall street. He also known at police headquarters a check swindler and a hotel beat. has twice, at least beat, completed He has twice, at least, been convicted of passing worthless checks and has herved two sentences in the peniten-uary on Blackwell's Island. His pic-ture was formerly No. 2047 in Rogues' Kallery, but was removed through the influence of Buffalo friends.

"I am not going to live long. I

Mrs. Vrzal repeated Mary's words to'

Never mind. It will come out all right." Two days before Mary died her mother visited Billik in his tent at Riverside. She returned with some "medicine" for Mary. The girl died in Billik's arms in the Vrzal home. The aliment that killed Mary Vrzal was the same that killed her father. "stomach trouble." When her body was exhumed and chemists made an examination of the contents of her stomach they found it contained five grains of arsenic. Two grains are suf-ficient to kill the ordinary human be-ing.

ing. Mary's life was insured for $$00. The HOUSE IN CHICAGO WHERE BILLIK LIVED.

Then Tillie became sick with "stom-

BIGAMIST'S VICTIM FLEES, LEST SHE MEET HIM AGAIN.

To escape from her husband, Capt. Dean. Reld, recently released from prison after serving a year for bigamy, Sarah Delano-Deane-Reid, has fled to San Francisco.

"He bewitched me, or I never would have married," she declared as she left. "He lied to me, and I could not bear to see his face again."

Her brothers had Miss Delano placed in an asylum for the insane in order to keep her away from Deane.Reid, but for awhile she was loyal to her bigamous husband. After her eyes were opend she claimed she was "bewitched."

Capt. Dean-Reid was first married in England.

was completely under the spell of the fortune teller. She kept up the milk business left her by her husband, and for some time the proceeds from this were a source of income for Billik. The Vrzal girls, some of them, went out to work that Billik might have more money to spend. One day Mary Vrzal went with her sister Emma to Riverside, where Bil-lik was telling fortunes in a tent. He told their fortunes. To Emma he toid their fortunes. To Emma he showed a mysteriously marked card from a pack he used in his card read-ings. He told her it was the "card of death." 'and that Mary was scon to die. Emma Nieman told this on the witness stand and identified a card in a pack belonging to Billik as the onc he had showed her at Riverside that day.

mother!

mother! Then Billik wanted the Vrzał home. He persuaded the widow to sell it for $2.000. He collected the money. She drank poison. Whether he gave it to her or not has not been determined. But she is dead. Three of her fam. Ily still live, no thanks to Billik, who awaits the noose-meanest murderer on earth! Chicago has produced many strange criminals, but Billik is the strangest

BEGIN YOUR MEAL with a dose of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters and see how much good it will do you. Beside sharpening the appe-tite and toning the stomach it will will also prevent any after-cating distress.

HOSTETTERS' STOMACH BITTERS has also given complete satisfaction for 54 years in cases of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Billiousness, Kidney Troubles, Female IIIs, Colds and Malaria. Try it today, also ask your druggist for free copy of our 1908 Almanac. Mary's life was insured for $800. The funeral expenses came out of this, and Billik got the rest from Mrs. Vrzal. Martin Vrzal's death occurred March 27, 1905. Mary died July 22 of the same year. Billik, after the death of Mary, continued to come to the house' and control the family.

An Appreciative Xmas present for the ones that use and need glasses would be a pair of our SPECIAL MAKE READ-ING GLASSES. We use only the best material in the manufactur-ing of our glasses, make and fit them the correct way and test eyes free for glasses. RUSHMER Maker of Perfect Eyeglasses. Both Phones 1763. 73 West 1st So.

口管件

20%

Discount On any women's fleece lined shoe. Alfree Dolge or Dolgville felt juliet. In case of odd lots the reductions average about one half.

On any Ladies', Misses' and Children's

High top shoes

0 to 50% Discount

On Men's High Top Shoes, several lines that we are cleaning up on, at actually half their value.

INVESTIGATE!

THE SHOE

106 South Main Street.

ach trouble." She was sick two months and died. months and died. Mrs. Vrzal, and through her Billik, collected $620 insurance on her life. There were no more deaths in the family until Rose, 14 years old, with $500 life Insurance, was attacked with "stomach trouble," and died. Three months later Ella, 12 years old, was taken with the same pecullar "stomach trouble." and she, too, foi-lowed the way of the three other members of the family. Only $105 was collected on her insurance. Billik had poisoned them all! But even this wasn't enough for

"But your mother's money is not yours," Mrs. Vrzal insisted. "Til get it all when she dies," re-plied the fortune-teller. "Til fix it." "How will you fix it?" Mrs. Vrzal osked.

How will you has her Mrs. Vizal asked. "You know what I could do." the man replied. "I could kill her with my power in a week." He was willing to polson his own matheat

A short time later Mary and her mother visited the grave of Martin Vrzal. Standing over her father's grave Mary Vrzal said to her mother:

Billik. He answered, as he had done when the father was sick, and as he afterward did when the other children were about to die:

criminals, but Billik is the strangest of them all .- New York World.