

DESERET EVENING NEWS.

DESERET NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY, LESSERS.

Thursday July 6, 1888.

The DESERET EVENING NEWS is published daily, except Saturday, at seven o'clock A.M., from offices located above the Hotel Deseret, 122 Main Street, Salt Lake City, Utah. The news is printed on one side of each page. The DESERET EVENING NEWS is published weekly.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
Daily 1 Month $1.00
Daily 6 Months $4.00
Daily 12 Months $7.00
Daily 24 Months $12.00
Sunday Edition 1 Month $1.00
Sunday Edition 6 Months $4.00
Sunday Edition 12 Months $7.00
Sunday Edition 24 Months $12.00
Weekly 22 Months $1.00

Delivery for subscription always in advance.

Our subscribers will kindly notify us if they have moved or are moving in the vicinity of their present address.

Advertisers receive three pieces of postage, about average size, gratis, as well as postage address.

The name and address of the principal subscriber must be given on all correspondence bearing the city after the name.

For the return of lost papers, and for other information, you will find it best to write to Chicago, the chief and most important office of the principal news and book dealers.

Headquarters for the News is at Wm. H. Smith's News and Periodical store, 122 Main Street.

All correspondence should be addressed to
DESERET NEWS PUBLISHING COMPANY,
122 Main Street.

HORROR AT A DISGUST.

A friend in Chicago sends the News a copy of the calendar for the Cook County criminal court for the July term of this year. It is not very interesting reading in a general way. The cases are all good criminal, that is to say, prosecuted by the people; they are also for damages or some other adjustment of individuals. The first item is "220, People ex rel Mary Dostell vs John McNulty." There are 22 cases altogether and about one-fourth of them are like the foregoing, meaning that the plaintiff has been soiled or criminally associated with his defendant, as a result of which she has an illegitimate child to support, and she uses the power of the people to compel him to assist her. The significant distinction comes with it that not more than one-fourth of these cases ever get further than the justice's court, where they collapse or are settled in some way, and it is inherently certain that fully one-half of them are never brought to trial at all, an arrangement being made without it or the woman being unwilling to paralyze her shame before the world.

When we consider that the entire system of law for trial have reference to only one-tenth of these months, and that a similar calendar is made up every quarter with the probabilities altogether in favor of one defendant being as plentiful as any other, the moral atmosphere of Cook county takes on a rather unhealthy tinge. The tendency to callousness with the naturally consequent uncertainty of the individual cases is growing with our growth and sapping the foundations of society. The natural well-ordered and becoming station of being the head of a family which it was designed from the beginning should be the rule with us, because it is practically the only right of all the expense, responsibility, restraint and care which the marriage relation imposes upon those who enter into it, may be the principal cause, though the realization that the mere gratification which is the chief object, with a few exceptions of a humorous, called to offer an objection to the scheme being worked. He was burdened with the idea that as a man, uneducated, illiterate and valiantly poor, of great value. When he arrived there he had thought to bring up quite a number of claims and spent his money freely in prosecuting them. He worked with a buoyant heart, confident that his labor and investments would be remunerated. He had a charming wife and four bright children. One thousand dollars, after another, of his money was sent into the ground until finally his last dollar was gone, and from outward appearance he was no nearer getting it back than he was when he started. He became dependent and while working under a fit of mental depression, prepared a draft of death, giving a sum to his wife sufficient for his children, and then still waiting long enough to satisfy himself that they were justly recompensed for the portion of the pot and took him down to die with his family.

After the swelling had all passed, we will consider the aftermath. This was thought themselves "bad," but they were not entirely composed of after effects. There is gold in the waters of Great Salt Lake, and perhaps as much as 50 tons, not even some. Great water contains some copper or iron or gold, the amount varying up to as follows: Red sand is placed. In either case it would end with any known application, not less than 500 tons of sand, so if any man would be able to extract gold from the sand, he could make him independently rich.

Montana is the result of a great many of people's misfortune in life, but when it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

REY BILLY'S LATEST.
Readers of the Utah papers will remember that Ogden was visited a year or two ago with a long-time traveling peddler named J. Wesley Hill, whose chief claim to distinction in this territory was his great eloquence, his brilliant oratory, his low & refined, and his attractiveness as a conversationalist. He accepted a call to Montana a short time ago, and from a statement in last evening's News it would seem that he has recently returned to Utah.

wherever going at them, said, "Observe it's Sunday."

Of course there was a good deal of disappointment, but in Justice the Judge's ruling did not require the Fair or any portion thereof to be open. It simply gave those in charge permission to close if they felt so disposed. It seems that the general management did feel so disposed but the majority of individual exhibitors did not and as the board could not compel them to do otherwise than as they chose to do, it followed that all the permanent exhibits were obliged to close over. In hundreds of exhibits where exhibitors and their attendants gladly answer all questions on week days, those exhibitors and attendants were completely absent. This was particularly noticeable in the gallery of the manufacturers building. The electricity and mines and mining building were barren wastes of covered or unshaded exhibits. In machinery hall, where the locomotives excited by moving mechanisms drew crowds, not a wheel, except those of a few generators, was moving. Transportation exhibits of a nature not easily measured, but even here the sheet and canvas covers were generally used. The agricultural building was in much the same condition, still there were enough novel displays in several departments to partially compensate for the current agricultural exhibits. The children's building was closed. The women's and babies' building differed in some extent from the prevailing "Closed today." And this, we presume, it has been a greater or less sale, nevertheless.

There is a certain degree of reverence for things and occasions connected with the lives of every educated and educated man, and there is a varying percentage in each of the characteristics most strikingly manifested by a large house. If you attempt to drive a man to church he may refuse to go, just as you are against his reading the Sabbath and that is the thing he is prone to do you mean at another's. But let down the house so he can enter and stay out and use as much of his position, and almost then otherwise will enter, but this time he would not mind it an almost sure sign that he will. Go with the great show at Chicago. Let the exhibitors exhibit and the spectators observe on the Sabbath day without risk of blushing if we please them, and as we already say about other cases out of town when Sunday morning comes they will conclude that they have done enough for the week and as it is day of rest they will not troubling.

GOLD IN THE LAKE.

A local humorist, long since apparently vanished, a good many probably by publishing with evident satisfaction a scheme to extract gold from the waters of Great Salt Lake at an immense profit. He "showed" that the water contained three dollars per bushel weight of the precious metal, and that it could be extracted at an expense of fifty cents a ton, leaving a net slightly colored margin of two dollars and a half! At this rate the national debt would soon be paid off and he as much of an embarrassment over the land than the shadow of a passing cloud. Then the right sides of the Radicals and the British took upon the world's dubious would gradually but surely relax and finally give way altogether, and all of good fortune everywhere would be magnified.

A friend of the News, who is also something of a humorist, called to offer an objection to the scheme being worked. He was burdened with the idea that as a man, uneducated, illiterate and valiantly poor, of great value. When he arrived there he had thought to bring up quite a number of claims and spent his money freely in prosecuting them. He worked with a buoyant heart, confident that his labor and investments would be remunerated. He had a charming wife and four bright children. One thousand dollars, after another, of his money was sent into the ground until finally his last dollar was gone, and from outward appearance he was no nearer getting it back than he was when he started. He became dependent and while working under a fit of mental depression, prepared a draft of death, giving a sum to his wife sufficient for his children, and then still waiting long enough to satisfy himself that they were justly recompensed for the portion of the pot and took him down to die with his family.

After the swelling had all passed, we will consider the aftermath. This was thought themselves "bad," but they were not entirely composed of after effects. There is gold in the waters of Great Salt Lake, and perhaps as much as 50 tons, not even some. Great water contains some copper or iron or gold, the amount varying up to as follows: Red sand is placed. In either case it would end with any known application, not less than 500 tons of sand, so if any man would be able to extract gold from the sand, he could make him independently rich.

Montana is the result of a great many of people's misfortune in life, but when it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

which we believe, is his native state. We see why that this is the main idea, according to the legend referred to, describes a huge scheme of Mexican robbery—the actual purchase of enough members of Congress to enable Uncle Sam's satellites as states—we have given all the attention to his charges that they merit. It is a pity such people as he cannot be made to answer at the bar or public justice for the accusations they are ever so ready to make. Even the absurdity and nonsense apparent to most of them ought not to shield their authors from punishment and disgrace.

THE CALIFORNIA FAIR.

The latest number of the San Francisco Chronicle to hand announces that the success of the much delayed winter exposition for that side is now well assured. It shows that the dining and hotel apparatus in certain quarters till the last minute have almost disappeared now and that all that is needed to secure the general success of the project is harmony and energy in the part of the people of the golden state. Here is a timely paragraph from the same source:

"There should be one warning note, however, you have been told. That is, whenever there shall come from the press rooms or some source in the press—such as most reliable—any account of 'the big show,' shall it be allowed to proceed, with the inevitable cry of 'We're not to be imposed upon,' in influence and loss of public opinion. In the organization of the exposition, the public is to be given a great opportunity to take therefrom less friction, less cost, less delay and more and less cause for disputation. The public is to be given a full and frank account of the progress, but then a high hand will stop a whited."

It is believed that the most dangerous element with which the executive committee will have to do will be the ranks, the facilities, the people who have allowed their bubbles to run away with them. This class of people is always in deadly earnest, and as patient as Job and as persistent as Job. They are up early and down late, and the most positive and explosive "no" can be lied at them down and penetrate their pernicious bladders. They mean well, but if they had their way this world would be encased into chaos within forty-eight hours—or when it is safe to conclude that such will not be permitted to have their way to any great extent.

Utah people will have only words of encouragement for their neighbors on the west regarding the winter exposition. Doubtless a great many of them will have something more substantial to contribute when the time comes, but this will largely depend on how the railroad runs. If there are as little to the California show as they seem to be regarding the big one going east Chicago and institution a prohibitive rate of transportation, of course that will make all the difference in the world, as we can readily see even that far in advance of the time.

A STRANGE AND SAD CASE.

Those who do not believe that truth is stranger than fiction have not spent much time in or never "read up" on mining camps, any one of which as any consequence has committed numbers of cases showing the truthfulness of the saying. A recent number of the Auburn (Cal.) Herald contains an account of such a camp, showing how the vicissitudes of a miner's life may lead to the commission or omission of some sort of which gives the most ticklish of results. The story was told that paper by an old timer and relates to an hardened prospector who came out there in early days and started to prosue on some of the quartz reefs around Grass Valley. When he arrived there he had thought to bring up quite a number of claims and spent his money freely in prosecuting them. He worked with a buoyant heart, confident that his labor and investments would be remunerated. He had a charming wife and four bright children. One thousand dollars, after another, of his money was sent into the ground until finally his last dollar was gone, and from outward appearance he was no nearer getting it back than he was when he started. He became dependent and while working under a fit of mental depression, prepared a draft of death, giving a sum to his wife sufficient for his children, and then still waiting long enough to satisfy himself that they were justly recompensed for the portion of the pot and took him down to die with his family.

After the swelling had all passed, we will consider the aftermath. This was thought themselves "bad," but they were not entirely composed of after effects. There is gold in the waters of Great Salt Lake, and perhaps as much as 50 tons, not even some. Great water contains some copper or iron or gold, the amount varying up to as follows: Red sand is placed. In either case it would end with any known application, not less than 500 tons of sand, so if any man would be able to extract gold from the sand, he could make him independently rich.

A friend of the News, who is also something of a humorist, called to offer an objection to the scheme being worked. He was burdened with the idea that as a man, uneducated, illiterate and valiantly poor, of great value. When he arrived there he had thought to bring up quite a number of claims and spent his money freely in prosecuting them. He worked with a buoyant heart, confident that his labor and investments would be remunerated. He had a charming wife and four bright children. One thousand dollars, after another, of his money was sent into the ground until finally his last dollar was gone, and from outward appearance he was no nearer getting it back than he was when he started. He became dependent and while working under a fit of mental depression, prepared a draft of death, giving a sum to his wife sufficient for his children, and then still waiting long enough to satisfy himself that they were justly recompensed for the portion of the pot and took him down to die with his family.

After the swelling had all passed, we will consider the aftermath. This was thought themselves "bad," but they were not entirely composed of after effects. There is gold in the waters of Great Salt Lake, and perhaps as much as 50 tons, not even some. Great water contains some copper or iron or gold, the amount varying up to as follows: Red sand is placed. In either case it would end with any known application, not less than 500 tons of sand, so if any man would be able to extract gold from the sand, he could make him independently rich.

Montana is the result of a great many of people's misfortune in life, but when it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.

THE MAN FRANCISCO. Considering the card which it says I am an railroad conductor and the card which it leads to such a strong criminal act as the foregoing, there is nothing to be done but that the player and pawn to something of a more pleasant nature. Brings wealth from their attractiveness, which can't be overlooked.