DEATH OF GEO. H. GRIFFING

Special Fuss Inspector—Was on His Way to His Home in Philadelphia.

Pleasant Views—Mission Work in Nevada and California—Mind Unsound—Stolen Bicycle.

[illegible] Inspector of the United States Army, Geo. H. Griffing, was suddenly called to pass beyond the Silent Shore at the late hour of 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. Mr. Griffing had been in Ogden for some time on official duty, and was in his homeward journey, his health was never very good, but when he left Ogden he complained to his friends that he was not feeling well. The cause of death, according to Dr. Pingree, who was the coroner, was apoplexy. The deceased leaves to his private secretary, C. A. Davis, who was with him at the moment of death, and to whom he was very much attached, and the two had been together for a number of years. The remains will be shipped to Philadelphia, where the deceased has relatives residing. Miss Foster, Mrs. Hoge, E. P. Hardcastle of Provo, and Hon. Alexander Anderson of Ann Arbor, Mich.

VERNAL.

Quiet Election—Story of the Indian Trouble—Death and Burial of the Same.

Special Correspondence.

Vernal, Nov. 10.—The election for city officers passed off quietly although the contest was quite bitter. There was a straight ticket in the field, the only candidate who declined to run being Mr. Hatch, who was elected by acclamation. Mr. Hatch declined to run on account of the fact that he has been unable to attend to the duties of the office for the past year, owing to his absence from the city, but he has been unable to get relieved, so that he has been compelled to run. When this was told Mr. Pierce's friends were very much in favor of having him withdraw, but he refused to do so, as he would not listen to their solicitations. The result of the election is well known, being the same as the new purchasers should have known by reading the prophecies in the Deseret News. The result has been a very difficult task to get at, they have been so much in the dark as to the result, and bringing a load of ore back with them.

PROVO.

An Alleged Fraud — Action Decisions — Requests for Asylum Supplies.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Nov. 11.—Dr. Minnie Reynolds, physician of the Brigham Young University, Utah, has recently left for parts unknown, and is evidently on the run. It has been discovered by the officers of the law that the doctor is not a graduate of any medical college, as she represented herself to be, and it seems that she has been practicing medicine without authority. Now Brother, 1899 [illegible] Reynolds as an Arme-

[illegible] Miss Bolton, taking an extension there for an Armenian orphanage.

Further identification led to the discovery that the doctor had been living three weeks in this city, according to report to her family relatives. It is said that she left Ogden for Provo, and in conversation at the Methodist parsonage, but in the minister of the Congregational church, where she left her wife to Mexico. But some still, to one of the good lady members in the Methodist church, that she had failed to keep her appointment with her husband, as had stated that he had gone to Mexico and starting for a station to meet her, when she left Ogden for Provo, and left on the first through train for the East.
