old Council Transacts Considerable Unfinished Business Before Retiring.

A large number of citizens were in attendance at the city council chamber today and witnessed the last meeting of the retiring city council and the first meeting of the new council. Among the spectators were a number of ladies and prominent-politicians and applicants for appointment under the new administration. The retiring council met at 10:30 o'clock and adjourned sine die at 11:40 o'clock.

PLEASING INCIDENTS.

Two pleasing incidents occurred just before the old council adjourned. President F. J. Hewlett was presented with a handsome mountain mahogany gavel with silver bands and tips. Upon the large band was inscribed the names of all of the members of the retiring city council. Councilman Fernstrom made the presentation speech. He said that President Hewlett had used his own gavel in keeping the council in order until he had practically worn it out, so the councilmen decided that a new gavel would be the proper thing to take the place of the old one. He said that all of the councilmen had worked for the best interests of the city and all agree that the president of the council has always been fair, just and courteous in his treatment of the members. He then presented the gavel to President Hewlett and stated that it was given with the best wishes of ail, and as a token of respect that the councilmen nourished for him.

He recommended that the city construct its own dam and that the board of public works be au-thorized to order the contractor on the Big Cottonwood conduit to construct the dam, in accordance with the plans of the city engineer. The mayor also submitted a letter to the Utah Light & Railway company, notifying it of the city's action in the matter. The entire proposition was referred to the engineering committee for considera-tion. Thursday night. Making Every Effort to Convince the People that it Has Not Abandoned The Program of Reform.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 2, 3 p. m .- The government's strongly worded announcement yesterday that it proposes to pursue to the bitter end the policy of putting down the "reds," following on the heels of the crushing of the revolt at Moseow, demonstrates the confidence of Premier Witte's government that it has the ability to complete the task it has undertaken. The main cause of this confidence is the fidelity displayed by the troops. That the government was uncertain of how far the extensive propaganda conducted by the revolutionists in the army had shaken the loyalty of the troops is unquestionable, but the events of the last fortnight, it seems to be-

I appreciate your kind words, and am thankful to know that I have won the confidence and esteem of my associ-ates, which is worth more to me than the wealth of this world.

Riches may go up in smoke, or be lost in speculation, but true love and friendship will last forever. TROPICAL SESSIONS.

We might have had our small difficulties, and have held a few sessions that have been somewhat tropical in their character, as we cannot all see al and perhaps after all it is best; alike for without opposition, there would be nothing to test the metal we are made of, so that the people we have the hon-or to represent, would not receive the best results of our labors. We have worked together in many sessions for a good cause, and in a measure have been successful in the attainments of our object-that of the upbuilding of Sait Lake. I feel safe in making the bold statement that the council had done more work than any that has guided our municipal government since the pioneers arrived in this great

Our members almost without excep-tion, have been faithful to their duties, and not one session has failed on a regular meeting night for want of a orum, so that we might legally transact our business.

NEVER REVERSED.

I have tried to be fair in my rulings and if there is one thing above all others that I am proud of it is, that not a single decision that I have rendered has been reversed by a vote of the council. I have endeavored to enforce the rules that we adopted because it was the proper thing to do, and I desire to thank you for susaining me in it. Truthfully I can say hat I now step from public life without one single regret, having tried hard to perform the duties that devolved upon me to the best of my ability, and I hope my judgment did not err, in workbest interests of the city that we all love.

Gentlemen, I think you for the beau-tiful gavel which you have presented me with as a token of your friendship and shall always retain it as one of my choicest treasures, and when I look at it, there will always be a happy remem-brance of the time we passed together.
