

FRAGMENTS.

The County Court held a session yesterday. No. 7 of the Baton is out, brightly and melodiously as ever.

The shingles are being put on the new building at the Utah Central depot.

The tracks of the Utah Central yard are being torn up and relaid with reference to the new building there.

A MINER named D. Sweeney was seriously injured in the face on Saturday last, at the Horn Silver Mine, Frisco, by a premature blast. He was brought to Salt Lake yesterday.

Primary Conference.—The Conference of the Primary Associations of the Stake will be held on Saturday at 10 a. m. in the Assembly Hall. Parents and all others interested are cordially invited to attend.

"Bonaparte's Captivity."—Mr. James A. McKnight informs us that he will repeat his interesting lecture on the "Captivity and Death of Napoleon Bonaparte at St. Helena," at the Theatre in the near future.

Tabernacle Choir Excursion.—Read the advertisement in another column regarding the date, price, attractions, etc., of the Tabernacle Choir excursion to Nephi next week.

That "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

The "Royal Reception."—It was understood that the grand reception by certain Hibernians of this city would be given in honor of a "Irishman" who was supposed to be one of the company of emigrants which arrived this morning from Europe.

FOUND DEAD.

SUPPOSED CASE OF SUICIDE IN A GULCH NORTH OF THE WARM SPRINGS—IT IS THE MISSING MAN, WILLIAM GOODWIN.

Early this morning the dead body of a man, in an advanced stage of decomposition, was found lying in a gulch, the first one north of the Warm Springs Bath House, about 300 yards above the wagon road crossing the ravine, and leading to the rock quarry in that neighborhood.

He was discovered by Wm. H. Ridd, a son of carpenter Ridd, who was up there with his team, hauling rock, and who ascended the mountain to look at a large cliff, close by the body, to see if it would be suitable for making lime. He saw a dog-chewing at something in the hollow, and tried to call him away, but as the cur did not move he proceeded to the spot, where a horrible sight met his gaze.

Extended on the ground, at the foot of the rocky precipice, with his head to the gulch, lay what was left of a human corpse. The head was stripped of hair and the face was discolored to blackness, and wholly unrecognizable. He had on a brownish speckled suit, a combing brush. His right arm from which the clothes were rolled up, was extended above his head, and the skin of the hand was pulled from the wrist down over the knuckles, where it hung like a glove half taken off.

The left arm was gone, eaten away by other parts of the body, by dogs or wolves. The left leg was also missing, though some of the bones were lying in a little heap, with one from the absent arm, near one of his shoes, a little below the body. The flesh from the shin bone of the right leg was nearly all torn away, and the bone was exposed in place, and on that foot was a shoe.

About ten feet above his head, at the very base of the cliff, lay a dark, soft hat, partly imbedded in the ground, and half filled with hair and blood, moistened some, no doubt by the recent rains, but nearly dry. A little south of a line between the head and the hat, lay a Smith and Wesson revolver, with two bullets in its chamber empty, and the weapon thickly coated with rust. In the skull of the dead man was a bullet-hole, passing in at the right side and coming out higher up on the left, breaking a larger hole where the ball made its exit. There was also a spatter of dried blood on a stone, a little south and above the pistol.

The place where the body was found was a steep incline, in the very bed of the ravine, and the corpse had evidently been dragged a little distance down, very likely by the dogs and other animals that had feasted upon it. The hill was so steep as to require the aid of bushes, growing near, to enable the climber to reach the spot. It is evidently a case of suicide, and the probability is that the man was sitting or standing at the foot of the cliff, where his hat was found, when he fired the fatal shot. If there were originally any other signs of violence, they had evidently been erased by the storm.

The fact that two chambers of the revolver were empty, might be explained on the hypothesis that the suicide fired one shot to see if his weapon was sure, before emptying the other into his head.

Mr. Ridd did not touch the body, but went at once to the City Hall and notified the police, Marshal Phillips and Officer Wilcox, and others went up to see the body, and later, Sexton Taylor, Coroner Taylor, Col. Hollister, Marshal Phillips, Mr. Van Natta, and about twenty-five others, boys and men, also visited the scene. The remains were gathered up in a sheet and brought by the Sexton's men down to his office, where an inquest is being held this afternoon, as we go to press.

The relatives of the missing man, Goodwin—son of J. M. Goodwin, of the Tribune—were notified and were expected to be present at the examination, as it was thought by some that this might possibly be the body of the young man who disappeared so mysteriously several weeks ago. The corpse found must have been lying in the gulch for a month at least. On his person was found a pocket book, containing a comb, a piece of looking glass and several mail tickets, but as the body had not been touched since the time we obtained our information, further details cannot be had till after the examination. Coroner Taylor, in order to assist the jurors in arriving at a verdict, made a hasty sketch of the body, with its position and immediate surroundings, prior to its removal to the City Hall.

LATER.—The body has been identified as that of William Goodwin, a fireman on the D. & R. Grande Railway, and a son of J. M. Goodwin, of this city, who is now in Montana in quest of his missing son. The deceased was 25 years of age, and the body was identified by his brother.

FATAL RESULT.

WILLIAM SWIFT DIES FROM THE EFFECTS OF HIS ACCIDENT.

William Swift, the young man who accidentally shot himself last Sunday afternoon while out hunting rabbits, died last night at a quarter to 12 o'clock, at his residence in the Tenth Ward. He did not recover from the effects of the amputation of his left forearm, necessitated by the accident, or rather from the infection which set in very early, due largely to the mental excitement under which he was laboring.

The facts in relation to the accident are substantially as already published. He was standing in the doorway of a shanty where himself and party, four in number, had been resting from their hunt, when his gun, which he held in his right hand, with the butt resting upon his foot and his left forearm over the muzzle, was discharged, as stated. He exclaimed: "Boys, I've shot my arm off; drive for town as fast as possible."

They at once got into their wagon and came directly to the city. The fireman and his party were remarkably cool and calm, went immediately to Dr. Benedict who told him that his arm would have to come off below the elbow. Being anxious to save it if possible, he asked for other physicians consulted also, whereupon Dr. Fowler was sent for, who, on arriving, conferred with Dr. Benedict. Dr. W. E. Anderson was then summoned, and he too agreed that nothing but amputation would do. Consequently the patient was put under the influence of chloroform and the operation was attended to, as already related.

Mr. Swift then went home, and he will be walked into the home of his wife, who is now in the hospital, and who learned the cause of his husband's arm, she became hysterical, and had it not been for the opportune arrival of John Walsh, his brother-in-law, who did what he could to allay their excitement, the predicament might have been more serious for both. Mrs. Swift has but recently recovered from her confinement, she has convalesced a few weeks old, and the shock from her husband's mishap was terrible. In her weak condition.

The deceased bore a good character. The night before he went hunting, he seemed to feel very much as usual, and about going out on Sunday for a walk. But he had promised a companion of his, a young man named

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

Don't forget to call at Dwyer's New

CITY COUNCIL.

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

Proceedings of the City Council,

COHN BROS. WALKER BROTHERS! WE ARE RECEIVING LARGE SHIPMENTS

Fall and Winter Trade. COMPLETE STOCK FOR FALL AND WINTER IN THE CITY.

UPHOLSTERY: American Cretonnes, 25c yard. Tuisienne Cretonnes, 40c

TEASDEL'S, Recent Arrivals of New Goods. PARASOLS TO BE HAD IN SILK, ALPACA OR GINGHAM.

MOQUETTE CARPETS, IN NEW AND ELEGANT PATTERNS. BEST TAPESTRY BRUSSELS, $1.00 yard.

WASH SOAP MFG CO'S STANDARD FAMILY TOILET SOAPS. I have used Ely's Cream Balm for Hay Fever, and experienced great relief.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE! THE WAGON & IMPLEMENT STOCK OF A. J. JOHNSON & CO., CONSISTING OF Wagons, Sulky & Hand Plows, Harrows, SCRAPERS.

COHN BROS. WALKER BROTHERS! WE ARE RECEIVING LARGE SHIPMENTS

Fall and Winter Trade. COMPLETE STOCK FOR FALL AND WINTER IN THE CITY.

UPHOLSTERY: American Cretonnes, 25c yard. Tuisienne Cretonnes, 40c

TEASDEL'S, Recent Arrivals of New Goods. PARASOLS TO BE HAD IN SILK, ALPACA OR GINGHAM.

MOQUETTE CARPETS, IN NEW AND ELEGANT PATTERNS. BEST TAPESTRY BRUSSELS, $1.00 yard.

WASH SOAP MFG CO'S STANDARD FAMILY TOILET SOAPS. I have used Ely's Cream Balm for Hay Fever, and experienced great relief.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE! THE WAGON & IMPLEMENT STOCK OF A. J. JOHNSON & CO., CONSISTING OF Wagons, Sulky & Hand Plows, Harrows, SCRAPERS.