

KING ALI'S QUEST.

There came a priest into the court one day, standing by the throne with un-bent knees. "Great Allah bade me come and say, 'O King, thy brother hath sore need of thee.'"

"Our brother?" quoth the monarch, wondering. "Know we are all, last of our race." "Thy brother hath sore need of thee, O King," replied the priest, and vanished from the place.

At night the great town slept beside the sea. But on his pallet restless tossed the king. "Thy brother hath sore need of thee," he heard, and the palace chambers echoed.

Till, when gray morning thro' the window crept, Forced by the summons pleading at his door, All went forth, while all his sentries slept. And took a way no king had gone before.

He went through fetid lane and alley dim. He saw in prison foul the young child lie. He heard by stake and cross the martyr's hymn. He saw in lantern-hat the friendless die.

In vain they called him to his crown and throne. He laughed that such poor playthings yet should be. And answered all, "I find, at last, my own."

If tomb King Ali had, it is unknown. His palace chambers razed by Time's rude hands. For ages lost his scepter, and his throne His ashes mingled with the desert's sands.

Yet down the chill wind of the Past is blown The breath of roses o'er a wintry sea. These words of love, "I find, at last, my own," I know my brother that hath need of me."

—By Annie M. L. Hawes, in Youth's Companion.

ON A CHILD'S PORTRAIT.

Deep in the hushed hollow of its shells Dimly some echo of the ocean dwells. Still in September's fruitage mellowed, The sweetest of golden noons are stored.

And shimmering on a bluebird's wing, Some poignant touch of June's lost azure clings. Still in the rustling sheaf today there gleams The fading gold of some dead April's dream.

Still in the cell of one autumnal bee I find last summer in epitome. And all that better life that I would lead, With small in this, one childish face, I read.

—Arthur Stringer, Century.

NOTES.

E. F. Henderson's Short History of Germany will be dedicated at Prince Henry of Prussia, by his special permission, and will be published by The Macmillan company next week, in two octavo volumes.

Hawthorne wrote in his notebook: "No place ever took so strong a hold of my being as Rome, nor ever seemed so close to me, nor so strangely familiar. I seem to know it better than my birthplace, and to have known it long." The words furnish one of many reasons why the proposed statue of Hawthorne in the Eternal City will be a fitting memorial.

Dr. Tappan's description of King James I. in her recent book, England's Story, seems to indicate that he would have been available on a present-day football team, for he was awkward and clumsy and had his clothes padded and quilted, and he rolled from side to side when he walked.

The Bowen-Merrill company announces for immediate publication a new book of essays by Mr. Richard Burton. The title of the book, "Forces in Fiction," indicates its character. It is a collection of papers on the elements of fiction, and the treatment accorded the modern literature, as especially shown in the novel, romantic and historical, and in the later day drama. Mr. Burton's treatment of his subject is at all times sympathetic and liberal, yet his distinctions are to a nicety, his balance delicate, and his conclusions convincing.

The true Shakespearean tang and color are found in a novel short story about Sir John Falstaff which appears in Harper's Magazine for March. It is called "Love-Letters of Falstaff," by Douglas Branch Co. The story, re-doubled and large-hearted knight is portrayed to the life, even his language exhibiting the very touch of nature. The story tells how Sir John is visited by an old sweetheart of his boyhood days, who, knowing nothing of the vagaries of his brave deeds, speaks of his general brilliance and goodness. She leaves with him the packet of old love-letters which he once wrote her and after her departure the knight re-reads them with appropriate comment. In spite of himself, he is somewhat shamed, "A cup of sack to break the brain!" cried Sir John, and filled one to the brim. The story is capital, and quite out of the beaten track.

Harper & Brothers are reprinting Thomas W. Knox's admirable series of "The Boy Travelers," in which two youths, Frank Bassett and Fred Brown, accompanied by their genial mentor, Doctor Bronson, journey all over the way, and learning fine adventures by the way, and learning more in one chapter than a dry book of facts would teach in a volume. These books are in demand year after year, and have no equal rivals in their line. Mr. Knox, who died several years ago, had a very genial, attractive personality, and was always in sympathy with young people and had the rare capacity for them successfully, as his books testify.

Mr. Otis Skinner who is to produce a play early next fall made from Mrs. Catherwood's successful novel, "Lazarus," will personally conduct the dramatization.

He and the author of the book have frequently met and discussed the details of a stage version; indeed, he was negotiating for the play before the book was published last autumn. Mr. Skinner and Mr. Aubrey Boucicault, who plays the part of Paolo in Francesca di Rimini, will collaborate on the dramatization. Mr. Boucicault is the grandson of the veteran playwright, Dion Boucicault, who is best remembered perhaps by his collaboration with Charles Reade when they wrote "Poul Play."

Mr. Skinner is enthusiastic over his new possession. He believes the story has great stage possibilities and proposes to give it an elaborate production. Mr. Skinner certainly is fitted in every way to play the part of the picturesque hero of Mrs. Catherwood's charming story.

Reports from the public libraries in 20 of the principal cities in the United States, show that of the 30 books most in demand up to March 8, five were published by The Bowen-Merrill company.

No little daring characterizes the making of "Gentle Albert's" new novel, The Conqueror: Being the True Story of the Fighting Bishop.

It will be strange if Herbert M. Hopkins does not take a place in the favor of the public equal to "David Harum." The character, while differing widely from the central figure in the latter, possesses the same vital elements of individuality and life-like naturalness that have made David Harum one of the most popular figures in modern fiction, and the book possesses besides the added interest of several other characters, each having the distinct delineation which makes the chief personage stand out with its wonderful reality. Stephen, with his touch of genius allied to an exaggerated sensitiveness and selfishness which ends finally in the fatal ending of his short career, is a new figure in fiction, but so vividly drawn that the reader is almost forced to the conclusion of its being a life-picture. Tom and Anna, with their pitiful life-tragedy, Basil and Imogen, Eusebius and the other inmates of the bishop's household are all live creatures, and from beginning to end of the book, the interest of the reader follows each one, in his small orbit, intent to know the fortune falling to their individual lot. The title of the book is an actual name given to a well known character at the time of the civil war. At that period Bishop Polk of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Tennessee gave up his episcopate to become a confederate general and at once was dubbed "The Fighting Bishop." This gave Herbert M. Hopkins the title of his novel, though not the plot, but the inspiration. For these he is indebted, as far as imagination can be indebted to fact, to the Rev. John Henry Hopkins, the first bishop of Vermont and the grandfather of the author.

Herbert M. Hopkins, author of "The Fighting Bishop," was born in Hannibal, Mo., but always speaks and thinks of Ohio as his home. From his 12th year he lived in Toledo and his father lived there long before him. That strong character "the fighting bishop" Ambrose, for whom his novel was named, was drawn from the life and actual experience of the author's grandfather, and many of the characters of that remarkable old fashioned family which he has so truly pictured, are taken almost wholly from the lives of his ancestors and their friends. An eastern critic says:

"Bradish's Stories of Country Life" is a new volume by Bradish, Bradish, author of "Old Norse Stories." This is one of the latest additions to the well known series of Electric School Readings, and the stories are suitable for reading in the fourth or fifth years. It presents in easy and interesting manner the yearly round of country life on a farm, with asperal references to the history of wheat, from its planting to its grinding into flour at one of the great modern mills. The general framework is interwoven true narratives of horses and dogs, birds and little wild animals, describing traits that may be watched and verified by the reader. To lead variety any observant child, and to give a broader view of industrial life, among the farm stories are scattered others relating to lumbering, coal and iron mining, and the industries to which they give rise. The book is attractively illustrated and cannot fail to awaken interest in life in the country and to give the pupil a new and better knowledge of its varied activities.—American Book Co.

"Lectures a Conversation" is a new and progressive Spanish method by T. Silva and A. Fourcat. This work consists of three parts, to which is appended a vocabulary for ready reference. The first part gives the fundamental rules of grammar and the conjugation of verbs. Part II comprises a series of graded reading lessons, new words being gradually introduced. It gives also exercises in conversation to facilitate the requirement of colloquial forms of expression. Part III contains selections taken from the best Spanish authors. These are arranged in the order of their difficulty, and are accompanied by a collection of one hundred idioms and proverbs. For a brief course this seems to us one of the most satisfactory in giving the student a good acquaintance with the elements of the Spanish language.—American Book Co.

MAGAZINES.

The final chapter of that excellent serial, "Picketts Gap," is contained in this week's issue of the Youth's Companion, and the ending is fully equal in interest to those which have preceded it. Three excellent short stories, "A Dicker With the President," "A Franco-Yankee Hat," and "Akowma's Ruse," are supplemented by an article entitled "Ship-Building For Young Americans," and the usual delightful reading in the departments, and some charming poetry.

The first place in Out West for March is given to the remarkable series of "Studies in Floral Architecture" by O. V. Lange, with some beautiful illustrations. Charles F. Lummis continues his interesting serial on "Oranges 250 Year Ago," with several reproductions of quaint old pictures, and Carl Pandy discusses "Pomo Indian Blacksmiths." The new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of the progressive agriculturist is rapidly supplanting the shabby plantation of former days. Mr. Vandervort illustrates the old condition and the new with photography.

Children often inherit feeble digestive power and soils of a more or less severe character results, when the food is taken which is all difficult to digest. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE acts as a general and permanent tonic. Price 25 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When children have earache, saturate a piece of cotton with BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, and place it in the ear. It will stop the pain quickly. Price 50 cents. Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

When the meaning of the wild refrain, And what the message that the North Wind brings? Of bones that bleach beside the sand-choked springs. Of strange red mountains, unrefreshed by rain, A land of gossamer and forgotten things.

To speak of country life in the cotton belt is almost a redundancy, for there is practically no city life in that region. In the March number of Outing, however, Leon Vandervort describes some of the new country places which are gradually developing a new country life in the old south. The carefully groomed estate of