Two of the College Eleven are Badly Injured in Game with Soldiers.

Was a Good Football Match, and at Call of Time Score Stood at 15 to 10.

All Hallows college and the Ninth cavalry football elevens met on the Walker fied yesterday afternoon and when the smoke of battle cleared away it was found that the Students had defeated the cavalrymen by a score of 15 to 10.

The college boys, however, had to buy their game at a good price, in the form of losing a couple of good players. ,Mcnear the close of the first half and was ound to have the forefinger of his left hand literally nearly torn off-the mem-ber being doubled back and dislocated, the flesh parted and the bone visible. home in a carriage.

Some of the decisions of Referee
White were of such an intricate nature so utterly at variance with the rule-book that some irreverent college boy insinuated that the referee had "mud on his skylight." Taken all together, however, it was a good game, with Tallon, Wolohan, Downey and the two Fanning brothers working like beavers for alma mater.

The soldiers showed marked signs of improvement since their last match put up a fast and snappy game, and at times real interference and gen-uine team work could be noticed with out the aid of glasses. Ringo, Anderson and Barton were the star pounders and seldom failed to register a gain. Early in the game the brown boys abandoned end runs, as their opponent end men inspired them with a whole some respect, and played the battering-ram game with success as they were, man for man, some fifteen pounds

FUNERAL OF WM. SADLER.

The funeral of the late William Sad. ler was held from the Sixteenth ward meeting house, yesterday and the build-ing was crowded by the friends of the deceased, who came to show their respect to their departed friend. Many of the Veteran Artillery were there, to show their love for their departed comrade.

The ceremonies were presided over by Bishop George R. Emery, who spoks briefly in a highly commendatory manner of the deceased. Addresses were also made by R. F. Neslen, Charles R. Savage, T. C. Griggs, Peter Reid and President Duncan M. McAllister of the Veteran association. All spoke in a tender, eulogistic strain of the deceased, such as must have been consoling to such as must have been consoling to those who were near to him. The interment was made in the city cemetery.

THE CAUSE OF THE FALL IN BEEF

M. K. Parsons, Salt Lake Cattleman, Blames it to Turkeys.

GIVES HIS REASONS WHY

Great Demand for the National Bird -"Millions of Him" Being Fattened for the Holidays.

"The catle market has held up pretty stiffly thus far, but it's doomed to drop before the end of another week," said M. K. Parsons, the Salt Lake stockman, to a Denver friend at the Brown

"How so? Does not the Anglo-Boer war call for the experiation of a great deal of beef, and doesn't that help you cattlemen?

"Oh, ves." assented Mr. Parsons. "And isn't the Philippine demand a strong one?"

"And Cuba, do not her needs form a strengthening feature of the market? Undoubtedly, and there's the beef for the Klondike; that's a good deal bigger item than you would suppose."
"Why then, with all these circumstances in its favor, do you expect prices to go down? What's going to knock the 'Turkeys," answered the cattleman, "just turkeys-and, of course, chickens and game of various kinds, but mainly turkeys."

His friend started. "I know that at Thanksgiving and Christmas the birds are in great demand," said he, "but I

"You don't need to think," cut in Mr. arsons. "Just go to any of our big tles and see for yourself. This councities and see for yourself. This country is chock full of turkeys that the thrifty housewife and the regular turkey raisers have been fattening for weeks. You've no idea how many thousands of tons of these birds go to New It would just paralyze you with astonishment to stand around Washington and Gansevoort and Jefferson markets and see the vast quantities delivered daily, and you would wonder still more if you visited the storehouses of the commission merchants, where hundreds of carloads are packed away on ice. It is the same in Baltimore, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis and a dozen other of our large cities. Tur-keys and chickens, turkeys and chickens everywhere, and it takes about six weeks or two months to eat

"Besides there are millions of rabbits. cottontails and jacks, and pheasants, prairie chickens and quails shipped to the big towns and handled by the com-

Then there are the 'possums-"Oh, come now, old man," his friend broke in, "you don't mean to tell me that there are enough possum to hurt the beef market."

"Well, no," admitted the cattleman, "not of themselves, but the consump-tion of these fine, fat little fellows is something enormous. Now would you believe that 50,000 of them are eaten in New York City alone every year during the months of November and Decem-

"No, I wounld't, and I don't."
"It's a fact al the same; the 'possums are shipped in from the middle and western States principally, although a good many are natives of New Jersey.

And what makes them cut more of a figure in the beef market is the fact that after a man has partaken of a fat 'possom he don't want any kind of meat for the next week, Christmas meats begin handled shortly after Thanksgiving, and the holiday menu includes very little beef. Along toward the middle of January, when the turkey and chicken supply is exhausted, the catle mar-ket will stiffen up, but until that time will be dull .- Denver Post.

Word was received at police headquarters at 10:30 this morning to the effect that a crazy man was bombarding with rocks the Rapid Transit street cars, as they sped along North Temple street in the vicinity of Second West. A run was made to the locality indicated but the fellow had vanished.

John Young, who drives a butcher's delivery wagon, reported to the police this morning that some one had stolen his new mackintosh from his wagon

Chief Hilton propose to place before the City Council in the near future a new system for communicating with the patro nen on their beats. He has been opposed for some time past to the present regulation in vogue by which the men report to headquarters. Under the present system the men ring up the police boxes every half hour, this takes them away from their beats and thieves are aware of the fact and lay their plans accordingly. It can be safely asserted that the pollcemen can be found in the vicinity of the boxes for ten minutes during each half hour The chief of police proposes to do away with the half-hour report and institute in its stead two red lights over each box. When an officer is wanted at headquarters the desk sergeant will simply press a button on the keyboard, at his side, and the lights will flash on, then the officer will proceed to the box and inquire into the nature of the call and receive his instructions. City Electrician Vail has proved the original scheme of Chief Hilton to be a success and says that the boxes can be fitted up at a cost of less than $100. If the scheme is acted upon fa-vorably by the City Council, all the delay in urgent cases when an officer is nted, will be done away with.

The police are looking for a short, heavy set, blue-eyed man with a ruddy complexion and a scrubby red mous-tache who entered the residence of Mrs. Matilda Lyman, 36 F street on Monday afternoon. That he is the fellow want-ed is without doubt for Mrs. Lyman met him in the hallway of her resi-dence when she returned home. Incidentally he had a revolver in his hand and was clad in light brown clothes, a light hat and an overcoat of brown can-vas. Both parties were considerably surprised at the meeting and Mrs. Ly-man left by the front door while the housebreaker vanished out the back way without undue ceremony. After the coast was clear the police were notified and an investigation disclosed that the thief had broken a window on the west side of the dining room and effected an entrace. The entire house had been ran-

The chief opened Wall's door to slam it the next instant, at the insane man "prepared to receive cav-airy" on the point of a fearful looking butcher knife, which he nearly succee d in driving through the panel of the door while the chief placed the door knob under arrest. Coaxing was then in order and Roberts and the doctor went round to a side window and used some telling diplomacy with an oily tongue. Wall laid down his knife and tongue. Wall laid down his annu-listened to the siren and the next in-stant Sheets had him in his fond em-brace. Wall made a few remarks not countered in Sunday school literature and gave the long detective "what for" with the butt end of a tumbler of water. Then a very pretty wrestling match was inaugurated and finally Wall was securely handcuffed and eventually placed in the padded cell at the county tall

C. Mathis was roosting uncom fortably upon a refuse heap at the rear of 123 west North Temple street at 6 o'clock last evening when the police him a free ride to the palatial home for chronic elbow-crookers-known among the unregenerate as the drunk house. On being searched at headquarters Mathis panned out three quart bottles of "strike-'em-dead." Later in the evening Jack Storm and John Jacobson two husky Finlanders from Castle Gate were sent to join Mathis in order to cheer him up. The Finns evidently wanted to share the other inebriate's eider down quilt upon the flagstones. Be that as it may, unquestionable sounds of strife and those of a strong man in his agony issued from the drunk house at 10 p. in., while Dooley stood at the grating and yelled "sick "strong" "Syrvers! Glover stood of the grating and yelled "sick "strong". Several officers rushed across the jail yard to the drunk house and found the Finns dancing all over the prostrate Mathis, who was shricking "murder" at the top of his voice. BOY KILLED BY A "LIVE WIRE."

Victim Was David Shulson Employed at Bingham.

HE RECEIVED 15,000 VOLTS.

Death Came Instantly and Apparently as the Result of Thoughtlessness on Part of Young Man.

David Shulson, a young man, employed as teamster at the Brooks concentrator in Bingham, met sudden death last evening, by falling upon a live electric wire. The boy was at work on the dump of the old Spanish mine, the property of the United States conpany. At the time of the fatality he was working in the ore bins, just above the electric transformer house, where the current from the Jordan Narrows power plant is reduced for the concentrator. It was his custom to hang his coat in this house, which he had been warned many times to keep out of, on account of the danger encountered in the room. Wishing to get his coat, he jumped down to the roof of this house, but on landing his feet slipped and he fell. His wrist came in contact with one of the wires running into the con-centrator two feet below. The wire was carrying 15,000 volts, and the shock killed him instantly. No blame is at-tached to anyone, as the officers had re-peatedly warned the man to keep out of the room and Shulson had been par-ticularly warned as it was thought that e was more careless than the others. The hapless youth was the son o
