

C. W. KRAMER AND COL. DODGE HERE

Arrival of Colorado Midland Officials Starts Guessing.

WILL STAY FOR ONE WEEK.

Vice President Says He May Have Something to Give Out Prior To Departure East.

Considerable speculation has been aroused in railroad circles by the arrival in Salt Lake yesterday of Vice President C. W. Kramer and Col. David C. Dodge of the Colorado Midland in private car No. 100. When it was announced that the gentlemen will remain here for a week the mystery deepened.

When seen this morning Mr. Kramer denied that there were any extensions or improvements mapped out for his road for the ensuing year. "We are just here on a routine visit," he said. "We may possibly have something to give out that will be of interest to our people."

The two railroad officials spent the morning in the office of Col. Cotton, cashier for the Rio Grande, and also visited the offices of the Utah Fuel company.

Accompanying Messrs. Kramer and Dodge are Dr. J. W. O'Connor, chief surgeon for the Rio Grande system, and F. Green, a capitalist of Colorado Springs, together with two private secretaries.

Col. D. C. Dodge looks as hale and hearty as ever. What he has done for Utah is best told by brief reference to the Rio Grande system, which he has been in charge of since 1898. His tenure of office has been marked by the development of the great west. His retirement from the active field of Utah railroad work was regretted, but by no means greater than the loss of officials and employees of the Western.

Col. Dodge is too old a man to travel across two states and live in a private car for 10 days just for the fun of the thing. It is safe to say that his advent in Salt Lake is the forerunner of future developments in railroad construction and development of the rich resources that lie awaiting the magic hand of the capitalist and engineer.

The guesses that have been hazarded on the streets today have embraced all manner of railroad schemes, from the extension of the Midland to the coal and iron deposits near Cedar City to the building of a line through to Deep Creek.

BANCROFT COMING HOME

General Manager of Short Line Returns Here Monday.

The private car of Vice President and General Manager W. H. Bancroft left Salt Lake this morning for Denver. Mr. Bancroft is expected to return to Salt Lake on Monday afternoon. He has been absent in the east for nearly a month, the greater part of which he has been in consultation with E. H. Harriman regarding the projected improvements on the Oregon Short Line for the ensuing year.

ONLY A LITTLE PINN.

But He Created Consternation in the Ranks of Railroad Officials.

The mystery of the missing Pinn has been solved, and little low-headed, blue-eyed, poorly-jointed youngster has been returned to the arms of his doting mother, who was fretting her heart out for her boy at Eureka. The trouble started a month ago when the Pinn, a woman, direct from the store of an Allen line, was put off at her destination at Eureka. She was evidently in trouble and the greater part of which she held tightly by the hand of a stranger, who, after a great amount of patience, the interpreter secured by Agent Stack found out that the woman had been taken from her home by the third train because he was sick.

The status of the case was wired to Assistant General Passenger Agent D. S. Spencer of the Southern California, who at once proceeded to institute search for the missing youngster with the result that after 3,000 miles of railroad back to Eureka, the youngster had gone over by means of express wires and correspondence to the thoroughly stirred up officials the youngster was finally located in the hospital in Omaha, where he had been suffering from pneumonia.

Hiram Dunn, traveling passenger agent for the O. S. L., eventually effected the role of the play, very brilliant, and the company interpreting it is of about the same grade as the play. The men average up better than the ladies, and no one was sorry to have the story interrupted by the occupation of interpretation of some specialty acts.

The same bill runs tonight, and tomorrow afternoon and evening. On Monday night the play opens with a production of the big Russian, melodrama entitled "For Her Sake."

Junket for Jobbers.

The Utah Jobbers' association of this city tomorrow will start on a two-weeks' outing to Southern California, stopping at the various places of interest between Salt Lake and Los Angeles. Joseph Geoghegan, who has been designated chief of the pilgrimage, is looking after the affair and has secured a special sleeping car for their accommodation during the entire trip.

Another Rock Island Extension.

The Chicago, Rock Island & Choctaw Railroad company has filed incorporation papers to build a railroad from Arilla, Tex., to Tucuman, Gaudalupa county, N. M., connecting the Choctaw and Rock Island systems and giving a shorter line from Memphis, and Little Rock to El Paso. The line is to be built this summer. The capital stock is $1,000,000, headquarters at Chicago and Alamo Gordo.

Salt Lake and Suburban.

The Financial Chronicle has the following to say of the Salt Lake and Suburban:

"This company has been organized with a liberal franchise to build a trolley road from the heart of Salt Lake City to Murray, Brigham Junction, Sandy, Union, Holladay, Taylorville and Mill Creek canyon, with privileges of passenger, express and freight traffic. Its capital stock is $200,000 and 5 percent gold bonds, running 45 years, will be issued for $1,200,000, or about $30,000 per mile. Forty-two miles of line have been surveyed, to which will be added later eight or ten miles more. Construction will be commenced early in the spring. The following information is furnished:

"The largest source of revenue is expected to be the hauling of limestone from several quarries on the line to the large smelters at Salt Lake City, Murray and Brigham Junction. For this purpose the road will be equipped with 20-ton electric locomotives and suitable freight cars. The passenger equipment will be of the best. Two or three sleeping car resorts are on the proposed line, and the company proposes to develop one or two more of special attractiveness in Mill Creek and Cottonwood canyons, where parties identified with the enterprise own large tracts of a picturesque and romantic character. The estimated cost of projected lines is about $500,000; annual gross earnings, $300,000."

Tunnel into New York.

New York, Jan. 29.—Great gains may be made in running by a new project to construct a tunnel which is to connect the systems of the New York Central and Pennsylvania railways. While this tunnel may not be built for at least two years, it is understood that the two railway companies have agreed on the plan, although no official statement has been issued.

It is intended to construct a tunnel of unusual depth from the central yards of the Grand Central station, at Forty-sixth street, to Madison avenue, and down that thoroughfare to Thirty-third street, where a junction will be effected with the tunnel tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad.

At one point the tunnel will reach a depth of 100 feet beneath the street. One of the great advantages to be gained from the tunnel will be in a lessening of the running time between Boston and Washington by nearly three hours. Gains in transit would thus be made also between all points in New England states and the south.

Blacksmiths Reorganized.

The local union of the railroad blacksmiths has been reorganized and a charter has been applied for from the International headquarters. The blacksmiths start off with a membership of 15, and its augmentation in numbers is said to be but a question of a short time. The following have been elected officers for the ensuing year: L. C. Dale, president; A. McEllar, vice president; C. H. Baldwin, recording secretary; Harry Mitchell, financial secretary; W. G. Francon, treasurer.

SPIKE AND RAIL.

The line men of the telegraph force of the Oregon Short Line under Foreman Aiken are working on South Temple street on the Leamington cut-off wires.

W. P. Watson, the engineer who was in charge of the Leamington cut-off construction, has gone to Omaha.

S. J. Collins of Chicago, formerly superintendent of the Wisconsin Central, has been appointed general superintendent of the eastern district of the Southern railroad. He succeeds Joseph H. Noyes.

A meeting of the directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad was held in New York yesterday. At its close an official statement was made to the effect that only routine business had been transacted.

M. K. Barnum, who was for four years master mechanic of the Union Pacific, has been appointed superintendent of motive power of the entire Rock Island system with headquarters at Chicago.

A. E. Dunn, traveling passenger agent for the Oregon Short Line, left for Reno, Nev., today to visit the company the "Coronado" company from that point to Butte, where they play Sunday night.

AMUSEMENTS.

That merry opera "The Princess Chlo," came back to us last night, presented with new people and new costumes. Despite the hit made by the bass with the pipe organ voice, Mr. Miron, who was the success of the night, it can hardly be said that the work was received with the same favor as before. This is principally due to the fact that the handsome and brilliant soprano, Maude Lillian Bell, the hit bit on the original production, is no longer with the company, that the chorus has been somewhat abridged in both looks and voices, and that many of the jokes now have new grown rather rusty. Miss Michels, the "Princess Chlo" in the present production, is a little better body with a sweet but light voice, but with a manner of acting that decidedly suggests the amateur. Mr. Miron is a whole host, and his big basso profundo voice, as he sang his solo, carried him to success. The other comedians were of a very ordinary sort. Our old friend, Forrest Huff, of Wilber-Kirwin, sang a song, and did a few tricks, and feeling, acted well, and was a general improvement on his predecessor.

The remainder of the support was fair, but could not be called brilliant. The same bill goes tonight, tomorrow afternoon and evening. Last night's audience was surprisingly good, considering the long drag on Theater goers' pockets.

At the Grand last night business took something of a drop, and a fair-sized house. While there was considerable laughter over the complications that ensued over the marital misadventure of the hero, it can hardly be said in truth that the play is very brilliant, and the company interpreting it is of about the same grade as the play. The men average up better than the ladies, and no one was sorry to have the story interrupted by the occupation of interpretation of some specialty acts.

The same bill runs tonight, and tomorrow afternoon and evening. On Monday night the play opens with a production of the big Russian, melodrama entitled "For Her Sake."

WEBER CLUB'S ANNUAL BANQUET

Pleasant Affair at Junction City Last Night.

DEATH OF MRS. EDWIN DIX.

Highly Respected Lady Falls Victim To Apoplexy, Result of Accident.

(Special to the "News.")

Ogden, Jan. 29.—One of the most enjoyable and successful social events of the season took place here last night at Prof. Conley's dancing hall and the hall of the Knights of Pythias. It was the Weber club annual banquet and ball. The early part of the evening was spent in dancing to most inspiring music, and at 11 a most beautiful and elaborate banquet spread confronted the guests in the Knights of Pythias hall, which joins the dancing quarters. Hon. Fred J. Keisel, president of the club, acted as toastmaster, and as such proved most capable and entertaining. Many toasts were given and responded to by members of the club and others. Gov. Heber M. Wells responded to the toast, "Utah: First, Last and All the Time." Hon. Thomas D. Dee, to "Our Sister City," (referring to Salt Lake).

After languishing for about two hours, the company returned to the dancing hall and indulged in the "light" part of the evening, which was a most enjoyable one. The hall was beautifully decorated with a profusion of potted plants, flowers and evergreens, and presented a charming appearance. Besides the dancing, there was a variety of other amusements. Mrs. Gov. Wells, Justice Baskin, B. H. Roberts, State Senators Albin and Armstrong, and many other prominent people from Salt Lake and other portions of the state.

DEATH OF MRS. DIX.

The angel of death has visited another of Ogden's homes and cast its pall over the hearts of the family of County Assessor Edwin Dix. Mrs. Dix, wife of the assessor, died at 6 o'clock this morning at the family residence on Seventeenth street, from apoplexy. On Monday last, while ascending a flight of stairs, she was seized with a fainting spell and fell headfirst over the banister, receiving severe injuries. After the accident up to the time of her death she suffered considerable pain, but no one thought she was seriously hurt, and her death came suddenly and was a great shock to her family and friends, as she had always enjoyed good health.

Mrs. Dix was born in Essex, England, 30 years ago, and came to this country in 1859. She lived in Plain City until about two years ago, when she moved with her husband and family to Ogden. She leaves surviving her husband and eight children, and numerous friends to mourn her death. She was a most affable and kindly lady and had the respect of all who knew her. Funeral will be announced later.

ANOTHER STORM.

Weather Officials Find One Headed This Way From Puget Sound.

The present sunny weather threatens to be but temporary, as the astute-eyed artists of the weather office predict the coming of another storm whose nose is now poking in from the Puget Sound country with quite a wide wave. Only this storm will be rain, and the city and suburbs will be a vast mass of mud. Section Director Murdoch anticipates interesting information when he hears early in the week from the lake, and rather imagines there will be something of a rise to precipitation in consequence of the unusual precipitation.
