

INSPECTION OF WATER RIGHTS.

Mayor, Fire Chief and City Councilmen Visit Spring Creek And Vicinity.

EFFORT TO CLEAR THEIR TITLES

Those Who Own Rights on Stream Anxious to Sell to Salt Lake City.

A trip of inspection of the water rights upon which the city has secured options and which are included in the proposition to be submitted to the people of the city at the special election on Jan. 3, was taken yesterday by Mayor Morris, Chief of the Fire Department W. H. Bywater and Councilman F. S. Fernstrom. Spring creek was the first stop. It is estimated that that stream is now flowing at the rate of 10,000,000 gallons per day. It is the intention of those who own the rights in the stream to make an effort to clear their title to the same so that it may be sold to the city to be used as exchange water and furnished the farmers for the Cottonwood water. Big ditch, Hill ditch and the Lower ditch were inspected. All of these ditches take water from Big Cottonwood and the owners of the same own over half of the water coming from Big Cottonwood. The city has options on all these of the ditches and if the water proposition is adopted by the people at the polls, the city will get 25,000,000 gallons or more of Cottonwood water each day and will furnish other water from its canal in exchange for the same. The party then went up Big Cottonwood as far as the lower power station where it is proposed to take the water from the stream and turn it into the city's new conduit which will carry it a distance of seven miles to the Parley's canyon conduit. The proposed conduit will cost $350,000 and will carry 50,000,000 gallons a day. The council decided to do so it could build the conduit three miles longer and secure the water of Little Cottonwood. It will be large enough to hold the Big and Little Cottonwood and the Mill creek waters. After the officials returned to the city a meeting of the special water committee was held in Atty F. S. Richards' office. Mayor Morris will send to the council Monday night the appointment of State Engineer Doremus as consulting engineer in the water project.

HEALTH is the Most Important

In buying food-articles, you must consider several things: Economy, Results, Easy Handling, Reliability; but the most important is Health. Health means everything. In clothes, furniture, etc., if the buyer gets a poor of imitation article, the only harm is loss of money. In buying food-articles, if imitations are supplied, there is a loss of money, and probably an injury to health—which is beyond price she was ever married to John McCune, who sued her for divorce several weeks ago, yet she allowed the case to go by default and did not appear at the trial yesterday at all, and consequently Judge Stewart granted McCune a divorce upon the ground of desertion. McCune testified that they were married in this city by Rev. Fred Morris of St. Mark's cathedral, and he produced the marriage certificate to substantiate his testimony on that point. Witnesses were also produced who testified that Mrs. McCune deserted her husband and went to Europa, where she lived with a man named Christie. When Christie was killed in the Bullion-Beck mine, she brought suit against the company to recover damages for his death. Hence it is readily seen that she denied her marriage to McCune in order to pass as the wife of Christie.

REV. FISH RESIGNS.

Pastor of Unitarian Church to Return to Boston Next Month.

Rev. William H. Fish, Jr., pastor of the Unitarian church for the last two years, has resigned, as he and Mrs. Fish wish to return to their home in Boston, where they will go on the first of the year. The local congregation is loath to let Mr. Fish go, but he declines to remain longer. During his pastorate here the old debts of the church have been wiped out, an outstanding note paid, the new Unit hall has been erected and a large share of the funds necessary for the building raised by Rev. Mr. Fish during a summer spent in Boston a year ago. The society is now in a better condition, financially and otherwise, than for several years past.

ELDRIDGE REMEMBERED.

Republican County Chairman Received Jewel from Successful Candidates.

The gift of a handsome diamond stud was made yesterday to J. U. Eldridge, Jr., chairman of the Republican county committee, by the members of the committee and victorious candidates who ran under Eldridge's campaign. The gift was made at a meeting of the county committee in the rooms of the Young Men's Republican club, called ostensibly for the purpose of hearing the auditor's report. In a next speech Harry Joseph passed the jewel to Mr. Eldridge, while the rest of the committee were interested spectators. In the box with the gift was a card bearing the names of the donors and the legend "With the fullest confidence in the loyalty, friendship, and devotion to the Republican party" of the successful campaign manager.

CRYPTIC.

Charles W. Kemple, the mayor of Akron, in the course of an address at a banquet said something vague, whereupon a man at the other side of the table called out: "Cryptic! A cryptic utterance!" "Why, not at all," said Mr. Kemple. "That utterance was not cryptic. It was only significant—significant like in the Wasatch suburb. An address presented by his former students, accompanying a handsome gift of flowers, spoke of the pen of the deceased having been more powerful than Japan's vigorous sword, and alluded to the great honor that he had done the Japanese nation by assuming Japanese citizenship and making this country his place of residence. Very few foreigners attended the obsequies, but the relatives of the great writer and many Japanese were present—Japanese Mail.

READING AS A MEDICINE.

The word "disease" signifies the absence of ease, and that want of ease is generally caused by thinking too much of one's self or one's own concerns. Nervousness is generally at the bottom of it. Now, if the doctors, when they find their patients all eaten up with too much thinking of themselves or their business, were to prescribe a course of Cervantes, or Moliere, or Balzac, or Sterne, or Dickens, or Shakespeare, and an advice to join thoroughly in this course as they would if the treatment were a matter of diet or medicine, many of them would begin to mend from the first moment that these magicians had given them for a forgetfulness of self. Half of the sickness in this world is but a form of egotism—the too persistent brooding over one's own troubles. A dose of reading will often prove the best remedy—Boston Globe.

NEW ALASKAN TOTEMS.

The old illustrations of the new marble totems with which the Alaskans have replaced the wooden totems poles of former times. These curious and not highly artistic specimens were carved for a tribe of southeastern Alaska Indians by a marble cutting firm in Seattle, Wash. The Chilkats, who live near Haines Mission, Alaska, raised $250 to pay for the indispensable totems. One of the pieces of sculpture is a shaft twelve feet in height surmounted by a whale killer. The body of the other totem represents a bear standing on his hind feet. The bear weighs 3,000 pounds. It was the work of four months to complete these substantial totems.

WHAT THE STOCK SYSTEM REQUIRES IN ACTORS.

The stock system which is in vogue again in many theaters necessitates something like the old time ability for memorizing lines. In the "palmy days" where the bill was changed every night it was no unusual thing for the tired actor, just home from the play, to grind away until daybreak at some new part. Old actors tell of how they bound their heads with towels, soaked in ice water to reduce the feverishness brought on by excessive study. The only rest came, contrary to the general idea, when there was a week or two of Shakespeare with some well known star. In most of the companies the actors had a repertoire of Shakespearean roles, and so less study was required. In the case of the actresses in modern productions the chief difficulties come from the fact that there is so much to do apart from studying the lines. The visits to the dressmaker and the wig-maker occupy the time after the rehearsal. In the evening the actress may be playing in another production, and so the studying must be done late at night. Then to rehearsal at 11 o'clock, where in the early stages she must remain until 5 or 6 in the afternoon, leaving only time for dinner before the evening's work again begins. As the production draws near everything seems to go wrong. The wig-maker has not been able to get just the shade of hair that is most becoming to the actress, the dresses don't fit, the bonnet is a fright and the actress is away down in the depths. There is something peculiar in the mental processes of the actor, with reference to his study of a part. The part is handed to him. He reads it casually and thinks he may have good opportunities in it. He sees effects in the bare manuscript that to the inexperienced reader will not be apparent. Then he gets down to work. For awhile all goes well. His voice seems to ring true, he can almost feel the sympathy of his audience; he hears their applause on the opening night. Then he pauses. Something has suddenly impressed him as not being right. He reads a line over again. It sounds flat and false. He tries again, and it is no better. His confidence vanishes, and it may be days before he again reaches the point where he decides that he has struck the right key.

TOO WELL FED

Clergyman Not Entirely Sure On That Point.

There is an inclination among the ladies to rather overfeed the Dominie sometimes, and while that indirectly helps the sale of Grape-Nuts, it offers no suitable excuse for the makers to encourage the practice. A minister of Auburn, Ind., writes: "Whether it was from irregular habits and more or less badly prepared food taken during some of my travels, or whether I have been too well cared for by my parishioners does not seem entirely clear, however, the fact remains that indigestion set in and after a period of hard work I came down with a genuine case of nervous prostration. It seems the trouble has been brewing for some years, for several insurance companies had rejected me after careful examination by their physicians. "I was urged to adopt Grape-Nuts and cream for my sole diet for breakfast and lunch. The request was urged so strongly that I concluded to follow the suggestion, and to my surprise began to gain quickly in health and strength. "I persisted in the use of this remarkable food and a wonderful result followed. I have entirely regained my health, have been examined by the physician of one of the most conservative insurance companies in America and have been accepted. It seems sufficient evidence of the change that has taken place as a result of the use of Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. In addition to nearly 100 actors, Richard Mansfield has in his company a musical stage force of twenty. They are the assistant stage manager, master of properties and two assistants, head carpenter and three assistants, wig-maker, scenic artist, two electricians, armorer, wardrobe mistress and two assistants, call boy, two maids for the ladies and Mr. Mansfield's dresser. MRS. CARLTON'S WONDERFUL STORY.

Maine Woman's Thrilling Experience Duplicated in Salt Lake City.

There are scores of families in Salt Lake City and near by towns who will read with interest the wonderful experience of Mrs. A. L. Carlton, one of the best known women in Rockland, Maine.

Mrs. Carlton says: "I suffered with stomach trouble for eight years, growing worse all the time. Three of the best doctors in Maine diagnosed my case as cancer of the stomach and declared I could not live two months. Utterly discouraged with their treatment, I began taking Mi-on-a and commenced to gain at once. At this time I was reduced to almost skin and bones, as I had lost nearly 100 pounds during my sickness, but when I began to take Mi-on-a, my flesh was built up and I gained 224 lbs. the first month. I have taken only six packages of these wonderful tablets, but my health is about restored and I firmly believe that Mi-on-a saved my life."

P. C. Schramm is local agent for Mi-on-a, which sells for 50 cents a box, and offers it under personal guarantee that if it does not cure the worst form of stomach trouble and resulting disorders, the money will be refunded.
