OGDEN NEWS.

OGDEN, UTAH, - SEPT. 3, 1901.

THE TRAGEDY AT EDEN.

Case Profound Sorrow—Coroner's Jury Brings in Verdict of Accidental Death.

Verdict of Coroner's Jury Brings in Verdict of Accidental Death.

The news of the accidental shooting of Robert Graham Sr., of Eden, Weber county, which was reported in last evening's "News," was a great shock to the citizens of Ogden, where the deceased was well known.

It was rumored last evening that a young man named Carver, about 20 years of age, was shooting his revolver into the air, and it is supposed one of the bullets took a downward course, struck Mr. Graham on the right side, went through his heart and came out of the left side. The wounded man dropped to the ground on the sidewalk where he was walking, and was carried to his home, a short distance away, dead.

The shock to his wife and family was very heartrending and to the entire community, as Mr. Graham was very highly respected. The coroner's jury, composed of the Peace Andrew B. Jensen, J. M. Wilbur, Alexander Riehl, and John Fuller, and a coroner's inquest was held at the residence of the deceased. A number of witnesses were examined and the evidence produced went to show that he came to his death by being accidentally shot, and a verdict was brought by the jury to the effect that his death was caused by a bullet striking him in the breast and passing into the region of the heart, causing instant death, and that the shot came from a northwesterly direction and fired by a person whose person and name were not known. The jury returned its verdict at 3:30 p. m.

Ball Game for the Relief of Morgan Blair.

Special Correspondence.

Logan, Cache Co., Sept. 2.—A movement has been started for the relief of Morgan Blair, who recently underwent a surgical operation in Salt Lake. The young man has been quite ill for three years past as a result of an accident, and this and the operation have entailed great expense, which he and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Blair, are ill able to afford. It is proposed to have a ball game between the Logan and Wall-to-wall teams, the latter having volunteered to play a benefit contest in this city next Saturday. The admission will be fixed at 50 cents and it is hoped to sell a large number of tickets. The committee in charge of the affair comprises A. L. Farrell, chairman; William Edwards, C. D. W. Fuller, S. W. Hendricks, Edward Hanson, George Rigby, R. T. Hyde, Hyrum Hayball, E. R. Miles, Hattie Smith, Mrs. Ida Langton, Mrs. Rebecca Eames, G. F. Wright, J. Marshall, Walter Jones. KAMAS.

Harvesting a Fair Grain Crop—To Increase Waters of Utah Lake.

Special Correspondence.

Kamas, Summit Co., Sept. 2.—Nearly all are through haying. The reapers are at work and threshing will commence shortly. Grain is looking well, but the acreage is not large. The hay crop is rather light, consequently prices are higher than usual, from five to seven dollars a ton here, and eleven to twelve in Park City. Many are taking advantage of the high prices and are selling what they think they will have to spare.

There is a party of surveyors here, Messrs. Kelsey, Page, Nelson and Beckstead, recording Salt Lake City. They propose running a line for a canal from Weber river to Provo river, commencing near what is known as the Gibbons' Ditch, at the northwestern corner of this valley. It is not intended to direct the line to the point just west of Mr. John O. Driscoll's farm, a distance of nine or ten miles. The surveyors say they are only after surplus water in the winter here do not use water. They intend running the water from the Weber to the Provo river, thence to Utah Lake, which will be raised to its full capacity. It is not intended to have any litigation over water rights, nor interfere with the rights of anybody. The proposed canal will be about twenty feet deep at the bottom, and will probably cost from forty to fifty thousand dollars. Salt Lake county is suffering so much for water, that the people are prepared to spend large sums of money in order to get water for their parched up farms.
