

EVENING NEWS.

Wednesday, Sept. 21, 1881.

TALK OF THE TOWN.

A gusty, dusty day.
 The Children's fair to-morrow.
 Opera of "Patience" this evening.
 A horse race comes off on Friday.
 No business transacted by the City Council last night.
 The District Court opens its September term to-morrow.
 The bicycle race at Calder's Farm commenced at 4 p.m. to-day.
 The rumored massacre of "Mormon" settlers in Arizona is not yet confirmed.
 The Firemen's excursion which went to Nephi yesterday, will return Friday.
 The immigrants arrived at Ogden at half past 12 m., and will reach this city at 6.40 to-night.
 The crime and other emblems of mourning for the President, still remain on the buildings of the city.
 Some indignant citizens of Ogden, on Monday about midnight, kindled a bonfire and burned the assassin's effigy.
 Elders F. F. Goss, of this city, and Jacob Walker, of Payson, left for Europe yesterday morning, on missions. They sail on the 27th for Liverpool.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Liquor Cases.—Three of the liquor cases pending in the Police Court, were to-day discharged. They were such as had been arrested for selling without license. Those still held for selling liquor after hours, are to be examined at the earliest convenience of the Court.

The Feeling at Nephi.—The news of the death of President Garfield having reached Nephi yesterday, all business was at once suspended. The stores were closed and flags were put at half-mast. The Nephi brass band welcomed their friends on the Firemen's Excursion, the news of the death of the President not being very widely spread at the time. But all festivities were suspended for the day.

City Council.—The City Council convened pursuant to adjournment, last evening, at the usual hour, Mayor Little presiding.

After reading of the previous meeting's minutes, the Mayor arose and formally announced to the Council the death of President Garfield, whereupon it was decided, out of respect to the honored dead, to postpone the regular business of the evening, and the Council adjourned for one week.

Operatic Matinee.—The Melville Operatic Company, to fill the vacancy in their series, caused by the postponement of their initial performance, will present one of their operas as a matinee on Saturday afternoon. Which one it will be, is not yet determined. Season tickets will be available for the matinee. Holders of such tickets not satisfied with this arrangement, the best that is possible under the circumstances, may have their money refunded by applying at the box office this evening, before entering the building.

The Scandinavian Mission.—A communication from Elder Andersen, dated at Copenhagen on the 1st inst., contains the following items of information:

Elders C. D. Fjeldsted, Peter Sund-well, Solomon Peterson, Soren C. Peterson, Niels Hellesen, Anders Larson, Niels H. Barresen, Christian Christensen, H. O. Magley, James Yorganson and Andrew Ellason arrived there safe and well that morning.

Elder Jansen, the writer, expected to leave for home in a few days. Brother P. O. Hansen would labor on the Sax until a man could be sent from Utah to take Brother Jansen's place in the publishing department. He would be able to turn everything over to Elder Fjeldsted in a couple of days.

A company of Scandinavian Saints, numbering 270 souls, besides eight returning Elders, left Copenhagen on August 29th, for Utah. The newly arrived brethren had all received their appointments, and some of them had already started for their fields of labor.

"Patience" To-Night.—The opera of "Patience" will be presented at the Theatre this evening, by the Emmie Melville combination. A San Francisco paper notices the acting of the troupe in this place, as follows:

"Miss Emmie Melville had a spontaneous and very hearty reception upon her entrance. The sang and acted with all her accustomed vivacity, intelligence and effectiveness, once more proving that she is, in truth, the queen of lighter opera in America. Her schied success from the singing of her first aria, and thence until the close of the opera was most liberally applauded. He had a strong, yet sweet voice, and used it in the most capable manner. Max Freeman presented a new and most amusing character, and in "make-up," acting and singing was in every way acceptable. Miss Agnes Hallcock had a true conception of the character of the actress and was one of the successes of the evening. Mr. Charles Dungan sang his "Gypsy" songs with considerable success and assisted materially in the concerted pieces. Mr. Tom Cassell and Miss Little Post materially aided in the general good rendition. All the small parts were ably filled, and the representation of the opera, as a whole, can be commended in the highest terms. The chorus was far above the average quality heard in comic opera, and their singing was one of the best features of the evening. A word of praise is due to Mr. J. H. Baird, the conductor, who led his excellent orchestra in the best style.

Owing to the postponement of the opening night, out of respect for the memory of President Garfield, the order of the programme has been somewhat changed. It now stands as follows: Wednesday, (to-night) "Patience"; Thursday, "Madame Favart"; Friday, "Prince Methusalem"; Saturday evening, "Royal Midday"; and a grand matinee Saturday afternoon.

Mass Meeting.—A mass meeting of citizens was held last evening about 7.30 o'clock, in front of the Walker House, for the purpose of giving expression to public sentiment respecting the death of President Garfield. The multitude was addressed by Governor Murray, Gen. McCook, Hon. J. Brice, a member of the British Parliament now in this city, and others, and during the meeting the following resolutions were read and adopted:

The people of Salt Lake City, deploring the death of President Garfield, at the hands of an assassin, having assembled in mass meeting, do hereby resolve:

Resolved. That we recognize in this tragic event the passing away of a great man—great in his creation and in his opportunity; great in his experience and power of usefulness; great in his wisdom and patriotism; great in his aims; and great in his simplicity, and with profound religious—nobility and adorned in life, heroic and beloved in his death; a soldier without fear and a citizen without reproach.

Resolved. That while his death, and especially the manner of it, is a national calamity than which none could be worse, it is also to millions of his fellowmen in all lands a personal bereavement; in this land as though the eldest born were taken from every household; and that as we have watched his passing away, long weeks, praying with all our hearts for his recovery, speaking low and walking softly the while for fear of disturbing him, although thousands of miles away, so now when his great heart is still, when his brow is cold and featureless, when his keen eye is darkened and his lips forever closed in death, we are mourners with mankind, and particularly with his aged mother, his stricken widow, and his orphaned children.

Resolved. That as President Garfield was of the best type of manhood developed by our institutions, so Mrs. Garfield is of the noblest type of womanhood; by her heroic courage and devotion she has won the affectionate regard of a great people; together they have seemed to confer new dignity on human nature; their names are written side by side on the imperishable roll of fame in history of living light; the highest praise that can be given to either is to say that they were worthy of each other; an admiring nation will make the survivor of this heroic pair and her children its wards, whom it will cherish as their loving husband and father have done.

Resolved. That the President was assassinated, not as the man—Garfield—but as the President, making him and his case the nation's care as a matter of just ice; therefore the expenses of his protracted illness should be assumed by Congress.

Resolved. That the physicians, surgeons and attendants of the President merit the hearty thanks of the country for their entire and unflinching devotion.

Resolved. That the blow which destroyed the President was the outcome of lawlessness; and, therefore, while we demand the speedy trial and punishment of the wretch who delivered it, we deprecate and denounce all lawless methods of disposing of him or of wreaking vengeance on him.

Fire Near Richmond.—A fire near Richmond, Cache County, on Wednesday last, burned the saw and shingle mills of C. Traveller & Co., located in Cherry Creek Canyon. The fire started in the yard, between the saw mill and shingle mill, and before it was discovered had reached the latter building, which in less than five minutes was wrapped in flame. The alarm was given and every effort was made to extinguish the blaze, but within ten minutes the floor fell with the machinery and all was consumed. It was feared that the engine might explode, being enveloped in flames, but the engineer had the pump going and kept it with plenty of water, and the steam gauge was set, so that it could not get beyond its working capacity, but it went at a terrible speed. The heavy belt of the saw mill could not be got off, the fire was so fierce, and it passed so quickly through the flues that it was but little injured. The saw mill carriage and stock of slabs caught fire, but by the perseverance of the mill hands were saved and the engine but little damaged. The loss is about $1,000. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a spark from the engine, and every thing being very dry, it soon spread. This is the third fire the company have had this season. We learn the above from the Ogden Herald.

Immigrants.—The immigrants now en route to this city, arrived to-day at Ogden at 12.30 p.m. and will be in Salt Lake by this evening's freight train, at 6.40.

Grand Army Meeting.

A special meeting of James B. McKean, Post No. 1, Provincial Department of Utah, Grand Army of Republic, convened at the office of Comrade F. M. Bishop, the 20th day of September, 1881, at the hour of 2 p.m., and was called to order by the post commander, Justus Witherell.

Comrade Maxwell moved that a committee be appointed to draft resolutions of regret over the death of our comrade, General James A. Garfield, the late President of the United States. Carried unanimously. Comrades Bradley, Woods, Sells and Goodrich were appointed by the post commander to draft such resolutions.

The following General Order No. 3, Department Headquarters, dated September 20th, 1881, were read:

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF UTAH.
GRAND ARMY REPUBLIC,
 Salt Lake City, Sept. 20, '81.
General Orders No. 3.

Comrades.—By the mysterious providence of Heaven, our beloved comrade, the President of the United States, lies dead! In view of this great sorrow resting upon the heart of our nation, it is appropriate that we, the old members of the republic, give expression to our feelings. It is therefore ordered that:

First.—The posts in this department keep their flags draped and at half-mast until the memorial services, which will be held on day to be hereafter designated.

Second.—Members of the order will, for the period of thirty days, upon all dress occasions, wear upon the left breast a badge of mourning, consisting of a rosette of black and white, the diameter of the rosette to be three inches in diameter, from the center of which the membership or official badge of our order will be suspended.

Third.—Posts are recommended to take such action as in their discretion, they may deem appropriate, upon the day designated by the post, to be designated for memorial service.

By order of
 Geo. C. DOUGLAS,
 Commanding Department.
 P. M. BISHOP, A. A. G.

It was moved that the post appear in a body at the citizens' meeting called for this evening at 7 o'clock, in front of Walker House. Carried and so ordered.

Motion by Comrade Douglas that the Grand Master be instructed to procure badges of mourning for the members of the post. Carried.

The committee on resolutions presented the following which were unanimously accepted:

Whereas, Our beloved comrade, James A. Garfield, has after a well spent life, been mustered into his increasing ranks in eternity by the Grand Commander of all; now, therefore,

Be it Resolved, That we have lost a true comrade, the nation a patriot statesman, Christianity, civilization and education one of their strongest pillars.

Second.—We, from the far west, mourn his loss and join our sympathies with our comrades of all sections.

Third.—We join in our grief with all the liberty-loving world.

Fourth.—We especially condole with his wife and family.

Fifth.—We will wear the regulation badge for the space of thirty days from this date in further respect of the nation's martyr.

Sixth.—We will ever hold our deceased comrade in soldierly remembrance until we are called to make that long, dark march which we must all make before we join him and our other comrades who have been, and are being mustered out from the ranks of time to those of eternity, ever trying to emulate his glorious deeds and example.

GEO. R. MAXWELL,

E. SELLS,

W. F. BRADLEY,

W. W. WOODS,

Committee.

Comrade Goodrich moved that the proceedings of the meeting and the resolutions passed be furnished to the press for publication. Carried and so ordered.

Comrade Bradley moved that Comrades Douglas, Bishop and Witherell be appointed a committee to confer with any committee that may be appointed to-night by the citizens' meeting to make arrangements for memorial services.

Comrade Sells moved that the above committee invite the Apollo Club to attend the meeting to-night in front of Walker House. Adjourned.

JUSTUS WITHERELL,
 Post Commander.
 T. C. BAILEY, Adjutant.
