

SOCIETY

Perhaps the largest and most elaborate event of the week was the card party given by Col. and Mrs. Wall on Monday night in honor of their silver wedding, the date celebrating their twenty-fifth anniversary. The rooms were beautifully decorated with pink and white carnations and palms, and the scores and tallies were in the shape of wedding bells and hearts, while the refreshments also carried out the idea. The hosts were assisted by Mrs. S. H. Pinkerton, Mrs. Henry Newell, Mrs. Charles Crane and Miss Louise Wey.

The girls of the commercial class of the Latter-day Saints' university entertained the faculty and the boys of their department at the gymnasium the event being a dancing party. The hall was prettily decorated with gold and blue bunting, the school colors, and also with red, the class color. There were many beautiful cozy corners arranged about the room in which were rugs, pictures, sofa pillows, and easy chairs in profusion. In one corner, where punch was served, special tact was shown in the decoration. A large bell of gold and blue hung over head with bunting draped on all sides. The cozy corner under the orchestra was decorated with red. Special care was taken to represent this corner with the class color, red, as the first rendezvous of the all comers. The guests were received at the door by a number of the girls, who conducted them to the seats in the hall. In order to become acquainted, the boys were all lined up around the hall and the girls passed around and shook hands with them, after which a delightful peanut hunt was participated in, followed by dancing until 10 o'clock, and then delicious refreshments were served. The class prognostication was read and stump speeches were made by students of the class. Dancing was then continued, and at a reasonable hour the party broke up, everybody having spent a very pleasant evening.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. W. G. Lamb entertained at a luncheon followed by cards, the game being "32." The luncheon tables were decorated in lilacs of the valley and pink and white carnations, while bunches of violets were at each place. In the card contest the prizes were won by Mrs. J. D. Thompson and Mrs. W. W. Flag, and the guests were Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Sara Bransford, Mrs. Heath, Mrs. Woodward, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Pinkerton, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Tarbet, Mrs. Keogh, Mrs. Mont Perry, Mrs. Flag, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Harding and Mrs. Judge.

The table was beautifully decorated, the centerpiece being a long bank of violets, while bunches of the same flowers were at each place. There were toasts by a number of the guests and the event was altogether enjoyable.

The most elaborate dinner of the week was that given by Mrs. and Mr. Mont Perry on Tuesday night, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Benner X. Smith, who have recently returned from their bride trip. The decorations were chiefly in white, the centerpiece being a long bank of lilacs of the valley and the candlesticks having white candles, while bouquets of the lilacs were at each place. Souvenirs for the men were in the form of tiny dolls dressed as billes, and for the ladies, small traveling cases marked with the labels of places visited by Mr. and Mrs. Smith on their trip. Covers were laid for 14.

SMART SPRING WRAP.

The model of this racing coat hails from Paris. The material is of a shaded check pattern in Blarney tweed. It is trimmed with stitched bands of plain cloth, which outline all the seams and border the front edge. The fronts are cut with a deep cape, which eliminates the shoulder seam by falling low on the arm. Under this cape, the puffed sleeve is set. The double-breasted fronts fasten with pearl buttons. Gold braid touches up the stitched plain cloth of collar and cuffs.

Umbrellas at 1-2 Price At Leyson's.

We carried over a tremendous stock of umbrellas from Christmas and it occurred to us the other day that if we did not unload the surplus they would become shopworn, so we launch today (Monday) fifty beautiful umbrellas in both ladies' and gentlemen's sizes at prices ranging from $7.00 to $25.00 at half these regular prices. These goods are all high grade silk with ivory, pearl, staghorn, sterling silver and gold filled handles of handsome designs and worth twice what we ask.

This line is marked in plain figures and is now on display in our north window and as long as the umbrellas last we shall be pleased to show them.

Can You See? If Not, Why Not?

It costs but little to get good eye glasses properly fitted.

Steel frames from 50c to $2.50,
Gold frames from $5.00 to $8.00.
Gold filled frames from $2.00 to $5.00,
Including examination and if relief is not obtained the charge is nothing.

Scores of people neglect the care of their eyes entirely or buy cheap glasses from unreliable opticians which often results disastrously.

We have a modern and thoroughly equipped optical department in charge of a graduate optician, and sell all sorts of frames and grind all kinds of lenses to order to fit each individual case; our examinations are scientific, correct and free, our frames and lenses of the highest order of merit and our prices reasonable.

A good reason exists beyond our mere claim of efficiency, why the public should trust us with their eye troubles, and we would advance the one of established reliability in all our departments as a very strong one.

We are the largest jewelry house in the intermountain country and any department maintained by us is and must continue to be a sturdy factor in our great establishment for honest and conscientious dealing with our patrons and any one coming to us for eye treatment will receive the most careful attention that skill and perfect equipment can give. We want patients from the country. Phone 65 for the correct time.
