

EVENING NEWS.

Friday, April 1, 1887.

FRAGMENTS.

The Union Pacific train was three hours late last night.

There is a message at the Western Union Telegraph Office for H. Parsons.

March came in like a lamb and imitated the same emblem of innocence in its going out.

The Chapman Canal Company has received a certificate of incorporation under the laws of the Territory.

Barb's Minstrels arrived in the city by this morning's train, and will appear at the theatre this evening.

Last evening Brother Joseph Bull, who has been cast on business connected with the DESERET NEWS, arrived home.

A competent, reliable and industrious man wants a situation as store clerk, warehouseman or collector of accounts. See advt.

EAGLES are getting numerous. A Supt. brought in a bald eagle, the American emblem, to-day, in a cage. The bird was wounded in the left wing.

The room at Mrs. Gillespie's house, which was searched by deputies the other night, is not occupied by the lady nor any of her family. It had been rented to other parties.

The copies of "La Traviata" have arrived, and those who ordered should call for them at Coates & Sengstacke's, between now and to-morrow night; after that, first come, first served.

The musical exhibition given by several hundred of Brother Stephens' pupils at the Assembly Hall to-morrow night will open at 7:30. All interested are invited to attend free of charge.

The only business done by the Police Court to-day was the infliction of a fine on Peter Newell for disturbing the peace in beating Tommy Daniels in a quarrel. He was assessed $30, which he paid.

A GAME of baseball began at 3 o'clock this afternoon, on the Eighth Ward Square. The Nationals, headed by Thomas Busby, play a picked nine headed by Hester West. This is the first game of the season.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Deseret Hospital, usually held on the first Monday in each month, will be postponed until Monday at 2 p. m., April 11th, by order of the president.

We regret to have to state that there is a case of scarlet fever in the family of Thomas W. Jennings, 454, 15th Ward. The house has been placed under quarantine, the yellow flag having been hung out by Dr. Clinton.

JOHN B. FURSTER was brought before Commissioner McKay this morning for examination as to his financial condition, having served his full term of six months in the penitentiary for unlawful cohabitation. He was discharged.

We learn from Hon. John Sharp, who received telegraphic information from Logan at half past one o'clock, that Hon. Lorin Farr, who had arrived at that place on the train, was still unconscious. The case gives every indication of being hopeless.

R. K. THOMAS, of the Eagle Emporium, who is always at the head of the list of customers, has a new advertisement in to-day's paper, in which he calls special attention to a long list of articles in the dry goods line, which are being offered at prices below their value. Read it and see his figures.

In the 29th Ward performance of "Comrades," briefly noted in yesterday's NEWS, some good acting was done, particularly by Misses Evans, Swinson, and Held, and Messrs J. H. Brough, Willie Willes, James Ellis and A. Owen. In the face of the "Unlucky Vegetable Vendor," Harry Taylor and Harry Horsley took the house by storm, the latter especially creating no end of merriment. It was a gratifying success.

Rather Old.—A correspondent of Glenwood, "A. H.," writes to the count of the celebration of the "golden wedding" of Father Powell and his wife, of that place. The event occurred on the 20th of February, a fact that precludes the advisability of inserting the communication in our columns. However, the affair appears to have been very pleasant, and highly enjoyed by the aged couple. That does not relieve it from the journalistic objection to its being over a month old. "A. H." should not forget that what ever a contributor sends for publication should be fresh.

Parry's Monthly Magazine.—The April number of this home publication is before us, replete with articles on various topics of interest. Among the more noteworthy are "Heroism of General Wolf" (illustrated), "Cloris and Charlemagne," "What Makes Success," "Material Progress in Syria," an interesting article showing the growth and prosperity of the Holy Land, "Hydroceles," and several poems. The monthly summary of current events gives portraits of Henry Ward Beecher, President Gravy and General Boulanger, of France, with short sketches of the lives of J. H. Parry & Co., publishers, Salt Lake City.

Small-pox in Los Angeles.—Information received in this city states that the daughter of Judge J. G. Sutherland, residing in Los Angeles, Cal., has lost all fear of her children by small-pox. Mrs. Sutherland is now in that city with her daughter. It is also stated that the telegraphic news from Los Angeles to the effect that small-pox had ceased to exist was incorrect. The facts are asserted to be that the Los Angeles officials are interested in "booming" the city and neighborhood, they are anxious to have tourists and pleasure visit the place, and with this object cover up the true state of affairs, instead of making it known as a warning for travelers to keep away for a while.

Gilmore vs. Sears.—This suit came up before Commissioner McKay at 10:30 this morning. It is the plaintiff's claim in the sum of $275, alleging that the defendant's mule, on the 7th instant, broke into his corral and severely kicked a $500 colt and performed the same operation upon a $300 mare with foal, so that a premature and dead birth was the result. Two hundred dollars is asked for the colt and $75 for the former injury. The evidence, in addition to this, showed that the wire fence where the mule got through was not over two and a half feet high and that the mule had no trouble in effecting an entrance; also that the owner of the stock held the mule for some time in default of payment of $120 damages which he claimed for breakage on the fence, and was arrested for the same.

The case was not concluded when an adjournment was taken at noon; both sides have several witnesses.

DOINGS IN PROVO.

LOYAL LEAGUE JURORS TO TRY "MORMONS."

Provo, March 31, 1887.

The examination of witnesses in the case of J. W. Bean, before the Commissioner last night, resulted in the discharge of the defendant. There was no evidence brought out against him to the effect that he had more than one wife, and after examining two witnesses, a third was called, but was not present. Prosecutor Hiles took an adjournment all to himself, the witness soon came in, the court waited for an hour for the prosecutor to return, and finally getting impatient, discharged the defendant, released the bondsman, and let all go their way rejoicing.

FIRST DISTRICT COURT.

The jury brought in a verdict in the case of the People vs. John Gardner and one Holgate, of guilty of petit larceny.

In the trial of the case of the United States vs. James Smith, on the charge of unlawful cohabitation, a new feature was developed in the examination of jurors, to ascertain whether they would admit having any bias against the defendant.

A. G. Sutherland, Jr., and S. R. Thorman were counsel for the defense. Mr. Sutherland conducting the examination.

Mr. Sutherland was one of those called in the box to serve as a juror in the case, and with him the following occurred:

Mr. Sutherland—Mr. Knudson, you are from Denmark? When you left that country to come to Utah were you a Mormon?

Mr. Knudson—Yes, sir.

Q.—Are you a member now of the Church?

A.—No, sir; severed my connection 10 years ago.

Q.—How did you sever it?

A.—I was cut off.

Q.—For what cause?

A.—Because of non-obedience.

Q.—Is polygamy one of the doctrines of the Church?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Did you ever believe in that?

A.—Yes, I have.

Q.—Did you believe in disobedience to the cause of your being cut off?

A.—No, I believed in it then, but have changed my mind since in regard to the matter.

The juror assured Mr. Sutherland that he had never been a member of the Church, and that he had never been a Mormon.

Mr. Sutherland—Are you a Mormon?

Mr. Shaw—I have never been a Mormon.

CUT OFF

from the Church; I am still a Mormon; do not believe in polygamy would have no bias and could sit impartially on the case.

Mr. Sutherland (to Mr. Fairbanks, another juror)—Are you a Mormon?

Mr. Fairbanks—No, sir.

Q.—Ever were?

A.—Yes; was a Mormon about six years ago.

Q.—Did you voluntarily leave the Church or were you cut off?

A.—I was just picked up my hat and left.

Q.—What is the reason you left it?

A.—Because I did not believe in it.

Q.—What part did you not believe in?

A.—None of it.

Q.—Do you know the doctrines of the Church?

A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—What are they?

A.—It would take me the balance of this term to tell you.

Q.—Can you tell any of them?

A.—Polygamy and blind obedience.

MEETING-HOUSE BURNED.

LATTER-DAY SAINTS' PLACE OF WORSHIP DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Provo, March 31, 1887.

Last Monday the Latter-day Saints' meeting-house at Hoytville, Summit County, was burned. Our correspondent at that place gives the following account of the unfortunate occurrence: On the 28th inst., at about 8:30 a. m., the meeting-house at this place was partially destroyed by fire. The building was being used by the district trustees for day school purposes; a fire had been started in the stove at 8 o'clock, previous to the commencement of the school. It is supposed that the stovepipe, passing through the roof, became unjointed between the ceiling and the roof, owing to which the latter took fire. No water supply being available and but few persons being in the vicinity at the commencement of the fire, the building soon became an easy prey to the devouring element, and in a short time all the woodwork of the structure was consumed. By great exertion on the part of those who had gathered at the school, the fire was kept from reaching the main body of the building, benches, windows and doors were saved, some, however, in a demoralized condition.

The building was substantially built of rock and was completely consumed over two years since at a cost of upwards of $3,000. It was a very creditable place of worship, considering the size of the village and resources of the inhabitants. It is estimated that the loss will cost $1,500 to restore it. The unfortunate will be seriously felt by the members of the ward who are thus deprived of their place of worship. It is hoped that, with the well known enterprising spirit of the people, it will not be long before the building will be restored. A chimney was built with the house on the east end, and owing to it "not drawing" the trustees had passed the stovepipe through the ceiling and roof in the centre of the building.
