

BOUNTIFUL CITY KNOCKED OUT.

Right to Control Barton Creek Waters Never Acquired.

RIGHTS OF MUNICIPALITIES.

Decision in Case of John Fisher vs Bountiful City—Other Court Matters.

In an opinion handed down today the Supreme Court holds that "the right of a municipality to the exclusive control and regulation of water within its limits, to which others have a paramount right and ownership, is based upon the consent and acquiescence of the owner thereof."

The decision was rendered in the case of John Fisher and others vs Bountiful City, Charles R. Jones, recorder, and Joseph L. Holbrook, mayor, appellants, and affirms the judgment of the Second district court, Henry H. Rolapp, judge. This action was brought by plaintiffs, and others beneficially interested, who sought to have the acts of Bountiful City in controlling and distributing the waters of Barton creek, a stream in the mountainous east of Bountiful, declared illegal; also that the action of the city council in levying and assessing a tax to defray the expense of regulating the water, and the sale of the plaintiff's premises for taxes so levied upon, be set aside as null and void, and that plaintiffs' title to the property be quieted. The cause was tried before Judge Rolapp at Farmington and judgment rendered in favor of plaintiffs, when an appeal was taken.

The question for determination was whether Bountiful City had the right under the law to distribute and control the waters of Barton creek, and to tax the land of residents to meet the expenses of such distribution and control. For thirty years prior to the filing of the action plaintiffs and their grantors and predecessors in interest had used the water for various purposes. Bountiful City was incorporated in 1883, but prior to this, the owners of the water had organized the Barton Creek Irrigation company, elected their officers, levied assessments, etc. As soon as the city was incorporated it assumed the control of the waters, appointed a water-master, levied tax assessments against the farms, including plaintiffs, but without the consent and against the protest of plaintiffs. Plaintiff refused to pay the tax and his property was sold.

It was claimed by the appellants that Bountiful City was incorporated under chapter 4, of the Compiled Laws of 1888, which provides for "the construction of waterworks without the limits of the city, and gives certain jurisdiction over the same."

The court finds that under section 1281 revised statutes, 1898, "water rights appurtenant to land pass by deed with the land, unless expressly reserved, or may be treated as personal property and separately conveyed." "So far as appears here," the opinion reads, "the water was an hereditament appurtenant to the land owned by plaintiffs."

The court finds no evidence in the record to justify it in holding that plaintiffs had forfeited their rights in the water. "In fact," the opinion reads, "their ownership and right to the land and water is unquestioned." Had the city taken possession and control of the water of Barton creek, with the express consent of the owners, and then for seven years continued such control, the court holds it would have acquired title.

The court finds that the right contended for by Bountiful was never vested in its city government. Justice Miner wrote the opinion, and was concurred in by Chief Justice Barch and Justice Baskin.

Reeves Case Goes Over.
A motion for a new trial in the case of the State against William Reeves, convicted on Friday last of house-breaking, was to have been argued today, but on motion of the prosecution and after continuance was ordered until Tuesday, December 5th. Reeves is innocent of the crime if any reliance can be placed on the sworn statement of John W. Peterson. The prosecution thinks the defense should have called Peterson. Reeves was in court during Reeves' trial.

Lower Court Affirmed.
The Supreme Court, in an opinion delivered today, affirmed the judgment of the trial court in the case of Ole Larsen, et al, appellants, vs Charles Onestie.

The action was one in ejectment involving title to lot 1, block 17, Five acre Plat A, Big Field survey. The court below found in favor of the defendant, and an appeal was taken on the ground that the testimony did not warrant the same, and the refusal of the court to grant a new trial, when it was stated that plaintiffs were in possession of new evidence. The court finds that Judge Hiles, who tried the case, committed no error.

More Juries Summoned.

A special venire issued out of Judge Norrell's court today calling for the following persons to serve as petit jurors: Henry Barnes, Franklin L. Parker, Thomas Homer and Arthur C. Gilbert.

Arthur E. Graham and George E. Burbridge were examined on their voir dire today and accepted.

IN THE POLICE COURT.

The first case called in the police court today was that of Peter Flemming, charged with being drunk. He set aside as null and void, and that plaintiffs' title to the property be quieted. The cause was tried before Judge Rolapp at Farmington and judgment rendered in favor of plaintiffs, when an appeal was taken.

"I had a little drink, but sure, yer 'anner, I'm not drunk now," faltered Flemming. "I was on my way to Tintic."

"See that he finds his way to the station," remarked the court.

Henry Ramsa pleaded guilty to the charge of being drunk, and it cost him $5.

The next case called was that of Albert Rosenthal, charged with using obscene language. Prosecutor Delah called that he was not ready to proceed.

"I'll set this case for Friday, at 2 o'clock," said Judge Timmony, "with the understanding that this case will be tried, and all the witnesses must be here."

THANKSGIVING DANCES.

The young people of the Fifteenth ward will have a dance in the ward hall tonight, at which they expect to have a splendid time, in accordance with the promise of the committee in charge. The floor will be in first-class shape and Hauserbach's orchestra will furnish the music which will carry the dancers over its smooth surface.

Tomorrow night the Building Trades Council proposes to give a similar affair at the P. O. A. hall, at which some musicals will be performed. The boys who belong to the building trades are usually of the kind that enjoy themselves and there is no doubt that tomorrow night will see a jolly time among them. The committee which has the affair in charge has not overlooked anything which will tend to the comfort and enjoyment of the evening's guests.

JOINED IN WEDLOCK TODAY.

The Salt Lake Temple was the scene of a wedding today in which Mr. Victor Hyde of Spring City, Sanpete county, and Miss Mary Ann Davis of Malad, Idaho, were the contracting parties. The bridegroom is the son of the late Apostle Orson Hyde and wife Julia, and the bride the daughter of the late Richard J. and Mary Ann Davis of Malad. Both are well and favorably known in their respective localities and have many friends who wish them well on their journey through life. The ceremony that made them man and wife was performed by Bishop John H. Winder. Mr. and Mrs. Hyde leave for the Pacific coast this evening to be absent several weeks.

TRYING TO GET RALPH'S BODY.

Gov. Wells has wired the quarter-master-general for permission to bring home the body of Richard Ralph, the Eureka volunteer who died at Nakasaki, Japan, on the way home. It is the intention of the governor to apply some of the money remaining over from the volunteer reception to defray the expenses of shipping the body home. The war department will sometimes defray such expense when the request comes from the nearest relative of the dead soldier, but as Richard Ralph had no relatives, the governor concluded to take the course he has done, being urged by the many friends of "Dick" who knew him in vigorous life.

SCENE IN CLERK'S OFFICE.

Young Italian Forced to Marry a Girl or Else Go to Jail.

An unusual scene was witnessed in the joint city and county building this afternoon, when Police Eddington led a young man into the county clerk's office, followed by a young girl, half crying and half laughing, and a number of other well-known local Italian citizens. Upon enquiry it was learned that the young man, who gave the name of Louis Pallio, aged 25, was required to marry Miss Ida Scarpa, aged 17, or else go to jail. After procuring the marriage certificate Pallio weakened and said that was as far as he intended to go in the matter. The sight of the big policeman and his club, and the entreaties of his friends caused him to reconsider his decision, however, and at last accounts there was a fair prospect of Justice Timmony tying the knot. It was stated that Pallio had misconstrued himself with the young woman and her parents insisted he should marry her. Pallio vows he will not live with her, but will run away the first opportunity afforded him.

"He That Stays"

Does the Business."
All the world admires "staying power." On this quality success depends. The blood is the best friend the heart has, and "faint heart" never won anything. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best friend the blood ever had; it cleanses the blood of everything. If you would be strong in the race of life and "do the business," you must "stay." Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the struggle easy. It gives clear, strong blood; hence perfect health.

HOW TOMORROW WILL BE SPENT

Will be a General Holiday Throughout This City.

FOOTBALL THE ONLY SPORT

Elaborate Dinners for Innates of Prison, Jails and County Infirmary—Saloonsmen Sorrowful.

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving Day. It is a day on which the pious will meet in churches to utter grateful prayers to churches to utter grateful prayers to remain around the fireside to tell their children about Thanksgiving Day, and read to them Thanksgiving stories out of magazines and newspapers. On the gridiron resolute youths will vie for supremacy in what must be conceded to be the most popular game in America. Ample provision has been made to feed the poor of this city, and the unfortunate ones, who are treading the hard road of the transgressor will be the recipients of more than usual attention. The stern face of the law will relax into a smile, for one day, at least, and things will be made as pleasant as possible for the unwilling guests of the State, county and city.

Although there will be no turkey on hand at the penitentiary, tomorrow's bill of fare at that place will be quite choice, something, to say the least, far better than the regular diet. In addition to the feast there will be a musical program rendered in the chapel, in which Miss Nora Gleason and other local talent will take part. The turkeys are being reserved for Christmas.

An elaborate dinner will be prepared at the infirmary. There will be a barbeque, in which young hogs will furnish the principal "roast." And there will be added to these, whatever delicacies Matron Whipple can procure. A musical and literary program had been arranged, but Mrs. Whipple did not feel disposed to ask people to leave their homes on such a day, to entertain the poor, but the entertainment will be given later.

The cook at the county jail has been instructed to prepare enough turkey tomorrow to meet the demands of the aggregated prisoners of the entire complement at that hostelry.

At the various hospitals everything will be done for the comfort and pleasure of the patients, with an extra effort to cheer the orphans.

While turkey will not adorn the tables at the city jail, the guests of that much talked of inn, will be permitted to exploit several pots of beans. All of the clothing and dry goods stores will be closed, and probably many others. The schools will have a vacation until Monday.

It is estimated by dealers, that there will be at least 25 per cent more turkeys sacrificed to the customs of the day than have been for years past. Turkey meat is as cheap as beef or mutton.

There is home geese for sale upon the market. It is too early for wild ones, but ducks, there are enough to feed the Filipino army.

The saloon men are sorrowful. Their grief being occasioned by the edict of Chief Hilton prohibiting the raffling of turkeys. It is estimated by these promoters of the Roman punch, that 600 turkeys would have been raffled off of this city. But the local dealers should be happy, for they have had a fair show.

[SPECIAL TO THE "NEWS."] Blackfoot, Ida., Nov. 29.—G. A. Warner, Indian agent of the Fort Hall reservation, died at Ross Fork agency yesterday afternoon. The immediate cause of death was consumption, from which he had suffered for years. His successor will likely be appointed from Pocatello.

POLICE POINTERS.

Officer Dillon will act as sergeant of the night shift during the absence of Sergeant Janney.

Desk Sergeant Livingston left for Smithfield last night, in response to a telegram stating that his brother-in-law was dead.

Sergeant Burbridge is confined to his home on account of a severe cold.

THE IMPROVEMENT ERA.

The December number of The Improvement Era, that popular and useful Utah magazine, is out, and a glance at the list of contents shows sufficiently that the latest issue is fully up to the standard. It opens with an article on "The Nobility of Labor," by Asaett Heber J. Grant, and then follows contributions in verse and prose by a number of well known writers, Sarah E. Pearson, Charles F. Watkins, Lewis Stewart, John Jacques, Neoh Anderson, H. W. Naisbitt, Lloyd Woodruff, Fred W. Crockett, Atwater Woodson, Thomas Hall and Dr. J. M. Tanner. Among the subjects treated on are, "On What Day was Christ Crucified?" "The Life and Labor of Sidney Rigdon," "How We Shall Preach," "The Mission and Necessity of the Holy Ghost," and "The South African War." The Era is trim full of good reading matter.

TRIAL OF MAROIN THE TAILOR.

The case of F. F. Marohn, the tailor, charged with grand larceny, was called for trial before Judge Norrell and a jury today, with Assistant County Attorney Ray Van Cott prosecuting, and S. P. Armstrong and D. S. Truman defending the accused.

The defendant is charged in the information with having misappropriated $100 belonging to Waterman Bros. It is claimed he was given a check $100 in excess of the amount agreed on in a mining stock transaction, and never accounted for the balance.

"COL." STEPTOE'S LITTLE GUN.

Made a Sly Play with Nat Smith's Drug Store Today.

QUICKLY LANDED IN JAIL.

Weapon was Left Behind, but Taken to the Police Station on Information by a Citizen.

Early this morning Sergeant Brown of the police force instructed the officers in his charge to keep their eyes open for one "Colonel" F. A. Steptoe, a semi-dignified gentleman of the colored persuasion. About 8:30, while patrolling his beat Officer Chase spied his man standing in the doorway of Smith's drug store gazing up and down the street with an expression of innocence upon his ebony countenance. Just as soon as recognition became mutual between the officer and the negro, the latter walked quickly backward into the drug store and making his way slowly to the counter, slyly pulled a pistol from his pocket and shoved it on the counter. Had Officer Chase seen this movement it would probably have cost the "colonel" his life, for the policeman naturally would have thought the man intended to shoot. As it was, however, Steptoe was lodged in jail. About four minutes later a gentleman rushed into the police station and related the little gun play of a few minutes previous to Officer Chase, who at once proceeded to Smith's and secured the weapon.

In the police court this afternoon, Steptoe was charged with carrying concealed weapons. When his lawyer, clerk in Smith's drug store, testified that the "Colonel" came into the store this morning and tried to hide the gun on the counter. When asked if he could identify Steptoe, witness replied that he could if the defendant had his hat on, and identification was established.

"Stand up," said the court. "There is no occasion for men in the ordinary callings of life to carry concealed weapons, and I propose to put a stop to it if possible."

Steptoe was then given the choice of paying a fine of $50 or of spending 60 days in jail.

Another complaint was then read to him, in which he is charged with enticing away Annie London, the principal witness in the case against Henry Lewis.

Steptoe pleaded not guilty to the charge, and his bond was fixed at $300.

AMUSEMENTS.

The run on the box office at the Theater for the past two days has been even heavier than when Madeleine was given for the first time. Nothing could better illustrate the hit that this opera has made than the fact that after five performances in Salt Lake, the demand for seats is now greater even than on the opening night. The first performance will be given tomorrow afternoon and the closing one Friday evening.

UINTAH COUNTY PRISONERS.

Sheriff Price, of Uintah county, brought to the city yesterday and later took out to the State prison, two prisoners sentenced to terms of imprisonment. One of the prisoners, Joseph E. Nash, will do four years for incest, while the other, Marion C. Thorn, will be required to serve six months for assault with a deadly weapon.

HOW STATES ARE POPULATED.

"When the Pennsylvania farmers built a ship and floated down the Ohio river into the country which now bears that river's name, they set the precedent for the future westward migration," writes Arthur I. Street in Amateur's for December. "Going in the easiest manner possible to the easiest possible destination, they obeyed the geographical law of least resistance by which habitation has since been made the thickest where it could become so with the minimum of difficulty."

"When the gold hunters receded from the Colorado mountains, leaving only the mountaineers to fight it out with the isolation and the altitude, and to found a State fifteen years subsequently, and when the emigrants who could no longer stand the overland trail, camped by the wayside in Kansas and, in the face of Indians and cyclones, began growing corn and wheat, another law was obeyed, and another precedent established, namely, that the character of peoples is determined by the amount of combat with the natural obstructions of progress."

"These two laws, conjunctively—the law of least resistance, and the law of greatest conquest and endurance—have fixed upon the area of the United States a population as varied as the topography, a replica in almost every respect of its physical features."

"Population climbs hills and crosses rivers and pushes through the wilds of the prairies only so rapidly as it is enabled to do so by the amount of combat with the natural obstructions of progress."

UATH MEN FROM THE PHILIPPINES

James Ball and Fred Blake Return to Home and Friends.

BOTH SAW HARD SERVICE.

Ball Thinks It Unfortunate to Have Become Involved with Filipinos, but Uncle Sam Must Not Pick Out.

James Ball, of the Third ward, and formerly in the employ of Hewlett Bros., who enlisted at Fort Douglas, in the Third artillery, for the Spanish-American war, returned home today from the Philippines. He was accompanied by Fred Blake of the Utah batteries, who was left in Ogden, but will come down on this evening's train.

Ball was the only Utah boy in the Third artillery, which saw much hard service and Montana, volunteers. Mr. Ball returns in good health to his mother's service, in fighting alongside the Kan- and brothers, who also reside in the Third ward. He was not wounded in the war, but he passed through many thrilling adventures, having his canteen strap shot off at one time.

Blake, prior to his enlistment into the army was employed as an engineer on the Union Pacific and Oregon Short Line railroads. He served in the same capacity on the road in the Philippines. These boys were released shortly after the Utah batteries, but they remained until the transport Sherman set sail, which arrived in San Francisco a few days ago. Blake has no relatives in Utah, but as has been stated, Ball has a mother and brothers, Blake was very popular with the military boys, all of whom will bid him welcome home.

Ball said today that in his opinion it was most unfortunate that the United States got involved with the Filipinos, but having done so, there was no alternative but that of fighting it out. For Uncle Sam to abandon the islands now would be a graver mistake than any yet made.

RELEASE OF MORTGAGE.

Satisfaction of a mortgage debt of $30,000, due from Patrick Ryan has been entered on the books of the County Recorder Jensen by Matthew Cullen. It was done for the purpose of withdrawing the debt from taxation. The property given as security is described as lot 2, block 77, plat A, Salt Lake City survey. It was foreclosed some time ago by a number of lien holders. In an affidavit filed by Mr. Cullen he states that he realized absolutely nothing from the transaction, but as a matter of fact the debt was still owing.

FILING OF MORTGAGES.

G. F. Beckstead has mortgaged $5,000 head sheep and 1,000 head of cattle in Utah and Wyoming to the Evans, Snider, Buel Company, of South Omaha, in order to secure a note for $53,797. At the time the mortgage was filed the South Omaha company released an old one for $57,714.

The Evans, Snider, Buel Company has also filed for record a mortgage from Charles Rathbun, on 5,000 head of sheep and 500 tons of hay in Sweetwater county, Wyoming, to secure the payment of sums aggregating $10,485.

THE GAME TOMORROW.

Denver Lads Scheduled to Arrive Tonight—Condition of the Two Teams.

The game between the East Denver High School team and the Salt Lake High School tomorrow promises to be fast and furious and withal one of the prettiest games of the season, for both teams are good "uns, and are in the pink of condition. The former will arrive in Salt Lake this evening and leave their photographs on the Kenyon register. They will be good little boys and remain in their hotel and take a good rest preparatory to bucking the center of the local High School's husky eleven. From all accounts, the Coloradoans are a pretty hard proposition to run up against in the way of football. They have worked like Trojans in practice, and it is said that their coaching has been superb.

The Evans Snider Buel has learned a thing or two about football also and will doubtless give the Denverites the tussle of their lives. Their practice yesterday to quote a High School lassie, "was simply grand." This afternoon some light work was done, and Coach Callahan put on the finishing touches so to speak.

IN THE RACING WORLD.

Ed Corrigan Will Take Horses to England Next Spring.

It is announced from San Francisco that Ed Corrigan will take a racing stable to England next spring. The number of horses he will send abroad depends on how his yearlings turn out. In view of this trip, Mr. Corrigan will not race so extensively here as in former seasons. He has taken Riley from the stud and is training him over the jumps.

SPORTING NOTES.

A telegram was received here last night from the Colorado metropolis conveying the information that the Denver football team had left there and would be in Salt Lake on schedule time. Manager Leonard, a number of the High school boys and several others expect to go down as far as the Garden City tonight to meet the Denverites.

Yesterday afternoon the Salt Lake High school had a hard, swift practice and for half an hour some splendid work was done.

During the present season the Denver High School team has been coached by Mills, an erstwhile Yale man, and its practice has been of a first-class order.

The faculty of the University advised the football team yesterday to launch out in its work and not to become discouraged at anything. In the near future the "Varsity lads will endeavor to meet on the gridiron, the teams representing the B. Y. A., of Provo, the Agricultural college and the Brigham Young college of Logan.

The gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. was the scene of an interesting practice last night, and the line up showed several new faces, Sam Porter and Herick being among them. The boys are ready for an Ogden trip tomorrow and eager for the fray.
