LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THEATRE.—A large house assembled on Saturday evening to witness the performance of the beautiful play of "Rosedale," which was presented and played in a very creditable manner, eliciting marked and frequent expressions of commendation from the audience. The triple jig which followed was boisterously applauded and drew forth an encore, which was responded to.

This evening will be presented Watts Phillips' affecting drama of "Not Guilty," in which Messrs. Margetts, Thorne, Dudley, Marden and Lorraine, and Miss Adams and Mrs. A. Clawson will appear. The performance will conclude with the farce of the Omnibus.

MORE MISSIONARIES.—The following names were called in Conference this afternoon to go on missions—

To Europe.

N. P. Lindelof, Plain City.
John Mendenhall, Springville.
Joseph Wadley, Pleasant Grove.

To the United States.

James S. Brown, Salt Lake City.
Moroni Brown, Ogden.

MESSAGES at the Deseret Telegraph office for C. P. Hall & Co., Genl. P. E. Connor, J. R. Ballantyne, Chas. Warrion, Jacob Shawdy, and Lizzie Bryan.

WOMAN'S EXPONENT.—Before us is the prospectus of the Woman's Exponent, a Utah Ladies' Journal, semi-monthly, to be commenced May 1st, and conducted by Louise L. Greene.

Our space is exceedingly brief to-day, and we can only say that the enterprise commends itself to the good wishes of the entire community and the public at large.

THE CHILD AMERICUS is reported to be a prodigy on the violin. He will appear in the Theatre on Wednesday evening.

PUT OUT.—We understand that three gents of the pick-pocket class were discovered in the ladies' gallery of the Tabernacle this morning, and were invited out by one of the ushers. The people should recollect that Salt Lake City is not exactly what it used to be. All sorts of corrupt characters now infest our streets and places of public resort, thanks to the machinations of corrupt officials and their coworkers.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.—This evening, at 7 o'clock, the Territorial Democratic Convention will assemble at the City Hall, to take initiatory steps for organization, appoint a Territorial Democratic central committee, etc.

THE CONFERENCE.—Saturday and Sunday were dull, cool, drizzly days' with a little hail now and then, but still pleasant. To-day is beautiful, and the streets are uncommonly lively.

RETURNED.—Elder James Quayle left Liverpool on the 13th inst., per steamship Idaho, on his way to resume the duties of his mission in the United States.—Mill. Star, March 19.

THE Tenth Ward Band was out to-day making the air vocal with inspiring sounds.

POSTPONED.—We understand the election of a Board of Directors for the Agricultural and Manufacturing Society is postponed till to-morrow at 4 p.m.

SERENADED.—Professor G. Careless with the Tabernacle choir and some of the sweet singers from Provo, Spanish Fork, and American Fork, serenaded President B. Young last evening.

OBITUARY.

Sister POLLY CLARK, wife of Thomas S. Smith, died at Farmington, March 25. Sister Clark was born Sept. 29, 1817, in New Haven County, Connecticut. She moved with her parents in June, 1818, to Connaught, Ashtabula County, Ohio; married Feb 13, 1837; moved to Bertrand, Barien Co., Michigan, the same year; joined the church in Oct., 1843; came to Council Bluffs with the first company of the Saints in 1846, and to the Valley in H. C. Kimball's company, Sept. 24, 1848; and settled in Farmington in 1849.

Sister Smith still lives in the memory of all Farmington a kind and noble mother, a virtuous and prudent wife, a warm-hearted friend, and a woman exemplary in every respect. She was full of integrity for the truth and died firm in the faith. It had been her lot to bear a large portion of the cares of life in consequence of the frequent and protracted absence of her husband on missions north and south, all of which she bore with patience, and she manifested great ability in the management of house affairs. Her family and friends mourn her loss, but not as for one who had no hope.—COM.

DIED.

At Hooperville, Weber county, March 31st, 1872, JANE, wife of John Frew, of inflammation, in the fifty-first year of her age.

Deceased joined the Church in 1849 and emigrated to Utah, from Scotland, in 1856, crossing the plains in D. D. McArthur's handcart company. She leaves a large family.—(COM.

"Mill. Star" please copy.

In Provo City, Utah County, March 11 1872, CHARLES MONRAUKEN, aged 73 years.

Deceased was born in Nana, Tipperary Co., Ireland, went to England when quite young, was baptized in 1841, was ordained and labored in the ministry in England about three years, then emigrated to America, remaining in the Eastern States seven years, during three of which he presided over a branch of the church in Massachusetts. He came in 1852 to Utah, where he resided until his death. He died in the faith of the gospel.—COM.
