XLIX CONGRESS.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, 2.—Harmer presented a memorial of shipwrights and caulkers of the Knights of Labor of Philadelphia, protesting against the passage of the free ship bill. Referred.

Private business was dispensed with, yeas 115, nays 71, and the House went into committee of the whole on the labor arbitration bill.

Amendments to the O'Neil bill were all voted down, but the first section of the bill was modified in several particulars. The committee then passed on to the consideration of the second section.

Breckenridge of Kentucky moved to strike out so much of the section as gives the board of arbitration power to administer oaths, subpœna witnesses, etc.

Lawler of Illinois said that the opponents of this bill had had three long months to prepare something upon the question and had not done so. But now they insulted the intelligence of well-meaning men on the committee of labor, who had given it their attention. Passing on to the consideration of the strike on the Missouri Pacific, he declared that without wishing to become Communistic in his utterances, he was free to say that if Jay Gould was hung to a lamp post in New York it would be a blessing to the community known as the United States. [Laughter.] The action of Jay Gould might cost hundreds and thousands of lives throughout the Western States. The death of a man like this was nothing compared with what might occur if the difficulties were not settled in those States. There was no sentimental basis in the matter. It was justice to the workman. There was no harm in this bill, and the discussion of it had a healthy effect upon the country. It was an honest bill, and if there was anything wrong with it, Congress could repeal it at any time.

Breckenridge's motion was defeated.

Kelly, of Pennsylvania, offered an amendment appropriating $20,000 for the payment of expenses of arbitration.

On motion of Lowrey, of Indiana, an amendment was adopted providing that in no case shall any witness be compelled to disclose the secrets or produce the records of any labor organization of which he may be an officer or member.

The second section of the bill was agreed to, with certain amendments recommended by the committee on labor, and the third and fourth sections were agreed to without change.

The House at its evening session passed thirty-five pension bills, and adjourned.

Senator Dolph's Speech in Favor of Woman Suffrage.

WASHINGTON, 2.—In the course of his speech in the Senate yesterday on the bill to admit Washington Territory to the Union, Mr. Dolph, speaking of woman suffrage, said:

"Mr. President: There is another matter which I consider pertinent to this discussion, and of too much importance to be left entirely unnoticed on this occasion. It is something new in our political history. It is full of hope for the women of this country and of the world, and full of promise for the future of republican institutions. I refer to the fact that in Washington Territory the right of suffrage has been extended to women of proper age. I do not believe the proposition, so often asserted, that suffrage is a political privilege only, but a natural right. It is regulated by the Constitution and the laws of the State, I grant, but it needs no argument, it appears to me, to show that the Constitution and the laws adopted and enacted by a fragment of the whole body of the people, but binding alike on all, is a usurpation of the powers of government. Government is but organized society whatever its form. It has its origin in the necessities of mankind, and it is indispensible for the maintenance of civilized government that it should represent the supreme power of the State and be capable of subjecting the will of its individual citizens to its order. Such government can only derive its just powers from the consent of the governed, and can be established only under the fundamental law which is self-imposed. Every citizen of suitable age and discretion who is to be subject to such government, has, in my judgment, a natural right to participate in its formation. The lamented Lincoln immortalized the expression that ours is 'a government of the people, by the people and for the people' and yet it is far from that. There can be no government by the people where one-half of them are allowed no voice in its organization and control. I regard the struggle going on in this country and elsewhere for the enfranchisement of women, as but a continuation of the great struggle for human liberty which from the earliest dawn of authentic history, convulsed nations, rent kingdoms and drenched battle fields with human blood. I look upon the actions which have been achieved in the cause of women's enfranchisement in Washington Territory and elsewhere, as the crowning victory of all which has been won in the long continued, still continuing contest between liberty and oppression, and as destined to exert a greater influence upon the human race than any achieved upon the battle field in ancient or modern times. Sooner or later it will be passed we shall witness the spectacle of a state government founded in accordance with the principles of equality, and have a State at last with a truly republican form of government."

Indian Commissioner Atkins was examined by the Telephone Investigating Committee to-day, and rehearsed the story of the Pan-Electric organization as heretofore related.

Rauney inquired if the witness regarded it as proper for a member of Congress to accept a gift. Witness, with some heat, denied that his interest was a gift. He had agreed to pay whatever assessment was necessary to develop an unknown quantity.

Eden inquired if the witness had ever used his official connection to further the interests of the Pan-Electric. "Not on the face of God Almighty's earth," said the witness, stepping energetically back of the chair upon which he leaned; "and no man can look me in the face and say so. I would cut my hand off at the wrist before I would do such a thing."

Acting Attorney General Goode has returned the bills of Jeff Chandler, Eppa Hunton and Charles H. Whitman of special counsel to assist in the prosecution of the suit against the Bell Telephone Company to the First Comptroller of the Treasury, with the statement that the amount called for $1,000 for each is in accordance with the contract regularly executed and is for services already rendered. The First Comptroller has accordingly passed the bills and they have been paid.

A general order was issued by the War Department this afternoon, announcing the following assignments:

Major General J. M. Schonfild, to the Division of the Atlantic.

Major General A. H. Terry, to the Division of the Missouri.

Major General O. O. Howard, to the Division of the Pacific.

Brigadier General Crook was to-day released from the command of the Department of Arizona and assigned to the Department of the Platt, formerly commanded by Gen. Howard.

Brigadier General N. A. Miles, now in command of the Department of the Missouri, will be assigned to the Department of Arizona.

The Southern Floods—The highest water ever known—Great destruction of Life and Property.

CHATTANOOGA, 2.—The gas works are inundated and there will be no gas to-night. The water works are also under water. The supply in the reservoirs will be exhausted in twenty-four hours. The river is fifty-one feet and is rising. The water at 9 a. m. reached Market and Eighth Street. Business is entirely suspended. Relief committees have been organized and homes and goods are supplied to all the needy. The damage to railroads is great. No trains are running and none are expected before Sunday. Telegraph communication is cut off in many directions.

There is no improvement in the condition of affairs here to-night. The flooded territory has been largely increased to-day, and at 8 p. m. the river reached fifty-two feet, and is raising an inch an hour. The river has been falling all day at Coudon, Rockwood, Dayton and Charleston, and it is expected to reach its maximum at this point before morning.

Montgomery, 2.—The river has fallen sixteen inches. Boats have been distributing food all day throughout the inundated parts of the city. Several hundred persons, mostly negroes, have been water-bound two days without food. Reports from different points near here to-day show that five more negroes have been drowned. A steam ferry boat left here to-day, going up the river to pick up all persons in danger, and to supply food to the suffering.

Specials to the Advertiser from Rome, Georgia, place the loss there at $1,500,000. At Salem the gas works are submerged and the city is in darkness. A steamboat reached there to-day with 150 rescued negroes. Nine negroes were drowned on one plantation. The Warrior River falls slowly. Great damage is reported all along its banks, especially in the way of horses and mules and corn. Distress is reported from all the overflowed sections. The loss of life and property cannot yet be conjectured. The actual measurement makes the flood five feet and nine inches higher than any record of the Alabama River.

The Flood Has Reached the Danger Line.

LOUISVILLE, 2.—The river here has reached the danger line and is still rising rapidly. The streams throughout the State are very high, but so far railroad travel has not been interfered with in Kentucky nor is there any extensive damage by water reported.

Nashville, 2.—The Cumberland river is rising three-fourths of an inch per hour at this point, being eight inches above the danger line. Many families are moving, their houses being partly submerged. There was a heavy rain this morning, and the skies are still threatening.

Old Railroad Rates Restored.

NEW YORK, 2.—One of the bitterest railroad rate wars that the western roads have ever known has probably come to an end. The transcontinental pool was broken on the 19th of February, by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe announcing a cut in the rates between New York and San Francisco. All of the lines in the pool met the cut, and the result has been that travelers and freight have gone to California points at extremely low rates. It is understood among railroad men that President Strong practically presented his ultimatum to President Huntington of the Southern Pacific on Thursday and that Mr. Huntington asked until to-day to answer it, and by telegraph he did answer, and immediately his agents announced to shippers that the rates would be restored to the old basis after to-morrow. The Atchison agents have not yet received orders on the subject, though they are expected every hour.

The Striking Knights.

KANSAS CITY, 2.—The Journal's Parsons, Kansas, special says: Eight companys of Colonel Patrick's First Regiment Kansas National Guards arrived this evening, numbering about 400 men.

Just after passing Ottawa a gang of ruffians came on the track and signaled the engineer to stop, which he did, and the leader, a man named Semple, handed a note to the engineer inviting him not to pull the cars out of Ottawa. The Major was in the front part of the train, and getting the note, he drew a rifle and threatened to shoot the leader, whereupon they fled from the track.

Gen. Roberts will arrive from Lawrence at midnight, when Adjutant General Campbell will return from Topeka.

No trouble is anticipated to-morrow when trains will be moved. The troops are in good trim and ready for work if need be.

Dallas, Texas, 2.—It is reported that there is trouble at Fort Worth between the deputy United States marshals and the civil authorities, and the strikers "hold the fort." United States Marshal Cahill and a number of deputies have just left for the scene. A riot is feared. The marshal threatens to ask for United States troops.

Geronimo Intended to Kill General Crook and his Followers.

TOMBSTONE, 2.—General Forsythe, the commanding officer at Fort Huachuca, who arrived here to day, made known the startling fact that at the first interview which General Crook had with the hostiles on Thursday last Geronimo had a band of his men with rifles ready to fire upon the white men, including Crook, at a given signal. Geronimo's failure to keep his promise of surrender at Fort Bowie is ascribed to the fact that, having so much blood to answer for, he could expect no clemency, therefore he preferred a life in the mountains to a prospect of hanging at the hands of the authorities. The hostiles had 300 rounds of ammunition each. General Forsythe said it was impossible to fathom Geronimo's intention. It was an open question whether to go south and join Mangus or to remain on the frontier. Geronimo is about 52 years of age, crafty, treacherous and merciless. This is the third time he has proved faithless.

San Francisco, 2.—The Chronicle's Fort Bowie, Arizona, special says: Lieut. Faison arrived to-day with 58 Apache prisoners, including Chihuahua, Kutne, Josona and Nana, the worst leaders, next to Geronimo. All were glad to get in. Chihuahua had a powwow with Crook this afternoon. He said: "I know we committed many outrages, but Geronimo was to blame for all. He forced us off the reservation by lies. I don't think he'll come in now. I have thrown away my arms, but am not afraid. I must die some time. If you punish me too hard, you and the officers have families you love much; so have I."

Crook told him to go back to camp and rest.

The Telegraphic Consolidation.

CHICAGO, 2.—A stock firm here received a dispatch to-day from New York saying it had been reported there, that the telegraph companies now running in opposition to the Western Union were taking an inventory of their property preparatory to consolidation, and the new combination would complete their lines to the Pacific Coast. The lines referred to are the Baltimore & Ohio, the Postal and United Lines.

New York Frauds.

NEW YORK, 2.—The grand jury has returned indictments for bribery against Aldermen Kirk and Pearson. Kirk was released on $25,000 bail and Pearson was required to furnish the same bond which he is as yet unable to do.

The Broadway Franchise Investigating Committee was in session again to-day. Ex-Alderman Fulgraff was recalled to the witness stand and testified as to his financial condition during the past few years at great length.

Ex-Alderman Waite is in charge of Inspector Byrnes, and will spend the night in the same hotel.

Ex-Alderman Pearson was released on bail, his brother justifying in the sum of $50,000. The penalty for the offense is ten years' imprisonment or $5,000 fine, or both in the discretion of the court. At the District Attorney's office it was said that there would probably be no arrests to-night.

Alderman Fulgraff was before the investigating committee to-day. He strenuously denied that he had been paid any money for his vote in favor of the granting of the franchise.

Geo. W. Alger, successor to Alderman Jacobs in the jewelry business, denied that he had gone to the sub-Treasury to get a $10,000 bill changed, as had been charged, or that he had told anyone that the "boodle" was kept in Jacobs's safe in his store.

A number of Aldermen of 1884 will be called on to testify to-morrow.

FOREIGN.

British Briefs.

LONDON, 2.—Sir Horace Rumbold, British Minister to Greece, has been ordered to join with the other foreign representatives at Athens in sending to the Greek Government a final strong remonstrance against Greece's warlike attitude. This remonstrance will be tantamount to an ultimatum, and if Greece ignores it the foreign fleets will act forthwith. All foreign squadrons in the waters of Greece are being hastily reinforced.

In the House of Commons this evening the bill repealing the contagious diseases act passed the committee and was read a third time unopposed.

A deputation of Irish Presbyterians had an interview to-day with Mr. Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland. Replying to the statement made by Rev. Dr. Martin, to the effect that a Parliament in Dublin would be hostile to the rights of the Irish Presbyterians, Mr. Morley expressed the opinion that Mr. Gladstone's measure would make ample provision for the security of every religious body in Ireland. The deputation afterward had an interview with Mr. Chamberlain. Mr. Gladstone has declined to receive the deputation.

Riots at Milan.

MILAN, 2.—Serious riots have occurred here in consequence of resistance to the Octrot tax on bread on the part of workmen residing in the suburbs and employed in this city. The police are making the most strenuous efforts to suppress the disorders. Arrests have already been made. The gas and electric lamps have been wrecked in all parts of the city.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

The Reichstag yesterday by a vote of 169 to 137 decided in favor of prolonging the Anti-Socialist law.

A Chicago dispatch says: The Citrus Fair is to close within ten days. The attendance to-day was the largest yet, with one exception. There were 1,500 people present.

A Melbourne cablegram says: Beach the sculler, sailed to-day for England. He challenges any man in the world to row him on the Thames for the championship.

The Lower House of the Prussian Diet, Thursday, adopted the first clause of the Polish bill placing 100,000,000 marks at the disposal of the Government for establishing German colonies in West Prussia.

Prince Alexander refuses absolutely to submit to the Powers, as demanded by Russia, the question whether his title to be Governor of Eastern Roumelia is for life, as he claims, or as Russia contends, for the term of five years.

The French Government has given orders for the immediate dispatch of the third naval division to the Levant. The iron-clads Marengo and Vaubon will leave Toulon to-night. The torpedo flotilla is also under orders.

A Montevideo cablegram says: A strong government force under Generals Tajal and Arribio has been attacked near the River Daiman, by the Revolutionists Arredono and Castro. The Government troops were defeated with a loss of 400 men.

The Journal De St. Petersburg, speaking of the Bulgarian difficulty, says: As Russia has sacrificed much in Bulgaria's interest, she has a right to expect Bulgaria to listen to her.

A London dispatch from St. Petersburg to the News says the Russian government has definitely decided to occupy Bulgaria within a few weeks unless Prince Alexander submit to the wishes of Russia.

All the differences between the 1,800 employees and the officers of the Brooklyn City Railway Company have been settled.

The situation at Decazeville, France continues strained. Owing to the strike the public prosecutor will arrive at Decazeville to-morrow to institute proceedings against the law breakers.

President Diaz sent his message to Congress. He says regarding the killing of Captain Crawford by the Mexican soldiers that the Mexican force was composed of volunteers from Chihuahua, who naturally would not believe that the Indians with Captain Crawford were friends, for according to the treaty which permitted the soldiers of either republic to cross the frontier in pursuit of hostile Indians, only regular troops were allowed to cross. The President expresses regret at the occurrence.

In San Francisco the Pacific Mail have raised the passenger rates for the Chinese from $25 to $50 a head. The result will be to stop the heavy exodus of Chinese.

Yesterday's rains spoiled the track for the blood horse races, which were to have been opened to-morrow. Postponed till Tuesday.

The steamer Brittannic arrived at Queenstown to-day with a broken shaft. The Adriatic leaves to-morrow for New York, and will take the Brittannic's mails. The latter puts back to Liverpool for repairs, and will sail thence April 5th.

The employees of the Southern division of the Grand Trunk Railroad, whose wages have been reduced, have agreed to accept the increase of from 22 to 9 per cent. offered by the company. The efforts made to secure the co-operation of the employes of the other divisions in demanding a full restoration of wages, resulted in a failure.

An investigation into the affairs of J. A. McMahon, a lawyer of Kingston, Ont., who left suddenly some time ago, shows that he has appropriated money belonging to his clients estimated at $30,000. Losses in speculating are said to be the cause of his trouble.

The majority of M. Passeur's Russian patients will leave for home to-morrow, their wounds having entirely healed. Four, whose wounds have not yet cicatrized, will remain in the hospital for several days longer.

A REMINISCENCE.

Editor Deseret News:

In the history of Salt Lake by Mr. Tullidge, it will be observed that there is a want of clearness or historical continuity in relation to the origin of the United States District Court for Utah, all that appears to relate to it being the abrupt and unexplained departure from the Territory of "Brockus, Day and Brandenbury," the appointees of the General Government, leaving Judge Snow alone to assume its responsibilities. But Judge Snow did not organize the First District Court, nor appoint the first legal U. S. District Clerk, which would give legality to its first judicial act's for Utah. It was well known at the time that the Judges were awaiting a man from the East to act for them in that capacity, but before their departure they were hurrying up their packing, and securing the U. S. funds that had been appropriated by the government for court purposes, and for none but court purposes, and committed to their charge, to be disbursed here for none but court purposes. I will now give a little history of how they came to appoint William J. Appleby as a legally authorized clerk of said United States District Court for Utah, as their favorite expected eastern friend had not arrived, and if he had arrived it is not probable that he would have remained when his superiors were all running away from their posts of duty.

The appointment of one of our own people occurred in this wise—I must premise, however, by referring to the parties that were partially the cause of hurrying up the departure of this famous "Flying Court."

At about that time David Holliday, brother of Ben and Joe, who was then freighting on goods for the firm of Holliday and Warner, located in the old Museum building. After unloading, Holliday sent his stock upon the range over Jordan, with some of his drivers. It seems he was too slow for the convenience of his herdsmen in paying their wages, and they entered suit against him to recover the amounts due them. I was then Alderman and ex-officio justice of the peace for the Third Municipal Ward of "Great Salt Lake City," as it was then called, and the complaint was brought before me. Gen. Jas. Ferguson acted as sheriff and Holliday and his herdsmen duly appeared before me. After hearing all the details of both sides of the case, the decision was pronounced against Mr. Holliday, and he was ordered to pay his employes their rightful dues, and the expense of court. From this decision Holliday appealed to the U. S. District Court. Ben Holliday had too much influence East to warrant the judge in declining to receive the appeal of his brother, as it would probably have an unsavory effect upon them on their arrival East after their strange desertion of their trust. Accordingly a writ of certiorari was issued, commanding the producing of the Justice's docket and papers before this District Court for review, etc. This, of course, required the immediate appointment of a legally authorized clerk of said District Court, and Judge Appleby was then appointed and officiated in Judge Snow's court from that time.

After "The Flying Court," as I think Judge Phelps named them, had gone, the docket and papers in the case of Holliday vs. his herdsmen were returned to the Justice's court, approved and confirmed under the hand of Judge Z. Snow, the only remaining U. S. official left in this desolate region.

I was not aware of the shape or importance the affair had taken, until some days after, when, as I stood at the Postoffice window, in the little, old adobe building next east of the DESERET NEWS building, some one clapped me on the back—"Ah!" he said, "N. H., you hit the right nail on the head."

I turned in surprise to meet the smiling countenance of President Brigham Young, who added: "Why, your discussion in the Holliday case has driven the fleeing judges to appoint one of our own men as clerk of the U. S. District Court for Utah; it must have some merit against the grain!"

This may be a small item of interest to the rising generation in connection with the past and early history of the first government movements in the beginning of Utah's territorial existence, which, if you please to publish, may amuse the readers, perhaps prove instructive to some and oblige

To John Jones, Defendant.

YOU ARE HEREBY REQUIRED TO appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff, in the Probate court, of the county of Salt Lake, Territory of Utah, and to answer the complaint filed therein within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of summons—if served within this county; or, if served out of this county, but in this district, within twenty days; otherwise within forty days.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree from this court dissolving the marriage contract existing between said plaintiff and you, on the ground of wilful desertion of plaintiff by defendant and failure to provide for plaintiff the common necessaries of life.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiff will apply to this court for the relief prayed for and cost of suit.

Witness, the Hon. Elias A. Smith, Judge, and the Seal of the Probate Court, of Salt Lake County, Territory of Utah, this 23d day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

[SEAL.] JOHN C. CUTLER, Clerk.
By H. S. CUTLER, Deputy Clerk.

Merchants, Bankers, Manufacturers and others:

DEAR SIRS.—In addition to our Mercantile Agency Reports we are now publishing a weekly commercial and financial newspaper in our name of

"BRADSTREET'S."

This paper is of value and interest to observing business men, particularly merchants, bankers and manufacturers. It does not deal with credits or furnish ratings, but reports, reviews and discusses those matters, domestic and foreign, that have any bearing upon the business of this country. Reporting the crops in detail, investigating numerous industries, criticising various investment securities and reviewing the markets are special features, while the tariff, monetary, transportation, legal, bankruptcy, partnership and hundreds of other topics are ably treated, not in the interest of political parties or geographical sections, but in the best interest of the business men of the whole country.

In a word emphatically the business man's newspaper.

We solicit your subscription for one year at five dollars.

Very truly yours,
THE BRADSTREET COMPANY.
