FIFTY-SEVENTH CONGRESS OPENED

Great Throng of Spectators Present-Capitol New Furnished Throughout-Desks of Members Gay With Flowers.

Washington, Dec. 2.-The opening of the first session of the Fifty-seventh Common at most to the the first session of the first session Congress at noon today drew to the capitol a great throng of spectators eager to witness the scenes of animation which mark the annual re-assembling of the national law-makers.

Although the actual work of the two houses was not to begin until 12 o'clock the historic old structure, now re-furnnished from end to end until it shone with marble, gilt and rich decorations, was astir long before that hour. It was an ideal day to bring out the public, sunny and warm, with just enough breeze from the south to lazily stir the flags over the capitol, some of which were raised for the first time since the adjournment of Congress nine months ago. There were no entrance restrictions and the crowds flowed uninter-ruptedly into the building. Many ladies were in the throng, including the wives and families of senators and members as well as many of the feminine repre-sentatives of the cabinet, diplomatic and executive circles. Senators and members began arriving early in the day and there was the usual hand shaking among old friends and infor-mal talk of the work ahead. The veter-An senator from Iowa, Mr. Allison, was one of the first to reach the Senate wing and resume his work as chair-man of the committee on appropria-

Senator Jones of Arkansas, the Demo-cratic floor leader in the Senate, was another early arrival and had a circle of his Democratic colleagues in the cloak room discussing the session's pro-gram. Speaker Henderson did not reach the House wing until shortly before the session opened and remained in the pri-vate room of the speaker conferring with members during the formalities preceeding his re-election as speaker.

IN THE SENATE.

Washington, Dec. 2.—A profusion of floral offerings, quite unusual in quan-tity, in variety and in beauty today transformed the Senate chamber into a veritable flower show. Almost every member of the body was the recipient of one or more of these evidences of the record of the friende and the atthe regard of his friends and the at-mosphere of the chamber was heavy with the odor of rare plants and blos-

At 2 o'clock the Senate re-assembled. Mr. Gamble announced the death of the late Senator Kyle and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

Washington, Dec. 2.- The very hand-some interior of the hall of representatives added much to the impressiveness of the general scene at the south end of the capitol when Alexander Mc-Dowell, of Pennsylvania, called the House of Representatives to order at noon today. The vast chamber had been re-painted, re-gilded and completely re-furnished during the recess and many changes made for the comfort and con-venience both for the members and the spectators. The floor had been elevated to a greater angle, the new mahogany desks rising tier on tier, making a sort of amphithteater effect. At the conclusion of the roll call showing 318 members present, Mr. Can-non, Illinois, nominated David B. FOURTEEN DIAMOND RINGS CASE. Supreme Court Renders Decision Adverse to Government-Rings Brought From Philippines by Soldier-Seized by Customs Officers Under Claim That Islands Were Foreign Territory.

States Supreme Court today rendered a decision in the case of Emil J. Pehke vs the United States. This is the case known as the "Fourteen Diamond Rings case" and involves the constitutionality of the impositions of customs duties upon merchandise brought into the United States from the Philippine islands after the exchange of the peace treaty with Spain. The opinion was handed down by Chief Justice Fuller, The opinion was adverse to the claims of the government on the ground that the Philippine islands were at the time the rings were brought in American territory, ceasing to be for eign territory, they became domestic territory, he said. The decisions in the DeLima Porto Rican cases were cited at length and it was held that the resolutions adopted by Congress concerning the Philippines were not sufficient to change the situation. The chief justice concluded his opin-ion by reversing the decision of the court below. Justice Brown read an pinion concurring in the result, but differing from the conclusions drawn on minor points.

Justices Gray, Shiras, White and Mc-Kenna dissented. This case is one of the two important cases left undecided by the court at its last term when it decided a number of cases involving the customs and rela-tions of the United States with its insular possessions. The cases decided that time bore entirely upon the retions of this country with Porto Rh and this was the only case of a larg number which were then argued an considered which involved the relation of the United States with the Phillp pines. The other cases involve the right to impose duty on articles exported from the United States to Porto F Much interest has been manifeste this Philippine case because of the probability of legislation relating to the Philippines at the forthcoming session of Congress. HISTORY OF THE CASE.

The record shows that Pepke, who was the respondent in the court below. was a soldier in the army of the United States in the Island of Luzon; that Washington, Dec. 2 .- The United ; while there and after the ratification of the peace treaty he purchased the four-teen diamond rings which are involved in the case. He afterward brought the while still in the service of the United States aboard the United States vessel transporting his regiment to San Francisco where he was mustered out. Later he came with the rings to Chicago, where the rings yere seized by the customs officials under the claim that the Philippines were foreign territory and were subject to customs duties. Peplte set up the claim that the imposition of duties upon merchandise un-der the circumstances was contrary to the United States laws and in violation f his rights as a citizen.

The case came to the Supreme Court from the district court of the United States for the Northern division of Dilnois. In that court the facts set up in Pepke's plea were admitted by a demurrer filed by the United States and that court sustained the demurrer, over-ruling the plea and entering judg-ment against the merchandise thus thus seized and directing that it be sold in accordance with the law and from this ecision the present writ of error was prosecuted.

In his opinion in the Philippines case Chief Justice Fuller said that the Philpoine Islands ceased to be foreign ter-Hory as soon as the Paris treaty of cace was signed and the resolutions of which he referred as being ineffecve and not being was the resolution dopted by the Senate soon after the attilication of the treaty.

THE SECOND DOOLEY CASE.

The United States Supreme Court de-ded the second of the Dooley cases inving the constitutionality of the law April 12 providing for the collection duty articles shipped from the ited States into Porto Rico. The dewas rendered by Justice Brown. "he government is sustained in the secand Dooley case.

"In the Dooley case Justice Brown's opinion held that as Porto Rico is not foreign territory the goods shipped to Porto Rico are not exports, but wheth-cr exports or imports the wide range if the power of Congress in the matter of taxation was cullicient for a conlingency of this character.
