

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THEATRICAL.—Considering the unfavorable state of the weather a good house welcomed the performance at the Theatre last night. The plays, "Our American Cousin" and "Paddy Miles' Boy" went gloriously, and were well received by the audience. Mr. Herne, as Asa Tronchard and Paddy Miles, gave another evidence of his immense powers as a comedian, he having fairly carried the audience by storm. Miss Lockhart, as Florence Tronchard, rendered the part in her usual charming and effective style. Miss Adams, as Mary Meredith, was well received, and played her part with much ability. Of Mr. Graham's Lord Dundreary a hint before spoken. Last night he fully sustained his reputation in the part. Messrs. Lindsay, Hardie, and the ladies and gentlemen of the company played with their usual care and rendered most efficient support.

To-night, in consequence of the continued severe indisposition of Miss Western, the play of Leah has been withdrawn, and the popular "Rip Van Winkle" substituted. This will probably be the most agreeable change the theatre has been made for, as all who have failed to see Mr. Herne's "Rip" have a great treat in store for them, and those who have seen it, can very well sustain a repetition. It is, without doubt, one of the finest pieces of character acting ever witnessed on our stage. The performance concludes with the beautiful domestic moral drama of "Rosina Meadows," in which Mr. Herne, Miss Lockhart, and the best talent of the company, appear. This is a very popular drama and presents a moral lesson every way worthy of attention.

HANDS WANTED ON THE RAILROAD.—Col. Jesse C. Little stepped into our office yesterday and showed us a letter he had received from D. V. Warren, Esq., Superintendent of the Utah Division, U. P. R. R. Mr. Warren says therein, in reply to a question addressed about labor: "You need a good many men on repairs of track in the valley. Let them report to Mr. Stafford, the road master."

We are pleased to learn from the same letter that the material belonging to the Utah Manufacturing Co., was expected to come right along and would be delivered at Deseret Station.

COVER CREEK FORT.—Deeming a description of this fort would be interesting to our readers, we extract the following items from a letter of Elder Ira N. Hinkley to President George A. Smith:

The fort is built of volcanic rock, laid up in lime mortar. The walls are 100 feet square outside; 18 feet high from the foundation to vertex. On the east side is a gateway fourteen feet square, with good substantial arch, a set-off inside six feet deep and three feet thick; above this preparation are made to build a room to serve as Telegraph office and look-out. On the west side is a small gateway, eight by four feet, with a projection, inside, ten and a half feet wide, twelve and a half feet high and a half a foot deep. The gateway is supplied with wooden gates, eight inches thick, and hung with strong, serviceable hinges. The fort also contains twelve rooms, six on the north and six on the south; ten of which are sixteen by fourteen feet, and two sixteen by seven feet. The rooms are built of volcanic rock, being of suitable poles; roofed with good shaved shingles. The whole of the rooms contain sixteen four paneled doors, with casing and moulding; also, sixteen fifteen light windows, 10 by 12 glass, with paneled casing and moulding. The whole building contains 2,200 feet of rock; 1,975 bushels of lime; 34,842 feet of lumber; and cost, up to the present time, about $25,000.

HERE AND THERE.—The end of the track of the U. P. R. R. reached Willard City at 10:40 this morning.

On Monday next a new office of the Deseret Telegraph line will be opened at Farmington.

On the 26th a severe indisposition of Miss Lucille Western, Rip Van Winkle had been substituted for Leah, which had been previously announced by the managers for this evening. The afterpiece will be the beautiful domestic drama, "Rosina Meadows," Miss Lockhart appearing in the title role.

President George A. Smith and party reached Beaver last evening on their way home.

The weather to-day, is like that proverbially allotted to April, sunshine and showers.

We are informed that the trade of the 10th Ward Co-operative Store, one of the first opened in this city, has averaged more than fifty dollars a day ever since. 'Not so bad' for a small ward.

MARRIED.—In this city, by President D. H. Wells, March 26th, 1899, Elder Arthur J. Durnford, of Maperton, and Miss Catherine D. Pincock, of London, England.—Mt. Star please copy.

FUNERAL SERVICES.—The funeral services of John Alonzo, the deceased son of John and Louisa Paul will take place at their residence first house West of W. Cooper's 7th Ward. Family and friends are invited to attend.

SPRINGVILLE.—A correspondent informs us that a few days ago, a co-operative association was organized in that settlement. Bishop Aaron Johnson was elected President; W. H. Kelsey, Vice President; W. Bringham, C. Sanford, C. E. Evans, Royance and D. C. Johnson, Directors; W. M. Bromley, Secretary and W. Brannan, Treasurer. Upwards of one hundred and thirty persons took shares, and it is expected their store will be opened next week.

Farmers are busy, most of the small grain is sown; general peace prevails.

CACHE.—Elder G. L. Farrell writing from Logan on the 24th inst. says: "We are having splendid weather at present. I believe that 150 acres of grain are put in the ground daily which is a splendid order. Fall grain looks very well."

RAPE AND SWIFT JUSTICE AT OGDEN.—Some days since, late in the evening, two men who had been working on the railroad, obtained access to the home of Mr. G. Wolverton, at North Ogden, under pretext of wanting a night's lodging. Both were in liquor. Mr. Wolverton was away from home at the time, and the men taking advantage of his absence, ravished his wife and daughter. The latter is said to be about thirteen or fourteen years old. News of the affair having reached the police, they succeeded in capturing one of the men, named St. Clair, the other, a man known as "Whisker Bill," is still at large. When the news of this outrage reached the ears of Mr. Wolverton, he determined to rid the world of the monsters who had troubled him upon his family. The police had been called out St. Clair in the county jail at Ogden, and Mr. W. was watching his opportunity, as the prisoner was passing into his cell, emerged from the place in which he had concealed himself unknown to any one, and shot St. Clair twice. Both bullets took effect, but did not kill the prisoner at once. Before his death he acknowledged that both he and his companion forced the girl and her mother, and added that he felt free after having made the confession. He died the night before last. Mr. Wolverton is now in jail awaiting his trial at the Federal Court before Judge F. D. Richards.

ANOTHER WILLIAM SHOOT.—We learn from Warden Rockwood that, on the 17th instant, as the officers were bringing a prisoner across the Weber river, who had been convicted of rape and sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment in the Penitentiary, the husband of the injured woman stepped forward and fired four or five bullets into him, killing him on the spot. The husband was indicted by the grand jury for murder, and was tried yesterday. He was acquitted by the petit jury, who brought in a verdict of justifiable homicide.

RECEIVED.—Messrs. Dick and Fitzgerald, publishers, New York, forwards us Frank's Book of Tablets and Shadow Portraits, containing a choice collection of tableaux vivants, shadow acts and pantomimes with complete stage instructions. This little book is intended as a help to those who are fond of passing away their winter evenings in amateur theatricals and tableaux. We think it answers this purpose admirably.

POLICE.—John Owens and Wm. Simms were arrested for stealing blankets, found guilty, and fined $25 each.

Correspondence.

19 Commercial Road, Molefield, Feb. 19, 1899.
Dear Bro. George.—Thinking a few words upon the State of affairs in this portion of the world would not be amiss, I embrace the present opportunity of writing you a few lines, not but what others keep you posted a great deal better than I am able to do.

I have enjoyed myself remarkably well this winter, if winter it can be called. We have had no snow as yet that has remained upon the ground twenty-four hours; as for frost it has almost been a stranger to this part of England. Now there are very strong indications of an early spring. The rose bushes, and hedges, and all other vegetation are putting forth their buds, and many are about half out in leaf; as for the fields and meadows, they look similar to our mountain fields in April. The birds are building their nests and singing most beautifully, all of which and to our enjoyment and seem to make the time pass swiftly.

I visited a sister the other day who had received a letter from her husband at home, (Utah) in which he told her he was strongly under the impression he could send for her this coming season. He also says something like this, "now bring all the bed clothes, yours and the children's wearing apparel, knives, forks, spoons, needles, thread, flat irons, a good concertina, and in fact bring all you possibly can, as it will be very useful when you arrive." Of course I advised the sister to act as I thought best, so she willingly submitted, and promised to abide by counsel. I do not wish to have it thought I am criticizing, or finding fault with any one; for all are free to write as they may feel inclined, but, as the Saints have not means to gather with, to make so many unreasonable requests, seems to be an error in judgment. The above named sister has nothing of her own nor has her husband sent anything for her as yet, but has promised so to do. If they have means no one would care if they took what one sister proposed to me last spring, she said as wood was not very plentiful at home, she proposed taking her "besom shaft."

I think that will do for one, finding fault, as I have no right to act in that capacity nor do I wish.

There are a few who have returned from there, not feeling the best way inclined towards many of the actions of our people. Of course such persons only bear weight with the weak, for to those who are standing on their own footing, it matters not what is said; they are still the same and we have many of this latter class among our good Saints.

We have at present a good Sunday school in the principal branches of the Manchester Conference, and regular visiting so far as we are able to do it. As summer draws near we begin to look out for open air preaching once more, when our best men will be used to good advantage in the front ranks.

There is a very good spirit at present prevailing among us. I am not aware of anything wrong in any place but all move harmoniously along, for which we feel the thankful to our Father.

I will now conclude, praying the Lord to bless the cause of prosperity. With kind love to all in the office, in which brother Josiah M. Ferris, who is quite well, joins me, and a good portion to yourself, I remain as ever yours in the gospel.

H. CHARLTON JACOBS.
