In the Senate of the United States, on June 23rd, as appears in the Congressional Record of June 24th; an animated discussion took place over a bill creating the Oregon BY TELEGR. Short Line Rallway Company, a corporation in the Territories of Utah, Idaho and Wyoming. The bill, after several objections, which displayed the ignorance of Senators on the object of the measure and of many things relating to the Territories, was passed by a vote of 39 yeas against 8 nays. thing special to say against the bill but wish to call attention to isome things stated in the debate. After the controversy which arose over the Edmands bill, it would be naturally supposed that members of the United States Senate had become somewhat familiar with affairs in the Territories, at any rate in the Territory of Utah. But from ques-tions asked and replies given, it appears that little knowledge on the subject obtains in the upper ington. House of Congress.

In answer to a question from Senator Jones, of Florida, asking "How often do the Territorial Legislatures in those Territories sit?" Senator Hawley replied, "Once in a year or two." He also stated that Utah has "no general railroad law," Worth $75,000 were destroyed. Sponand that its Legislature will sit next winter. The gentleman who undertook to give the information desired, knew no more about it than the gentleman who was asking for it. The Legislatures of the Territories are held blennially; the Utah Assembly does not meet till 1884, and there is a general railroad law in this Territory, giving all the powers requisite for the Oregon Short Line, or any other railroad company to incorporate, and Senator MeMillan was doubtless correct in his argument that, the Terri-tories "are fully competent to grant all the powers sought, and are the only proper authorities to confer those powers." The territorial Legislatures are endowed with power over "all rightful subjects of legislation" within certain limits defined in their Organic Acts. They should be left to the exercise of these powers over all things which affect them locally, and Congress ought not to interfere unless these delegated powers are used improperly as neg lected when it is necessary that they should be exercised. But there barbers, next door to Mrs. and Mr powers are used improperly us neg lected when it is necessarywhat they should be exercised. But there is a growing disposition in the Nais a growing disposition in the Na-tional Government to dominate, and to wield arbitrary power, such as was not contemplated by the foun-ders of our institutions and does not comport with the genius of repub-licanism.

This could not raceive a stronger illustration than is conveyed in the language of Senator Hawley during the debate. Sald he:

"This is the simple doctrine of the matter: All the pow-er that the Territories have over this question is obtained from the Concrete of the United States. We ment and anlargement of the her bor of Vera Crus, estimated to d "This is the simple truth and doctrine of the matter: All the powerrole any special charter they overrule any special charter they may give to any railway company. They are children of the govern-ment in every respect. We can charter railroads through and across up and down any Territory in the United States, without asking the permission of anybody in that Ter-ritory; and if all the people in the Territory shall agree to charter a railway that we do not like, we have aimply to tan it on the head
