DR. LYON'S TOOTH TABLETS Harden and Heal tender gums.

The scarcity of Diamonds, Gold and Silver, and the difficulties met with in securing them, is a sure indication of their value.

Thus it is with a valuable medicine: Dr. Aug. Kaiser's Celebrated German Pulmonic Elixir, through the jealousy of rivals, has met with the most bitter opposition, and apparently almost insurmountable obstacles have been thrown in its way; but its opponents might as well try to change the course of the sun, sweep back the ocean with a broom or put out a prairie fire with a fan.

For the cure of Throat and Lung diseases, such as Coughs, Colds, Consumption and Bronchial Affections, it is unequalled. Its cure is truly magical. Ask your Druggist for it. The genuine bears the Russian signature of Dr. Aug. Kaiser, and has his name blown on every 75 cent bottle. Trial bottle, 25 cents.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by the Z. C. M. I. Drug Department and Moore Allen & Co., Salt Lake City.

In the Whole History of Medicine No preparation has ever performed such marvelous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long-continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life. The prompt action afforded by its timely use in the throat and lung disorders of children, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it, never will. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, Physicians use the CHERRY PECTORAL extensively in their practice, and Oldsmen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and will always cure where cures are possible.

For sale by all dealers. dtf

Would an Irredeemable Currency be as good as gold? While there is a very large class of intelligent citizens who believe it would, we regard it our duty to all alike to say that as a cure for old sores, cuts, bruises, jama and 'slashes, there is nothing like Carbolic Salve. Beware of counterfeits. eod&w

I STRONGLY recommend the use of FELLOWS' Compound Syrup for Hypophosites to all who suffer in any way from disease or weakness of the lungs, bronchial tubes, or general debility.

EVENING NEWS.

Monday, November 24, 1879.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Nellie Boyd—Nellie Boyd's dramatic company appear at the Theatre on Thanksgiving night, Thursday, the 27th inst., in a new play.

Appointed—The following postmasters have been appointed: Wm. H. Law, for Johnson, Kane Co., and Wm. Gardner for Pine Valley, Washington Co., Utah.

Died—The same letter which gives the particulars of the death of young James Beal, on the 18th, inst., records the death, from sickness, the same day, of the oldest child of Andrew Olsen, of Ephraim, just previous to the father's return from a visit to this city.

Died from a Scald—A little two year old daughter of Mr. Henry Schoenberg, an employee at the Herald office, died Saturday morning, from injuries accidentally inflicted by scalding water, several days ago. The funeral was held this morning at the parents' residence.

For Washington—Hon. George Q. Cannon, Utah's Delegate, leaves in the morning for Washington, to be present at the opening of Congress Monday, the 1st of December. He will be accompanied by his wife and two daughters. The party will remain in the seat until the close of the session, which may extend to the middle of next summer.

The Great Magician—The great Hermann, the prince of illusionists, makes his first appearance in our city, this season, at the Theatre, on Tuesday night. His exhibition of the magic art will be interspersed with the wonderful performances of the Loretas, contortionists. His engagement includes Wednesday night. The performance is said to be all that is advertised.

A Procrastinating Prosecutor.

About 12 years ago, a horse thief, named Ike Potter, was killed in this Territory, and in the year 1867, at the time Judge Tilton sat upon the bench here, six men, namely: Jacob Hoffman, R. J. Redden, Almas Smith, Joseph Brim, and a Mr. Livingston were arrested for the alleged murder. The grand jury at that time failed to find a bill and the defendants were discharged. During Judge McKean's administration, the parties were again arrested and indicted by the celebrated "Engelrecht Jury," which was afterward declared by the United States Supreme Court to have been empaneled illegally, and their acts therefore null and void. In 1877, while Judge Schaeffer sat in the Third District Court, another indictment, for the same offense, was found, the accused parties again taken into custody, held in bonds, and the case set for trial. Since then, at every term of the court, this case has been pending, but through lack of time, convenience or on some pretext or another, on the part of the prosecution, has never been disposed of. At the last term of court, the cause was dismissed as to Hoffman, but the other five were still held to answer. Two weeks ago, it came up and was again continued until to-day. This morning, another delay was asked by the District Attorney, on the plea that he was not yet ready with his evidence. The counsel for the defense, Messrs. Sheeks & Rawlins and Williams & Young, however, being tired of this "to be continued" style of action, and not desiring, if it could be avoided, to waste another tedious chapter, arose in their might and protested against further dalliance, representing with force and logic the injustice and annoyance to which their clients had been subjected for two long years, to say nothing of the heavy expense of coming and going at the beck and whim of the prosecuting attorney. A warm debate arose, and on Judge Beatty's asking for further continuance, his Honor Judge Hunter declined to grant it. Judge Beatty then moved for the dismissal of the suit; this the court was about to grant, when the counsel for the defense, objected, as such a step would render their clients still liable to further prosecution. They demanded trial at once and it was finally agreed that the case should come up on the first day of the February term and be tried, whether the prosecution was ready with its evidence or not. The suit was discharged and the defendants released on their own recognizance.

Revising the School Law—At the meeting of the Educational Association, held Saturday evening, the following amendments to the school law were presented by the committee appointed to revise and report on the same:

That incorporated cities may be consolidated into one school district, upon an affirmative vote being cast by the registered voters of said cities upon the question.

That trustees be elected by a majority vote, and their office be for three years; one trustee retiring each year, leaving two old trustees in office.

An auditor to be elected annually in each district to examine the trustees accounts.

The trustees shall keep a record of their official acts and report receipts and expenditures of all funds annually to the taxpayers of the district. Voting for trustees and auditors and for levying taxes to be by ballot.

That in incorporated cities the special school tax shall be assessed and collected by the city assessor and the city treasurer.

The trustees shall constitute a board of equalization to examine and equalize the assessor's list of taxes and remit or rebate taxes of insane, idiotic, infirm or indigent persons to a specified amount.

To levy upon taxable personal property of delinquents.

The school year to commence on the 1st of July.

The school age shall be between six and eighteen years.

Districts employing teachers not possessing a certificate signed by the board of examination, are to forfeit the apportionment of any public school fund.

None but pupils of school age to receive benefit from appropriations or public moneys.

The county treasurer to pay out school money for none other than school purposes.

Candidates for scholarship in the normal department to be nominated by the board of examination in each county.

Normal graduates to be free from obligation to teach if not called upon within two years from date of graduation.

The sections were then discussed and the first seven approved and adopted by the association. The remaining ones will be considered at the next meeting of the association, to be held next Saturday evening, at 7 o'clock.

District Court—Proceedings Monday morning, November 24th, 1879, Chief Justice Hunter presiding:

Call for It—There is a message at the W. U. Telegraph Office for James M. Ballard.

Police Court—The case of the City against Quan Lung, Dee Foo and Ah Lee, the three remaining Chinamen, in the Opium case, came up this morning, but after the empanelling of a jury and the examination of two witnesses, the city attorney, finding that there was insufficient evidence to constitute a case, moved the dismissal of the suit, which was accordingly done.

Two cases of drunkenness and disturbance were fined $10 each.

A Double Dose—Yesterday, about noon, "Boh" Houston, alias Hazlett, "a man about town," was the victim of a duplicated castigation at the hands of another "sport," whose name is said to be Vordell. The first row occurred on the street, and Vordell, after punning his adversary severely, walked over to the White House to dinner. Houston followed and attacked his opponent in the hotel, when the latter turned on him and administered another unmerciful beating. The cause of the quarrel we could not learn. Houston's face is badly cut up. Vordell is the smaller man of the two, but evidently of higher muscular development.

Abbey's Poems—We have received from the author, Harry Abbey, Esq., of New York, a book of poems just published by Appleton & Company. It is a choice selection of themes, inculcating lessons of truth and beauty, gracefully clothed in the most simple and expressive language. The author has true poetic talent, and his poems will become popular with that class of readers who delight in literature, whose aim is simplicity rather than sublimity, and whose prominent features are morality and truth.

As a specimen of the author's similes, the following beautiful illustration will suffice:

"She had a sea of hair, whose color sweet, And golden softness, it a moonless tide Went rippling toward the white coast of her feet."

Another selection will serve to show the author's ability "to point a moral and adorn a tale":

"O' you, deem no more the world all base And scorn no more with either tongue or pose; You do not see the face behind the face. If God exists, there must be noble men; And many who to us seem hard and cold, Have sunshine in their hearts as pure as gold."

Fatal Mishap—By private note from Bishop C. C. N. Dorius, Ephraim, to Elder C. C. Christensen, we learn of a sad accident that occurred at that place on the 15th inst., by which a young boy named James Beal met with an untimely death. The occurrence, happened on the premises of Bro. Christensen, who was away from home exhibiting his panoramic "views," and was first informed of the circumstance by the letter referred to above. A boy mentioned as "Erastus," whom we suppose to be a son of Elder Christensen, went into the granary near the house and picking up an old musket began examining it to see, as he says, "if there was any cap on it."

While holding it on a level in the direction of the door, it was accidentally discharged, and the entire load entered the face of young Beal, who at that moment appeared in the doorway. He fell to the ground, and was taken to the residence of Bishop Dorius where he expired, after 18 hours of suffering.

Some of the shot had penetrated to the brain, and the coroner's inquest rendered a verdict of accidental death from the careless use of firearms. The boys were good friends and had played together just prior to the fatal event. The unfortunate affair is felt almost equally by the families of both the main actors, whose gloom and sadness is shared in a measure by the whole community. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the afflicted relatives and friends.

DIED.

In this city, at 5:30 p. m., Nov. 23, of brain fever, MORTIMER ROY, infant son of Wm. F. and Elizabeth, aged two years and nine months. Funeral from residence 15th ward, Tuesday, 25th inst., at 11 a. m.

In Alta, Little Cottonwood, Salt Lake County, Nov. 24th, ANGELO A. B. NORR, daughter of J. B. and Elizabeth Andersen, aged 5 months and 21 days. Will Star please copy.

In 16th Ward, Salt Lake City, Nov. 24th, 1879, at 11 a. m., of consumption, OWEN FRAVIER, born May 12th, 1854, at Knowl Hill, Berkshire, England, aged 25 years and 6 months.

Funeral services on Wednesday at 12 o'clock, noon, in the 1st Ward School House.

Brother Frazier lived and died a faithful Latter-day Saint. He was First Counselor to Francis Cope, of the 6th Quorum of Elders.
