

SALT LAKERS IN GOTHAM.

Special Correspondence.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Our Mutual held its first meeting Friday evening, Nov. 29, at mission headquarters, 23 west One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street with Elder J. R. Dille as president; Amos A. Rockwood, first counselor; W. A. Joseph, second counselor; Miss Nan Clawson, secretary; Miss Marie Snow as assistant secretary, and Miss Rachel Snow, organist. A fine program was given; there was a good attendance and a feeling of enthusiasm manifested throughout the evening by all present. It is certain the "Mutual" will go with a fervor the coming winter, from the fact that each member feels a personal interest in making it a success.

Thanksgiving was quietly observed at mission headquarters owing to the serious condition of little Alice McQuarrie, who is only now showing some slight improvement after the three weeks she has lain a patient sufferer. Mr. and Mrs. McQuarrie have never relaxed their vigilance for a moment and the little one has been the burden of every one's thoughts the past week. Uncomplainingly she has borne her terrible sufferings and hope is strong with parents and friends that she will be restored to health.

Hal Clawson, the Salt Lake wanderer, gave his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Easton, a surprise Thanksgiving evening, by suddenly appearing before them. Mr. and Mrs. Easton were entertaining at dinner, Prof. Hinchey, Mrs. Frances Pryor, Mr. Ralston Gibbs, Messrs. Clyde Squibbs and George Barratt and Mrs. Meyers. Mr. Clawson only arrived from Paris, Brazil, in the morning and came up to spend the evening with his relatives, looking and feeling well. He will remain in the city a few days, engaging a number of theatrical people for his company now touring South America, and will then leave for Rio de Janeiro with them at once.

Friday evening, Mrs. Constant and Mrs. Easton gave their second social in Brady hall, where the Utahns assembled to renew acquaintance and indulge in dancing until the "vee sima hours."

Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Stevens, well known in Utah, who have been in Auburn, N. Y., for the past three months visiting relatives and friends, stayed a few days in Gotham, seeing the sights on their way to Kansas City. Mr. Stevens' object in visiting his former home in Auburn, was to secure his little boy, who has always lived with his aunt since the death of his mother, the former Mrs. Stevens. Mr. Stevens has been with the Bell Telephone Co. about a year and a half in Kansas City, and will visit Salt Lake the coming winter. Whenever Mr. and Mrs. Stevens have a home the Utah elders are made most welcome. His many friends in Utah will be glad to know that he is prospering in his business and that he is well liked by his employers. Mrs. Stevens is a most charming lady and a great favorite with all who know her.

The little poem, "Little Love," written by Miss Rose Thomas, music by Metropolitan Music Co., and published by the Melville Co., is now on the market and bids fair to have a lively sale. Miss Thomas has shown great ability in this direction several times, and "Little Love" will be acknowledged a gem in thought, while the musical setting carries out the idea with true taste.

Nearly a week ago, Mrs. M. Fisher, mother of the singer, Miss Sallie Fisher, left New York for the west, just to visit with relatives in Wisconsin, then to Colorado to be with her husband, Mr. Chas. Fisher, who is in business there. She will visit in Salt Lake for a time, and go on to southern California, where her sister, Mrs. Clara Preston, is now located in Los Angeles. She will remain a month or more with Mrs. Preston. Miss Fisher is hard at work on her music; the cozy little apartment on west One Hundred and Ninth street, which Mrs. Fisher fitted up before her departure, is a place always welcome to the Salt Lake friends of these two former Utahns.

"The Three of Us," the play in which Carlotta Nilsson has made such a pronounced hit, in the part of Ry McChesney, which she is making one of the talked-about characters, up and down Broadway, is taken every Wednesday matinee by Laura Nelson Hall, a former Cummings Stock company actress who played a long engagement in Salt Lake. The part taxed the strength of Miss Nilsson when she was obliged to give eight performances a week, and Miss Hall was selected to alternate with her; it was a decided acknowledgment of the lady's talent, thus to be singled out of the many ready and anxious to get a New York hearing. The papers have all been most liberal in their praise of the fair substitute.

From the same stock company that Miss Hall appeared with in Salt Lake, Messrs. Robert Cummings and Charles Wyndham are now playing good parts with Henry Miller and Margaret Anglin in the "Great Divide," and have had some good notices from the press.

At 170 Newell street, Greenpoint, L. I., Elder James Knecht and his wife entertained all the elders of the Brooklyn conference Thanksgiving evening, the entire force enjoying a royal feast. Mr.

and Mrs. Knecht are noted for their hospitality to the elders and friends of the Brooklyn conference.

Miss Ellen Thomas was the guest of Mrs. Casey at Edgewater, N. J., for the Thanksgiving holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Sears were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Constant on West Twenty-first street. Thanksgiving day is children's day in New York, and the streets were a sight; the day being perfect, every child who could escape from its parents' notice was masked and ragged out in mother's old dresses, bonnets and shawls, making a veritable panorama view the length of the streets.

Miss M. M. Babcock, who returned from Philadelphia Saturday, will return to Germantown the 10th of December to give another reading at a large entertainment there. So popular is she in that section of Philadelphia that she is forced to refuse many fine offers to read, her studies in New York taking every moment of time, leaving few opportunities for pleasure.

Two well known business men were visitors at chapel services today, Hon. B. F. Hamilton and Mr. Wm. C. Borland. The former is a guest at the Breslin, Twenty-first and Broadway, and the latter is now a resident of Pittsburgh. Mr. Borland was for many years a familiar figure on the Wasatch coast, being a railroad man in the office there, and left scores of friends in that western city. He and Mr. Hampton were interested listeners to the many testimonies borne today, Mr.

Agostina, a recent convert of Dr. Ray Lund, was among the speakers.

At the Waldorf, Mr. Geo. T. Odell is a guest; he is here to attend the automobile exhibition, and today is entertaining the artists, Messrs. Barratt and Squibbs, at dinner.

JOHNNY HITS IT.

"Johnny, please stand up and tell the class how many holidays there are in the year and why we keep them."

"Yes'm. We start out with New Year's. It is so-called because a new year begins and we've got to forget all the fun we had during the old one."

"Then comes Washington's birthday. It is so called because he and about 100,000 people were born on that day. You may get pie for supper on that day, but you are never sure of it."

"There's Arbor day and St. Valentine's day and April Fool day, but they don't count. No firecrackers or lemonade."

"Then comes Fourth of July, when you holler for Bunker Hill and get your left eye blown out by a toy cannon. It is so called because we decided on that day to lick the British."

"The next is Thanksgiving. You are thankful for the chickens. You didn't get the last year and for those you are going to dodge during the year to come. Some folks have goose or turkey on that day, and some don't have anything but thin soup. You theater. You shouldn't get up to the top on Thanksgiving day unless you are sure you can lick the other boys."

"Last of all comes Christmas. You wake up in the morning expecting to find a gold watch in your stocking, and pull out nothing but an apple or a dried cake."

"You may have a big dinner or be shut up in the pantry. Your pa one on your shoulders. Nobody can't expect anything about Christmas of December, and that we are all
