The speakers eulogized E.der Woodward, and being of a tender and sympathetic disposition he was so overcome that he was scarcely able to speak his appreciation.

His benefactions for ecclesiastical and educational purposes would easily reach $9,000, not including tithing or other contributions required by the actions is a gift of $2,500 to the school which bears his name, and the heating plant recently installed in the taberwhich will reach a total cost of not less than $1,000. THINGS EASY.

pecial Correspondence. Washington, Jan. 29,-Congress is noving with great deliberation, more o than for several sessions past, when he desire seemed to be to crowd bills ong before this time. So far but two appropriation bills have passed the House, the pension and deficiency. Joon both of these bills there was no lmit of debate. Every man who wanted to talk had an opportunity. All the time that was desired for general debate was granted, and any topic could be introduced and discussed here has been no rush. More than us, the House adjourns over a day or wo each week simply because there is nothing to do. Yet there is plenty of work ahead. The census bill is yet be considered, then there is the Cu in reciprocity, the repeal of the war axes, the Philippine government bill, he oleomargarine bill, some pure food llis and all the appropriation bills. If le same easy program is followed with I these measures that has been taken with bills heretofore considered, the prospects are for a long session. The nly measures which have been rushed the House were the Philippine tariff ill and the Nicaragua canal bill, but the speed has not availed much in eiththe speed has not avalled much in ethi-er case. The Senate took its own time to consider the Philippine bill in committee and is doing the same with the canal bill. Both these measures will be debated at great length in the

APPARENTLY NOT UNEASY Usually the majority party in Congress is anxious to push legislation through rapidly in order that the members may get home so as to go into in 1841, and was one of the original Planeers of Utah, coming in with I resident Brigham Young in 1847. He drove the cannon brought for protections of the original their campaigns, and as soon as Control of the cannon brought for protection of the original their campaigns, and as soon as Control of the cannon brought for protection of the original their campaigns, and as soon as Control of their campaigns, and as soon as Control of the original their campaigns, and as soon seen a Congress hurry business and ad journ in July, but then there was no such amount of business ahead as at this session. If the actual necessary legislation, such as the appropriation bills, were pushed, I might guess that a laying out and establishing the city it was not the purpose to do much f St. George, where he has lived liver else and that there would be a lurking intention of sidetracking the Philippine government bill, the canal bill and some other measures which cause so much contention, but the delays of the appropriation bills leads me to think that the managers do not care so very much about a speedy adjournment and the campaigns will be short or made largely from Washington. CROWDING POOR LO.

Friends of the Indian say that the easing of Indian reservation lands to white men for grazing purposes is sim ply another move in the direction of crowding the red man and making him discontented. The big reservations have been diminished, which was necessary for them. Now, to lease large tracts of the remaining lands shuts up the Indian too slosely besides interfering with his own stock raising As one man expressed it: "The Indian will go out of the stock raising busi-ress. It will be found that there are no calves for the Indians, while the stockmen's cows will have twins. What chance has the Indian with the average cowboy?" There is a feeling existing that the Indians should not be crowded much more, but that the lands they have should be left to them.

"LOBSTERS" IN THE HOUSE.

The state of Maine usually gets what it goes after, and in the last Congress it secured an appropriation for a lob-ster station. Now the members want more money and some scientific men. This, together with a demand made by North Carolina the other day for an addition to a fish station started last year, roused the ire of Chairman Can-ton of the appropriations committee. He took up the lobster question and when it suited his purpose used it in the slang sense, making it plain that be thought the crop of "lobsters" was already large enough.

"We have enough 'lobsters' of a kind now," he said, returning to the slangy term. And the House laughed, but voted in the appropriations just the same. HAWAIIAN LEGISLATION.
