A WEEK'S PROGRAM.

Compromise Likely to Be Effected in the Senate.

THE ELECTIONS REPEAL BILL

McCreary's Substitute for the Everett Bill.—The Utah Statehood Bill.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—The discussions ovcur in the Senate this week will be the attempt to secure continuous session of that body. That the attempt will produce results can hardly be doubted by any one familiar with the situation.

The general desire, as well as belief, in the chamber, is that the present week will bring a solution of the problem. The opinion expressed is that there will be a compromise of some character agreed to and put through. The proposition to simply extend the Sherman law for a definite period, with reduced monthly purchases, seems to be taking shape as the most likely of the various propositions to receive approval. The proposition to include bond purchases is also receiving attention, and present indications are that while many Democrats may not agree to such a proposition, it may be put through with the assistance of the Republicans.

The senators from the silver-producing states are constantly consulted and advised with as to the terms of the agreement, but they will not be allowed to dictate in the matter of compromise. What the silver men would like best next to free coinage would be a continuation of the present bill. It would be a triumph and not a compromise, if the night session experiment should not bring about the passage of the bill, there is a possibility that a repeal resolution would secure a majority in its support.

The elections bill will possibly reach the Senate early in the week, but there will likely be no immediate effort to take it up. This important matter will occupy the attention of the House this week. Tuesday, according to the terms of the special order, the Tucker bill will go to a vote. Although the Democrats are united in the demand for the repeal of the laws permitting federal supervision at the polls, some Northern Democrats believe the Tucker bill, which finds but all the laws on the statute books relating to federal supervision, goes too far. After the disposal of the election bill the bill from the banking and currency committee will again come up.

Tuesday, if the banking bill is disposed of, the McCreary substitute for the Everett bill to amend the Geary exclusion act so as to extend the time for the registration of the Chinese will come up and be voted on after two days. The bill will be bitterly opposed by some of the Pacific slope members, especially Geary, who does not like its provisions, and who believes the bill only temporizes with the situation.

In whatever shape the silver bill might pass the Senate, everything else would be laid aside in the House to act upon it.

Work on the tariff bill by the Democratic members of the ways and means committee continues on the line of making the raising of revenue the object of the bill and protection the incident.

Several committees of the House will be busy during the week. The committee on territories will try and get a quorum together to consider several bills for the admission of Utah, Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma. There has been more pressure for the Utah bill than the others, and it will be disposed of first.

SENSATIONAL SUICIDE.

An Editor Throws Himself Across a Railroad Track.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—What promises to develop into a sensational suicide occurred today on the railroad track at the foot of Monroe street. From papers found on the suicide's body, he is believed to be Henry Kershaw, editor and manager of the New Orleans Commercial.

The man was noticed standing on the track and as a freight train approached he threw himself upon the tracks and placed his neck across the rails. The police hastened to the spot, but the train severed the head from the body before they could reach him.

Letters found in the man's pocket speak of a crime charged against him, which was prosecuted by a woman he designated as Libbie Bloom, and a number of secret societies, and he claims he was honored to his grave. He speaks of an unfair trial, and evidently believed that his enemies intended to murder him.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 8.—Henry Kershaw, who committed suicide in Chicago today, was not well known here and has not been in journalism for some time. Nothing is known of him in connection with the woman, Libbie Bloom, or his domestic affairs.

Reckoned Guilty.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 7.—The jury in the case of the state against E. R. Beckstead, brought in a verdict of not guilty tonight. Beckstead is a married man about 40 years of age. The charge was preferred by the mother of a 15 year old school girl, whom he sought to ruin. The arrest created a tremendous sensation and for a while there was strong talk of lynching. It required two trials to convict, the first jury having disagreed.

The Evangelical Alliance.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—The International meeting of the Evangelical Alliance convened here today. Addresses of welcome were delivered by President Bonney, Mrs. Potter Palmer, Dr. Barrows and others. They were responded to by Lord Kinnaird, Professor Elry Drummond of Glasgow, Colonel Rosmalin of the Netherlands, Rev. Prichard of Rome and General Howard of the United States army.

Among the speakers were William E. Alliance, Dr. Simon J. McPherson and President Gates of Amherst. The meeting of the alliance will continue throughout the week.

The Amick Cure for Consumption.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—The fame of this city as a center of medical research has gone to the end of the earth. Dr. C. Howard Strong of Cape Town, South Africa, has been here a week investigating the Amick cure for consumption, and takes back with him sufficient medicine for sixty patients. He sails from New York October 11th. Dr. Joaquin Duenas, secretary of Cuba's delegation to the Pan-American medical congress, was also sufficiently impressed to order the Amick medicines, and yet another delegate obtained a supply for Venezuela. In far off Alaska an American physician, Dr. Arthur Jordan, is stopping the ravages of consumption among the natives on his island of St. George with Amick's help, and the Cincinnati discoverer's office to physicians every where of these and many cases for any number of patients, is an eagerly accepted in the frozen north as in the southern tropics.

Mad Rooster Trot.

OTTUMWA, Ia., Oct. 8.—The hotel register test, in performing which Minnie Hauser lost her life, was successfully performed by Paul Alexander Johnstone today in this city. The register was taken to a cab over the streets a distance of one and one-half miles, with twelve turns, and then brought back to the starting point. It was carried in the dining-room. One name of the register was kept in mind by the committee.

Johnstone, blindfolded, took his seat in a carriage, drove at a breakneck speed over the same route and was successful in finding the register and the right name. At one point the pavement was torn, and on either side of a space barely large enough to let a team pass were paving holes. The committee in the carriage attempted to run out, but Johnstone guided the horse through on a gallop without a jolt. He also wound around among four moving electric cars at a swindle, and emerged safely.

The entire transaction occupied less than twenty minutes' time, and its success was received with cheers. Schnitzge labored after the ordeal was passed, but was soon revived.

Surrounded by a Mystery.

EAST WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 8.—Dr. Charles Theodore Olney of Brooklyn, N. Y., was drowned last night in the channel in Oyster bay, and there is a mystery surrounding the affair. He came here two weeks ago, in company with Gussie White, of New York, to investigate into the phenomena of materialized spirit forms. They had rooms with Miss Hiller, a medium.

Last night the doctor went for a swim. Miss White, for some unexplained reason, was prompted to follow him. On the bluffs she heard frightful screams on the water a short distance out, and rushed down to the beach and got off in a small boat. She says she reached the side of the drowning man and endeavored to pull him into the boat, but that their combined weight overturned the boat and he sank, while she clung to the boat till rescued by men who were attracted by her screams.

This morning Dr. Olney's body was recovered. He was fully clothed and there is no explanation of his being in the channel.

May Have Been Cholera.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The Atlantic liner Rhein of the Hamburg-American line, which arrived at quarantine this morning, is detained by order of Dr. Jenkins, health officer. The Rhein came into harbor flying the yellow flag, and on being boarded by the health officers Captain Schmidt reported that six deaths, some of which were of undesirable symptoms, occurred on the voyage. Four of them had been saloon passengers and one steerage.

The New Cruiser.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Irving M. Scott of San Francisco informed an Associated Press representative today that during the past week he visited Pittsburg and Bethlehem with reference to the armor for the new cruiser Olympia and the line battleship Oregon. The specimens and barbettes which are being manufactured in Pittsburg will be delivered in another week. The armor, running to ten and one-half inches, with twelve turns, and then brought back to the starting point. It was carried in the dining-room. One name of the register was kept in mind by the committee.

It is not known definitely when the Oregon will be fit for use.

The One Cent Postage.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—Postmaster General Bissell is expected to devote considerable attention in his annual report to the projected 1 cent postal service. He believes the inauguration of the service impossible at the present time, owing to the deficit of $9,000,000 in postal funds in the treasury.

Hornblower Waiting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8.—There is a great deal of disappointment because Justice Hornblower will not be ready to take the oath of office Monday, when the Supreme Court meets. It is understood that the absence of several members of the Senate judiciary committee prevented action on the nomination of Hornblower.

More Heavy Trials.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 8.—Professor Henry Smith, D. D., late of Lane Theological Seminary, will be heard before the Presbyterian Synod of Ohio on appeal from the decision of the Cincinnati Presbytery, which found him guilty of two charges of heresy. The Synod will convene here Tuesday.

Knights of Father Matthew.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8.—Yesterday the supreme grand commandery of the Knights of Father Matthew of the United States and Canada was formed with Captain Ignatio Tonglime of this city as supreme president.

ANOTHER RACE TODAY.

The Vigilant and Valkyrie will Spread Their Sails Again.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The Vigilant and Valkyrie were racing within a couple of hundred yards of each other in front of the Atlantic Yacht Club house at Bay Ridge today. Things were being cut in ship shape order for the race, but the army of pattiots who were cross by raised a rumpus that should go down to yachting history.

The race tomorrow will be over a triangular course ten miles to each leg. The first leg will be laid out to windward, the second a reach and the third a run before the wind. The indications are that there will be a light wind from the west ward and southward.

SATURDAY'S FIGURES.

The American cup defender Vigilant crossed the line at Sandy Hook Lightship at 3:30 Saturday afternoon, winner in the first of the international races for the America's cup. The Valkyrie arrived home almost eight minutes later, and both were at once taken in tow by their respective tenders and hurried to their anchorage off Bay Ridge.

It was a magnificent contest from a naval point of view, and demonstrated, for the day at least, the superiority of the cruiser-yacht over the sloop, as well as the superior seamanship of the men who handles the English boat.

One thing only was lacking, and that was wind. Never more than a light wind prevailed, and sometimes it was scarcely more than a puff.

The regatta committee of the New York Yacht club gave out the following table of figures:

Start, actual time, Vigilant, 11:25.30; Valkyrie, 11:25.25. Turning to outer mark, Vigilant, 1:50.50; Valkyrie, 1:58.53. Finish, Vigilant, 5:20.47; Valkyrie, 5:58.28. Elapsed time, Vigilant, 6:05.17; Valkyrie, 6:12.28. Corrected time, Vigilant, 4:05.17; Valkyrie, 4:11.33.

Thus the Vigilant won by five minutes and forty-eight seconds on the official and corrected time. It will be seen that the Valkyrie gained on the stretch home, as she was eight minutes and six seconds behind when the outer mark was turned, and six minutes and eight seconds behind at the finish in actual time.

IVES AND ROBERTS.

The American Champion to Be Defeated.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The eleventh and last of the series of the 1000 points billiard match between John Roberts, Jr., the English champion, and Francis C. Ives, of Chicago, America's champion, was begun today in Lenox Lyceum. The score at the end of the afternoon game stood: Roberts, 8001; Ives, 6104.

Tonight's play was marked by no special runs. Roberts held the lead and ran out the necessary 10,000 points at 10:45 o'clock. Ives's score was 8738. After Roberts won the spectators cheered him long and lowdly. Ives took his defeat in good part.

Treasurer Submits.

DENVER, Oct. 7.—The vote of the engineers, firemen, trainmen and telegraph operators on the proposition of President Jeffry of the Denver & Rio Grand railway, that they had to accept a 10 per cent cut in salaries the January 1st, were counted this evening. While there are individual votes against the acceptance of the cut, the vote of the different organizations was unanimously in favor of submitting to the reduction.

Clarke leaves here for Ogden, while A. B. Youngson, assistant chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and F. R. Sargent, grand master of the Brotherhood of Firemen, go to Butte, Mont., to investigate the discharge of men there.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

Prince Bismarck Receives an Ovation on His Journey.

Expelling Rich Jews from Siberia.—The Moors Continue the War.—Rumors Affoated.

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—Prince Bismarck did not arrive at Friedrichsruhe from Kissingen until after 11 o'clock last night. The town was en fete, and the prince's home was put at its brightest. A crowd of people surrounded the railway station. The authorities early allowed the prince's personal friends to greet him on the platform.

The ex-chancellor waited firmly to his carriage and was driven to Friedrichsruhe. The route to the castle was lined with people and in front stood men with flaming torches. From all sides the prince was greeted with the most heartfelt enthusiasm, mingled with deep reverence.

Prince Bismarck could not quite prevail on the Germans to subdue their love and veneration for Germany's great statesman, and thus the prince received several ovations while on the train. The prince bowed constantly to admirers, many of whom pressed forward and kissed the aged statesman's hand.

Jews Expelled from Siberia.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Agrippa Hounbatzenki, a Russian exile, who for years past has made his home in a hermitage a few miles from San Francisco, makes the announcement to the Chronicle that he has received information from Russian sources to the effect that the czar has issued a ukase expelling every wealthy Hebrew from Siberia.

Hounbatzenko says this will involve 22,000 Russian Jews, and large proportions of these exiles will come to the Pacific coast.

War with the Moors.

MADRID, Oct. 8.—A large body of troops left the city today for Melilla in Morocco. The gunboat Cuerva reached Malaga with dispatches requesting that no further reinforcements be sent to Melilla for the present.

The Moorish tribes continue to fire at intervals upon Fort San Miguel. Yesterday evening the Moors fired into Melilla. The Cuerva was fired upon off Tres Forcas. The gunboat promptly returned the fire, and a regular engagement followed, during which many tribesmen were killed and numbers wounded.

The minister of war, upon receiving a communication from General Margella, instructed that commander to reject the overtures of the Rey, and fire upon any Moors bearing Spanish territory.

A Government Rebuked.

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—The bourses here and in Vienna are decidedly affected by an article from Freudenblatt in Vienna, which last night make a severe attack upon the Servian government papers for publishing what it classed as false statements, to the effect that Austria was erecting forts in the Lim valley and in southern Bosnia as points of support for an eventual advance upon Salonica. The articles caused great anxiety in Constantinople, where the Servian press is charged with fomenting anti-Austrian agitation in Bosnia and Herzegovia, it declared the action of the Servian press demanded serious attention.

Tuscans Snubbed.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 7.—A telegram which reached here this evening announces that all the chartered companies' forces from Fort Victoria, numbering 800 men, with machine guns, are advancing towards the Matabele border. This movement was decided upon, owing to the fact that several patrols were fired on.

Miners Get Their Old Wages.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—There was an important development in the coal miners' strike in Nottinghamshire today, when Ellis, M. P., chief proprietor of the Hucknall Nell pits, announced that he would give the men the old rates if they would return to work.

To Cure Diamonds.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The North German steamer La Gasle, which sailed from New York today, carried William J. Morison, the mineralogical specialist of this city, who breaks Grant, Blaine, Garfield and others. Dr. Morton is going to Germany, it is understood, on consultation concerning the case of a "dignitary of high rank" in Germany. The dignitary is stated to be Prince Bismarck.

The Next Fair.

"I had been troubled with catarrhal affections of the throat and lungs. My cough has been almost constant for the last two years, and a constant clearing away of the throat. My nose was stopped up so that I could not breathe through it, and rested me to get much sleep, and I spit up a large quantity of yellow matter. I came to Salt Lake, and after consulting with Drs. Mansfield and Bissell, concluded to take treatment from them. I have now been under their treatment for about a month, and I feel like a new man. My cough has entirely left me, my throat is clear, and I can breathe through my nose as well as ever. I was induced to call at the Free Medical Institute, and I have improved very much since I began taking it, and feel very pleased at the result."

"My symptoms were indigestion, pains in back, dizziness, and a dull, heavy feeling in the head. I was also troubled with kidney and bladder complaint, and I have been under Dr. Mansfield's treatment. I have been taking it for two weeks, and I am pleased to say that I feel like a new man. I have no more pains in my back, my head is clear, and I feel strong and well.
