Adjutant General Will Not Step Down With the Incoming of the New Administration.

"Politics will not enter the National Guard of Utah as long as I am commander-in-chief." was the significant statement made by Gov.-elect William Spry to a group of officers last night during the banquet tendered by Gex. Samuel C. Park at the Wilson hotel to Gov. Cutler, Gov.-elect Spry, members of the governor's staff and other officers of the National Guard of Utah. He further said that Adjt. Gen. E. A. Wedgwood, if he would consent so to do, would be retained in his present position. Both statements were greeted with prolonged applause and re-sulted in pledges of co-operative effort on the part of the incoming command-on the part of the incoming command-er-in-chief and the officers of the guard for serious instructive work. The bang. I last night was preceded by a box party at the Orpheum at which Gen. Park was the host. Gen. Park's retirement from active service became operative with the coming of midnight and as a sort of farewell to those who have for so long been as-sociated with him in the national guard the evening was planned. It was an enjoyable affair for all his guests, and being productive of the above an-nouncements by Gen. Wedgwood is regarded by the officers of the line as having been not alone enjoyable in every sense of the word, but, too, a profitable affair, for the statements nonly be interpreted by him to mean that no obstacle will be encountered in the organized effort being made to in-crease the efficiency of the citizen sol-diery of the state.

THOSE PRESENT.

THOSE PRESENT. The guests of Gen. Park were: Gov. John C. Cutler, Gov.-clect William Spry, Gen. E. A. Wedgwood, Col. A. P. Kessler, Col. A. S. Bower, Col A. B. Irvina and Col. George A. Seaman of the governor's staff, Maj. W. G. Wil-liams, First infantry; Capt. William C. Webb, field artillery; Capt. E. LeRoy Bourne, signal corps; Capt. C. A. Arms, adjutant First infantry; Lieut. A. R. Thomas, field artillery; U. S. Dist. Atty. H. E. Booth and Williard Done, private secretary to Gov. Cutler. Informal speeches marked the close

Informal speeches marked the close of the affair. Gen. Park in retrospec-tion told of his service in the National Guard of Utah, in which he first served Guard of Utah, in which he first served in the ranks, climbing step by step to the highest rank in the state's service during the last 12 years. His first serv-ice was as a private in Capt. Joo Caine's cavalry troop, later he headed the regiment as colonel of the First infantry and later by Gov. Cutler's ap-pointment he assumed the star of bri-gade commander. As a member of gade commander. As a member of the state senate his work for the Na-tional Guard of Utah was of marked importance, devoting much of his time to legislation needed to place the organ-ization upon a firm footing and to se-cure much needed armories over the state. Gov. Cutler paid high compliment to the service of Gen. Park. The first days of the governor's administration he referred to as being unfortunate in that he had not met the success he hoped for in the selection of an admin-istrative head, but that he had received much valuable assistance from the re-tiring brigadier. Gov. Cutler also spoke speaker, spoke of the intimate ac-quaintance he has had with Gov. Cut-ier in his effort to make the national guard a credit to the state. Through his personal effort, Gov. Cutler has been instrumental in the enlistment of . new companies and securing better ar-mory facilities for all commands in their various stations.

Capt. Bourne, representing the of-ficers of the line, expressed their regret neers of the line, expressed their regret in the retirement of Gen. Park, who has always stood ready to perform any duty required of him. The point was drawn, however, that Gen. Park is not leaving the guard, but is mere-ly being transferred from the active list to the retired list, and as a conse-quence is in a position where when quence is in a position where when necessity demands, his service may again be asked. He expressed the con-viction that if such a call should be made that it will find Gen. Park in his uniform present and ready to respond.

- Gen. E. A. Wedgwood outlined for the incoming commander-in-chief the military necessities of the United States and placed particular stress up-on the part played by the citizen sol-diers in this consideration. He brought out that the regular surve could not diers in this consideration. He brought out that the regular army could not respond to a call for service with a larger force than Police Commissioner Bingham has on duty in New York City every day. The need, then, for a large and efficient volunteer reserve, he said, is most pressing and it is in-cumbent upon Utah to maintain with dignity its quota of this reserve force. Recent legislation affecting the mill-tia was brought to the attention of Gov.-elect Spry and the duty of the state made plain.

NO LONGER TIN SOLDIERS.

Gen. Park had been a retired officer two hours when the gathering broke up and dispersed. In doing so each member of the pleasant party left in a most happy frame of mind and those present were unanimous in the expres-sion of the belief that the affair had not only been most enjoyable socially, but that it would result in a better understanding between the working force of the guard, the commander-in-chief and those who may be as-sembled about him for the promotion of the state's interest in its militia organization. The necessity of untiring effort upon the part of the guardsman was pointed out. The application of the phrase "its soldier" was shown to be no longer in keeping with the milita, which, he said, was at one time fully entitled to this designation. But this time has passed, he declared with emphasis, the United States now ex-pecting the national guardsman al-ways to be alert, professionally a good soldier, ambitious to climb higher and at all times facing the situation squarely that some day his service may be required, and that when it is, the state and the nation will look to him to "make good." He said that he hud been The report of the state land board, within the gift of the state had this been so. He said that he had been watching the militia to acquaint him-self with its probable needs. That in the National Guard there is no room for politics. He said that it would be a matter of gratification for him to know that Gen. A thoroughly enjoyable evening was had by all present, a program of music, song and dancing being car-ried out, and light refreshments were served. Reminiscent speeches were made by the brothers, Charles and Harrison. The former is 80 and the latter 77 years of age, but despite that fact they were among the most lively persons present. The younger brother danced some old steps in a manner that thoroughly delighted the young people, and when the musician of the evening expressed his inability to play a certain fig that a young lady was to dance, Patriarch Charles Sperry took the "fiddle" and played the piece in a way that brought down the house. At the home of Miss Vera Cutler to-night the G. G. G. club will hold a watch party, the time to be spent in dancing. The decorations will be in green and carried out with palms and ferns. About 50 guests will be present.

On Wednesday night A. L. Westlake of this city and Miss Elmira Cuiver of San Francisco, formerly of Ogden, were married, the ceremony being performed by Rev. E I.
