REV. ELDERKIN ON RACING HANDICAP

Ogden Has Already as Much Gambling to Protect as it Can Comfortably Handle.

JOHN CONTOS ESTATE, $25,000

Damage and Divorce Suits Filed in District Court—Tabernacle Filled To Hear "Lazarus."

(Special Correspondence.)
 OGDEN, May 24.—Declaring that Ogden was like a horse handicapped with overweight in a race and that it will not be able to carry much more if a burden and expect to win, Rev. F. S. Elderkin at the Congregational church last evening read a pulpit editorial on the recent race meet at Ogden. The subject of the editorial was "The Proverb Points out the folly of backing the stable after the horse has leaped." I wish to suggest the wisdom of such procedure under certain conditions.

"The horses have deserted the fair grounds. That is to be regretted. Perhaps, however, our regret should not express itself too violently for with the horses have gone a host of undesirable effects."

"When the promoters of the spring meet first blew in we couldn't understand why California should discard so unobtainable a group of good fellows. Now we understand. But we didn't then and we assured them of a hearty welcome. In good time they came with a fine string of horses. Soon we realized that the horses formed a minor attraction. The ring established under the grandstand was the central feature. Around that everything revolved."

"We might rejoice in the brief period of our infatuation were it not for the fact that they promise to inflict us again in September and for 20 days. Then after that regularly until we grow as disgusted as California."

"I have wanted to hear the merchants say that the town has been benefited in some particular. But their expressed opinion runs along one monotonous groove. They seem unable to say anything except that the influence which diffused itself from the fair grounds was demoralizing. They fear that many a point of view has been changed; that many are beginning to feel there is a short cut to wealth and that the city shows a superior wisdom in graciously protecting gambling houses."

"In enlightened communities the racing game is losing prestige every day. It must make new converts somewhere. Every one made in Utah helps to support the big trust and adds one more to the list of those who protest against the ugly attitude of California and New York."

"We have no laws against bookmaking. There is no relief in that quarter."

"We want a healthy public opinion. We want a frank discussion of the good which has accrued to us from this new venture of ours. Has the town been helped commercially and industrially? Perhaps we ought not to tackle the moral phase of the problem and yet I venture to ask one question: When William Red was weighted down with 121 pounds, what happened? He lost. The wise ones said he lost because he was carrying too much weight. My question is here: How much weight did you suppose Ogden can carry and still run decently? Aren't we carrying the limit now? Weight is a handicap. Everything that weakens the city's moral fabric handicaps us."

"Let the horses come back. But give the towns and capers and thimbles to understand that our police are at present protecting as much gambling as they can comfortably handle."

DAMAGE SUITS FILED.
 OGDEN, May 24.—Suits have been filed in the district court by H. L. Griffin company against the Oregon Short Line Railroad company to recover damages in the sum of $3000 alleged to be due as the loss from freezing of a car of potatoes shipped from Rexburg, Idaho, to Rawlins, Wyoming.

J. W. F. Volker has brought suit against W. L. Russell for recovery of $300 alleged to be due upon a bond.

JOHN CONTOS ESTATE.
 OGDEN, May 24.—The appraisers in the estate of John Contos, deceased, have filed in the probate division of the district court, a report showing the estate to be valued at $25,000. In the list of the property of the estate is enumerated 10 shares valued at $1,000 of the capital stock of the Citizens' Investment company of Salt Lake City, which controls the stock of "Red Light" district in that city. Other property of the estate consists of real estate in Ogden City and Weber county and a candy store on Twenty-fifth street, in which the deceased was killed on the night of April 3 by Nick Vecos.

In connection with the Contos estate, David Mattson, the special administrator appointed by the court, has reported that he has sold the Contos candy store on Twenty-fifth street to Charles W. Ward for the sum of $2,275 and asks a confirmation of the sale by the court.

"LAZARUS" AT THE TABERNACLE.
 OGDEN, May 24.—The tabernacle was packed to the doors yesterday afternoon at the rendition of the oratorio "Lazarus" by the Ogden Tabernacle choir and assisting soloists. The great work was rendered in a most efficient manner by the splendid choir and soloists. A feature of the program was the explanatory talks by Mrs. Belle Salmon Ross. The soloists who assisted the choir were Misses Myrtle Ballinger, Maud Belnap, Ruby Geddes and Messrs. Woods and Marshall. Prof. Joseph Willamson was conductor and Prof. Sam F. Whitaker officiated at the organ.

KETCHUM DIVORCE.
 OGDEN, May 24.—Cora Ketchum has brought suit for divorce in the district court against Clifford Ketchum upon the grounds of cruelty and desertion. The complainant alleges the couple were married in St. Joe, Mo., Aug. 4, 1902. On various occasions since Oct. 1, 1905, the plaintiff alleges the Cannot harm healthy human bodies. We cannot have healthy bodies unless we have pure blood, the kind of blood that Hood's Sarsaparilla makes. This great medicine has an unequalled, unapproached record for purifying and enriching the blood. It cures scrofula, eczema, eruptions, catarrh, rheumatism, anemia, nervousness, that tired feeling, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, general debility, and builds up the whole system. It effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than 20 different ingredients. If urged to buy any preparation said to be "just as good" you may be sure it is inferior, costs less to make, and yields the dealer a larger profit.

OGDEN, May 24.—Before Judge Murphy in the municipal court this morning was begun the preliminary hearing of Clarence Ernst, who is charged with murder in the first degree, for the killing of Charles Stokes, a week ago Saturday. The hearing will probably last two days.

JUNCTION CITY BRIEFS.
 At the Middleton ward in Ogden valley yesterday afternoon a war conference was held with an unusually large attendance. The speakers were President Thomas H. Evans, C. C. Richards and W. M. McKendrick and High Councilors George E. Ferrin, Adam L. Peterson and Virgil Stallings of the Ogden stake.

A Sunday school union was held at the Fourth ward of the Ogden stake yesterday afternoon, Supt. L. M. Hodgson officiating. The work for the ensuing month was outlined and discussed.

At the session of the city council tonight it is very probable that the committee on public buildings and grounds to which was referred the request of the board of park commissioners for an appropriation to complete the improvements in the various city parks, will be reported favorably upon. The committee, it is understood, favors an appropriation of about $2,500.

This evening at 8 o'clock the automobile enthusiasts of the city will meet at the Weber club to perfect plans for the organization of an automobile club and to create interest in a good roads movement for the county.

SHEEP CAMP MURDER MYSTERY IS CLEARED
 BASIN, Big Horn Co., Wyo., May 11.—All mystery in connection with the recent murderous outrages against sheep men, in which Allemand, Emge and Lauer were murdered in the Ten-day sleep camp, has been cleared by the complete confession of two of the seven men now held for the murder. The county authorities are also in possession of detailed evidence against the accused. Which of the seven men charged with the crime and who are now known to have been entirely responsible, the sheriff and attorneys in the case nor the members of the grand jury before whom the confessions were laid, will state, but it is declared that they are two of the following: all of whom are in jail: Ed Eaton, George Saban, Herman Brink, Charles Ferris, William Kise, M. A. Alexander and Thomas Dixon.

The two confessions cover the record of the murders of Allemand, Emge and Lauer, from the time the raid on their camp was first planned until the bodies were left, mutilated and abandoned under the raiders had completed their dastardly work.

Since the news of the confessions has been known Sheriff Alston has placed a strong posse on guard around the jail, and will maintain this watch until the accused men are brought to trial. Two possible developments are feared—an attack on the jail by mob, or an attack by friends of the accused, and no chance for success by either will be taken.

The confessions have further cleared up the uncertainty as to the cause for the suicide of John Garrison, one of the witnesses before the grand jury. They show that Garrison was wounded by the raiders because of the evidence he had given against them.
