Will Prepare for Trial.

COLUMBIA, S. C., 12.—Governor Hampton, to-day, submitted to the House of Representatives a communication from President Hayes stating that the district attorney of South Carolina had been instructed to prepare for trial on three cases of the Ellenton prisoners.

Fred Douglass Again.

WASHINGTON, 12.—Fred Douglass publishes a card saying the attack upon him, on account of the remarks made by him in Baltimore, are both malicious and silly. Washington is a great city, not a village nor hamlet, but the capital of a great nation, and the manners and habits of its inhabitants are proper subjects for presentation and criticism, and therefore he very much mistakes if this great city can be thrown into a tempest of passion by any humorous reflections he may take the liberty to utter.

A New Movement—The Sensation of the Hour.

The Evening Star, to-day, publishes the following as reported facts: Ever since the arrival of Lerdo De Tejada in Washington, the leading spirits of the movement which was started two years ago and abandoned for want of financial backing, have been busy inaugurating a new one. The principal mover in the present instance is a gentleman well known in California and the south-west, who was the youngest member of Wm. Walker's ill-starred expedition to Costa Rica, and who, long afterwards, at the head of about eighty Americans, seized the government of Guatelama and held it nearly two years. For the last four years this gentleman has been carrying on a coffee plantation in Southern Mexico, and waiting an opportunity, which he now thinks has arrived. Accordingly he left Mexico about four months ago via Acapulco, and came to San Francisco where he organized the nucleus of a new expedition, and then came east to look for funds and other material to support it. The expulsion of Lerdo by Diaz was a godsend to the master spirit aforesaid, who straightway put himself en rapport with Lerdo to obtain the color of his authority for the movement. The capital necessary to fit out three expeditions has been provided, and the leader of the movement is now in Washington negotiating for an understanding with the State Department as to what course can be pursued without incurring the interference of the Federal Government. Great reticence is, of course, observed, but enough has been ascertained to show that the following plan of operations has been determined on: A joint stock company has been formed ostensibly to develop the mines in Arizona, and several hundred thousand dollars are subscribed by leading railroad capitalists in San Francisco, New York and Philadelphia, the funds to be used in fitting out three expeditions. One is to start from Yuma, the present terminus of the Southern Pacific, and push directly through Sonora by land to Guaymas. The second leaves San Francisco, in ships, carrying supplies, and will meet the first at Guaymas by water. The third is to rendezvous at El Paso and push through Chihuahua to the interior of Sonora, where it will be met by reinforcements from Guaymas. This column will be the heaviest of the three, and is now being quietly recruited in Texas, New Mexico, and as far east as Missouri. It will be mainly composed of ex-Confederate soldiers, and will probably be commanded by an eminent Confederate cavalry officer now living in Missouri, whose name is familiar in Mexico. The California column is to be led by the gentleman who is now here conducting the before mentioned negotiations. The fate of the whole movement now depends upon the assurance of non-interference from the administration. If satisfactory assurances are given, the middle of September will see 2,500 Americans in Sonora, a government organized, and a State declared independent of Mexico, so far as Diaz' government is concerned. This movement, while it is being promoted by some of the men who were concerned in the abortive government of two years ago, will be independent of the enterprise, so far as the financial part of it is concerned.

The foregoing publication is the sensation of the hour.

The confederate officer referred to is General Shelby, of Missouri, the organizer of the government, and the intended leader of the California column is Colonel Vaughan Thomas, the "King of the Tigre" of Joaquin Miller's heroic poem. He and Miller came here last week, occupied the same room, and left Washington together to-night, keeping their destination a secret.

Opening of Chinese Ports

The Department of State is to-day, in receipt of information from the minister at Peking, that the Chinese government had given notice that it would, on the 1st of April, open to foreign trade the additional ports of Ichans, Wuhun, Wenchoo and Pakhoy.

Seizure of Logs.

The Commissioner of the Land Office has been informed of the seizure of 40,000 logs cut from government lands in Louisiana, and valued at over $60,000. On the Sabine River the mills are in full operation preparing the timber for shipment to the West Indies. The Commissioner orders a vigorous prosecution of the illegal traffic.

Wool Market.

BOSTON, 12.—Wool is in fair demand, prices steady, firm, for all desirable holders are still disposed to meet the market at current rates. Sales of fleece wool have been small on account of very light stock. Sales of Ohio 67,000 pounds of No. 1 and X 40 @ 42, XX and above 45 @ 48. Sales of Michigan, Wisconsin, New York, and western 125,000 pounds, principally in the range of 35 @ 38; combing and delaine quiet, as there was scarcely enough in the market to tempt buyers to operate; quotations entirely nominal; pulled is in fair demand, sales 208,500 pounds, principally in the range of 35 @ 40 for good and choice super. California is in fair demand, the transactions comprising 676,000 pounds, principally new spring, and very choice spring as high as 32, but prices vary very materially as to quality and condition, ranging from 18 @ 32, principally 22 @ 28, fall sold 15½ @ 25, mostly at the lowest figures.

The Rockford Court House Catastrophe.

CHICAGO, 12.—The Times' Rockford special says the immensity of the horror hourly grows upon the minds of our citizens, and indignation increases to a torrent which will not be checked until the blood of the victims of yesterday's disaster is avenged by the punishment of those on whose head it rests. The workmen have labored steadily amid dangers since yesterday noon, but have made no headway since last night in uncovering bodies.

Peck, one of the wounded, died this morning in indescribable agonies, and Harris has had his left leg amputated and is doing well.

Young Pipe was buried to-day, and the funeral of Flannigan will take place at St. James Catholic church to-morrow. The other victims have been sent to Springfield for interment.

The women have organized and are acting as angels of mercy to the wounded.

Hollenbeck still lies beneath the ruins; he was much esteemed. Fred Hough lies buried with him.

An ugly rumor prevails to-night that Supervisor Fabrick is among the lost.

Henry L. Gay arrived this morning and has been busily examining the Court House all day. He goes to Chicago to-night to procure his plans and specifications. He refused to make any statement, and charges the catastrophe on nobody, but said he courted a searching investigation by the coroner's jury. He had not examined the cause. His friends say that the projecting wall was built of brick, which is easily crushed under a heavy weight, and not of mortar, which is vastly stouter. This was done in defiance of the specification. Various reports of the causes are in circulation, and the friends of the contractor and architect present the two sides, but the principal parties are very reticent.

Hundreds of people have come in to witness the horrible sight, to-day, and the streets are now thronged. The vicinity of the Court House is black with curious and interested humanity, and the telegraph offices are scenes of sorrow and romance.

The negro Donnelly is the wonder of the town. He jumped 119 feet to avoid the fall, and struck all in a heap in a pile of ashes. The bystanders, supposing him killed, were amazed to see him get up, walk in a dazed sort of way to a water trough, wash his face, and bind up a slight scalp wound. Flannigan died in a like attempt to jump. His wife has been in a fainting fit most of the time since.

All the wounded are reported as doing well. The engines, ordered to assist in unburying, have not yet arrived.

The memorial services, to-morrow evening, will be most impressive. Subscriptions for the relatives of the deceased are coming in rapidly.

A man named Boardman is missing, and at a late hour to-night is believed to be beneath the ruins.

Struck a Snag.

NEW ORLEANS, 12.—The steamboat Emma struck a snag and sank, last night, twenty-five miles below this city. The passengers were all landed, except two colored children who were swept overboard and drowned.

Fatal Accident.

NEW YORK, 12.—While Mrs. Wm. C. Renwick and daughters, Miss Grace Fassett, and Mrs. Harriet McDowell, all of Albany, were driving in Central Park, to-day, the horses took fright and dashed off. The driver was thrown from his seat and fatally injured. Mrs. Renwick, seizing the child, leaped from the carriage, and late to-night was unconscious. The child is unhurt. Mrs. McDowell also jumped from the carriage, and was instantly killed. Miss Fassett, retaining her seat, was not injured. The horses were soon stopped.

FOREIGN.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Eastern War — British Military Preparations.

LONDON, 12.—The Eastern war continues the leading theme. The marked division of English sentiment thereon, both among the people and cabinet, continues. Nevertheless, judicious leaders of opinion on both sides deny that the British military preparations mean more than intended readiness for possible eventualities, or a significant warning to Russia that it is not safe to push her schemes too far, while the public mind is in a condition to take the panic as an actual declaration of war because of its disastrous effects upon British commercial and industrial interests. It views with complacency such preparations for war as may tend to avert its necessity. Another theory is generally discussed as that Lord Beaconsfield really means war, and deliberately fomented that eastern broil instead of trying to placate it in the anticipation that Russia and Turkey, becoming exhausted in the pending struggle, will afford England an opportunity to secure Constantinople and the control of the Bosphorus, thus strengthening the British hold upon India, by effectually commanding its approaches from the rear. Evidences accumulate confirming the old rumor that Russia, anticipating all these eventualities, actually prepared for them by arrangement and direct understanding, if not treaties with Austria, Germany, and Italy, which command their sympathy and acquiescence in the Czar's designs. In this connection their calm indifference is significantly contrasted with England's excitement over the armed struggle. There seems little room to doubt that the continental powers have agreed, in advance, how their respective boundaries shall be rearranged as a result of Russia's success. In this connection also is remarked the fact that the Russian declaration of war is silent on the question of territorial aggrandizements and avoids the least word trammeling the Czar's future policy. British statesmen, who oppose intervention, besides urging these evidences that England would have no ally but Turkey, say privately, what pride forbids their uttering publicly, that England's experience in the Crimean war presages her certain defeat if she intervenes under such conditions. In the Crimea, with France and Sardinia for her allies, only one Russian fortress was captured after a long siege, and at an immense cost, and that on the frontier, which was not then connected by railroads with the heart of the Empire. Now, however, the Russian railroad system is so perfect that she can rapidly concentrate at any point where England could not strike with forces overwhelmingly greater than England could place on the field, also distant from her base of supplies. Although no great battle has yet been fought, all intelligent observers can see that Russia has achieved marked success in her armed advance through a difficult country, and that her military dispositions thus far are good augurs for final success.

A Sure Cure for the Piles.

A sure cure for the Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Ulcerated Piles has been discovered by Dr. William (an Indian remedy), called Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst old chronic cases of 25 and 30 years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments and electuaries do more harm than good. Williams' ointment supports the tumors, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared exclusively for Piles, and nothing else. Over 20,000 cured Patients attest its virtues and Physicians of all schools pronounce it the greatest contribution to medicine of the age.

WENT TO THE NOTED HOT SPRINGS.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 27, 1876.

DEAR SIR:—I suffered more or less for years with the itching or ulcerated Piles. I tried remedy after remedy advertised in the newspapers, and consulted physicians in Philadelphia, Louisville, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and this city, and spent hundreds of dollars, but found no relief and comfort until I obtained a box of Williams' Indian Ointment some four months ago, and it has cured me completely. I had a part of the box left which I gave to a friend of mine who had doctored with many physicians without relief, and as a last resort went to the noted Hot Springs, of Arkansas, for treatment. He informs me that the Indian Ointment has also cured him of the piles. It is certainly a wonderful discovery and should be used by the many thousands who are now suffering with that dread disease.

JOSEPH M. RYDER.

For more certificates of cures see large circular around each box of ointment.

$10,000 REWARD

Will be paid for a more certain and sure remedy. Sold by all the leading Druggists and country storekeepers everywhere. Warranted a sure cure or money refunded. Beware of imitations. Ask for Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment, and take noother. Depot, 338 Superior Street, Cleveland, Ohio.

Arrears of Pay and Bounty.

OFFICERS, SOLDIERS and SAILORS of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government, of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp, and a full reply, after examination, will be given you free.

Pensions.

All OFFICERS, SOLDIERS and SAILORS wounded, ruptured, or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension; many now receiving pensions are entitled to an increase. Send stamp and information will be furnished free.

United States General Land Office.

Contested Land Cases, Private Land Claims, Mining, Pre-emption and Homestead Cases, prosecuted before the General Land Office and Department of the Interior.

Old Bounty Land Warrants.

The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,597,000 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. We pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.

Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of experienced lawyers and clerks.

By reason of error or fraud many attorneys are suspended from practice before the Pension and other offices each year. Claimants whose attorneys have been thus suspended will be gratuitously furnished with full information and proper papers on application to us.

As we charge no fee unless successful, stamps for return postage should be sent us.

Liberal arrangements made with attorneys in all classes of business.
