to occupancy by an army of 25,000 men, and now the size of the army is more than twice that. Fort Douglas has al-ways been a favorite post with army theers, and the elimatic advantages o this valley have ever been regarded as making Salt Lake a desirable garrison making Suit Lake a desirable garrison center, and besides, there are strategic advantages here that can not be over-looked. So it is believed in Washing-ton that a large garrison will be sta-tioned here at an early date.

In the meantime the enlargement of he post is being pushed. Major Ca iff of the Artillery corfs remarked be ore going east recently that For Douglas is better fitted for an infantry solutions is better introd for an infantry ost, and it was his belief that the citilery would be ordered away to a ost where there is more territory valiable for drill, and that a full regiment of 12 companies of infantry would be stationed at this point.
