

"COMING EVENTS CAST THEIR SHADOWS BEFORE"

Keep your seat Horace, we'll get you there on time

HORACE GREELEY ON HIS FAMOUS RIDE.

The above picture is a reproduction of a rare and valuable pen and ink drawing owned by C. L. Haines of this city. The original was the work of Aaron Stein, now assistant to President Valentine of Wells Fargo and Company, San Francisco. For a long time it was the property of "Dan" Robbins, now of Park City, but several years ago he presented it to Mr. Haines, who is justly proud of its possession. The picture shows Greeley in the carriage, with Hank Monk, the driver, and another passenger on the front seat. It will be observed that all three men are hatless having lost their head coverings by Monk's terrific driving.

*Don't forget
Hank Monk*