

Interesting and Instructive Convention Held Yesterday in Barratt Hall -Several Stakes Represented,

"There can be no success for Religion class work unless the parents are first converted to its usefulness." So declared President Anthon H. Lund yesterday in Barratt hall at a convention of Religion class workers of Davis, Salt Lake, Ensign, and Tooele stakes, And President Nephi L. Morris advised the unconverted saints to quit calling this organization "the fifth wheel."

This convention was held in response to a call from the general board of Religion classes. There were two meetings, one in the morning and another in the afternoon; at the first session reports were given by the four stake superintendents. Under "questions and answers," came out the unique conditions that the officers and instructors have to meet.

It was here that President Morris made his effective short-talk. Some one had remarked that so many people ob-ject to Religion classes on the ground that it is equivalent to a fifth wheel to a wagon-and as unnecessary. "We to a wagon-and as unnecessary. "We must quit calling it by this contemp-tuous epithet," said President Morris in effect, "or we can acver make the or-ganization fruitful of good. Nothing that originates as did the Religion classes and that is doing the good they are doing, can be a fifth wheel. Let those who put forth their hand to help the progress of God's work get rid of such a damaging notion about a part of that work, and let them instead use their efforts to promote the growth of Religion classes."

Religion classes." A very spirited talk was also given at this session by Bishop Platt of the Thirteenth ward. "I am converted," he said, "to the good and the usefulness of this organization, and want to see it in operation in my ward even if only a single child should attend."

DEPARTMENT WORK.

The afternoon was devoted almost entirely to department work. The pri-mary grade meeting was presided over by William Cassidy of Tooele stake. Josephine Chambers, of the Sali Lake stake, read a paper on : Methods of In-structing Children, "which was discussed by the teachers; and Mrs. Eva B. Odeli of Ensign stake conducted a class. El-der Kelsch of the general board was present at this meeting. The intermepresent at this meeting. The interme-diate department was presided over by H. B. Elder of Salt Lake stake. A class H. B. SOMETHING DOING NOW.

Fred B. Hamer Comes Back at Manager Colson of the Auditorium.

There will soon be something doing in the line of roller skating races in this city and Ogden. Readers of the "News" will recall an article published in Saturday evening's paper in which Manager Colson of the Auditorium ring on Richards street issued a sweep-ing challenge to race any man in the state from one to five miles, and that he was particularly anxious to make a test of speed as between him and Fred Hamer of Ogden. This morning Mr. Hamer came back with the following

I notice that Manager Colson issues a challenge to race any one in the state from one to five miles and prefers me to any one else. I am more than will-ing to race him, and I will race him any time, any distance and for any amount.

"If possible I would like to race him best two out of three races, one in Salt

Rev. Hayworth Swore to Two Complaints Today Against Law Breaking Saloonkeepers.

S. A. Hayworth of the East Side Baptist church appeared before Asst. County Atty. P. J. Daly and filed complaints against two Sunday dispensers of liquor. One charge was for John Doe, bartender or proprietor of the White House bar on Main street, and the second for John Doe, operator of the Lone Star saloon on West Temple.

MINISTERS MAKE ROUNDS.

Rev. Hayworth, in company with Rev. Brown and others, made several tours yesterday to the saloons. In many instances they found the saloons many instances they found the saloons doing business. A list of these were immediately placed in the hands of the police. Rev. Hayworth found front, back and side doors wide open or at least ajar for the "thirsty patron." Mr. Hayworth and his party had no trouble in obtaining entrance to the Lone Star and White House. Among the others which were in line and had a large coand White House. Among the others which were in line and had a large co-teric going out or in, were the Vienna Buffet, Art Bar, Wilson, Hogle's, Mc-Tierney, Falstaff, Garfield, Chesapeake, Clift House, Mulvey's, 24 west Third South, and others.

CHIEF SHEETS KNEW.

Yesterday morning Chief Sheets was seen standing in front of the White House bar, where four neatly dressed young men fell out the door on the side-walk. One rolled up against the leg of Chief Sheets into the walk. One rolled up against the leg of Chief Sheets into the gutter. Later a policeman was seen standing in front of this place to prevent any others from rolling. Orders were given later by Chief Sheets for special police to be placed in front of the Vienna Buffet and the White House bar. Many of the saloons opened for their regular Sunday traffic. The police ordered these to close as soon as they became bold enough to allow the drunks to roll out on the walk on the strong words to "life. rolling. Orders were given later by on the walk, or, in other words, to "let the cat out of the bag." Many saloons along First and Second South and on State street were opened regularly, but these closed their doors or at least made these closed their doors of at least made a pretence of closing them during the day. In several cases did the police knock at the door and ask permission to enter. They were greeted in such cases with "nothing doing" and left to stand while the loungers inside could be seen lined up along the bar or about the een lined up along the bar or about the tables. They often would sit in plain sight of the officer and hold out their glass or bottle as the case may be, and with a sneering grin ask him to come n. Several bartenders said they would not close unless every other keeper did the same thing. Their traffic being suf-ficiently heavy to pay for the liquor, the fine imposed, should there be one, and still have considerable profit.

DETECTIVES BUSY.

The detectives of the police forde were kept on the jump either "duck-ing" the offenders or steering them to the station. Evidence brought to their notice was many times followed up. Hogle's on Main street and James McTierney's on West Second South, however, were permitted to remain open as long as possible. Reports came

The officers of the company will probably be moved to the McCornick building about the first of the new year, into the quarters occupied by the Bingham Consolidated and other Heinze enterprises. The consummation of the Ohio Copper deal is one of the most important in the history of Bingham for in the Ohio mine has been blocked out tremendous ore reserves and it is just pos-sible that the ore will eventually be taken over to some point near the Dalton & Lark mine and where it is the iot improbable that the future smelting operations of the Bingham Consolidated vill be conducted.

CHILD BADLY BURNED.

Four-Year-Old Tot Had Narrow Escape From Horrible Death.

Marie, the 4-year-old daughter of R. Beynon, a painter employed at the city and county building, had a very narrow escape from being burned to death on Saturday while playing near a bon fire at her home, 253 south Tenth West street. But for the timely assistance of a lineman who was working on a telephone pole just in front of the house, there is no question but the child would have been burned to death. As it was, her hair, back and arms were badly burned and her clothing was practically burned off of her before the dames were checked. dames were checked.

She was playing near the fire with some other children when her dress came in contact with the fire and ig-nited. The child became frightened and commenced to run, thus fanning the flames and making them all the more severe. Her mother heard her screams and ran after her but was unable to catch her.

The lineman dropped off of the pole 15 feet from the ground and started after the girl and succeeded in catch-ing her. With the assistance of her mother he tore the clothing off of the child and thus saved her life. In doing child and thus saved her life. In doing so Mrs. Beynon was severely burned about the hands and face, and is now under the care of a physician. Mr. Beynon believes that the child was heading for the river, which was about a block from the house, but even if she had jumped into the stream she would probably have been drowned be-

INTERESTING REMARKS.

At the general meeting held at 3:30, Elder Cannon and President Lund each made brief remarks. The latter spoke mainly on the real need of Religion class work among the saints. "No one," he said in substance, "will oppose this organization who understands its real aim and workings-the saints least of all. Hence no success can come to the all. Hence no success can come to the movement until the parents are con-verted to its usefulness." And he urged those present to labor with the parents who did not en-courage their children to attend the classes. Speaking of the recent in-structions of the first presidency to take the classes from the schoolhouses, President Lund said: "We knew when we issued those instructions that con-siderable indury would result to this we issued those instructions that con-siderable injury would result to this organization. But we felt that it was better to take the action we did, in or-der not to jeopardize the diberties of the people. And so we should do the hest under the circumstances to help along the cause of religion classes." He spoke of the very liberal laws of the Canadian government, according to which any demonination may teach its which any denomination may teach its ren every day, if thought neces-, and in connection with the school children "The idea is growing among the Amer-ican people," added President Lund, "that religious instruction is indispensable to the proper training of school children, and that, too, in connection with the study of language, arithmetic geography, and what not. So we are only in advance of our time in the in-auguration of these Religion classes,"

Mr. Ham-er claims to be the champion of Utah and also claims to hold the amateur championship of England and the long distance championship of Cali-formia. It is likely that a motoh will be the long distance championship of Cali-fornia. It is likely that a match will be arranged in the near future, the first race to take place at the Auditorium in this city. If the match is arranged, the, growing throng of roller skating fans will have a chance to witness an exciting event.

into the headquarters so frequent, however, that at last the places were or-dered raided. The sergeant with his faithful few marched out of the station in double breast, chest out and head erect. Boldly they marched west along erect. Boldly they marched west along First South to Main, thence down Main to Second South. Both places by the time the officers had arrived, had cleared their rooms. Back-door en-trances came in handy. The front swinging doors were thrown open and all curtains pulled back that they might see the interior. In both Hogle's and at McTierney's they found everything tight, absolutely nothing doing. Yet only a few minutes before 15 and 20 men were lined up in each place. This offers one of the modern puzzles or miracles of the twentieth century. MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.
