Nominations.

NASHVILLE, 14.—J. D. C. Aikers, from the Eighth district, and Hon. Wm. McFarland, from the First District, were nominated by acclamation for re-election for Congress.

ELGIN, Ills., 14.—The Democratic Congressional Convention of the Fourth District, to-day, nominated Jno. Farnsworth.

The Bank Robbers Still Pursued.

NORTHFIELD, Minn., 14.—From 400 to 500 citizens are yet in pursuit of the bank robbers, who are having a hard time among the swamps and heavy timber of this county. They are now without blankets, horses, coats and provisions, and their capture is deemed certain.

$35,000 Fire.

BALTIMORE, 14.—Merritt, Jones & Co's oil works at Canton, were burned this afternoon. Robt. J. McCadden, refiner, and Roger Sailed, were burned to death and others injured. The estimated loss on oil, $15,000, on the building $20,000, partly insured.

Deaths from Yellow Fever.

SAVANNAH, 14. — The yellow fever interments, to-day, were eighteen.

The Indians at Standing Rock—Probable Large Amount of Stealing.

BISMARCK, D. T., 14.—The complete enrollment of Indians at Standing Rock shows only 450 lodges and a total of not over 4,000 Indians. Rations have heretofore been issued on a basis of 7,000, from which it would appear that nearly 3,000 are absent, or else a large amount of stealing has been done.

The Indians are known to have returned from the hostiles, but so stealthily that they could not be caught, and the attempt to disarm the hostiles has, therefore, proved abortive. Gross, chief of the Blackfeet, was arrested on Sunday, for harboring and supplying the hostiles. The Indians threatened to rescue him, but the garrison was too well prepared to resist, and so the attempt was not made.

Close of the International Rifle Match.

CREEDMOOR, 14.—After the shooting ended, and the result had been announced, deafening cheers for the American and Irish teams, who appeared to be the favorites, rent the air. The best shots of both teams were cheered individually. Addresses congratulatory of the result of the shooting were made by Major Fulton, of the Americans, Major Leach, of the Irish, Capt. McDonald, of the Scotch, Capt. Morris, of the Australian, and Major O'Reilly, of the Canadian teams. Mr. Milner, of the Irish, Col. Bodine, of the American, and Mr. Dyas, of the Irish teams, also delivered addresses. The great crowd separated with cheers for all the teams.

The Americans won by 22 over the Irish. The total score for both days was, Americans 3,126, Irish 3,194, Australian 3,096, Scotch 3,061, Canadians 2,923.

The official returns, made at a late hour to-night, give the Scotch team a total score of 3,063, which gives that team the third place instead of the Australians, whose score is 3,062.

Washington Items.

CHICAGO, 14. — The Tribune's Washington special says: M. Leon Droillet, the distinguished engineer and secretary of the French Geographical Society, arrived here yesterday on a mission to secure aid for a complete survey of the Central American Isthmus, with the view of building an inter-oceanic ship canal. He called to-day upon the officers at the Navy and War Departments, and presented his view, but was astonished to learn that the officers of the Navy have, at various times during the last twenty-five years, thoroughly explored that whole region from Tehuantepec to the Bay of Cupica, and over nearly forty proposed routes. He presented a pamphlet of the meeting of the Societe De Geographie last May, in which are reported the remarks of M. Ferdinand Lesseps, who advises a complete survey of the Isthmus to find a location for a canal, which can be built without a lock. The inter-oceanic commissioner reported to the President last Fall favoring the Nicaragua route, and one member at least advocates the adoption of the treaty looking to its construction, based on the principles of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty of 1854. A minister from Nicaragua has been appointed to treat with this country on the subject, and will probably arrive before the convention meets.

Secretary Chandler returned from New York this morning cheerful and hopeful in view of the republican outlook. He says advices from Ohio and Indiana are encouraging for a rousing republican majority in the former State, and for a moderate one in the latter. He expects New York will go for Hayes, and that even New Jersey will cast its electoral vote republican. From California it is learned that the disaffection over the Chinese question has been overcome, and it is probable that both California and Oregon will cast their vote for Hayes and Wheeler. Of the southern States Chandler relies upon North and South Carolina and Florida to give republican majorities.

Congressman Walker, of Virginia, has purchased General Belknap's residence for $30,000.

It is certain that negotiations are pending for a new treaty with Great Britain, which will be devoted chiefly to extradition. It is understood that the initiative has been taken by Great Britain, and it is safe to say that in any new treaty submitted, Great Britain will be bound to place the United States officials upon the same footing with her own. This has not been the case under the treaty which is now abandoned.

Bank Suspension Keenly Felt.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., 14.—The recent suspension of the Miners Trust Company Bank, with liabilities of $1,500,000, is beginning to be keenly felt by those depositors who, for years, have been in the habit of withdrawing certain sums on the approach of winter sufficient to keep them through the slack time. To-day the president of the bank, Joseph Huntzenger, was surrounded by a crowd of women, who became so demonstrative that it was necessary to call the police. This evening the directors made an assignment, and appointed H. C. Russell and S. H. Madden assignees.

Home Again, Home Again, From the Indian Land.

BISMARCK, D. T., Sept. 4.

General Crook, having accomplished his strategic movement, of marching up the hill, then down again, on the 31st started back for Nebraska via the Little Missouri route.

It is, perhaps, too early, and not even the duty of this correspondent, to summarize the results of the late campaign against the Indians. It will undoubtedly be made the subject of a military commission appointed by General Sherman, or of one of the congressional military committees. That there has been sad blundering somewhere, is now generally conceded by intelligent officers at the front. Some of these have gone so far as to say that, should the higher authorities fail to investigate the conduct of the war, they themselves would demand a court of inquiry.

I will, however, venture this assertion: That Gen. Terry never knew where Sitting Bull was after the 26th of June; and this other assertion: That Gen. Crook did know where Sitting Bull was as late as Aug. 5, when he broke camp on Goose Creek. From a careful study of the Indian situation, Gen. Crook knew that where the fory-fourth parallel crossed the 107th longitudinal line, and thereabouts, was a vast scope of country which for twenty years has been neutral grounds for plains Indians, a district 75 miles broad and 200 long, abounding in game, amply supplied with grass and water, and sheltered from storms. It has been neutral ground for Cheyennes and Arapahoes, on the south; Bannocks and Shoshones, on the west; Crows, Asiniboines and Blackfeet, on the north; Ogallalas and other Sioux, on the east. It has been neutral ground to this extent: that no small hunting party of either tribe has ever dared to occupy it for any length of time. Gen. Crook knew (or else a good many of his officers lied to your correspondent) that Sitting Bull and his allies fell back after the Custer fight and occupied that district. It is shown on the maps as the headwaters of the Big Horn river and its tributaries. In this secluded region, with game in abundance, and grass for his immense herd of ponies, with every stream full of trout and other fish, and with a climate as mild and equable as the valley of the Sacramento, Sitting Bull has been quietly occupying himself in recovering his warriors from the wounds incident to his two great battles, and in planning for fresh victories.

But if Sitting Bull was there when Crook left, on August 5th, and has never moved from there, say you, how do you explain the heavy trail which Crook followed from the Big Horn Mountains down the Rosebud, and which Terry and he followed across the Tongue and Powder River regions? This is the explanation: When Gen. Terry first moved up the Yellowstone, he made a supply depot at the mouth of Powder River. After the reverse of June 25th, he only fell back to the Rosebud, leaving 300,000 pounds of oats and 250,000 pounds of corn at Powder River. We will give Sitting Bull credit for ordinary sagacity, and assert that he never lost sight of Terry's army, and that when Terry made a permanent camp at the Rosebud, Sitting Bull knew that his grain was left unprotected at Powder river. In fact, it was left unprotected from June 10th until August 7th. The trail Crook and Terry followed was the trail made by the 200 Sioux warriors we found July 29th at the cache at Powder River. For three weeks that band of warriors had been transporting the corn to Sitting Bull's army in the Big Horn region, emptying out the oats, and taking the sacks for squaw-cloth. This was demonstrated by finding the corn nearly all gone. The trail made by 200 warriors, with the necessary pack-ponies, would (as I wrote in a former letter) easily be mistaken for one made by thousands of ponies. This trail, to quote an old doggerel—

Twisted in and twisted out,
Leaving Terry still in doubt
Whether the Injun who made the track
Was going north or coming back.

In conclusion, I will defer to Gen. Terry's judgment, and say that the very worst thing the government can do now is to continue carrying out the order for the arrest of every hostile Sioux as soon as he comes into an agency. Terry's plan was to wait until cold weather and hunger drove them all in, which would not be before January, and then make one job of it. As Col. Carlin, at Standing Rock, and other officers, are now doing, they are only catching a few squaw-warriors, frightening away the braver and more daring and desperate characters.—Phocion, in Chicago Tribune.

The Servian Struggle.

Removed from the struggle by so great a distance our sympathies as a people would count for little in the struggle; but if the operation should extend from a mere occupation of Servia into a general war, as it would be likely to, our relation to it would assume a very practical and commercial character. It would suddenly stimulate many great industries almost as much as our own war did, with this important difference, that the commodities supplied by our merchants would be paid for in gold and not in paper. In this particular a great war in Europe would restore to our advantage that balance in the distribution of specie which was lost in our war. Arms, ammunition, military supplies of every kind would suddenly be in demand. Flour especially would be called for, because industry would be interrupted in a great degree in the great grain districts of eastern Europe, and our ships would swarm into the service of the belligerent powers. War for the final settlement of the fate of eastern Europe cannot be deprecated by us from any point of view, and, commercially considered, such a war would be our great opportunity; and as the many problems involved in the relations with Turkey, Russia and Austria can probably never be settled without a great war, we may, without inhumanity, reflect that the settlement, if it is to come now, could never have come at a more propitious moment for us.—New York Herald.

PEOPLE'S TERRITORIAL CONVENTION.

HEADQUARTERS, People's Territorial Central Committee,
Salt Lake City, Sept. 9, 1876.

To the People of Utah.

The election of Delegate to represent the Territory of Utah in the Forty-Fifth Congress will be held on Tuesday, November 7th next ensuing, and it is most desirable that the candidate chosen as the representative of the people should receive their fullest support and that every person entitled to the elective franchise should exercise it on that day.

To the end that an increased interest may be awakened in election matters and to endeavor to draw out the entire vote of the Territory on this important occasion, it has been determined to hold a People's Territorial Convention, composed of Delegates from the several counties, to convene at the City Hall in Salt Lake City, on Saturday, October 7th, 1876, at 12 m.

The business of this convention will be to nominate a candidate for delegate to Congress, and to inaugurate such measures as will insure increased attention to our elections throughout the Territory. The number of delegates to compose the Territorial Convention has been fixed at seventy-eight, being twice the number of the Councilors and Representatives in the Legislative Assembly, and the allotment of delegates to the several counties has been based, as far as possible, upon their representation in the Legislature. To secure the proper election of these delegates it is suggested that each county hold a county convention, composed of delegates sent from primary meetings previously held in the several precincts. The delegates to the Territorial convention should come duly authenticated with credentials signed by the President and Secretary of the convention appointing them. It will be well for each convention to appoint alternate delegates to represent the county in case of the failure of the regular delegates to be present at the convention. It is also suggested that each County Convention while in session appoint a County Central Committee to attend to all election matters in its county, which Committee should immediately organize and place itself in communication with the People's Territorial Central Committee at Salt Lake City, that concert of action in these matters may be secured throughout the Territory.

The number of delegates to the Territorial Convention to which each county is entitled is as follows—

County.	No.	County.	No.
Salt Lake,	18	Sanpete,	5
Utah,	8	Wasatch,	2
Juab,	3	Summit,	2
Millard,	3	Morgan,	2
Beaver,	3	Davis,	4
Piute,	1	Box Elder,	3
Iron,	3	Tooele,	2
Kane,	2	Weber,	5
Washington,	2	Cache,	7
Sevier,	2	Rich,	1
Total,			78

It is hoped that the leading men in each County will take immediate steps to carry these suggestions into effect, by calling primary meetings in their precincts and County Conventions in their Counties, that the people may be thoroughly aroused to their duty, that the result of these measures may prove beneficial to our citizens, and that the delegate selected to represent us in Congress may receive, at the coming election, such a vote as was never before given to a delegate from any Territory.

By order of the People's Territorial Central Committee.

JOHN SHARP,
Chairman.
THEODORE MCKEAN,
Secretary.
