FORESTRY HEADQUARTERS.

What Its Establishment in Junction City Signifies.

Ogden, Sept. 18.—The official announcement of the selection of Ogden as the district headquarters for the forestry service, was received yesterday afternoon in a brief dispatch from Washington. The news will be received with great joy by the people of this city, by the members of the one club, and the press, which have worked with untiring energy to capture the headquarters for the Junction city.

The bringing of the headquarters to Ogden means adding 75 families to the city's population, who draw in a payroll of $20,000 yearly, and in a means that close to $500,000 will be disbursed each year through the office. With the district headquarters,

Ogden will become one of the most important offices in the forestry service outside of Washington. Already the forestry headquarters for the engineering department of the service and the supply depot for the intermountain region, are in this city. District Forester Clyde Leavitt is now in the city from Washington looking over the ground for suitable headquarters. As a number of office rooms will be necessary, it will take a number of days to look over the sites.

W. E. Herring, chief engineer of the forestry service, arrived in Ogden this morning from California, and will remain here nearly a week looking over the local situation.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.

The establishment of a bureau of information in the Union depot waiting room is now being considered by the officials of the depot company, and from the indications it is very probable that this action will be taken in the immediate future. The necessity of the bureau where the traveling public can be informed as to the arrival and departure of trains and other information has been a

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democratic judicial convention for the Second district will meet at the county court house in Ogden, Wednesday, Sept. 20, at 1 p. m. At the Democratic county convention, held here tomorrow, delegates to the judicial convention will be selected.

FLOOD DAMAGE AWARDED.

The jury in the case of Hattie Miller, administratrix of the estate of T. J. Miller, deceased, against Ogden City, returned a verdict yesterday afternoon in favor of the plaintiff for $290. The action is one of the many that is the outgrowth of the high water in February, 1907. The plaintiff owned a certain adobe house on Monroe avenue, between Twenty-second and Twenty-eighth streets, and the water from the early spring floods washed into the house and crumbled the walls. Damages in the case were $550, but the jury in the case was asked for a verdict of $290 and a jury yesterday in the district court.

WEDDING PERMITS.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday afternoon to Roy A. Stone of Ogden and Lucetta Smith of Huntsville, and to Ernest E. Ketchum and Emma L. Wilcox, both of Ogden.

BACK FROM JAPAN.

The six young ladies who went to Japan as the representatives of six Montana newspapers and who passed through this city about two months ago, returned from Japan yesterday afternoon, and continued on to their northern homes. When in the city before, the young ladies were taken up Ogden canyon by Deputy Master Cunningham and entertained at the Oaks by the Press club and Manager Potter. The young ladies had promised to pay Ogden a visit on their return, but found this impossible, as they had overstayed their limit in California and had to leave for Montana immediately. Those in the party were: Misses Augusta Hogan of Livingston; Laurie Seville, Billings; Phoebe Kemmish, Sydney; Mabel B. Brown, Bozeman; Georgia Deaton, Lewiston; Elizabeth Coleman, Miles City.

At this convention the delegates will be selected for the Thirtieth district, two county commissioners, sheriff, clerk, recorder, treasurer, assessor, attorney and surveyor. At the convention a county committee will also be selected. The apportionment of the delegates from the several precincts of the county is being made on the basis of one delegate for each 40 votes cast for Hon. Joseph Howell in 1906, gives a representation of 33 delegates in the convention, apportioned to the precincts as follows: Eureka 3, Fish Spring 1, Juab 1, Levan 4, Mammoth 4, Mona 1, Nephi 12, Silver City 1.

DEATH OF CHILDREN.

Little Myrtle Reed, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Reed, died at Mammoth Sunday from trouble of the kidneys. The funeral services were held at the L. D. S. church in Mammoth Tuesday.

The 3-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. George Dimick died at Knightsville last Friday.

SCHOOL OPENING.

The Eureka public schools opened Monday with an exceptionally large attendance in all of the grades. Particularly can this be said of the high school, which has a larger attendance than at any time since the establishment of that branch of the school. There are a number of students from the other camps of Tintic enrolled in the high school. Prof. Dutton before coming to Eureka met with an accident to his foot and a threatened attack of blood poisoning prevented him from taking charge of his classes Monday morning. Mrs. Dutton is filling his place at the present time.

VERNAL DISTRICT COURT.

Law Breakers Receive Heavy Sentences from Judge Booth.
Special Correspondence.
Vernal, Utah, Co., Sept. 13.—Yesterday the district court at Vernal Judge Booth pronounced sentence upon the following:

Elmer Johnson, for resisting an officer, $30 fine and costs of the court. This is the man who resisted special officer V. F. McConkie at Glines Park, July 24.

Ralph Gardiner, grand larceny, sent to industrial school until discharged by law. This boy stole one of Winfield's horses and was getting out of the county when the sheriff overtook him.

Henry Johnson, Indian, for assault upon the person of the state prison. This man, who is generally sober and industrious, became drunk at Dragon, and stole a check belonging to a room mate.

Three Indians were tried before Justice Christensen for disturbing the peace, and sentenced was suspended for six months pending good behavior.

BOISE, IDAHO.

Saw Their Way to Liberty at Midday In Defiance of Guards.
Special Correspondence.
Boise, Ida., Sept. 10.—A jail delivery was effected at the county jail this afternoon about 1 o'clock, when three prisoners made good their escape. They are Harry McClelland, a fence, Harry Kähler, alias King, charged with burglary, and the notorious Robert J. Cook, a thief, who made the proud boast that jail could not hold him, and who has so far carried out his claim, for this is his second escape within the last few weeks. These men, with Cook as leader, delivered themselves from their prison cells by sawing off three steel bars and chipping a hole through the brick wall of the building with a case-knife secured from the breakfast table. All the work was accomplished during the forenoon and in the light of the day the sheriff and most of his force were out to lunch, the prisoners walked to the sidewalk from confinement behind iron bars, where they separated and went to parts unknown. Bloodhounds from the penitentiary were immediately secured and an unsuccessful attempt was made to follow them.

Where the men secured the steel saw is not known, but with it they succeeded in sawing the steel bars on the bathroom door, and once inside the bathroom with the door closed behind them and with plenty of room to work, they quickly sawed and twisted off five bars from the window, thus making an aperture sufficiently large to admit a man's body, through which they crawled. And with the aid of the case knife they clipped away the mortar from around the bricks in the wall and were soon enabled to remove sufficient of the bricks to make a hole large enough for them to pass through to their freedom without. There were two guards in the cell during this time, but they were perfectly oblivious of what was going on.

COWLEY, WYOMING.

FUNERAL OF MISS WELCH.

Salt Lickers Interested in Oil Fields—Local Improvements.
Special Correspondence.

Cowley, Big Horn Co., Wyo., Sept. 8.—Funeral services over the remains of Nellie Bruce Welch were held in the Cowley meetinghouse at 1 p. m. today. This young lady is the daughter of James and Sarah C. Welch and would have been 18 years old on Oct. 10. She died on Sunday afternoon of typhoid fever and complications. She was a lovely young girl. The funeral services were beautiful, particularly those furnished by the Y. L. M. I. association, of which she was an active member; also the Sunday school and primary associations. The funeral was largely attended, and the singing was excellent. Consoling remarks were made by Elder John H. Dickson, Bishop W. C. Partridge, C. R. Lyman, Dr. E. W. Croft and President Byron Sessions. The grave was dedicated by N. O. Mortenson.

President J. W. Crosby, Jr., is confined to his bed with an attack of sickness. Threshing will begin tomorrow.

The first story of the Relief society hall is nearly completed, while the basement of the Crosby-Welch company's new store is almost completed. A number of Salt Lake parties are organizing to develop some of the extensive oil fields found near Cowley. Cowley continues to manifest evidences of thrift and development. The local telephone exchange now being installed will add to the convenience of the people. Mr. C. R. Lyman's cement block residence is up one story high. Mr. R. P. Snell, Sr., is building a fine brick home. The fine stone residence just completed by Mr. L. J. Willis would be a credit to any city.
