French and British Press Unite in Eulogizing Gen. Joubert.

HIS FINE MILITARY SKILL.

Instances of His Genius, Daring and Energy-Would Not Break his Agreements-Kruger to Command.

Paris, March, 29, 5 a. m .- The Paris pres is unanimous in culogizing Gen. Joubert, whose death is considered a setious loss to the federals. All the papers agree in thinking that a change in the chief command is bound to have grave consequences for the Boer operations. Many think, however, that President Kruger is fully equal to the task and that considering his military reputation, the resistance of the Boers is likely to become more stubborn than

INSTANCES OF JOUBERT'S SKILL.

London, March 28.—All the morning papers print singularly kind editorials concerning Gen. Joubert. They praise his military success, uphold his chivalhis military success, upnot in curvate rous conduct and regret that so strong and moderate a mind should be absent from the final settlement of the dispute. from the final settlement of the dispute. Although some of the younger com-manders thought the old soldier want-ing in dash and enterprise, his raid into the country south of the Tugela is con-sidered the best plece of Boer leader-ship during the whole war. It is now known that he crossed the Tugela with only 3.000 riflemen and six guns, but so held and rapid were his mavements that the British commanders thought 18,000 Ebers were marching on Pleter-maritzburg. maritzburg

For a few days, although in the presence of a greatly superior force, he iso-lated Gen. Hildyard's brigade at Est-court, and at the same time threatened Gen. Barton's camp at Mool river. Then, as British reinforcements were Then, as British reinforcements were pushed up, Joubert recrossed the Tu-gela without losing a prisoner, a wagon or a gun. Gen. White's estimate of him, pronounced on Tuesday, before he died, as a gentleman and a brave and hon-orbit enterprise studies the tone of all opponent, strikes the tone of all British comment.

FUNERAL TODAY.

Pretoria, March 28.—Gen. Joubert died of peritonitis. The funeral will take place tomorrow (Thursday). The gov-enment is pleading with the widow to allow a temporary interment here, with a state funeral. Joubert always ex-pressed a desire to be buried in a mau-cleme built on his farm. He is described as having utterly fearless. Of schooling he had but little, and he never saw a newspaper until he was 18 years old. In spite of this his ambition prompted him to read the few books he could obtain and he succeeded in ob-taining a fair knowledge of history and languages.

Seventeen-Year-Old Boy Slays a Man who Quarreled With His Mother.

Chicago, March 28 .- Albert Stedge, 17 years old, avenged the insults cast upon his mother, Mrs. Bridget Stedge, 4414 Ashland avenue, by Wm. Hobson, a boarder, by dealing Hobson a fatal blow over the head with a barryl stave. Leaving his victim dead on the side-walk, in front of the house, the boy went to his room and was soon asleep. He was aroused an hour later by the arrival of the police. The murder was the outcome of a quarrel between Mrs. Stedge and Hobson, and all the people living in the house, thirteen in number, were routed out of bed and taken to the police sta-tion, where all but two were released. Hobson, who had been living at the Stedge boarding house nearly a year, came home intoxicated and quarreled with Mrs. Stedge. Albert interfered and Hobson left the house. The en-raged son followed and the fight was renewed outside. Albert picked up a ciated effort is obvious when present conditions are considered. In thirty-seven States a married mother has no right to her children. In sixteen States a wife has no right to her own earnings outside of the home. In eight States a woman has no right to her own proper-ty after marriage. In seven States there is no law compelling a man to support his family. In all States there is a discrimination against women in the matter of employment and compensation.

"These are only a few of the evils under which women suffer and which anited and vigorous action could rem-edy. All women who believe in the uplifting of their sex, and all generous-hearted men are addressed in earnest appeal to give name, influence and fi-nancial aid to an endeavor to bring about improved conditions and thus make the lot of millions of women happler and more honorable."

South Africa Wants Only Food.

New York, March 29.-Not in any line of manufactured goods has the demand from South Africa been improved, but on the contrary, merchants have re-ceived advices to curtail shipments of hardware and some lines of manufac-tured iron until cable orders are sent. The shipments are not only requested to be sent direct from here, but also from any port where the early dispatch of vessels is available. The British transport Hesperides is loading 40,000 bales of hay and 100,000 bushels of oats for the use of the British army in South Africa. The steamship Clan Robert-son will arrive shortly to load 75,000 bales of hay and 150,000 bushels of oats for the same purpose. The destination for the same purpose. The destination of both vessels will be Capetown.

It is alleged that his returns to the war department indicate the exis-tence of a considerable deficit. An in-vestigation is being made into the case, and Major S. Groesbeck, judge advo-cate of the department of California, is preparing fornal charges against him, in compilance with orders from Washington. Supreme Court Holds They Had Not Qualified or Taken the Oath of Office.

In an opinion handed down late yesterday afternoon, the Supreme court affirmed the judgment of the trial court in the case of Ben Schwab vs the Fris. co Mining and Milling company, appellant. Plaintiff owned 20,000 shares of the company's capital stock. The directors levied an assessment of one-half cent a share on the company's capital stock. Plaintiff falled to pay sessment and his stock was sold for the delinquent assessment and bought in by the company. Subsequently three more assessments, each of one-half a cent a share, were levied. At the end of four months and a half plaintiff ten-

A DARING FIGHTER.

In consequence of the acquisition of Natal by the British his family moved from Natal and settled in the Trans-vaal. Soon afterwards he became a burgher of the South African Republic and a daring fighter. It was claimed in his behalf that he could lead a body of men more successfully against hostlie natives than any other man in the Transvaal. He came to be so feared by the natives that the knowledge that he was at the head of punitive expedition usually resulted their surrender.

It was during these wars with the natives that Joubert became acqualitied with Faul Kruger and the two men became bosom friends. He was elected vice president of the Transvaal in 1896, defeated Sir George ley at Majuba Hill in 1881, and ac as president of the republic in 1883-84, during Kruger's absence in Europe.

Gen. Joubert was always in favor of he use of force instead of diplomacy, and President Kruger on several oc-casions had great difficulty in repressing his hot-headed colleague, notably in 1879, when Joubert, with Kruger and Pretorius, was planning the rebellion to overthrow British rule in the Transd. The result was Majuba Hill and practical independence of the

According to the general's plans every man became a trained soldier without leaving his farm, and had his equipment ready at hand. To such a point of perfection was the system car-ried that within forty-eight hours after the present war was declared the Boer nation was under arms. It was also due to Gen. Joubert that It was also due to Gen. Jourer 1 had the South African republics succeeded in amassing the immense stores of war munifions and provisions which have stood them in such rood stead during

It was not until Joubert and Kruger had been closeted together for a whole night that the more merci-ful connects of Kruger prevailed. In spite of those characteristics Joubert on some occasions showed considerable on some occasions showed considerable tegard for the usages of civilization. WOULD NOT BREAK COVENANTS.

In November last it was reported that Gen. Joubert had been killed in action, and later reports said he was dangerously wounded and had to use a cart in order to follow the operations in the field.

The circumstances of the death of Gen. Joubert are meager. This recalls the fact that William Cox, a pewspaper correspondent, who was recently re-leased from imprisonment at Pretoria and who has arrived at Durban, said Gen. Joubert was apparently supected Gen. Joubert was apparently suspected

SMALL BLAZE LAST NIGHT. Fire at the Palace Restaurant Damages $50 Worth.

Last night a fire broke out in the kitchen of the Palace restaurant and but for the fact that a large pane of glass fell from the front window and attracted the attention of pedestrians the building would probably have been consumed in flames. An alarm was quickly turned in and the department promptly responded. The blaze was soon extinguished by a few gallons of chemicals. The place, which is owned by Samuel Cooper, was damaged to the extent of probably $50.

The appelate court holds that the act of the board of directors in assessing and selling the stock as delinquent, was illegal, and that the plaintiff had in no manner acquiesced in their acts, but that while the acts of the directors, who had not legally qualified, were il-legal as to the stockholders, it did not follow that their acts would not be le-

RITCHIE APPOINTED RECEIVER Status of the New Mammoth Mining

Company's Muddle.

The taking of testimony in the New Mammoth cases, reported in Wednes-day's "News," was concluded yesterday day's evening, and a week from Saturday of this week was set down for arguments. One of the questions that came up was compensation for the receiver of the New Mammoth, Col. Theodore Bruback, and his attorners in the matter. Bruback thought he was entitled to $1,000, while the attorneys claimed amounts ranging from $500 to $1,500. The court did not fix the price, but gave until Saturday for parties to file objections to the same.

TO THE DAIRYMEN OF UTAH.

It is scarcely necessary for me to call your attention to the fact that there is in Utah a State Dairymen's association. Its existence and its work is probably known to you. The seventh meeting of this association will be held in Salt Lake City on April 5th and 6th, to take advantage of the Conference rates. The Dairy association was organized in April, 1894, (six years ago) to combat the illegal sale of oleomargarine and filled cheese, which at that time were flooding out markets, and destroying the trade of the few creameries (8) then in existence. Through the effects of the association these products have been excluded from our markets and the past year with sixty creameries in oper-ation the market for dairy products was the best for many years. In view of the great benefits that have come through the work of the association it seems to me that every dairyman and especially every creamery in the State uld be a member. The membership fee is one dollar per annum. It is our purpose through these an-nual meetings to build up the standard of our dairy knowledge, first, by the discussion of the topics presented in the program, and second, by means of an exhibit of our dairy products, the com-petition to make the best and criticisms on the results of our endeavors.

We have this year the promise of a most excellent program, which we hope will draw out yet more valuable dis-cussion. For the dairy exhibit there is offered the largest amount in pries that has ever been offered to the dairymen of the State: a total value of over $250 in money and special prizes, and every one of the latter are valuable and a worthy memento of the occasion. The program of the meeting gives the names of the speakers and the list of contributors to the prize list. Following are the rules governing the entry of butter and chease for the exhibit. I would like to call your attention to the fact that we have engaged Mr. F. A. Leighton of New Hampion, Jowa, an expert judge and late professor of dairying at the Iowa Agricultural College, to pass upon the merits of the butter and cheese and to afterwards criticise our product for the benefit of the association. This is an opportunity one should miss. We would like through these meetings to be helpful to every dairyman in the State and we trust you will be with us and add to the interest of the meeting by your presence, your advice, and a by your presence, your advice, and a recital of your experiences. We trust also that you will cast in your lot with us by becoming a member of the asso-ciation, if you are not one already, and help us to carry on the good work of building up the quality of our dairy products. Will you not lend the influ-ence of your name to the demands for considerate treatment of the dairy in-terests, at the hand of our legislators, of the common carriers, and of all those with whom we have to Scal? Very truly yours, F. B. LINFIELD, Sec., Logan, Utah.
