766

THE DESERET NEWS.

January 15

Correspondence.

George A. Smith will be read with interest-

ANTWERP, Dec. 6th, 1872. Most of our party suffered discomfort from sea-sickness in crossing the Ger- the ground. man Ocean. I was sick about eight hours. I lay on a lounge about twothirds as broad as I am. I turned over occasionally to seep my balance. As soon as our party were fairly settled at the Bath Hotel at Rotterdam, I started his relatives at Zeist. They belong to a settlement of Moravians, a sect of Christians who came to Holland from Germany in 1745, in order to obtain religious liberty. They purchased sufficient land from the "Lord of Zeist" to build their houses and church and a place for burying their dead.

The fine brick meeting house, erected in 1745, is still sufficiently large, which indicates that their numbers are not increasing.

and grounds are very neat and clean. We are now at the Hotel de l'Europe. Dutchman, initiating him imperatively They have canals leading from the main canal of the kingdom, to all their business houses. This is the case throughout Holland, canals answering the place of roads in other countries. Brother Schettler's relatives and friends were very glad to see him, and treated him with marked kindness and respect; seemed glad that I accompanied him. One of his uncles and one cousin spoke a little English, which was very gratifying to them and especially so to me. One of his aunts, a very intelligent lady, who has six children and one grandehild, seemed very anxious to talk. She took her carriage and carried us several miles to see the cathedral at Utrecht. Her husband showed me through his extensive establishment for manufacturing porcelain stoves, and ornaments of burnt clay. I regarded my going with Bro. Schettler as a fortunate circumstance, as it gave me an opportunity of becoming acquainted with some of the people of Holland at their own firesides. I was surprised at the number of beautiful trees which are growing in rows by the sides of the canals, and in small groves. Most of them are very beautiful. I recognized the basswood and the beech, although the bark looks greener than in the American woods. Most all of the land appears to be but ing left London the previous evening. a few inches above the sea, and a good many thousand acres are lower than the sea, and are only drained by pumps run by wind-mills, which raise the water to higher levels, and run it off to the sea, it is then kept out by immense embankments. This would seem rather precarious-living lower than the German beautiful quay extending one and a The Museum attracted our attention. Ocean-when we consider that only a half miles, bordering an extensive har- It contains a fine collection of curiosifew hundred years ago, half a million bor, bearing on its placid bosom ships ties in the lower part of the building. people were drowned by the overflow. of largest tonnage from the four quar- and in the upper a picture gallery em-Much of the country then overflowed, ters of the globe. has not yet been reclaimed. the capital of Holland, examined its mercial city in Holland, numbering one that I invested in an opera glass. Our museum, and enjoyed a drive to the hundred and twenty thousand inhabi- attention was attracted to a painting Queen's Palace, known as the "House | tants, Jews, Catholics, and Protestants. by Rembrandt, representing a school in the wood." We then drove to the It is intersected by numerous canals of of anatomy, possessing rare merit and sea shore, and on our return stopped at sufficient depth to accommodate large beauty of design and execution. This the Bazaar. In the evening all called ships, which discharge their valuable wonderful picture was purchased for on the American Minister, Hon. Charles burdens into the very heart of the city, about thirteen thousand dollars, by T. Gorham, who invited us to spend producing stir and life truly wonderful, King William the First. It represents the evening and take tea. We accepted which renders the same very pictur- Prof. Tulp surrounded by his anxious Embossed at $1. the invitation, and were introduced to esque. A city filled with canals-floa- pupils, in the act of dissecting a corpse. OFFICE IN DESERET NEWS BUILDINGS Mrs.Gorham, a very pleasant and agree- ting ships in all directions-tostrangers The subject perhaps is not very agreeable lady. We next went to the Cathedral at Haarlem, an immense pile. By paying thirteen florins we were privi- canals are crossed by numerous draw- ance of the corpse, the whole was leged to hear the mammoth organ for an hour. It is truly a wonderful instrument containing 5000 metal pipes, and it is said 2000 more of wood. We saw embedded in the wall, a cannonshot fired by the Spaniards in 1572. It Dutch heroes, bearing old Dutch in-is lodged near the pulpit, and was in- Scriptions, which I regret to say baffled French carried it as a trophy to Paris PRODUCE DEPART'NT tended to kill the minister. We passed our best linguists. It has a magnifi- and placed it among their pictures in through Leyden, rendered famous in cent organ with three key boards, sev- the Louvre, and considered it worthy to history by the vigorous siege by the enty-two stops, four thousand and six- rank as fourth in point of value. The Spaniards, during the revolutionary ty-two pipes-the largest being thirty- Dutch government offered Napoleon war of 1573 4, a contest between Cathol- two feet long and seventeen inches in twenty thousand dollars for its restoraicism and Protestantism, as well as be- diameter. This organ is supposed, by tion. We were conducted through va- GRAIN, FLOUR tween Datch independence and Spanish some, to equal if not surpass the famous rious departments appropriated to obtyranny. At Amsterdam we stopped instrument at Haarlem. The tower of jects of curiosity of various descripat the Bible Hotel, and we visited a this church is two hundred and eighty- tions. I will merely notice a model museum, famous for its old paintings. eight feet in height: its summit affords house constructed by order of Peter the We also visited the King's Palace, and a fine view of Dutch scenery-canals Great with the intention of taking it to spent about two hours in the navy yard, bordered with trees, country houses, Russia to present to the Empress a view examining the immense machine shops straight avenues, broad arable fields, of the interior of a house in Amster-

Went through the marine arsenal, schools. The following letter from President which contains a great variety of arms to the cemetry. The monuments are stone slabs, polished until they are as

We have visited the great cathedral of into the practice of the mysteries of pictures are everywhere to be seen. We inhabitants destroyed. went to the church of St. Jacques, where From Rotterdam we proceeded to the one daughter, one son, and other members of his family.

penetrating twelve inches of hard wood, | countenances failed to exhibit those principal apartments. The palace conshowing that they cannot make plates characteristics of health and longevity that cannon balls can not penetrate. observable in the children of our Utah of various periods, many of which are energy and perseverance. By untiring now used in the Dutch navy. We drove industry, towns and cities have been build upon trembling morasses-lakes and seas rolled from their beds, giving smooth as glass; they are laid flat on place to cultivated fields, green pastures and beautiful meadows. Portions of

Elder Van Dyke, of Ogden city, call- seas and lakes have been intersected ed to see us, and Elders Little, Dunford, and surrounded by dykes or embank-Schettler and myself went with him to ments, the water pumped out by steam the home of Brother De Groot, and met | engines and windmills. This reclaimwith a branch of the church, all of us ed land is intersected by canals and speaking to them in turn, Bro. Schett- sects at suitable distances, taking adwith Elder Paul A. Schettler to visit ler interpreting. Bro. Van Dyke has vantage of every perceivable inclinabaptized twenty-seven since he came tion, dead levels being the characterto Holland. He accompanied us to istic of the country, and yet the most Rotterdam and stayed with us over formidable enemy a Dutchman has to night. We regard him as a faithful combat. The main canals are continmissionary, laboring under difficulties. | ued through the country to some river, To-day we left the dominions of his inlet or the ocean. In every instance Dutch Majesty, William III, and en- the surface waters from a lower plane are tered those of Leopold II, King of the conducted into canals running on a high-Belgians. We had to stop and have er elevation, by windmills and steam our trunks and satchels examined, to engines, carrying an immense amount see if we had anything on which we of surplus water, which is constantly should pay duty, but on the whole we gathering, especially in rainy seasons, Although they came from Germany, regarded the officers of our new king as out from these reclaimed districts. This they have lived in Holland until they rather courteous than otherwise, in the process imposes a heavy tax on the wisare thoroughly Dutch. Their houses discharge of a not very pleasant duty. dom and patience of the irrepressible

tains some excellent paintings, and magnificent silk tapestry of exquisite needle work done by Chinese and Jap-The Hollanders possess indomitable | anese, representing birds of their country with their brilliant plumage, &c. This tapestry, we were informed by our conductor, was presented to the stadtholder William the Fifth, by the Emperor of Japan.

> After many expressions of admiration, and, by request, having inscribed our names in the Queen's register, we proceeded to Scheveningen, a fashionable resort upon the sea coast, and enjoyed a splendid drive, passing through groves of majestic oak, elm and linden.

> While at the Hague President Smith and party called on Mr. Gorham, the American Minister, who received us very cordially and insisted on the whole party joining him at tea and spending the evening, which invitation was accepted by President Smith in behalf of the party. Our interview in the evening with Mr. Gorham and his wife, a very intelligent, affable and accomplished lady, was agreeable and entertaining, and will ever be associated with the pleasant recollections of our visit to the beautiful Hague.

LORENZO SNOW.

a few inches out of water.

GEORGE A. SMITH.

AMSTERDAM, Dec. 5, 1872.

Editor Deseret News :

We, President Smith and party, are now located at "Old Bible Hotel" in the city of Amsterdam. We reached Rotterdam, Sunday, 1st December, hav-Tuesday we visited the Hague, Wednesday resumed our journey for this place, calling a few hours at Haarlem, A steam engine on the Duenny, pumps and arrived here in the afternoon.

journal, beginning at Rotterdam. Our ing a flow towards Rotterdam, where Hotel is pleasantly located-fronting a it is pumped into the river Maas. commerce and business. We visited the sistible charm.

Antwerp, remarkable for containing hydraulics. In Utah, we labor to seseveral original paintings by the im- cure water for our lands: here, the remor:al artist Rubens. We saw a man moval of it, and the preservation of life by the name of Van den Wildenberch, and property from its overflow, is a nawho has spent thirty-eight years of his | tional work, which involves an almost life in making copies of Ruben's two infinitely greater amount of toil and exmaster-pieces, one of the crucifixion of pense. The least neglect in their operthe Savior, the other, taking him from ations exposes the country to devastathe cross. Van den Wildenberch sells tion. In the province of Dort, in the these at 300 f. a piece. Rubens is almost fifteenth century, seventy villages were the idol of Antwerp. His statues and overflowed and one hundred thousand we saw his magnificent tomb, above Hague, containing one hundred thouwhich hangs one of his own paintings sand inhabitants. It is the most ele--a portrait of himself, his two wives, gant, beautiful and fashionable town in Holland. It possesses no internal resources or advantages of commerce, but Our only annoyance in regard to to the presence of the court, numerous health is colds. The climate is damp nobles and diplomatists, who make it naturally and the whole country is but their residence, it chiefly owes it aristocratic and prosperous appearance. Many of its streets are broad and hand some, bordered with beautiful trees-its buildings lofty and substantial. A magnificent basin of water in the central part of the town, with an ornamental island and flocks of white, graceful swans, is the most fashionable locality.

The Hague and its environs are so flat that its waters in the canals are destitute of fall; this difficulty, however, is overcome by artifical arrangement. fresh water into the canal by which an I now make a few extracts from my imperceptible current is formed, carrybracing specimens by the most celebrat-The city of Rotterdam is situated on | ed Dutch painters. I was so delighted On the 4th inst. we visited the Hague, the river Maas-it is the second com- with the beauty and artistical display presents a romantic appearance, exci- able, but all of the figures, the expressting surprise and admiration. These ion of their features, the death appearbridges. The city is remarkably clean brought out with such profound skill and orderly, considering its immense as to invest the painting with an irrechurch of "St. Lawrence," containing "Paul Potter's far-famed bull," reseveral splendid marble monuments of garded as the gem of the whole collec-

Elder THOMAS PARDINGTON died in Mona, Juab County, on the 16th day of December, 1872. He was born in Ashton, Macclesfield, England, where he embraced the gospel. He emigrated to Utah in 1862. He was a faithful Saint and a kind father. He leaves a widow and children. Mill. Star. please copy. [COM.

In the 7th Ward of this city, Jan. 6th, of drop sy, ISABELLA, wife of Theodore Curtis.

On Nov. 29, of convulsions and child-birth, SARAH, wife of Henry Ciay, of Oldham branch, Manchester Conference, aged 33 years and 9 months.-Mil.ennial stur.

At Bedford, Nov. 23, of consumption, GEORGE WILLIAM SEARS, aged 18 years. - Millonnial Star.

History of the Church never before Published, Also, Historical, Biographical and Scientific Szetches. NO FAMILY SHOULD BE WITHOUT IT. It Should be in Every Sunday School. NOW IS THE TIME TO SUBSCRIBE. REDUCTION IN PRICE. TERMS: - In savance $2 per Volume. Parents consider it, your money cannot be better spent. Back Volumes Handsomely Bound in Cloth, 2 swtf Z. C. M. I. WHOLESALE & REFAIL DEALERS IN FEED. AND Foreig and Domestic Fruits, Malt, Hops, Seeds, and other places in which the building of green pastures and meadows, forming a dam. This model is reported to have Salt Lake City iron vessels of war is carried on. We plane with no perceptible inclination; cost about twelve thousand dollars, and saw one new monitor afloat, so arrang- also numerous windmills, in motion, in to have occupied twenty-five years in H. B. CLAWSON, Saperintendent. ed that they could sink the upper deck every direction. its completion. We visited the Queen's palace, called two feet under water, all but the turret. Rotterdam has several public schools. WANTED - First-Class Wheat, Barley, Oats We also saw slabs of iron plating eight We saw eleven hundred children belong-"The House in the Wood," very roinches through, one of which had seve- ing to one them of from four to eleven mantically situated in an extensive Dried Fruit, Butter and Eggs. ral holes shot through, the ball first years of age. We remarked that their park. We were conducted through the 874 W38 1y

Butter & Eggs,