OCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

THERMOMETER 75° in the shade at two o'clock to-day.

MEETINGS in the Tabernacle to-morrow at ten and two o'clock and in the various ward meetings in the evening.

MORE FRUIT STEALING.—We continue to hear of more fruit stealing, in different parts of the city, by persons in military apparel, not merely for immediate eating, but by the sackful. If this is continued, privilege to leave the post may be prudently made more limited.

THEATRE.—A large audience assembled at the Theatre last night, at Miss Ada Gray's benefit, to witness the first presentation of "Who's Wife"—an extraordinary production in these times of sensation and clap trap in the play making world, and one which we think will meet with a good reception wherever it is presented. It is a play of thrilling interest, commencing with the opening scene and continuing until the curtain falls on the final tableau. The great length of the piece prevents any attempt to give a synopsis of it, and the best thing theatre-goers can do is to go and see it, it is well worth it. Miss Gray appeared to much greater advantage last night, as "Goldie" than in the pieces she appeared in on previous evenings, her acting was excellent, and stamped her unmistakably as an accomplished artiste. Of Miss Walters, acting we have before spoken in very high terms, but last night she eclipsed her every former effort here. In witnessing her as "Belle" in "Who's Wife," the actress was forgotten, so real and lifelike was her portraiture of the bitter, vengeful, relentless woman, supplanted in the affections of her lover by the charms of another. Mr. Chaplin gave an excellent delineation of the true hearted, simple minded "Sardy Capers." Miss Jones, as the French lady's maid, did well, and gave more evidence of ability, and aptitude for the profession than she has hitherto evinced.

Mr. Thorne played in his usual careful and able manner, Mr. Marden, Mr. McIntosh, and others also sustained their several roles with credit, and rarely has an audience been more attentive and interested, than the one present last evening at the first presentation of "Who's Wife." The piece will be repeated to-night, when Miss Ada Gray makes her last appearance.

SOLDIERS RETURNED.—A detachment of the infantry troops which were sent to Sanpete to protect the people of that locality from Indian depredations, returned from that place this morning. The assigned reason for their return, we understand to be, that no Indians had put in an appearance in Sanpete since the military camped there.

WE DIDN'T KNOW IT.—The Denver Tribune rejoices "when we have Mormon dignitaries and officials indirectly, if not directly, acknowledging that polygamy is an evil." We did not know that they had done so. But we can agree with the Tribune in the following, without admitting the "therefore," "We hope, therefore, to record frequent and multitudinous marriages hereafter in the 'Land of the Saints.'"

DISCHARGED.—The examination of the Wilson-Tibbits shooting case was resumed at 2 o'clock yesterday, and afterwards adjourned from 4 to 5 o'clock. The witnesses examined yesterday, for the defense, were Dr. J. M. Benedict, Brigham Whiting, the same who was knocked down by Tibbits, and two young women, one named Putnam and the other Mason, Mrs. Smith and Police officer Wm. Hyde.

The object of the re-examination of Dr. Benedict was to elucidate that the deceased Tibbits was a man of powerful physique, and that a blow from a club such as he used, in the hands of an ordinary man, was likely to produce great bodily injury on the person on whom it was inflicted. The Doctor was of opinion that a direct blow of this description on the head of an individual would probably produce fatal results nine times out of ten.

The substance of the evidence given by the other witnesses was to the effect that when Whiting, Wilson and the young women Putnam and Mason arrived at the gate of Mr. Putnam's residence they discovered Wilford Tibbits and Eliza Corbett standing on the side walk near the gate. A few words there passed between Tibbits and Whiting, when the latter was felled to the ground by a heavy club in the hands of Tibbits, and Wilson immediately afterwards received a blow over the top of the head, which brought him to a partially reclining posture, in which position he drew and fired a pistol. On rising from the ground Wilson ran inside the gate to the north-east corner of Mr. Putnam's house, pursued by Tibbits, who at the same time held aloft his ponderous club in a convenient striking position. On arriving at the corner Wilson's assailant caught up with him, when Wilson turned and fired at Tibbits, with what result the public are already aware.

The Court decided that the dying statements of Tibbits could not be introduced as evidence, as the defense was prepared to show that up to his dying moments Tibbits had expressed himself frequently to the effect that he would be well and around again in a few days, and to render his statements admissible as evidence it was necessary for it to be shown that the deceased was aware of his speedily approaching dissolution, and that this must be the condition of his mind previous to the making of the statements. The only testimony indicating that Tibbits was aware that he was about to die was given by Mrs. Smith, to whom the deceased, she said, stated that he expected to live but a few hours; to others, however, he spoke hopefully of his condition, and as if he anticipated a speedy recovery.

After reviewing the evidence the court decided that the prisoner be discharged as it was clear that, in shooting Tibbit's, he acted in self defence.

There is but little room for doubt that had the blow on the side of Whiting's head been about an inch or so higher he would have been instantly killed, as it was, the shock produced by the blow on the right side of his head broke his left jaw.

We believe the result of the examination was generally anticipated by those who watched the progress of the case. At each session of the court the hall was filled with spectators. We do not see how any other decision could have been arrived at with regart to the shooting of Tibbits.

PROBATE COURT.—Yesterday two boys, aged respectively about sixteen and eighteen years, John and Peter Augerson, better known by the name of Stockfish, were sentenced, by Judge Elias Smith, yesterday, to two years each in the penitentiary, for committing burglary and larceny on the premises of Abraham Jenkins, Mill Creek, on the 9th of last April. On hearing the sentence the youngest of the two boys sprang to his feet and uttered an ejaculatory oath of surprise.

The trial of J. T. Taker, for horse stealing, which has been several times continued, was being proceeded with today. The evidence adduced thus far appears to be pretty conclusive against the prisoner.

TWO DAYS' MEETINGS.—"G. B." forwards us the following synopsis of two days' meetings held at Smithfield, Cache Co., Aug. 31 and Sept. 1st.

"The congregation assembled in the meeting-house at 10.30 a. m. The stand was occupied by Brigham Young, Junr., of the Quorum of the Twelve; Bishop W. B. Preston and the bishops of the various settlements, with the home missionaries; also returned foreign missionaries, J. S. Brown and Geo. P. Ward, all of whom, in turn, addressed the Saints. On account of the number of Elders present the sermons were necessarily short, but nevertheless spirited, seasonable and admirably adapted to the wants of the people. Many subjects, such as tithing, home manufacture, co-operation, the husbanding of our grain, &c., were touched upon.

"Brigham Young, Jr., spoke at some length upon the responsibilities resting upon the Latter-day Saints and their great and important mission upon the earth.

"Bishop W. B. Preston presented Brigham Young, Jr., to the people as the President of Cache Valley and the Bear River and Soda Springs country, and from the fact that there were more hands raised than there were individuals present, demonstrated unmistakeably the hearty good will of the people to sustain him in his honorable calling. The Smithfield and Logan choirs alternately enlivened the meeting with their sweet songs of praise. After a rich time of feasting upon the words of life as they spontaneously flowed from the mouths of the Elders, Brother W. B. Preston announced that two days' meetings would be held at Clarkston, Sept. 14th and 15th."

FINE SPECIMENS.—We understand the fruit and flower awarding committee of the Agricultural Society met last evening, when some splendid specimens of summer and fall fruits and flowers were exhibited. We would be pleased to have a report from the committee.

TO OUR ADVERTISING PATRONS.—In consequence of an accident this morning, by which a large amount of matter in type was "pied," a number of advertisements are unavoidably omitted in to-day's paper. They will appear in Monday's issue, and we ask the forbearance of our patrons until then.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS of the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing Society will meet this evening at 7 o'clock at the Historian's Office, to make further arrangements for the forthcoming Fair.
