Professor Careless is very desirous that every member should be present. Visitors will be admitted only upon presentation of passes.

THOS. HULL, Sec'y.

Prof. W. K. Burton.— Brother C. R. Savage has received a letter from Prof. W. K. Burton, of London, who was here about ten days ago, in the course of which he says: "I carry away with me the most friendly remembrances of Salt Lake City and the 'Mormons.' When I hear of your people, in future, anything ill, believe me they shall not go undefended."

The Working Men's Co-op.—This association commenced business yesterday, in the Music Hall, corner Third West and First South streets, with a full line of general merchandise, groceries, hay, grain, flour, illuminating and lubricating oils, painters' supplies, etc. The capital stock of $50,000 is divided into shares of $10, no stockholder being allowed to control more than five shares. The officers are, president, J. W. Summerhays; vice-president Andrew S. Gray; secretary and treasurer, A. S. Geddes; directors, R. F. Morris, N. Thompson, G. R. Emery, E. A. Folland, S. M. Barlow, H. Coburn and J. Bull, Jr.

THE WATERWORKS.

THE PRESENT PLAN OF SUPPLYING THE CITY.

Now that the upper system of the waterworks has been laid and drinking water promised for the dry benchers, but little is heard of the system by which City Creek water is distributed throughout the city, though in reality the upper portion constitutes only about one-third of the improvements and extensions inaugurated last fall. The labor of preparing the reservoirs in the large brick building in the cañon, which is to be the head of the lower system, has been steadily prosecuted, however, and the excavating is now almost completed. The connecting mains will then be laid from the old waterworks, and the much needed increased pressure and supply for the water mains be obtained.

A look at the ground at the head of the upper system, which is also used to supply the lower, is sufficient to convince the careful observer of the wisdom of Mayor Armstrong and the municipal authorities in adopting the present plan in preference to others that were strongly urged when the subject was being agitated. It will be sufficient to cite one proposition that had many supporters, that of making a reservoir of Little Valley. The estimated cost of this work was placed at $33,000. To-day, at the head of the waterworks system are two reservoirs, substantially built, and holding enough water to provide each resident of the northeast bench ten gallons of water per day. These reservoirs cost less than one-twentieth of the sum above mentioned, and are a portion of a plan that, when completed as may be necessary by the wants of the city, will husband a greater quantity of water than would have been possible in the Little Valley reservoir, in equally as good, if not better condition, and at far less expense, besides avoiding the necessity of expending so large a sum of money at the outset.

One of the principal features, in addition to the difference in cost, both of construction and repair, of the present system over the large reservoir, is the absolute safety from breaking away and precipitating a large body of water into the city. It was asserted that the large basin could have been made perfectly safe. That may be, but the experience of other cities has created considerable doubt on this point. In the present plan no such danger need be feared. The small reservoirs in the series do not rely in the least degree upon the others for strength; they are excavated in the bed of the cañon, and the water would have to "go up hill" to get out. Even if one should by any possibility give way into the creek, the others could not be affected only by the gradual emptying process, and the amount of water thus liberated into the channel of the stream would be insufficient to do any damage by the time it reached the city. When the plan is carried out it will be easy to store the water over the dry season as may be found necessary, and keep the inhabitants well supplied.

Railroad Work in Arizona.—The Salt River Valley Times, of Tempe Arizona, under date of the 20th ult., says:

Tracklaying has been progressing but slowly during the week for lack of iron. The rails are laid to a point about nine miles from the Gila and the ties are dumped for a mile ahead.

Last Thursday we visited the graders and their camp. Their tents are pitched on the Austin place, about a mile and a quarter from the river.

On the grading about forty men and two-thirds that number of teams are employed. W. J. Murphy, of Phoenix, has the contract for the grading. Mr. J. R. Norton is the foreman of the work, and under his experienced supervision is being piled up a most excellent road-bed, as level as a table and well finished off. It is twelve feet in width, and in maintaining its level rises in some places, as high as three feet above the surrounding land.

To-day the graders are about up to their camp with their work. The line will run for over a mile in the centre of the present Maricopa road. The last pier of the bridge was put in position in the early part of last week. There remain on the northern side beyond the last pier, about 1,000 feet of trestle work to finish.

The river has fallen during the week as much as it raised last week, and is evidently not inclined to obstruct improvements.

The passenger station is to be placed in the alfalfa field back of John S. Armstrong's residence, on the section line, just one quarter of a mile from Mill Street. The freight house will be on the south side of the road. Work is to be commenced immediately on both structures.

Some trouble was had in regard to right of way over one of the ranches several miles south of here, but the line was changed and all is now serene.

The Pacific Roads. — It is announced that the lease of the Oregon Navigation lines to the Union Pacific has been finally concluded, and that on Wednesday last the Oregon Short Line, which is nominally the lessee, took possession of the property. The lease is for ninety-nine years from January 1, 1887, and the Union Pacific guarantees the performance of its terms by the Oregon Short Line. With respect to the legal disability of the Union Pacific making such a guarantee, permissive legislation is to be asked of Congress, though the lease does not depend upon such authorization being obtained. The Oregon Transcontinental Company is provided for by giving it the right to build any branches which it may be decided to construct. R. J. Potter, now general manager of the Burlington, retires from that company to become general manager of the Union Pacific, Oregon Short Line and Oregon Navigation lines, it being provided in the lease that he shall become the manager, and further that in case of default the manager shall operate the Navigation Company's property as trustee. This provision is evidently aimed at a possible attempt to upset the lease, as being unauthorized on the part of the Union Pacific. The lease is of considerable importance, as it gives the Union Pacific the independent outlet it so much needs to the Pacific.—Bradstreet's, April 30.

The Theatre.—There was a rather attenuated audience at the Theatre last evening, the final appearance of the "Rag Baby" company, but the play went off with the dash and spirit that have characterized all its representations here, and the applause and laughter were abundant.

On Monday, Roland Reed appears in his excellent comedy "Humbug," supported by the same company he had when last here.

The Open Air Concert.—Programme for this evening at 7:30 on the Deseret Bank corner:

1 March, "Rustled" Orsoni
2 Cornet solo, "Floatonian," Casey
Mr. D. R. Gill.
3 Overture, "Bas Bleu." Pettee
4 March, "Kimberley Guards," do
5 Waltzes, "Scotch Airs," Bonisan
6 Xylophone solo, "Patty Duffy's Coat,"
Mr. A. Beezley.
7 Medley Overture, "Cavilier," Prendeville.

Unsuccessful Raid.—Yesterday a force of deputy marshals, guided by one "Bill" Butcher, made another raid on South Jordan. They searched three or four houses, with barns, stackyards, etc., but failed to find any one to arrest.

The City Hall Park.—The little park at the west of the City Hall is now in fine condition. The fountain basin is being repainted preparatory to the water being turned on for the season.

JAMES BISHOP ARRESTED.

HE IS CHARGED WITH THE OFFENSE OF UNLAWFUL COHABITATION.

The first arrest under the Edmunds law since the arrival in this city of District Attorney Peters was made this morning, James Bishop, of the Sixteenth Ward, being the victim. About 6 a.m. deputies Vandercook, Pratt, and Franks called at Mr. Bishop's house and arrested him and subpœnaed his family as witnesses.

The complaint was sworn to before Commissioner Frank Pierce, this being the first case of the kind brought before him. It was made by Deputy Franks, and accused Mr. Bishop of living with Sinah Bishop, Rachael Sykes Bishop and Ellen Oberly Bishop as his wives. The defendant entered a plea of not guilty.

District Attorney Peters was present at the examination, but took no active part, Mr. Varian conducting the prosecution. The witnesses testified that the defendant lived in the same house with his wives Sarah and Rachael, the latter being an invalid. The examination was short, and at its conclusion Commissioner Pierce held Mr. Bishop to await the action of the grand jury, fixing his bail at $1,000, which was given.

ANOTHER CASE.

JUDGE HENDERSON REPEATS HIMSELF.

Judge Henderson repeated himself this afternoon. A Swede was up as an applicant for citizenship. The length of the applicant's residence was satisfactory, but it became evident that he did not sufficiently understand the difference between the government he wished to renounce and that to which he would swear allegiance. These questions over, he was tested in the Edmunds law, and declared his willingness to obey the law in future. Then he was asked if he thought it was right for a man to have more than one; his reply being that he did not know.

Court—What position do you hold in the Church? A.—I am an Elder.

Q.—What are your duties? A.—I do not understand you.

Q.—Do you teach or preach? A.—No; I do not. I have not done so, but, of course, I believe in the Church.

Q.—Do you believe in the revelation regarding polygamy? A.—Yes.

Q.—And in obeying counsel? A.—Yes, I might.

Q.—Well, if there should come to-morrow a revelation commanding you to go into polygamy, what would you do? A.—I cannot say what I would do; I expect to obey this law. I have had no practice in polygamy; I do not know what I might think.

Q.—Then you do not mean to say what you intend to do for the future?

A.—I cannot say what I may think to morrow. I will obey the law.

Court—I think this another case like the others. The law has nothing to do with your past, or the present. It relates wholly to the future; and as you do not know what you will think in the future, this case may go as the others have gone.

Whereupon the applicant and his witnesses left the court room amid the sneering smiles of the half-witted imbeciles who haunt that place. It was apparent that the applicant did not understand the ways of a judge who poses as a cross-examiner, and who puts in the mouth of applicants for citizenship words they did not utter, and words designed to convey a meaning they did not intend. It is hardly becoming the dignity of the Court to permit its officers and jurors and others to cachinnate their delight at the answers of one who desired citizenship, but who, because of insufficient knowledge of the language, makes replies that are not always to the point. It does not give an exalted idea of the dignity of a court.

A HORRIBLE DEED.

MRS. BERTHA MICKELSEN HANGS HERSELF TO A BEDPOST.

The usually quiet settlement of Huntsville was treated to a genuine sensation yesterday. Mrs. Bertha Mickelsen committed suicide by hanging herself to a bedpost. She was found dangling in the cellar, having removed the door in order to secure drop enough to produce strangulation. The body was discovered by neighbors, who summoned assistance and the body was cut down. It was cold, however, and life was entirely extinct.

A coroner's inquest was held with Acting Coroner Charles Wright presiding and a jury consisting of Messrs. Jens Wangsguard, Angus McKay and A. P. Renstrum. The testimony of those who first saw the body, was taken, and J. H. Mickelsen, a son of deceased, testified that he last saw his mother at about noon. The inquest was held at three o'clock. It was about one hour after noon when he saw his mother hanging in the position described.

The jury returned the following verdict:

An inquest held at Huntsville, Weber County, Utah Territory, on the 5th day of May, 1887, on the body of Bertha Mickelsen, now laying dead before us. We the jurors on our oaths do believe that she committed suicide by hanging, caused by a deranged state of mind.

H. Wangsgoard,
Angus Mc Kay,
A. P. Renstrum. } Jurors.

Charles Wright, Acting Coroner.

The case is a very distressing one. Deceased was born in Prussia and was educated in Denmark. She was 42 years old and leaves a husband and six children in very poor circumstances. The youngest child was in cradle close by the bed when the deed was committed. It is thought that sickness and poverty had preyed upon the woman's mind to such an extent as to overbalance her reason. It is said she has often considered herself a burden upon her husband, who is a weak, unhealthy man.

The people of Huntsville are shocked at the sad occurrence, but will do all in their power to make comfortable the unfortunate husband and bereaved little ones.—Ogden Herald, May 6.

Excursionists.—The streets to-day were fairly thronged with visitors from various parts of the world, and the hackdrivers were apparently reaping a rich harvest. The Phillips' company from Los Angeles, California, under the charge of C. A. Barnes is probably the largest one here at present. They are stopping at the Continental. They go east in the morning by special train over the D. & R. G. Last night's rain washed the face of nature and laying the dust so that all was bright and beautiful to-day, the roads being in prime condition. Undoubtedly our visitors will bear away with them pleasant memories of their brief sojourn in Salt Lake.

Railroad Projections.—It is apparent that there will be railroads in this direction during this summer. All the indications point in that line. It seems to be the opinion of the best informed railroad men in the city that the Midland is assuredly coming into Utah, but whether it will first touch Salt Lake is a matter of conjecture. But it will come here. Hon. John Sharp intimates that no railroad will come through Utah within one hundred miles of Salt Lake City, without touching it. This being true, if the Midland does go first to Provo, it will yet come to this city.

WOULDN'T TAKE IT.

A GENTILE WON'T TAKE THE OATH, BUT IS ACCEPTED AS A JUROR.

In the trial of the suit of Wright vs. Ascheim, in the Third District Court yesterday afternoon, Mr. George Barr was on the open venire for jurors, but when asked to take the "League" form of the oath, which was presented by the court, refused, saying, "I have served my country faithfully, I am not a foreigner, and have always been a good citizen; I don't wish any office or emolument under the government, and would not take an oath to obey any particular law."

Court—Have you conscientious scruples against taking it?

A.—Yes, sir, I have; I do not propose to take any oath which is intended to make my allegiance any stronger.

Court.—Then you object to any kind of an oath.

A.—I do.

Mr. Hoffman—So far as I am concerned, may it please the Court, I don't insist upon him taking the oath.

Mr. Bennett said that he would not require the juror to take the oath.

Court—That cannot be, gentlemen. The law prescribes that a person to act as a juror must take the oath.

Mr. Bennett—We will waive the oath. I do not think there can be any objection if both parties waive it. We are willing to waive the oath as to all the jury, not as to the one juror alone.

The opinion of Judge Sutherland was asked, and he stated that such a proceeding in a civil case was all right. The juror was then accepted without being required to take the oath, as was also Mr. J. D. Spencer to-day.

Real Estate Sales.—Mr. George H. Knowlden, real estate agent, made transfers to the amount of $29,675 during the week ending to-day. The following is the list of the principal properties, with the amounts paid: Corner lot on East Temple Street, $1,600; three on First South Street, $350, $1,250, and $1,000; one on Sixth and E streets, $1,000; one in Twenty-first Ward, $550; half lot in Twenty-first Ward, $375; piece of business property on East Temple Street, $7,750; piece in Thirteenth Ward, $3,000; brick residence and corner lot in Eleventh Ward, $5,500; brick residence and corner lot in Twentieth Ward, $4 500.

A Delightful Entertainment.—On Monday evening there will be a delightful entertainment in the 18th Ward new hall, for the benefit of the building fund. The programme is an excellent one. It comprises the neat and attractive comedy of "My Wife's Bonnet" concluding with the beautiful operatta, "Penelope." The performers are the prominent members of the Home Dramatic Club. The operetta will be conducted by Prof. George Careless. Admission 50 cents, reserved seat, 75 cents. Doors open at 7:30; the peformance to begin at 8.

LEGAL NOTICE.

In the Probate Court of the County of Salt Lake, Territory of Utah.

In the Matter of the Estate of Obed Taylor, Deceased.

Order to show cause why Order of Sale of Real Estate should not be made.

JAMES WATSON, THE ADMINSTRATOR of the Estate of Obed Taylor, deceased, having filed his petition herein, duly verified, praying for an order of sale of the real estate of said decedent, for the purposes therein set forth, It is therefore ordered by the Judge of said Court, that all persons interested in the estate of said deceased, appear before the said Probate Court on Saturday the 4th day of June 1887, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the Court Room of said Probate Court, at the County Court House, in the City and County of Salt Lake, Utah Territory, to show cause why an order should not be granted to the said administrator, to sell so much of the real estate of the said deceased at public or private sale as shall be necessary, and that a copy of this order be published at least four successive weeks in the DESERET NEWS, a newspaper printed and published in said city and County.

Dated April 26th, 1887.

ELIAS A. SMITH,
Probate Judge.

TERRITORY OF UTAH,
County of Salt Lake. } ss.

I, John C. Cutler, Clerk of the Probate Court in and for the County of Salt Lake, in the Territory of Utah, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and correct copy of an order to show cause why Order of Sale of Real Estate should not be made in the matter of the Estate of Obed Taylor, deceased, as appears of record in my office.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court, this 26th day of April, A. D. 1887.
