

A FIGHTING DARKEY.

Not into the Registration Office and Raised a Row.

GOT OUT IN A BIG HURRY.

The Case Back, With a Rock in His Hand, Yelling "Get Your Gun, I'm After You."

The usual quiet and good order of the state street registration office was recently disrupted for a short period earlier today, but, while the new condition of affairs prevailed notwithstanding were a tropical air. The cause of it was a black darkey, who came into the office and addressed himself to Deputy Registrator Angus M. Cannon Jr., as follows:

"I want to be transferred."

"What is the name?" inquired Mr.
Cannon.

"Richard Johnson," was the reply.
Mr. Cannon asked the name of his son and father to find the name asked him again, after which he said: "There is no such name on the registration."

"Well, I want to be transferred all the same," said Johnson.

"Richard Johnson" was the last word uttered by the darkey, and was the next question.

"You are, I do."

"Well, it's very strange," said Mr.
Cannon, "I can't find your name."

"Well, I want to be transferred again."

"I can't transfer you but I can address the case to you and get your name on the rolls in that way," proposed the darkey.

"I can't take the case, I want to be transferred—now you transfer me or I'll transfer you!"

What do you mean," said Mr. Cannon.
The darkey took a step forward and put his hand upon his heart before uttering another word.

"I am a desperado by nature."

"I am a harboring and threatening ruffian; that unless you transfer me I'll transfer you!"

Mr. Cannon was in his bed at a moment thinking, "You get out of here quickly this."

"I'm giving you a—of a—called the case but I made a roll for the darkey and stepped into the arrest."

By that time the police had come in the room, but Mr. Cannon was released by the darkey who was about to reenter the office. The darkey sat up, stepped beside a desk, and said, "I'm going to leave."

"The police are after you!"

Mr. Cannon was his hair in a condition again. When the police came into the room, he sat down and closed his eyes. "I have some news for you," said the police.

"What news?" asked Mr. Cannon.

"We are in camp today at Spanish Fork."

Death of Joseph G. Fuller.

At his residence No. 147 North Temple, at 2 a. m., Aug. 21, 1895, Joseph G. Fuller, born June 24, 1857, the wife of the deceased died about three months ago, and since then he has suffered considerably, especially from ill health and medical depression. He spent some time in the mountains in the hope that the change of surroundings would benefit him, but to some extent it has done so, however, he died on the 20th instant.

The funeral service will be managed tomorrow, Aug. 22d, at 1 p. m., at his residence, at the above address.

Funeral Announcement.

The funeral of Adam Heim, who died Monday, will be held Thursday, August 23d, from the Ninth ward meeting house beginning at two o'clock.

This Afternoon's Police Court.

Thesaurus William Hesse, who was arrested in connection with the Larsen-Livingston shooting affair, was arraigned for vagrancy. He said he had spent nine days here at one time in jail, and claimed he was not only passing through the city but wanted to get out. His case was continued until Friday at 2 o'clock.

Harry Jackson, a boy from Spanish Fork, guilty of beggary. He had been in Spanish Fork, and wished to go to him. He was discharged.

The case against Mrs. Fortune, who was arrested in connection with the Larsen-Livingston shooting affair, will be heard August 23d before Attorney F. O. Wadsworth in the 14th ward.

He demands that the defendant should receive an immediate hearing and that his prosecution at least bring out something which would warrant the holding of the trial. The case was continued over to the 14th ward, and the trial was adjourned to Aug. 23d.

A December case came up today.
The cause involved in Harry Jackson and it appears that the cause has not been in court the last year or two.
He was arraigned. He was given a probation and the case to Mr. D. R. Hobbs, and that gentleman is willing to pay the tax now. This case was discontinued.

Another case of the same kind was dismissed.

Examining Utah's Banks.

The condition of the national banks of this territory is being investigated by Special Bank Examiner Elbridge of the San Francisco branch of the treasury department. Mr. Elbridge has already visited the banks in the southern part of the territory and yesterday arrived in this city and at once commenced work at the District 24th.

License to Wed.

A marriage license was issued today to Frank T. Widmer, aged 21, of Denver, and Anna L. Newell, aged 20, of Salt Lake City, and Eliza E. Morris, aged 19, of Night-Johns county, Utah.

Excursion South.

The Union Pacific steam excursion to all points south will leave this city on Saturday next, the 23d inst.

THE ROAD WILL BE BUILT.

So Says Frank Bader, the Mayor of Los Angeles.

Managing Editor to View at the Los Angeles "Express." See the same thing with emphasis.

Amidst the jubilant calls of the many orators who arrived in this city today, two gentlemen very much interested in the proposed line between Salt Lake and Los Angeles, were the Hon. Frank Hader, mayor of that city, and T. J.
LeVeen, managing editor of the Los Angeles Evening Express.

The former was seated by a few representative friends, with a pleased smile and cordial handshake. "I have very little time to talk now, as the train is waiting in expectancy to your business meeting restoration. But you can get me an interview any time you like. Let us have a talk when this is over by putting a retarder at the earliest possible date. Our people have the kindest feelings toward Salt Lake; they always have done so. Matters are at the present interesting stage, but the effect is lack of confidence. Last winter we attempted to get the Legislature to pass an enabling act that would assist us in building the road to California. The bill did not pass, but the people were so anxious to have the road built that we started the construction of the road ourselves."

"But here is Mr. LeVeen. We have made him our mouthpiece for our party, and he will tell you what he knows of the enterprise."

With that introduction Mr. LeVeen spoke up and added:

"Yes sir, we will have two great transcontinental lines here. But we want another road than the one connected with Salt Lake. We want some of your money and you want some of ours products of our region. We must have them and we must join. We are apologetic about the delay, but we have nearly one-fourth of the money necessary for the road built."

A few words of explanation followed.
T. J. LeVeen, a lawyer of Hawaiian and Chinese extraction, is managing editor of the Los Angeles Evening Express.
He is the author of the "Great American" speech, and is well known.

Mr. LeVeen is a member of the Assembly, and will remain for two days.

Mr. LeVeen is the author of the "Great American" speech, and is well known.

Mr. LeVeen is a member of the Assembly, and will remain for two days.

Mr. LeVeen is the author of the
"Great American" speech, and is well known.

Mr. LeVeen is a member of the Assembly, and will remain for two days.

Mr. LeVeen is the author of the
"Great American" speech, and is well known.

Mr. LeVeen is a member of the Assembly, and will remain for two days.

Mr. LeVeen is the author of the
"Great American" speech, and is well known.

Mr. LeVeen is a member of the Assembly, and will remain for two days.

Mr. LeVeen is the author of the
"Great American" speech, and is well known.

Mr. LeVeen is a member of the Assembly, and will remain for two days.

Mr. LeVeen is the author of the
"Great American" speech, and is well known.

ADDITIONAL TELEGRAPH.

DENVER HOTEL DISASTER.

They succeeded in intercepting the news of it.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 21.—(Despatch by H. H. MacLean.)—The following information has been received by a jury to investigate the disaster.

W. H. Spear, H. C. Clegg, T. S.
Clegg, E. K. Ellington, Frank Drapage and Charles Bateson.

Twenty hotel lodgers have been killed, and twenty others are seriously injured, three of whom are dead.

Twenty-four lodgers were injured, and two are dead.

Twenty lodgers were killed, and two are dead.