

NO OPTION HAS YET BEEN GIVEN.

Prest, Sam McIntyre Talks About Mammoth Rumors.

MINE WILL NOT SHUT DOWN

Still in Founding Away—Gardner's
Copper Process—A Coming
Zinc Field.

NO QUOTATIONS. HOLIDAY.

President Sam McIntyre, of the Mammoth Mining Company, arrived in town today from the mine. When approached by a "News" representative regarding the much talked of option on his stock and the shutting down of the mine on the first last, Mr. McIntyre said that no option on his holdings had been given to Messrs. Grant and Farrell or to anyone else. These gentlemen had talked to him about the matter last fall and also more recently, but no option has yet been given on the control of the Mammoth. "I will sell to any body who will give me my price," said Mr. McIntyre.

The story that the mine would shut down on the last was pronounced "a row" by Mr. McIntyre who says such a thing is not among the probabilities of the future. Neither is a cessation of work at the mill contemplated. It was rumored yesterday that this had already been done but Mr. McIntyre says the mill was pounding away as usual when he left this morning, and everything is moving along in the usual way at the mine.

Connection has now been made on the $50 level through Grand Central workings. Mr. McIntyre says the ore was encountered just before reaching the Grand Central line. It is pronounced a "new" thing. Ore will be extracted via the new drift as soon as the track is laid in place.

THE GARDNER PROCESS.

A Salt Lake Man's Invention is Growing in Favor.

Latest advice from Colorado show that the Gardner chemical process for leaching copper ore is meeting with much favor among mining men in that State. Mr. Gardner's Salt Lake friends will be pleased to learn of his success in the venture which he has spent several years in bringing to its present state of perfection. Regarding a difficult but very successful test made a short time ago the Denver Post says: "Last week Captain Anderson, a noted miner of Las Cruces, manager of the Torpedo mine in the Organ mountains, in which Chicago parties are heavily interested, gathered up and assayed 600 pounds of auriferous crystals, the waste product of the mine, beautiful to look upon, but considered worthless. The captain brought it to Gardner as the toughest proposition he ever tackled. It contained an average of 8.7 per cent copper, but he had never found a process capable of making anything out of it. When put into a smelter it ran into a glassy substance, yielding no value, hence, after repeated failures, it was all consigned to the dump, hundreds of tons going in that direction. The Gardner process, however, has been successful and completely successful test the works have ever made. The surprise and gratification of the interested witnesses found strong expression, for it has solved a great and very perplexing problem in the business of mining and reduction. The enormous waste dump containing from six to ten per cent of copper per ton can now be worked over at great profit. Analysis of the tailings show a complete extraction, leaving only infinitesimal traces of copper. The next move will be plans and specifications, machinery and workmen for the erection of a plant at the Torpedo mine, to work in conjunction with the smelters already existing, the sulphides, which Gardner does not claim to handle. Captain Anderson says there are great bodies of auriferous crystals in many of the copper deposits about Las Cruces, which this method will render available for use."

GLITTERING OFFERS.

Made by Dredging Company Which
Proposes to Operate in Idaho.

There is a scoured corporation in this city, says the New York Mining News, that calls itself the New Era Gold Dredging company that is sending out circulars broadcast, offering $1 a share in the earnings of a mythical dredge that is to scoop up 10,000 yards of gravel from "Wild Goose Bar," near Lewiston, Idaho, that yields all the way from 50 cents to $1 per cubic yard. It does not take a mathematician long to calculate that with 50 cent ground the dredge would earn $1,000 per day, while with that worth $1 its earnings would be worth $2,000 a day.

MARKET FOR COPPER.

Gradually Tending to a Lower Level
—Sales Difficult to Effect.

Reviewing the copper market for the past week the Boston News Bureau says:

"The market for copper has been gradually tending to a lower level. Substantial sales have been made, but for some little time, but consumers and exporters have adopted an exceedingly conservative policy and as a consequence sales have been difficult to effect."

"Meanwhile values have been settling and have reached the level of about 10 1/2 cents, with more sellers than buyers. The market is being held at this level by the fact that the London situation remains the same; it looks as if the policy of the combination were to allow the selling to go on while the wave of depression lasts, and to support again when the tendency improves."

COAL LANDS OF UTAH.

P. H. Dillon of Pittsburgh Looks Over
Ground with Arthur L. Thomas.

The statement published in a morning paper that 13 townships of coal lands are sought to be controlled by Eastern men is denied by ex-Governor Arthur L. Thomas who lately went over the ground in company with P. H. Dillon of Pittsburgh, Pa. Mr. Dillon visited the properties because of reports that has reached him regarding the greatness of Utah's coal deposits. In going over the field with Mr. Thomas Mr. Dillon enquired about the prices of several properties with which he was very favorably impressed. Mr. Dillon is not representing the Frick interests in the coal lands of Utah, but is a private mind whether anything will come of the visit because of the high prices at which the coal lands are held by the owners.

COMING ZINC FIELD.

Shrewd Investors Look Upon Marion
County, Arkansas With Favor.

Marion county, Arkansas, in the northern part of the State, is looked upon by shrewd investors as the coming zinc field of America, says the American Mining News. The country is richly endowed with zinc, and mineralogists declare after investigation that it contains the best part of the world's future supply of zinc. The Morning Star is taking out an enormous amount of zinc and the White Eagle Silver & Lead is working out millions of dollars in sight. The ore is of a higher grade than that produced in Joplin, Mo. In the immediate vicinity of these mines the Nueces Zinc Mines company, whose offices are at No. 140 Nassau street, New York, has bought 160 acres of zinc property on which it has two mines, the Rosin Jack and the Ruby Jack, each taking up 40 acres. The remainder of the property is undeveloped, but known to be rich. The surface indications are unmistakable, and the surroundings highly favorable to economical mining. The claims are within three-quarters of a mile of Buffalo river. Railroads have been surveyed to within a short distance of them, one now being in course of construction, and Ingraham creek furnishes a never-failing supply of water.

MINING NOTES.

John T. Brecken is expected home tomorrow from Gold Mountain.

The last car of ore from the Savanna is said to have been very satisfactory.

W. H. Irvine is not expected to reach home with his bride before June 10th.

Col. H. L. Pickett will leave for the Savanna mine in Mojave county, Arizona, tomorrow evening.

Harvey Hardy returned last evening from Woodside on the Rio Grande Western where he has been prospecting for several weeks past.

Henry Miles is in the city from Blind Mountain, Tooele county, with some samples of ore which assay as much as 140 ounces silver and 65 per cent lead.

Advices state that the first lot of machinery for the new crushing plant at the Sacramento will be shipped on June 7th. It is likely to be ninety days or more before all the material will be on the ground.

The Joplin, Mo., correspondent of the American Mining News says that the influx of strangers just now is unprecedented for the season, and operators, especially those who have claims to sell, are pleased to see that the majority of them are investors who are looking for promising mining properties.

Washington County News: C. D. White returned from his mine, the Copper Mountain, Tuesday and left for home at 10 o'clock Wednesday.

Mr. White is pleased with the work being accomplished at the mine, and reports the party out there working on two veins of copper ore which Mr. White will converge into one big body of very rich ore.

Rock Springs (Wyo.) Independent: The Black Butte mine, south of here, were closed down for an indefinite period last Tuesday, and the miners who were thrown out of work came up to Rock Springs to look for employment. The Black Butte mine which are owned by W. A. Clark, the Montana millionaire, and associates, employed about twenty-five men. It is reported that these mines will be reopened in a few weeks with new machinery and upon a much larger scale than heretofore.

REVIEW OF WOOL MARKET.

Boston, May 23.—The American Wool and Cotton Reporter will say Thursday: "There is still no improvement to be noted in the condition of the wool market. In fact, the business previously noted has been intensified, with the market in as nearly a state of complete stagnation as it is possible to conceive it."

"The mills are pursuing the strictly hand-to-mouth policy in the purchasing of wool, because of the quietness of the goods trade and the uncertainty as to the style of goods which will be in demand for the coming light-weight season. In the Territories, the prices are being paid for the new wools, when there is any business done, but growers' ideas, as a whole, are still considerably above the ideas of eastern purchasers."

"The sales of the week in Boston amounted to 1,075,000 pounds domestic and 75,000 pounds foreign, making a total of 1,150,000 pounds, against a total of 2,550,000 for the previous week and 4,400,000 for the corresponding week last year. The sales since January last amount to 11,462,000 pounds, against 10,726,000 pounds for the corresponding time last year."

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

Boston, May 23.—There has been no improvement in the wool market here this week. Prices have been made simply to get immediate necessities. The Territory wools meet with slow sale, with prices nominal. Fleece wools are lifeless, about all the demand being for quartered and grades. Quotations: Territory wools: Montana and Dakota fine medium, 19@20c; scoured, 55c; staple, 55c; Utah-Wyoming fine medium and fine, 17@18c; scoured 54@55c; staple, 55@56c. POLITICAL POINTERS.

It is predicted that Mayor Thompson will veto the ordinance passed by the council last night abolishing the offices of sanitary inspector and food inspector. The mayor had named J. A. Heise and Parley White for the respective offices, but the appointments were hung up until last night's action, which effectually disposes of them. Should the veto come in, the council is likely to pass the ordinance over it as President Buckie, Cornelius Beatty, Gen. Smeil and Robertson, Republicans, are voting with the Democrats on this proposition. Should the ordinance pass, it is understood that Dr. Garrison, a close friend of Dr. Beatty and Dr. King, will be put in as the latter's chief assistant.

Judge George F. Goodwin's claims as a candidate for the nomination for district judge will be urged at the Republican convention.

Martin Lindsay, of the historian's office, is one of the prominent candidates for the nomination for country recorder on the Democratic ticket, and hopes to get into the convention with considerable support.

State Senator Howell, of Cache county, is a strongly urged to become a candidate for governor on the Republican ticket. As yet, Mr. Howell has not signified his intention of entering the contest.

The prohibition States convention will be held at St. Mark's hall on June 6th, to nominate a full State ticket and elect six delegates to the national convention at Chicago on June 3rd.

Hon. W. W. Stewart, chairman of the prohibition national committee, is coming to Utah in a few days to "get things moving."

William Glasmann, telephoned the "News" from Tooele today that he was not touring that county under the auspices of the Republican State committee, but under the auspices of the Tooele county Republican committee. Mr. Glasmann spoke to a large audience at Tooele last evening and is billed for Lake Point tonight.

PERMITS TO GRAZE SHEEP.

Many Sheepmen Will Turn Their Flocks on the Reservation

IN UTAH COUNTY, UTAH.

Permits for Eighty Thousand Head of Sheep Issued to Date—Will Provide for 200,000 Head.

George F. Bucher, supervisor of the forest reserves for Utah, was besieged all day yesterday by applicants for special permits to graze their sheep on the Utah forest reservation. According to the terms of a recent ruling of the interior department, the sheepmen of Utah are authorized, under certain regulations, to pasture 200,000 sheep on the government forest reserve from July 1 to October 1.

To date permits have been issued to James Winter, John E. Rudy, E. J. Judd, A. J. Knollin & Co., N. A. Scribner, Charles C. Burnham, J. P. Cochran, J. C. Homer, Joseph Hanson, W. H. Caldwell, Rio Grande Livestock company, George A. Park, James Salisbury, John C. Labadie, George Saville, J. W. Fenlon, Jacob Hunter, T. C. Chiman, James Chipman, M. P. Hill, James Park, E. S. Mitchell, Freebairn Bros., Jas. L. Wrathall, Jacob E. Jensen and John S. Jones.

The number of sheep provided for in the permits already issued are 80,000, or about 2,000 head for each applicant. It is the opinion of Mr. Bucher, that permits for about 20,000 more will be issued in Salt Lake, and 60,000 or 75,000 more throughout the balance of the State. Grazing privileges have been obtained from the Utah Indians for 75,000 sheep, over which the government will have no control.

Mr. Bucher recently visited the reservation, in company with Colonel May of Denver, the superintendent of forest reserves for Utah, Colorado, and Wyoming. The winds were very high and the great volume of dust on the desert made the trip an unusually hard one. Mr. Bucher reports that the sheep are in splendid condition, the outcome of the lambing season being especially promising, as but very few lambs are dying.
