

FRAGMENTS.

THERE are messages at the Western Union Telegraph Office for Chas. H. Parker, Emerit T. Swopes and J. Friedlander.

NIELA LUNDRELL and Niela Lindahl were convicted, in a trial before Commissioner Pierce yesterday afternoon, of forcible and detainer. Joseph Lindahl, accused of the same offense, was acquitted. Those convicted were fined the costs, $30 each.

THIS afternoon there was some good playing in the ball game on Washington square. At 3 o'clock the score stood 5 to 3 in favor of the All-American nine. About 20 minutes later, during the fifth inning, the game was stopped on account of the rain. There were about three thousand spectators present.

ON Saturday at Logan, Dr. Richards, of Salt Lake, and Dr. Snow, of Logan, performed an operation on Wm. G. Farrell, the young man upon whom a similar operation was performed during the summer. It grew worse until a few months ago the limb was amputated at the knee. Finding that it was found necessary to amputate it at the thigh, which was skillfully done yesterday. The young man, though very weak, is getting along as well as could be expected. He is but 20 years of age.

LAST evening Mr. W. A. Aubrey and Miss Fie Jenkins, the former a son of Mr. Thomas Aubrey, of this city, and the latter the daughter of Mr. Thomas Jenkins were married in this city. Mr. Aubrey has been for some time a clerk in the Salt Lake Post office, in which position he is decidedly popular, on account of his uniform courteous bearing. The young couple have the best wishes of a host of friends.

At Home.

Hon. John T. Caine, Utah's Delegate to Congress, arrived last evening from Washington, after an almost continuous stay at the seat of the general government of nearly eleven months, that being about the extent of his last visit. During that period, as the public is aware, he has been assiduously engaged in looking after the interests of his constituents. He returned home quietly, but few people being aware of the time when he would arrive. A number of friends went yesterday to Ogden, from whence they escorted him to this city. With the exception of the effects of his long and arduous journey, Mr. Caine is in excellent health.

In answer to a question put to him today on the subject, Delegate Caine expressed himself as being confident of Mr. Cleveland's election.

Laying the Corner Stone.

The 6th of November will be a most important day in the history of Ogden. On that day the corner stone of the Union depot will be laid under the auspices of the Grand Lodge of the A. F. and A. M. The ceremonies will be imposing, the procession will be one of the finest seen in Ogden. Committees are daily at work making the most extensive preparations for that day. The majority of the schools have already promised to close for the day and it is expected that all business houses will close from noon until after the ceremonies. The effect of the railroads centering in Ogden have made it a half rate over their roads for that day and it is expected that hundreds of people will take advantage of the day and be present to witness the laying of the corner stone according to the ritual of the Masonic order—Ogden Standard.

Probate Court.

Proceedings in the Salt Lake County Probate Court yesterday: In the matter of the estate of Frank Crocker, administrator; petition filed for order for administration to assign and transfer. Order made for administration to transfer and assign lease. Estate of James Baldwin, deceased; petition for order revoking order appointing executor and for the appointment of administrator with will annexed, came on regularly for hearing; proof of posting notices of time and place of hearing made. Order made revoking order appointing executor, and appointing John A. Davis and Edw. A. Davis administrators. With the will annexed, upon filing a bond by each of said administrators in the sum of $500. Estate of William J. Howell, deceased; order made for the appointment of place for settlement of final account, and to hear petition for distribution. In the matter of the estate of Frank Crocker, deceased; order made revoking all former orders made in relation to real estate, came on this day for hearing, as the order for publication read three weeks instead of four.

M'lie Rhea.

There was another large audience at the Opera House last night to witness M'lie Rhea's impersonation of "Adrienne Lecouvreur," and the unanimous verdict was that she was a wonderful performer. Miss Waterman, Mr. Harris, Mr. McManus and the lighter characters sustained their parts admirably. When M'lie Rhea made her appearance in the second act, she was warmly received and from that time to the powerful scene in the last act her presence on the stage riveted the close attention of the audience. As "Adrienne" she made a decided hit. Her costume was magnificent, but her attitude, voice and refined yet powerful manner, cast all other attractions into the shade, to become an afterthought. Her foreign accent, in some of the rapid passages, is so strong that at times she is not understood, but in her most artistic scenes her rich voice and careful enunciation obscure this feature, and her whole demeanor marks her as an artistic tragedienne of the highest order. This evening her engagement closes with Sardou's brilliant piece, "D'Almeida."

A Series of Hurts and Mishaps. On Sunday afternoon Mr. J. T. McIntosh, was kicked on the right thigh by a horse. He had taken a drive to the Hot Springs, and the horse being taken out for a rub down, was very restless. He was walking past when the animal struck out behind and succeeded in landing a terrible blow on his thigh. Yesterday the gentleman was limping around but felt he would soon recover from the blow.

On Monday, Mr. James Bane was shooting a horse when he met with a very painful accident. While he was in the act of striking a nail the horse jerked away and the hammer landed on the knee cap of Mr. Bane. The pain made him very faint and it was some time before he was able to speak. Later in the day he was again hurt while attempting to continue work, and was unable to get home without assistance. He was unable to go to work yesterday. Last evening a break down occurred in front of H. C. Wardleigh's music temple. Mrs. C. W. Chase, of Mount Fort, with two or three other ladies were in the buggy, which was stationary at the time. A number of young men coming along in a wagon ran into the buggy, upsetting it. The ladies were thrown out and the wagon was overturned. Mrs. Chase had to the contrary. At any rate she was the day, for the boys went off and purchased a new wheel. Ogden Standard.

AN ELDER LOST.

Strong Probability that He has been Murdered.

A letter has been received by Apostle F. D. Richards, from the President of the Southern States Mission, which contains the painful intelligence that a Latter-day Saint Elder has probably been foully dealt with in Mississippi or Alabama. Elder Alma F. Richards, son of Morgan Richards, whose residence we understand to be at Pangulitch, Garfield County, has been on a mission to the Southern States for some time. Early in August last his family ceased receiving letters from him. They wrote frequently, but obtained no reply, and their anxiety was such that they sent a letter to Elder William Spry, president of the mission, at Chattanooga, Tenn. Subsequently it was learned that this letter never reached its destination. After waiting a short time Elder Richards' family called the attention of Apostle F. D. Richards to the matter. The latter took immediate steps to clear up the mystery, and the result caused grave doubts as to whether Elder Richards has not been murdered by the foes of truth. The letter just received from Elder Spry states that Elder Richards' absence was noted there, and inquiries made, but without satisfactory result. At this time Apostle Richards' communication was received, and a number of Elders were started on the search. Their most energetic efforts, however, failed to ascertain his whereabouts. The last that could be learned was that on the night of August 1st, he was at the house of a Mr. Kemp, a member of the Church in Jasper County, Mississippi, on the morning of August 2nd he started for Enterprise, a railway station, a few miles from Mr. Kemp's, his intention being to take train to Alabama. From that date nothing can be learned of his course. It is unusual for the Elders to travel singly for any great length of time, but Elder Richards had been left alone in that section owing to the release of his traveling companion, to return home, and a new appointment had not been made, as it was anticipated there would soon be some new Elders from Utah to go to that section. The report of the search made for the lost missionary states that, from the circumstances that have been learned connected with his disappearance, there are strong reasons to believe that Elder Richards has been foully dealt with, his life having been probably taken by those who are thirsting for the blood of the Saints. We sincerely hope that this is not the case and that the missing Elder will be found all right, but from all that can be learned at the present time there is but little on which to base such a hope.

JOHN A. OLSEN.

Drowned in the Salt Lake and Jordan Canal.

Yesterday John A. Olsen, a gentleman about sixty years of age, was at work on the bridge across the Salt Lake and Jordan canal, at Sandy, Salt Lake County. When on the bridge his horse became frightened and unmanageable. They backed, crowding together into the canal, and going over on top of it. The unfortunate driver was caught beneath the vehicle as it went over, and being held down by the weight of the buggy and horses he was unable to save himself. The entertainment was such that those who came to his assistance, though they made every effort possible to get him out, were unable to do so until after he was dead. The justice of the peace was notified and an inquest held. The verdict was that the deceased came to his death by accidental drowning.

POLICE ITEMS.

The Burglars' Cases—Other Violations of the Laws.

Richard Parsons, a soldier, was taken in by the police last night for being drunk. He was turned over to the military police. Wm. Welch was lodged in jail last night for drunkenness. He has not yet been tried. A crazy woman created a disturbance near the Metropolitan Hotel today, and the police had to be summoned. R. Rasmussen, who has a shop in the rear of Hammond Hall, has one rifle among his effects today than he had yesterday. He left the weapon in his shop last night, but before he arrived there this morning, a thief had carried it off. Milo J. Reese, a Fort Douglas soldier, is in the city jail for violating the Territorial statutes by having made a nuisance of a saloon on First Street. The offense was committed last night, and when the police were called Reese made off as fast as he could. A short time ago he met Officer Salmon, of whom he demanded: "Who do you want?" "A woman," he replied, "but I arrived there this morning, a thief had carried it off."

The committee on improvements, to whom the petition of the Kirkpatrick and others, asking that two street lamps be placed on First West, between Second and Third Streets, recommended that the improvements be made. Adopted. Mr. Richards reported a resolution granting a franchise to the Salt Lake Sanitary Company. It gives the company the right to lay pipes for the purpose of conveying water from the Great Salt Lake and hot sulphur springs, to be laid along the right of way of the Utah Central Railway from the northern limits of the city proper to the corner of First West Street, and from thence east on Temple Street to Second West Street. The committee on fire Department, to whom was referred the report of the chief engineer, submitted at the last meeting, reported they had found it correct. They recommended that the proposition of the Slaby Manufacturing Company to rebuild the old steam engine be adopted. Adopted. The committee on irrigation, with the Mayor associated, to whom was referred the petition of the North Salt Lake Irrigation Company, asking the consent of the Council to construct a dam across the Jordan River, a short distance from where the Jordan and Salt Lake Canal connects with the Jordan River, reported recommending that the company be granted the privilege to construct a dam across the Jordan River, the dam named the North Salt Lake Dam, and the petition of said North Salt Lake Irrigation Company subject to the following conditions: 1. That the site of said dam shall not be placed above the bed of the river. 2. That the open space or water race in said dam shall not be less than eighty feet in width, and that the dam be constructed under the supervision of the city surveyor, who will work in conjunction with the County Clerk of Salt Lake County. After considerable discussion the matter was referred back to the committee. The sum of $60,000.72 was appropriated to take up corporation bonds to executive session. An hour after the doors were re-opened, the matter was taken up. It was learned that the sum of $25,000 had been appropriated to pay for options on water rights along Parley's Creek, the money to be paid when the

A MISSIONARY DEAD.

The Manner and Cause of his Demise Not Yet Ascertained.

Today a telegram to the Church authorities in this city brought sorrowful tidings from the Southern States. It was the first news of the death of Elder Vincent Pugmire, of St. Charles, Bear Lake County, Idaho. The telegram was simply an announcement that Elder Pugmire's remains would reach Ogden on Saturday evening.

As there had been no intimation of the Elder's illness, nor any account of his death, telegram west at once sent to the Headquarters of the Southern States mission, inquiring for full particulars; up to 3:30 p. m. today no reply had been received, but it is likely that the desired information will reach here to night. The dispatch regarding the body does not even state the place of the Elder's death. It is thought to be quite probable, from the manner of the dispatch, that a previous telegram had been sent and failed to arrive, stating the place and manner of Elder Pugmire's death, and whether or not it was from natural causes. Further particulars are awaited with anxiety. Elder Pugmire was about 38 years of age, and was born in the Seventh Ward of this city. He was the son of Bishop Jonathan Pugmire. For a number of years he has resided at St. Charles. He was a man of excellent character. He leaves a wife and six or seven children, with whom the Latter-day Saints will deeply sympathize in their sad bereavement.

CITY COUNCIL.

The Session of the Municipal Fathers Last Evening.

The City Council met in regular session at 7 o'clock last evening, Mayor Armstrong presiding. The Salt Lake City Brewing Company and others asked an extension of the water mains to their premises. Referred to the committee on waterworks. J. W. Ure and others, residents of South Temple Street, near the crossing of the Utah & Nevada and D. & R. G. tracks, asked that an electric light be placed near that point. Under the present state of affairs there was considerable danger to life and limb. Referred to the committee on improvements. S. A. Wright and others asked that a gully near their residences be filled up. It was dangerous to man and beast, especially at night. Referred to committee on streets. C. A. Baescher represented that he was the owner of a piece of property that was assessed in with that of others, and that the assessor had refused to separate it when so requested to do. Referred to the assessor for proper action. F. H. Hesse asked that he be allowed a portion of the corner on Main and Second South streets to show his telescopes and microscopes. He was in no one's way, he tried, but had been removed by the marshal. He was allowed to remain, at the pleasure of the Council and under the direction of the marshal. Cunningham & Co. complained that their business was seriously injured by the congregation on their corner of wood and potato wagons. They had frequently complained to the police, but had found no relief. They now applied to the Council. After some discussion, the matter was referred to the marshal, the understanding being that wood teams should be hauled over to Washington Square, while the potato wagons should be so arranged as not to interfere with the business of the pedestrians. Edmund Wilkes asked an extension of thirty days on the time in which to file his bonds, guaranteeing the construction of the electric railway. Granted. A communication from R. Fapworth regarding a certain piece of property, was referred to the Mayor. E. M. Weiler asked that in consequence of the approach of cold weather, the mains be extended along certain streets before the local tax was paid. Laid on the table. Two liquor licenses and one auctioneer's license were granted. The following communication was read and referred to the committee on license: At a regular meeting of the Salt Lake Medical Society held last evening, a report of your honorable body relative to the causing the practice of medicine in this city was discussed. The result of this discussion was that the present committee was appointed to wait upon the Council and ask for a reconsideration, for the following reasons:—That a license imposed upon one of the highest professions and a most honorable one of place as imposed in the medical profession, because physicians, as a rule, attend to the poor and the needy, and do a great deal of work without compensation. If the object of the license is to raise the standard of medical practice, by protecting those in the community capable of judging the merits of a physician, we think the ordinance fails to meet the end. The medical profession, as a rule, pay themselves, following the payment of their enormous fees, so that they are better able to pay a tax than the honest connoisseurs of regular medical men. The question, however, is, does his business, the community is not protected and the standard of the medical practice is not raised. We would add that the medical society is heartily in accord with any movement which will raise the standard of medical practice in this city, and which will exclude those men known as quacks, and to effect the result we would suggest to your honorable body that such methods be adopted as would raise the standard of the medical profession, which would be the establishment of an examining board to investigate the merits of all who wish to practice medicine, which would be the granting of recommendation for license to the "good" man. The Council did not specifically ask your consideration of the matter, but your honorable body will repeat the tax which appears so unusual. J. S. RICHARDS. For the committee, The committee on improvements, to whom the petition of the Kirkpatrick and others, asking that two street lamps be placed on First West, between Second and Third Streets, recommended that the improvements be made. Adopted. Mr. Richards reported a resolution granting a franchise to the Salt Lake Sanitary Company. It gives the company the right to lay pipes for the purpose of conveying water from the Great Salt Lake and hot sulphur springs, to be laid along the right of way of the Utah Central Railway from the northern limits of the city proper to the corner of First West Street, and from thence east on Temple Street to Second West Street. The committee on fire Department, to whom was referred the report of the chief engineer, submitted at the last meeting, reported they had found it correct. They recommended that the proposition of the Slaby Manufacturing Company to rebuild the old steam engine be adopted. Adopted. An hour after the doors were re-opened, the matter was taken up. It was learned that the sum of $25,000 had been appropriated to pay for options on water rights along Parley's Creek, the money to be paid when the titles are approved by the city attorney, associated with Councilor Young. The Deseret Woolen Mills Company receives $16,500, and the Watch Woolen Mills Company $10,000. Adjourned until Tuesday evening next at 7 o'clock.
