SOCIAL CHAT

A very few functions have enlivened the week, most of them having been of an informal nature. Probably the largest were the dancing party at the Ladies' Literary club given by the members of the Twenty club, and the card party given by Miss Cosgriff at the Kenyon in honor of her sister Miss Elizabeth Cosgriff and Mr. William Fife whose marriage takes place shortly.

Miss Cosgriff's guests numbered about 75, 15 tables being played. The parlors were beautifully decorated in American Beauty roses, pink carnations, palms and ferns arranged on mantels and tables and about the rooms, and the score cards were red hearts tied with white ribbons. Assisting the hostess and guest of honor in receiving were Mrs. J. B. Cosgriff, Mrs. W. C. Alexander and Miss Gertrude McGrath.

Another large affair of the week was the party given by Mrs. D. C. Jackling on Monday night in honor of Winifred Brice and Dora Bradley, the function being a dancing party and the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Downing and Mrs. Brice. The rooms were bright with a profusion of palms, ferns and flowers, and refreshments were served from a prettily decorated table.

A number of bob-sleigh parties have been enjoyed by the younger sets during the sleighing season, and many of these have been followed by champagne suppers at the homes of the participants.

A great number of parties were on last night at the Calve concert, followed by suppers at the various clubs.

The dancing party given by the Twenty club at the Ladies' Literary club on Thursday night was a delightful affair, the hall and basement being prettily decorated with palms, vines and flowers and a large number being present. Capt. and Mrs. Sturgis chaperoned the affair.

Miss Gertrude McGrath will entertain in honor of Miss Elizabeth Cosgriff next Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Y. Wallace entertained informally on Tuesday in celebration of their wedding anniversary, the function being a dinner, and the table being bright and effective with floral decorations.

Last night the Juniors of the Y. M. C. A. gave a delightful banquet at the club rooms.

Miss Marge Eliebeck entertained at cards on Tuesday afternoon, her guests being chiefly members of the Sewing club. Prizes were won by Mrs. Elliot Kimball and Miss Annie Adams.

A dinner was given at the University club last night by D. M. Boyd, David Taylor and Matthew Brodie previous to the dance at the Ladies' Literary club, their guests being Capt. and Mrs. Sturgis, Miss Marge Miller, Miss Laura Sherman, Miss Mary Scallan, Miss Miller and Mr. Gruber.

The Misses D'Arms were hostesses at a pleasant card party on Tuesday night, the rooms being prettily decorated and the following guests enjoying the evening: Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Lansing of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Al Smith, Mrs. L. Handel of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Dunyon, the Misses Carrie and Eva Dunyon, Messrs. John Dunyon, George Mathis, Ashby, Will Sibley and Michel D'Arms.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Boyd entertained the Monday Night club at their home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Ellerbeck entertained on Thursday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pitt of Manila. The rooms were prettily decorated in pink carnations and about 20 guests were present.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Pinkerton entertained at dinner on Tuesday in celebration of Mrs. Pinkerton's birthday, the decorations being American Beauty roses, and covers being laid for 16. Mrs. B. F. Sherbondy was guest of honor.

Mrs. Della Ellis of Seattle was guest of honor at an informal dinner given by Mrs. W. H. McIntyre on Tuesday.

Miss Gertrude McGrath will entertain next Thursday in honor of Miss Elizabeth Cosgriff.

Mrs. Helen Metras entertained the Lillian Hollister Hive this week at a pleasant evening party in honor of Miss Isabel Grant of Park City.

Miss Lella Stingley entertained the Sewing club at her home on Wednesday.

Miss Ina Rully entertained her Sewing club this week.

The members of Mrs. Charlotte Newman's Sewing club were entertained at her home on Tuesday.

Mrs. Heber Lee was hostess at a pleasant afternoon affair on Monday, given in honor of Mrs. Harold Pitt of Manila and Miss Edna Dwyer, the rooms being prettily decorated for the occasion and about 40 friends being present. The tables were hand-painted in water colors.

Mrs. Frank Lowe was hostess at a pretty luncheon on Tuesday.

Miss Elizabeth Cosgriff will be guest of honor at an afternoon bridge party on Monday at the Kenyon, given by Mrs. A. C. Ewing and Mrs. W. C. Alexander.

The family party in honor of the twenty-ninth anniversary of the birth of the late President Geo. Q. Cannon, given by the members of his family last Thursday evening, was one of the largest and most enjoyable social functions of the week. The celebration was held at the home of Mrs. Annie W. Cannon, and was attended by over 100 descendants of the late Church leader. An interesting and select program was preceded by an elaborate repast. During the evening the Cannon Chronicle was read, as were letters from absent ones. The evening was one long to be remembered, and brought to the minds of his descendants the greatness of the man whose memory they cherish.

Among the social events of the week was a birthday party given in honor of Mr. Bertha H. Jensen at 154 north Second West, on Wednesday evening. The rooms were prettily decorated in roses, carnations, hyacinths and evergreens, and covers were laid for 26. A most enjoyable evening was spent in games, music and speeches, and a sumptuous supper was served. The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Gustave W. Teidt, Thomas E. Jacobson, Alfred C. Rees, Charles H. Miles, George D. Bennett, Arnt Engdahl, Mrs. Melissa S. Bowman, Miss Rebecca Christiansen, and Messrs. Paul Zysling, Hyrum Christensen and Jesse Flint. The young ladies in waiting

THE BLACK EVENING COAT.

Every woman aims to possess at least one evening coat, and for her whose purse is limited to but one of these dainty creations, the black garment is far the better choice. The coat illustrated here is of a soft liberty satin, the skirt extremely full and gathered into a belt of broad black silk braid finished both back and front with two large cut steel buttons. This same braid in two widths trims the skirt with its broad band of velvet. The waist portion is full and drawn easily into the belt, the broad collar and revers heavily embroidered in pastel shades and piped with white satin. The chinchilla collar and revers may be detached at a minute's notice if the wearer desires. Full bishop sleeves have high cavalier cuffs of velvet braided, and hand frills of repousse lace in white. The ermine banded yoke is of shirred chiffon trimmed with nodding white ostrich plumes and long ties of the chiffon.

were Misses Emma and Zina Smith and Eva H. Jensen.

THE LARGER OUTSIDE CITIES

OGDEN.

Among the most brilliant social events of the season was the marriage of Mrs. C. Angus Wright and Miss Margaret McElroy which was solemnized Wednesday in the Salt Lake Temple. The happy young bride and groom returned to Ogden on the evening train. They were escorted to the home of the groom's parents Mr. and Mrs. August Wright on Twenty-fourth street, where they were greeted by a large circle of relatives, who extended congratulations and spent a very enjoyable evening. A sumptuous wedding repast was served. The home was prettily decorated with cut flowers and ferns. The bride is one of the most popular and highly esteemed young ladies of Ogden. Mr. Wright is advertising manager for W. H. Wright & Sons company, and one of the city's most progressive young business men. He recently returned from a mission to the Southern States. Mr. and Mrs. Wright will make their home at 585 Twenty-fourth street.

Wednesday evening the Fourth ward choir enjoyed their annual bob-ride, under the management of their conductor, Cron Griffin and his associates. For this ride they sincerely thank those who so kindly furnished their teams and sleighs. During the evening they serenaded President Sheriff Middleton and Flygare, Bishop E. T. Woolley and Counselors Gwiliam and Belpap. Mayor Conroy, also Charles A. Wright and bride. Every member of the choir wished them a happy and prosperous voyage through life. After the ride they returned to the amusement hall, where the choir ladies had provided some very dainty refreshments. The remainder of the time was spent in dancing, interspersed with songs, all feeling that it was one of the most enjoyable events of the season.

PROVO.

The Sorosis met Wednesday with Mrs. R. R. Irvine, Jr. Mrs. Irvine

MELLIN'S FOOD

THE LEATHER AUTOMOBILE SUIT.

Automobile designers seem to vie with one another in producing garments for the fair bubble which shall be at once serviceable, good style and becoming. All sorts of heavy woolen materials and furs are employed in these garments for cold weather wear, but nothing resists the cold and bad weather as does leather. The picture shows a walking length skirt of soft brown leather cut with gored top and circular flounce, stichings in white. The coat is a loose fitting affair coming to below the knee line, and has a circular flounce, matching the skirt, which runs up the front in plastron effect, to the neck. A pointed yoke effect is obtained by the use of broad bands of the leather stitched and held in place with small straps and harness buckles in gun metal, the front fastening likewise made with these straps and buckles. Buckles and straps also trim the regulation coat sleeve, the high cuff of which continues in a broad strap on the top of the arm and ends in a point at the shoulder line. The lining is gray and white squirrel, and the high storm collar is faced with a tan leather which also pipes the edges and seams of the garment.
