

DESERET EVENING NEWS

Published every day, except Sunday, at 4 A.M.
Subscription price, 10 cents; 12 months, $1.00.
Postage paid at post office, Washington, D.C., for mail matter.

THE SUNDAY WEEKLY.
A $1.00 per year magazine, the cheapest and best in the country, specially selected as a series of moral books. Price per volume of 32 numbers, $1.00 per year, $12.00.

An Unhappy Lovebird.
Mr. and Mrs. John L. Lovewell, in the father of a very handsome daughter. In the morning this young lady attended Sunday school at a church across the street from her home. After the session the lover of the young lady, named Campbell, appeared on the scene in company with his mother, who had come to call him. After they had walked along at the edge of our residence, we exchanged a few words and then I said to him, "What are you doing?" He replied, "I am here to stamp impostor." I asked him, "What old man and his wife?" "You are already writing many letters and think worth answering them?"

"But he was a stock of letters to you, you want me to answer them, but why don't you buy them as you need them?" was the reply, as he shut the drawer under his elbow, apparently hath to part with any of its precious contents.

Annotations were made, and we saw the action of sealing a variety and tempered our desire to a hundred stamps for a few ten cent letters for foreign postage.

"Ah, no," he said, "I can't let you have any less than a hundred letters each week." I have broken my pen, and it is near the end of the month, when I make up my books, and I can't have my accounts confused by writing ten cent stamps to any one."

We compromised, on a double number
of five thousand stamps, the cost in the use of which would be approximately one-half of the value of the postage
with effect of France Post until they looked like the scale of a chronic dower's ship.—F. D. Miller in Barbers.

A Poor Walk.
The abandoned writer, who, after filling a sheet of paper with what, at least, is valuable literature, tears it up without knowing what he is doing
and throws the bits of paper in a trash box, until he comes across them again and uses them again. This is his
"thinkless" action. He had completed an article of several thousand words and had finished "looking it over" and making changes and corrections in it. Then he sat back and let his mind dwell upon the subject upon which he had been thinking for some time, and he did not know what to do with the manuscript.
They have it all in my fine fingers and threw them away.

Then the man got up with a sigh of satisfaction, and, as he sat down to his manuscript, did, as he says, his "thinkless" action. Not until the next day, when he went to his desk to take out the manuscript, did he discover how much his terrible vice of absent-mindedness had cost him. All his labor and pains were gone in fragments of worthless paper. The author, in despair, sat down and wept. But he has his "thinkless" habit, so there is no help for him. He considers himself a "hopeless case" and tries to make the best of a bad trade, striving and expending mind.—New York Tribune.

Ripening to Settle in Vermont.
Mr. Howard Kipps is in Vancouver awaiting the sailing of the Empress, by which he and his wife will go to Japan. He said the people in England were, being accustomed to the vastness and great freedom of the northlands of Canada. At such a distance from the nearest populated valley among others, Englishmen regarding Canada. They had looked upon the northwest as part of the American republic, but they had advanced to the fact that a boundary line existed, and that the Canadian portion of the continent was much the more desirable for settlement.

He was on his way to India, but proposed remaining for a time in Japan and New Zealand. After his trip to India it was his intention to travel up the northwest in Vermont. U.
S. A. His wife had been born there. He had purchased some property there with that object in view. On his first visit to Vancouver he had come directly from San Francisco—Vancouver Telegram.

June the Window Breaker.
A woman has been arrested at West Superior who is thought to be the erratic and notorious window breaker known as Harron Beebe, who created such a sensation in Arkland recently. She was noticed walking about in Toledo, Ohio, near the front door of Drs. G. V.
and L. W. Doles, and arrested on suspicion. She told this story.

She is Mary O'Brien, but my real name is Mrs. E. J. Haley, and my husband is a well to do man. Paul deacon.
I came to America to get away from my husband. Why do I break windows?
Oh, I like to hear the crack and jingle.
I use a stone like this," pronouncing one from the reason of her dress. The woman is well dressed and quite good looking.—
Cot. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Louise a Novice.
A savage mountain lion was turned loose at Ridgeway, and two hours later a large band of horsemen and a pack of hounds began a chase. The lion had been in captivity a year and a half. Its feet were bound and hunte unable to restrain it when it started to escape, when it was treed. A moway lanced it and pulled it down from the tree, and it was taken back to town in a wagon and again placed in its cage.
 The chase was witnessed by many people from Duray and the entire population of the town around Ridgeway.—Duray (Colo.) Cot. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Taste with an Alligator.
A boy having discovered an alligator in a ditch between Lakes Gore and Minnetah, the southeastern portion of Orlando, was taking an alarm. A kid came with a stick and beat the alligator out.
A terrible struggle then began.
Mr. Michton arrived presently. His ax was brought into play, and several large gashes were cut in the reptile's head.
He measured eight and a half feet.
It is remarkable for the loss of many limbs, dogs, etc.—Cot. Florida Times-Union.

Gone to School Pathetically.
The crown prince of Japan, Yosihito, three years and a half, now three years old, is made to recognize that there is no royal road to learning. He attends the high school in Tokyo, and in his school report of last term particular mention is made of his diligence and of the fact that during the whole of last year his progress, though not rapid, was in single day's advancement.—London Tit-Blitz.

Flowers for the Fair.
From the royal court of Ireland,
John Thorne, the famous floral artist,
has received information that two cases containing 1,500 plants have been shipped to the World's fair. Mr. Thorne believes that his floral display will sweep anything of the sort, which the world has ever seen.

A man was gibbeted in Switzerland two weeks ago for murder. It was the first execution in Switzerland for twenty-four years, capital punishment having been abolished in 1837, and that method of inflicting punishment having been resumed only recently.

Thus far the United States fish commission has not extended its operations with respect to the artificial breeding of salmon in Alaska. Its attempts to this has been limited to the Columbia and Sacramento rivers.

Waging War to Finance.
At the particular place where we went to buy our European stamp, the young old postmaster and his wife characters not unusual in the rural offices in other countries—was an overwhelmed by the extent of our requirements and the number of stamps required to meet them. He was compelled to work at all. After they had carefully read all the addresses, and had marveled long at the range of our respondence, we succeeded in communicating to him that the fact that we wanted to buy a stock of stamps of various denominations.

"What are you going to stamp?" Impulsively I pointed to the old man and his wife's wife. "You are already sending many letters and this is worth answering them?"

"But we want a stock of stamps to keep you from sending me more. We may, but you want me to do them, but why don't you buy them as you need
them?" was the reply, as he shut the
drawer under his elbow, apparently hath to part with any of its precious
contents.

Annotations were made, and we saw
the action of sealing a variety and
tempered our desire to a hundred stamps
for a few ten cent letters for foreign postage.

"Ah, no," he said, "I can't let you have any less than a hundred letters
each week." I have broken my pen, and it is near the end of the month, when I make up my books, and I can't have my
accounts confused by writing ten cent
stamps to any one."

We compromised, on a double number
of five thousand stamps, the cost in the use of which would be approximately
one-half of the value of the postage
with effect of France Post
until they looked like the scale of a chronic dower's ship.—F. D. Miller in Barbers.

A Bad Walk.
The abandoned writer, who, after filling a sheet of paper with what, at least, is valuable literature, tears it
up without knowing what he is doing
and throws the bits of paper in a trash
box, until he comes across them again
and uses them again. This is his
"thinkless" action. He had completed
an article of several thousand words and
had finished "looking it over" and making changes and corrections in it. Then
he sat back and let his mind dwell
upon the subject upon which he had been
thinking for some time, and he did not know what to do with the manuscript.
They have it all in my fine
fingers and threw them away.

Then the man got up with a sigh of
satisfaction, and, as he sat down to his
manuscript, did, as he says, his "thinkless"
action. Not until the next day, when he went to his desk to take out the
manuscript, did he discover how much
his terrible vice of absent-mindedness
had cost him. All his labor and pains were gone in fragments of worthless
paper. The author, in despair, sat down and wept. But he has his "thinkless"
habit, so there is no help for him. He considers himself a "hopeless case" and
tries to make the best of a bad trade, striving and expending mind.—New York Tribune.

Ripening to Settle in Vermont.
Mr. Howard Kipps is in Vancouver awaiting the sailing of the Empress, by which he and his wife will go to Japan. He said the people in England were, being accustomed to the vastness and great
freedom of the northlands of Canada. At such a distance from the nearest populated
valley among others, Englishmen regarding Canada. They had looked upon the northwest as part of the American
republic, but they had advanced to the fact that a boundary line existed, and that the Canadian portion of the continent was much the more desirable for settlement.

He was on his way to India, but proposed remaining for a time in Japan
and New Zealand. After his trip to India
it was his intention to travel up
the northwest in Vermont. U.
S. A. His wife had been born
there. He had purchased some property there
with that object in view. On his first visit to Vancouver he had come directly
from San Francisco—Vancouver Telegram.

June the Window Breaker.
A woman has been arrested at West Superior who is thought to be the erratic
and notorious window breaker known as Harron Beebe, who created such a sensation in Arkland recently. She was noticed walking about in Toledo, Ohio,
near the front door of Drs. G. V.
and L. W. Doles, and arrested on suspicion. She told this story.

She is Mary O'Brien, but my real
name is Mrs. E. J. Haley, and my husband is a well to do man. Paul deacon.
I came to America to get away from my husband. Why do I break windows?
Oh, I like to hear the crack and jingle.
I use a stone like this," pronouncing one
from the reason of her dress. The woman is well dressed and quite good looking.—
Cot. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Louise a Novice.
A savage mountain lion was turned
 loose at Ridgeway, and two hours later
 a large band of horsemen and a pack of hounds began a chase. The lion had been in captivity a year and a half. Its feet were bound and hunte unable
 to restrain it when it started to escape, when it was treed. A moway
 lanced it and pulled it down from the tree, and it was taken back to town in
 a wagon and again placed in its cage.
 The chase was witnessed by many people
 from Duray and the entire population of the town around Ridgeway.—Duray (Colo.) Cot. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Taste with an Alligator.
A boy having discovered an alligator in a ditch between Lakes Gore and Minnetah, the southeastern portion of Orlando,
was taking an alarm. A kid came
with a stick and beat the alligator out.
A terrible struggle then began.
Mr. Michton arrived presently. His ax was brought into play, and several
large gashes were cut in the reptile's head.
He measured eight and a half feet.
It is remarkable for the loss of
many limbs, dogs, etc.—Cot. Florida
Times-Union.

Gone to School Pathetically.
The crown prince of Japan, Yosihito, three years and a half, now three years old, is made to recognize that there is no
royal road to learning. He attends the high school in Tokyo, and in his school
report of last term particular mention
is made of his diligence and of the fact
that during the whole of last year his
progress, though not rapid, was in single
day's advancement.—London Tit-Blitz.

Flowers for the Fair.
From the royal court of Ireland,
John Thorne, the famous floral artist,
has received information that two
cases containing 1,500 plants have been shipped to the World's fair. Mr. Thorne believes that his floral display will sweep
anything of the sort, which the world has ever seen.

A man was gibbeted in Switzerland two weeks ago for murder. It was the first execution in Switzerland for twenty-
four years, capital punishment having been abolished in 1837, and that method
of inflicting punishment having been resumed only recently.

Thus far the United States fish commission has not extended its operations
with respect to the artificial breeding of salmon in Alaska. Its attempts to this has been limited to the Columbia and Sacramento rivers.

$500 Reward!

We will pay the above reward to any person who will furnish us information concerning the murder of Joseph E. Taylor, Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,

Pioneer Undertaker of Utah.

REWARD OFFICE, 1888.