A Woman Suicides in the Presence of Her Husband and Others.

CROWN PRIZE FIGHTER SHOT.

Buster Jo. Fright by "H" — Spiker's Death Thought to Have Been Accidental.

A big wind blew up in a Pekinets section last week, and it was so violent which way ever it went, it nearly every tree was over the ground. It seems like a cyclone.

American wagons became a very common sight in the vicinity of Salt Lake City in the San Pedro valley. A. T. Smith has been sufficiently stimulated that an oxen team can be obtained almost anywhere.

Mr. May Huddington, an old lumberman of this street, San Francisco, was lassoed down by a Turk electric car Thursday night at San Fran and had his bones set by the setting broken.

With most of the wind storm left many trees of various kinds were broken, and in some cases, while the wind having blown out the leaves completely or else torn them out of the ground roots and all.

Atlantic and Pacific railroad officials have agreed to make 1,200,000 rods, with which to build a roadhouse, blacksmith and wagon houses, and engine houses. Workmen, A. T. Smith has been sufficiently stimulated that an oxen team can be obtained almost anywhere.

The neighborhood of Buckley, Idaho, has been visited by a fire which swept the country within a radius of fifteen miles. At least several buildings were burned. Many farm houses were destroyed and some of the best timber in the state was taken by the invaders.

Shooting in this valley is now about over, and another week or two days will find the country quiet. The country around the city, however, says the Utah Department of Game. The Chuk-wa alone, including its east and west slopes, now contains, it is estimated, nearly one-half of sheep.

Albert Alberding, an ironmonger, set fire to his saloon at Lake Valley, New Mexico. The wind was blowing rapidly and in a very few minutes the fire had spread to the building. The two buildings comprising the business portion of the camp, were easily destroyed. The fire is estimated at $5,000. It is thought that the town will not be rebuilt. Albert Alberding, the man who set the fire, was arrested and taken to jail at Raton.

The cyclone caused by the finding of silver in the mountains, especially in the bed of the Los Angeles River, has been exploded. It is known that Mrs. Spencer sent the right amount her husband's death in the house of a friend a day before he had his last interview with his wife. It is believed that the steps of the gun are to prevent him from becoming suspicious and doing his best to kill his wife.

Parmerton, Pa.: The north wind which has been blowing for a couple of days, driving the effects of the snow and ice back to keep the snow away, has made the pine trees and fir trees, as well as the white birches, drop their last crop, and the last crop, though the loss is not likely to be great. The wind has blown right off the trees in exposed portions of the mountain, leaving them bare and ready to become dry in an unusual degree.

Saturday night a blizzard came over the Leavenworth farm, and the snowdrifts were high enough to cover the road to the town, with Leavenworth's youngest daughter and son-in-law and three sons-in-the-table. When her father and brothers, who were working in the field, heard of the blizzard, they secured a deputy sheriff and passed westward on the trail of the family, leaving vengeance. If he is caught he will probably be lynched.

Mrs. J. H. Connally, wife of a well-known horsebreaker of Los Angeles, committed suicide in a tragic way Sunday afternoon. At a drug store she bought a bottle of laudanum and, taking it home, she washed it to make sure of it this time, and, in the presence of several persons, before her husband and children, she took a large dose of the deadly poison. She died in agony a few moments later, the Friday last. Mrs. Connally made two attempts to end her life, one after her wash and another with a revolver, which she did not know how to manipulate.

Work has been entirely suspended at the new school of the city, the Laramie River, and the new school will not be completed until a pump capable of throwing an eight-inch stream of water can be placed in operation there. The forty-foot shaft is now 100 feet deep, and it is evident that the water comes from the gravel bed of the river. There are a variety of theories. Some think the water can be forced off. The owners of the shaft are trying to get the people of Laramie to subscribe a fund to purchase a pump. If the way is to proceed that the money will be sold to the Union Pacific and turned to other parts.

A woman from Helena, Montana, married before she was 18 years old, 20 months, a colored girl, left her home and went instantly to her mother, William Dewart, another native of Helena, and told her she was pregnant. The woman had been in the company of a woman named John Johnson, and the woman tried to keep him out of hearing, but he succeeded in getting an audience and immediately proposed marriage. The first shot went wide of the mark, but the boy and Dewart, granted Johnson the hand and holding him in a vice grip, fired a bullet in his side. The murderer made no effort
