

being made to meet the deficiency during the past two years, to wind up affairs. It refused to repeal the present Sunday law, or elect a State Harbor Commissioner.

Slight shocks of an earthquake were experienced in the city on Saturday and Sunday nights.

New York, 31.—A Montreal special says, the garrisons are under arms, and the volunteers all over the country have received orders to be ready. Greek fire has been discovered in the Irish part of the city. The government claims to have news of Fenian preparations in Buffalo and St. Albans. The move is said to be for the purpose of pressing the conscription bill through Parliament.

A Naples special says, Farragut gives a grand ball on board the Franklin today. The fleet will sail eastward at the close of the week.

Various specials deny the authenticity of the reported Turkish massacres in Crete.

London, 30, midnight.—In the House of Lords this evening Malmesbury disclaimed any intention upon the part of the English Government to interfere in the affairs of Paraguay.

In the House of Commons petitions in favor of and against the Irish Church establishment were read. Gladstone, after calling for the reading of the acts of Parliament in relation to the Irish Church, moved that the House proceed to consider them, and declared the time had come when the Irish Church should cease to exist as a State establishment. He would not add the details of the means by which this is to be brought about, because it was not the duty of the opposition to arrange them. All proprietary rights should be respected; but there should no longer be salaried clergy paid by the State, connected with the Church; and a fund for the benefit of Ireland should be created from the balance of the incomes of the Church. Gladstone proceeded to explain that the Liberal party had not dealt with this question, because it had never before been presented in concrete shape, as at the present time. Both parties, he said, were excusable for neglecting the subject, because the public sense had not before been fully aroused in regard to it. He repelled the charge of apostasy which might be made against him. Speaking of the measure which should be adopted, he recommended that the churches and parsonages should be left to the clergy, and those who chose to maintain them would indemnify the owner of the advowson. After further arguments, Gladstone closed with an appeal to the House to take some definite action.

Lord Stanley replied, opposing a too hasty action in the matter, saying the House should wait until the commission on the Irish Church should make a report; and concluded by moving his resolution, of which he gave notice last Friday, that the subject be left over for consideration till next Parliament.

Mr. Cranbourne, member from Stamford, moved a resolution that the principle of dis-establishing the Irish Church be settled now, and the details be left till next Parliament. The debate was adjourned.

The bill establishing flogging in the army has passed the House of Commons.

CORRESPONDENCE for publication is requested to be written on one side of the paper only.

No notice can be taken of anonymous communications. Correspondents' names must in every instance accompany their communications, not necessary for publication, but as a guarantee of reliability.

BURST OUT.—This morning, at an early hour, one of the water ditches by which water is taken from City Creek, burst, and a torrent rushed down through Geo. D. Watt's garden, down the sharp declivity between H. W. Nalebitt's and J. Toronto's across South Temple St., and through Bryant Stringam's lot, and around his house. Had the house not been built upon a good foundation, it would most likely have been washed away, the rush of water was so strong. It was discovered by Bro. Stringam about three o'clock, who went and aroused Bro. Watt. After following the stream up the break was found, and the water turned into the stream below. The street running up the hill from East Temple St., is plowed up by the water, as if City Creek had broken out on a spring freshet and brought down with it from the canyon a few extra tons of gravel.

MEN HUNG AT CHEYENNE.—The Cheyenne Vigilantes are doing deadly work. The Argus, of the 22nd, in an Extra, says that on the night of the 20th two men were hung by them, and the next morning the two bodies were taken into the city, and to the City Hall. One named Charles Martin was found hanging to a temporary gallows constructed at the eastern extremity of Sixteenth street; the other, known as Charles or John Morgan, was also found hanging to another rude gallows at the back of the Elephant Corral. Martin had been tried previously for murder and acquitted, the evidence going to show that he had been threatened by the man he killed. Morgan had stolen mules and had been connected with a gang of horse thieves, of whom a man named McLaughlin was said to be the head. Morgan had been arrested by the owner of the stolen mules at Cachesa Foudre, within forty miles of Cheyenne, who was taking him into that city a prisoner, with another alleged participant in the theft, named Kelley, also a prisoner, when the Vigilantes took both men from him, told him to "clear out," and that was the last he saw of Morgan alive. It is not known whether Kelley was hanged, but it is supposed he was permitted to go, and that he left that region. McLaughlin is said to have started for Salt Lake. Send on his description, that he may be spotted if he comes here.

There is considerable indignation expressed in Cheyenne at the hangings, which are broadly designated murders; and the perpetrators are called a "red-handed mob." Col. Luke Murrin, Mayor of Cheyenne, has issued a proclamation, in which he says "every legal means will be resorted to to bring the perpetrators to justice and compel them to succumb to the majesty of the law for their midnight assassinations." He calls upon all good, moral, law-abiding citizens to aid in the establishment of law and order. This call is endorsed by the Argus, who says, "The deeds of Friday night are not countenanced by good citizens and must seriously affect the fair fame and standing of the 'Magic City.'"

FOR SWEETWATER.—Yesterday afternoon a company of packers, numbering some twelve men and over sixty pack mules, with a full "outfit," from a smith's bellows to a box of dry goods, passed down East Temple street, just in from Austin and en route for Sweetwater. One of the number, of the "greaser" persuasion, on being asked where they came from, and probably having his mind running on the big nuggets lying in such profusion on the other side of the South Pass, or, may be, able only to understand a very limited modicum of lowland English, replied "Sweetwater!" Another who claimed his paternity under colder skies, mounted on the most restive and skittish of ponies, with more quicksilver in its joints than flesh on its ribs, politely stated that they had left Austin on the 28th of February, and had since been making their way to the latest auriferous sensation. Four weeks and three days from Austin to Salt Lake City, at this season! Some cold and unpleasantly stormy camps must have been experienced in the trip. Three small parties, we learned, left yesterday morning, having arrived from the west the previous evening.

DECLINING PRICES.—The Montana papers speak of prices declining in Virginia City. "Bacon has declined from 30 to 25 cts.; hams from 55 to 40 cts.; lard from 45 to 30 and 35 cts.; sugars have declined from 2 to 5 cts. on the pound; coal oil is selling for $4.50 a gallon instead of $5 and $6 as heretofore. Liquors of all kinds remain firm." That last sentence is slightly mysterious for though they have the thermometer in Montana sometimes 30 below zero in the middle of the day—vide telegraphic weather reports, this is hardly the season for liquors to repudiate their customary lusciousness and assume an attitude of "firmness." Somebody whispers that it refers to the prices! Perhaps it is; they are always "firm" when paid in "hard money."

FLORAL.—We had a nice little bouquet this morning, presented by Bro. R. Matthews, who shows his taste and floral skill in its selection and the early beauty of the flowers. Petunias of different shade, Geraniums, Verbena, Pansies, &c., garnished with the dark green leaves of the geranium plant, tell us unmistakably that Spring is come of a truth, and Summer is drawing on with all its wealth of fruits and flowers. Thanks, Richard.

BITTEN.—A man named Glenn, of the 11th Ward, was in Emigration canyon yesterday, and had occasion to put his hand amongst some leaves to pull out a stick of wood, where it was immediately seized by a musk rat, and he was severely bitten. He killed the rat.

HELENA, Montana, is to have another daily paper. The Gazette announces its approaching diurnal appearances, and calls for the subscriptions and advertisements to come tumbling in.

We learn that work will commence shortly by the Western Union Telegraph Company, for the erection of an entire new line from Omaha to San Francisco. The wire now used is on poles belonging to the Union Pacific Railroad, while the new set to be erected will eventually carry five wires. It is expected that work will be pushed so rapidly that the new line will be in advance of the railroad by fall. The old line from Denver down the plains, to a junction of the railroad, will soon be removed. It's about all new left to show that an overland route ever existed.—[Colorado Tribune.]

The "last man" of the Revolutionary war, John Gray, lives with his step daughter, Mrs. McElroy, in Brookfield township, Noble county, Ohio. He is 104 years of age, having been born in Virginia, a few miles from Mt. Vernon, February 6, 1764. He was at the siege of Yorktown when in his 18th year, but never obtained a pension until a year or two since, when it was granted to him by a special act of Congress. He is now nearly helpless, his hearing bad, and his eyesight nearly gone, yet he can walk on crutches.

A seed is one of the most wonderful things in the world, containing not only the first principles of the plant, but holding the power to lie, as it were asleep, until the fitting period for the expansion of the germ, and meanwhile withstanding influences of destruction such as totally destroy objects that have no life in them.

Special Notices.

President Heber C. Kimball understands that there are many in this city and in other places adjacent, who have wool to card. He has put up a stove and has the place where his two double carding machines work, in the 19th Ward, near Pugsley's mill and the Ward Meeting House, fitted up so that carding can be done occasionally when the weather moderates. He also has David Le Baron to work them—a man whom the people know to be honest, for he has been well known among them for many years. He can cheerfully recommend Br. Le Baron as an honorable man, who has always given satisfaction to his customers when running machines for him. People bringing wool can have it done when they bring it, if there is enough at the machines to run a day. Bring grease as usual, say one pound to seven.

If the people will not bring wool along to be carded, the place will be closed.

On and after 1st. April, 1868, where letters and papers for more than one person are put in the same box, fifty cents will be charged for each person, in addition to the regular box rent, except when such persons belong to the same family or to the same firm.

I am reluctantly compelled to make this charge, because of the smallness of the revenue of this office.
