RESTS ITS CASE.

Such the Condition in the Kaighn Murder Trial.

TESTIMONY OF WITNESSES.

Expected That the Defense Will Conclude Its Testimony Tomorrow-Senator Brown's Motion.!

prosecution in the Kaighn murder trial concluded its testimony and rested its ase. The state was less than a day presenting its case, and the examination of witnesses has been conducted with dispatch . The cross-examinution has been short but very rigid. It is expected that the defense will conclude its testimony by adjourning time tomorrow afternoon, and the argu ments will probably commence Friday morning.

At the opening of court this morning Sergt. Hempel was recalled by the state and identified the bottle taken from defendant's person on the day of the shooting. He said it contained more liquor at that time than at present. He said it smelled like alcohol. The bot-and everything. "I asked defendant," said Mr. Penrose, "if he used cocaine and he said I asked him how he used it and he said he diluted it in the alcohol. He then asked me if I thought the mayor was going to oust Chief Hilton. He said there was one thing that struck him funny after the shooting and he couldn't get over it. He said some big guy came toward him and he handed him his gun and the fellow jumped and another fellow dodged behind a chair. I asked defendant if he had told anyone the motive for the shooting and he said no, that he hadn't even told his father. That is about the substance of our conversation On cross-examination, Mr. Penrose stated that Officer Johnson and Desk Sergeant Livingston were present dur-ing the conversation with Kaighn at the police station and could have heard the entire conversation if they so sired. At the conversation at the county jail he said no one was present but himself and Kaighn, he was let in-to the cell by Jailer Thomas. The conversation took place in the corridor

Mr. Eichnor. "We object to that question," said Judge King, "because it does not appear that the statement was volunception taken.

The witness then proceeded to tell the conversation. He said he came in and saw Kaighn there smoking a cl-garette. He asked defendant if he was the boy who shot this man and he said yes. He then asked him what he did it for and ?e replied that that was his business. He asked him if he wasn't sorry and defendant said, "No; the --got what he deserved." He then asked defendant if Haynes was dead and he replied, "I hope he is," Defendant then walked to the window and made the remark that it was a grudge he owed Haynes. The defendant asked witness if he had anything to eat ground there. He was informed that there was not. The witness then told him that he didn't think he could eat under such circumstances, to

A map of the lobby of the Knutsford hotel, where the shooting occurred, with the positions of all persons, fur-niture, etc., present at that time marked on it was used to make the testimony clearer to the jury.

W. P. Fowler, the clerk at the Salt Lake Hardware store, who sold the gun to Kaighn, told of that transaction. He said Kaighn came into the store on Nov. 26, the day of the shoot ing, at about I o'clock and purchased a revolver and cartridges and had witness load it for him, after which he put it in his right hip pocket and walked out. Mr. Fowler identified the gur with which Kaighn did the shooting as similar to the one he sold to him. Harry Burton, a Knutsford h clerk, was the next witness. He said that a few minutes past 1 o'clock on and asked him for Mr. Haynes, ness pointed to Mr. Haynes sitting in a chair in the lobby. De-fendant and Haynes, he said, walked over to a settee in the southeast corner of the lobby and sat down and that was the last he saw of them until he heard the shot. He then saw Haynes still sitting in the settee. Miss Maggie Hemphill, the stenographer at the hotel, stated that she returned from lunch about 1:20 o'clock on the afternoon of the shooting and down at her desk and Kaighn and Haynes sitting on a settee about ten feet from her, but did not hear any of the conversation. She heard the shot and saw Haynes walk past her desk to the stairs and heard him say he was shot. She saw Kaighn sitting on the settee with the smoking revolver in his hand. She then left the room.

Sergeant John Hempel, who was the first officer to arrive at the scene of the shooting, stated that when he went into the hotel Kaighn arose and came toward him and said, "Helio, Hempel, I'm the man you want." He asked defendant why he did the shooting but was told that it was none of his affair. He identified the revolver as the one handed to him at the hotel as belonging to defendant, and it was introduced Penrose, police reporter of the 'News," was the last witness on the stand yesterday afternoon. He testified that he overheard a conversation at the police station on the day of the shocting between the defendant and Chief Hilton. The latter asked Kaighn if he had killed the man and Kaighn replied "I hope so." He testified that Kaighn said he had been "laying for the —— for two years, and it is a gradge I owed him." Objections were raised to the testimony but were over-ruled by Judge Morse. The witness was still on the stand when court adjourned for the day.

In local business and railroad circles the break in canned goods, it is expect. in sight. The first step comes in the lowing the new, iron, steel ammonia, and of the Armour packing house about to be erected in Denver.

On and after Monday the rate on all canned goods from Chicago to Colorado points will be 45 cents; from Mississippi river, 40 cents: from the Missouri rly-30 cents, and from the New seaboard via Gulf ports, 60 cents. The Utah common points will remain the same, viz. 60 cents, or the same as the long trip with two transfers from New York to Denver, Shippers, jobbers and raffroad men deplore the existing uncertainty in the matter of rates as being decidedly pre-judicial to trade and making an epoch of uncertainty. Merchants at present are holding off and are only making purchases in as small lots as neces-sary, all of which has the effect of making a bad state of affairs all round.

MEANS A CUT OF $45 A CAR

The hearts of the jobbers and shippers were this morning gladdened by the welcome tidings that a new tariff had been published embracing all classes of canned goods shipped from the east to various Colorado points. This reduction in the tariff means that when the local rate from Colorado to Utah common points is added that there will be a reduction of $45 a car. This
