CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

The Bounty Bill.

WASHINGTON, 19.-Logan asked that Wednesday evening of next week be assigned for the consideration of the bill which recently passed the house for equalizing bounties. A discussion ensued, during which Sargent said he understood that this bill took 180 million dollars from the treasury, and he was opposed to it; other matters of equal importance demanded the attention of the senate, for instance, he would be glad to have his friend from Indiana, Morton, call up the resolution for the admission of Fletcher as judge as possible.

This was a question of peace or war, and should be settled. Logan then gave notice that he would, next week, presenting the bounty bill and get a vote. He said the bill would not take twenty millions from the treasury.

HOUSE.

Army Bill Passed.

The House went into committee of the whole on the army appropriation bill, which appropriates nearly 38 millions. The amendment to reduce the army from 25,000 to 22,000 was rejected.

Cox moved an amendment providing that the army shall not be used to suppress the rights and liberties of the people of the United States, and that no sum shall be paid out of the treasury until the U. S.

troops now in the State of Louisisiana, shall be withdrawn from that

State.

Wheeler asked if he approved of driving the Kansas legislature out of doors under the directions of Jedediah Davis, then secretary of war.

Cox said he spoke against it.

Wheeler then asked the clerk's desk, and had read the number of the Congressional Globe containing that debate. Cox endeavored to be heard, but was interrupted by cries of "Read, read!" from the public side, and the clerk read where Cox declared himself in favor of encouraging the heart and strengthening the arm of the executive.

The republicans were triumphant.

Cox asked the date of that debate, and being informed that it was

July 16, he said that was Leader

L. Cox, of Kentucky, he himself was not a member of Congress at the time. The democrats here chronically shouted "Read, read," and were in turn jubilant.

Wheeler apologized by saying that he was misled by his colleagues, and he spoke against the proceeding.

Cox also apologized for getting his friend into such a snarl, and explained that he did not know that side was so loud that he was unable to make himself heard; he paid a hearty compliment to his friend, but he had to be heard, and he knew how much he had charge of an appropriation bill. Cox's amendment was rejected. After a few minutes' discussion the committee rose and reported the bill to the House, and it was passed.

Poland, from the select committee on Arkansas, reported a resolution that in the judgment of the committee, no interference was necessary in government matters.

Adjournd.

EASTERN.

Letter from Thurlow Weed.

New York, 19.-The Tribune

the company from the government, then the company, beginning with 10,000,000, will pay half a million dollars a year, in semi-annual payments, for ten years; after this $750,000 a year, semi-annually for ten years, then one million per year until the aggregate sum meets the bonded debt and interest; also to allow the government to apply all the transportation and mail dues, as fast as received, to the above service. Any deficiency between the amount due by the company every six months, the cabinet decided to send this proposition to Congress with a recommendation that action be promptly taken so that the government may begin to realize its benefits on July 1st, '75. The proposition of the Central Pacific

Co. will also be submitted to Congress at the same time for similar action.

A Girl Forger.

Boston, 19.-Roberta Griese, a girl of sixteen, was committed to day for forging a certificate of stock of the Michigan Central railway from one share to sixty; the certificate was valued at $2,000, and $2,000
